SALES SCENE SHIFTS TO BADEN-BADEN

Lot 195, the lone yearling by Kodiak in the BBAG sale | bbag-sales.de

By Emma Berry

After three days of trade in Doncaster, the European yearling sales entourage moves on to Iffezheim today for Germany's premier auction at BBAG from 10 a.m.

Last year's sale was dominated by South Africa's Mayfair Speculators, who, acting through Peter and Ross Doyle, bought eight yearlings, including the top lot, a €500,000 daughter of Sea The Stars (Ire). The team's presence, along with other international buyers such as the Hong Kong Jockey Club and Australian Bloodstock, helped bring about a 31% improvement in turnover to €8,426,500 at an average price of €45,458.

This year, around 250 yearlings are set to go under the hammer after withdrawals and while 12 months ago much interest was drawn by the first crop of yearlings from Gestut Fahrhof's Maxios (GB), this year we can expect to see Lanwades Stud resident Sea The Moon (Ger) play a significant role. The 2014 German Derby winner has been strongly supported in his native country and has 15 members of his first crop for sale, five of which will be offered by his breeder, Gestut Gorldorf. Maxios, who is now the sire of three winning 2-year-olds, remains the best represented, with 25 of his second crop in the catalogue.

Jamie Railton, a long-term overseas consignor at BBAG, has a draft of nine.

Railton's consignment includes lot 48, a Sea The Moon colt out of listed winner Enjoy The Life (GB) (Medicean {GB}) whose son, Enjoy Vijay (Ger) (Nathaniel {Ire}) was runner-up to Windstoss (Ger) (Shirocco {Ger}) in this year's G1 Deutsches Derby. Lot 48 is offered on behalf of his breeder Manfred Ostermann of Gestut Hof Ittlingen. The veteran sprinting stallion Areion (Ger) currently leads the German sires' table with 46 winners this term and has six youngsters to sell today. Among them is lot 75, Gestut Park Wiedingen's half-brother to the dual Group 3 winner Wai Key Star (Ger) (Soldier Hollow {GB}).

At the 2016 sale, Australian Bloodstock--which raced German-bred G1 Melbourne Cup winner Protectionist (Ger) (Monsun {Ger})--went to €220,000 to buy a Maxios colt named Wild Max (Ger) and it would be no surprise to see Jamie Lovett's operation--or other Australian interests--pay particular attention to lot 218, a Tertullian half-brother to the 2016 Melbourne Cup winner Almandin (Ger) (Monsun {Ger}). Cont. p2

The colt is offered by Ronald Rauscher on behalf of his breeder Gestut Schlenderhan, where Protectionist and Almandin were raised together in the same paddock.

There can be no ignoring the rise of Soldier Hollow (GB) in German racing and breeding following the death of supersire Monsun in 2012. The diminutive son of In The Wings (GB) has become a stalwart of BBAG Chairman Karl-Dieter Ellerbracke's Gestut Auenquelle and was the busiest stallion in Germany this season, covering just over 100 mares. Three of his sons filled the top four slots at last year's sale, changing hands at €300,000, €250,000 and €240,000, and we can expect another bold show this time around. Sixteen Soldier Hollow yearlings are catalogued today and they include the full-brother to recent G1 Grosser Preis von Berlin winner Dschingis Secret (Ger), who is lot 182 in the Gestut Park Wiedingen draft.

Kodiac (GB) has been all over the sales news this week after another successful week in Doncaster, but his name is a less familiar one in German sales catalogues. However, Philipp and Marion Stauffenberg, who regularly consign a draft of broad international appeal under their Stauffenberg Bloodstock banner, will offer the sole yearling by the Tally-Ho Stud stalwart in the catalogue. Lot 195 is a son of American juvenile winner Mine Inning (Mining), whose eight winning offspring include the GII Mac Diarmida H. winner Ramazutti (Honor Grades). The April-born colt was bought by Justin Casse for 50,000gns at the Tattersalls December Foal Sale.

FACT OF THE WEEK

IN PURSUIT OF GREATNESS

By John Boyce

The standard-setters among European sires are without question Galileo (Ire) and Dubawi (Ire). As we gear up for another autumn campaign when there are a multitude of big races to be won and countless opportunities for horses to show vast improvement, it's a good time to compare the two greats of the modern era. As well as posting phenomenally high ratios of black-type winners and group or graded winners, both sires clearly demonstrate their sire power by upgrading their mares. And believe me, upgrading mares that are already good is no small achievement. Predictably, due to his earlier retirement date, Galileo has a substantial head start with the raw numbers, but things are a good deal closer when it comes to the all-important ratios. They have been swapping pole position with regard to percentage of black-type winners now for a few years.

Both have also demonstrated that had they belonged to a bygone era when stallion crops sizes were in the 40s and 50s, they'd be capable of ratios of black-type winners around 20%. Their closest pursuers in Europe by black-type winner ratios are Galileo's half-brother Sea The Stars (Ire) (14.2%) and his son Frankel (GB) (14.0%). It is worth noting that Sea The Stars and Frankel started out with the very best mares, something that cannot be said of Galileo and Dubawi. Cont. p3

Another interesting fact is that Dubawi seems to be stamina neutral, whereas Galileo's stock have an average winning distance of 10.9 furlongs, which is 1.7 furlongs longer than that of their siblings.

Successful in this 12 months ago, Pas De Deux rewarded the skill and patience of connections to build on his comeback fifth in the G2 Meilen Trophy at Cologne on July 16 and repeat the achievement at a track he loves. Also the winner of the 2015 G3 Preis der Sparkassen Finanzgruppe here and also that season's G3 Grosse Europa Meile at Munich, the lightly-raced bay had also scored in the G2 Prix Bertrand du Breuil at Chantilly last June. Taken to the early lead by Stephen Hellyn, he led the field across to the stand's side and was always doing enough to hold Saturday's G3 Preis der Sparkassen Finanzgruppe scorer Palace Prince as the market principals drew clear.

Pedigree Notes...

The dam, who also has a yearling colt by Pastorius (Ger) named Porte Bonheur (Ger), is a daughter of the G2 Preis der Diana winner Puntilla, who is also a half-sister to two other black-type performers. One was Paita (GB) (Intikhab), who captured the G1 Criterium de Saint-Cloud and G3 Prix Allez France and was third in the G1 Prix de Diane and G1 Prix Vermeille. Cont. p4

Following up her latest success in the G3 Brownstown S. at Fairyhouse on July 5, Realtra emerged clear best to add to her admirable black-type tally. Only ninth in the interim in the G1 Prix Rothschild at Deauville on July 30, the grey also boasts wins in the 2015 G3 Sceptre S. at Doncaster and Listed Dick Hern S. at Haydock as well as last year's Listed Prix Miss Satamixa at Deauville and the Apr. 14 All-Weather Fillies' and Mares' Championships Conditions S. over seven furlongs at Lingfield. HEERAAT COLT TOPS SILVER SALE

The name of first-season sire Heeraat (Ire) was among the top lots at Goffs UK's Premier sale on Wednesday when Shadwell shelled out £150,000 for one of his colts, and the son of Dark Angel (Ire) was at the top once again at that sales company's Silver yearling sale on Thursday when his colt from Egmont Stud (lot 544) topped trade at £48,000. The first foal out of the unraced Ringtail (Street Cry {Ire}) was bought by Peter and Ross Doyle, and was making a significant improvement on his €17,000 foal purchase price. Heeraat, a Group 3-winning sprinter for Sheikh Hamdan, stands at Mickley Stud for £4,000.

An important trend from the record-breaking Premier sale was the high clearance rate, and that continued on Thursday with 87% of the 137 offerings sold. The aggregate for 120 sold was £1,411,500 compared to 114 sold for £1,256,500 last year. The averaged climbed 6.7% to £11,763, while the median jumped 42.9% to £10,000.

Havana Gold (Ire) has made a fast start to his stud career this year and sits behind only the late Society Rock (Ire) on the European first-season sires table. The Tweenhills resident was responsible for the second-top lot on Thursday, Furnace Mill Stud's lot 577, who was sold to Howson and Houldsworth Bloodstock for £45,000.

Goffs UK Managing Director Tony Williams said upon the conclusion of trade, "The 'Donny yearling' is proving as popular as ever, as witnessed earlier this week at the Premier Sale, and to see that demand continue into today's Silver Sale is excellent as proven by a high 87% clearance rate and a 43% increase in median. We saw plenty of major owners and trainers stay for today's sale and a number of new faces arrive from throughout Europe and that created a good buying bench, a good atmosphere and is certainly a great sign for this budding sale."

CRACKSMAN PLANS UNDECIDED

Owner Anthony Oppenheimer says plans are still fluid for last weekend's G2 Great Voltigeur S. winner Cracksman (GB) (Frankel {GB}). Oppenheimer and trainer John Gosden had stressed prior to the Voltigeur that it would be the last start of the year for the progressive 3-year-old, who was placed in both the English and Irish Derby, but the nature of Cracksman's six-length win has caused them to re-think plans.

"I think Mr Gosden is just keeping an eye on the horse and trying to work things out," said Oppenheimer. "The horse is entered for the Arc, the Irish Champion S., the English Champion S. and for the Prix Niel. If Enable is going to run in the Arc I don't think he will want to take her on. I could be wrong, but it's the same jockey [Frankie Dettori], so I don't think we'd want to change if we can help it."

"He may decide, depending on ground conditions and everything else, not to run the horse this year," Oppenheimer added. "What we don't want is for the horse to have a hard race going into the winter. He had a very nice race at York and he knew it, too. We'll just have to wait and see as the trainer is keeping all his options open."

Gorane, who was successful in the latter of two juvenile starts at Dundalk, opened this term with a second in Navan's Apr. 23 Listed Power S. before running fourth in the May 21 G3 Lacken S. at Naas, and lined up for this dash coming off a seventh in the June 18 Listed Midsummer Sprint at Cork. Asserting for control after the initial strides of this one, she was stoked up when threatened by a number of rivals approaching the final quarter mile and kept on well under a late drive to claim a career high in game fashion.

"I can't say enough about the rider [Declan McDonogh] as it was a fantastic ride," commented trainer Henry de Bromhead after saddling his first black-type winner under flat rules. "She got a bit lost coming out of the stalls, but when she got into her rhythm she has a great big stride on her. It was a super ride to save that little bit at the end. I was keen to try running her on soft today and delighted to get it for [owner] Clipper Logistics. Soft ground is definitely not a minus, it doesn't look like it from that anyway, and over five [furlongs] it might even help her a little. She's in [the Sept. 10 G2 Flying Five S.] at The Curragh, but we'll see what her owners want to do. It's my first stakes winner on the flat and it's unreal."

Gorane, kin colt foal by Alhebayeb (Ire), is the first stakes scorer produced by an unraced half to MGSW sire Preachinatthebar (Silver Charm), Listed Prix Le Fabuleux victor Royal Revival (GB) (King's Best) and G3 Preis der Spielbank third Nolas Lolly (Ire) (Lomitas {GB}), who in turn is the dam of the stakes-winning G2 Prix de la Nonette second Holy Moly (GB) (Mount Nelson {GB}). Click for the Racing Post result. MEMSIE MYSTERY

While the anticipation for the racing public on Saturday is glamour mare Winx (Aus) (Street Cry {Ire}) and her attempt to extend her winning streak to 19 in the G2 Chelmsford S. at Randwick, the first Group 1 of the Australian racing season will be contested 20 minutes earlier in Melbourne. A field of 12, 11 of which will be first or second up this campaign, will take to the starting gate over 1400 metres for the Memsie S. at Caulfield. Won in the past by the likes of So You Think (NZ), Weekend Hussler (Aus), Atlantic Jewel (Aus), Dissident (Aus), Makybe Diva (GB) and Miss Finland (Aus), last year's winner Black Heart Bart (Aus) (Blackfriars {Aus}) will be attempting to become the first horse since the mighty Sunline (NZ) in 2000 and 2001 to record back-to-back victories. The winner of five Group 1 races, three over the course and distance, the Darren Weir-trained gelding finished a pleasing third first-up behind Hartnell (GB), and although a win would not surprise, there are quite a few with chances in the A$1-million contest.

Finishing in the top three on 16 occasions from 19 starts, the multiple Group 1 winner Le Romain (Aus) (Hard Spun) is yet to crack it for a victory over 1400 metres, recording four second placed efforts from as many attempts, but his fresh performance over 1200 metres where he finished second suggests that Saturday's race could see the 1400 metres hoodoo broken for the Kris Lees-trained runner.

Impressive when resuming from a break in the Listed Regal Roller S. over 1200 metres at Caulfield, the former Western Australian galloper Vega Magic (Aus) (Lope de Vega {Ire}) was a two-length winner over 1400 metres in December at Group 2 level.

He appears very capable of remaining unbeaten since joining the stable of David and Ben Hayes and Tom Dabernig.

With five 4-year-olds set to contest the race, four having won at Group 1 level during their Classic season, the interesting runner is David Vandyke's G1 Spring Champion S. winner Yankee Rose (Aus) (All American {Aus}), who is having her first start since an injury resulted in a poor performance in the G1 Crown Oaks in November last year. With two barrier trial runs under her belt in readiness for the Memsie, one would think she will be in need of the outing, but discount her at your own peril as she can produce some great sectionals if the race is run to suit.

G1 Australian Guineas winner Hey Doc (Aus) (Duporth {Aus}), who recorded an impressive return this season when triumphant in the Aurie's Star, will need to step up a little to prove his Group 1 worth in open company, but the Tony McEvoy-trained gelding has continued to improve with maturity and is one of many chances in an open race.

KAWI HAT TRICK IN TARZINO?

The first New Zealand Group 1 of the season kicks off at Hastings on Sept. 2, with the renamed NZ$200,000 1400m G1 Tarzino Trophy (formerly the Makfi Challenge S.) Six-time Group 1 winner Kawi (NZ) (Savabeel {Aus}) is hunting for his third consecutive victory in the race and faces no less than seven other top-shelf winners in the over-subscribed field of 16. The 7-year-old gelding enters off a third-place run to Underthemoonlight (NZ) (El Hermano {NZ}) in the Aug. 19 G2 Lisa Chittick Foxbridge Plate going 1200m in heavy conditions.

However, the role of favourite goes to once-beaten MGSW Volpe Veloce (Aus) (Foxwedge {Aus}), who will be testing the waters at Group 1 level for the first time and warmed up with a Te Rapa handicap victory over 1200 metres on Aug. 5. The Graham Richardson trainee won her first seven starts, including the Listed NZB Insurance Karaka 3yo Mile at Ellerslie Jan. 29. She failed to stay when fourth trying 2000 metres in the G2 Sir Tristram Fillies Classic a month later to subsequent G1 New Zealand Oaks/G1 Australian Oaks heroine Bonneval (NZ) (Makfi {GB}).

"You start thinking too much and stressing about the weather," Richardson told www.nzracing.co.nz regarding the Slow7 track at Hastings, while more rain is in the cards. "She's well, we've done what we have to do and what will be, will be. She galloped on Tuesday at Matamata and did not handle the wet conditions at all, but Matamata is very heavy and Hastings is a different story."

Two G1 New Zealand Derby heroes will also take their place in the Tarzino lineup. 2016 Derby victor Rangipo (Aus) (Stryker {Aus}) is joined by fan favourite and eventual 2017 G1 Rosehill Guineas scorer Gingernuts (NZ) (Iffraaj {GB}). The latter, a Te Akau Racing colourbearer, ran fifth after a wide trip in the G1 Australian Derby on April Fool's Day and has not graced the racecourse since. @HLAndersonTDN

SONGBIRD RETIRED

By Christie DeBernardis

Dual Eclipse winner and 'TDN Rising Star' Songbird (Medaglia d'Oro--Ivanavinalot, by West Acre) has been retired from racing and will be offered at the upcoming Fasig-Tipton November sale, owner Rick Porter announced on the Fox Hill Farm Facebook page Thursday morning. Porter also posted the full vet report from Rood and Riddle, which included x-rays, ultra sound photos and a detailed diagnosis and recommendation from Dr. Larry Bramlage (click here to view).

Porter released the following statement explaining the reason for the 4-year-old filly's retirement, "There is an ancient proverb that says all good things must come to an end. Today, Fox Hill Farm announces that something that was very good for us, and very good for racing, has come to an end--the racing career of Songbird."

Over the winter, Songbird had bone bruising and a specific area was very slow to heal. She was finally cleared to return, but the three races from Songbird this year weren't what we expected from the bigger, stronger, and smarter Songbird. There were so many variables with her long layoff, shipping, tiring tracks, going 1 1/4 miles, and more, we were never sure which of the variables may explain what wasn't quite Songbird.

THREE STRATEGIES TO ATTRACT THE MILLENNIAL GAMBLER

by Dean Towers

In Part I - This Time, Horse Racing's Aging Demographic Problem is Very Real, we examined the changing gambling markets, racing's reliance on patrons over the age of 60 and why the recent trends are troubling. The piece submitted evidence that while younger, smart, tech-savvy gamblers are seeking more and more skill games to play, they are not flocking to wagering on horse racing like they were even a half-generation ago.

In Part II, I'd like to offer three strategies that I think may help horse racing attract the younger, modern gambler, so that in three or four decades, horse racing holds its place in the gambling market. Cont. p6 (click here)

Coast to coast. The colors of Gary and Mary West's West Coast (Flatter) adorn the Travers canoe, afloat in a pond in the infield of Saratoga Race Course. The canoe has been a part of Saratoga history since 1926, and in a tradition that dates back to 1961, the colors of the silks of each year's Travers winner are painted on the canoe.

Songbird winning the CCA Oaks | Horsephotos

After this past race, we thought something seemed off in her hind end, so we sent her to Rood & Riddle for an evaluation. Her lameness was readily apparent to Dr. Bramlage, and ultrasounds proved both hind suspensories were enlarged. Since suspensories are usually the result of something else amiss and he knew of her history, Dr. Bramlage shot a set of x-rays of the area of bone Songbird had issues with over the winter. A distinct line on the bone was present. We followed up with a bone scan, and then an MRI.

Unfortunately, the results weren't what we wanted to see. We have a situation where it'd be dangerous for Songbird to continue training, and Dr. Bramlage isn't optimistic that the site will fully resolve even if given ample time.

So for this reason, we are retiring our lovely Songbird. She was an absolute joy to race, and we expect that she'll be as wonderful a broodmare as she was a racehorse. She took us on an incredible and unforgettable journey. While we're sad that we must retire her, we absolutely cannot risk having another Eight Belles kind of devastation and are ultimately happy that she is retiring in good health. May she soar to new heights in her future journey.

We'd like to publicly thank the incomparable Dr. Larry Bramlage, Dr. Katie Garrett, and the rest of the staff at Rood & Riddle."

Tabbed a 'TDN Rising Star' after her sparkling debut victory at Del Mar in July of 2015, Songbird followed suit with ultra impressive victories in that term's GI Del Mar Debutante, GI Chandelier S. and GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies. She won those four races by a combined 22 lengths and earned her first Eclipse award as top 2-year-old filly for her efforts.

Songbird was just as sensational at age three, kicking off her 2016 campaign with dominant victories in the GI Las Virgenes S., GI Santa Ysabel S. and GI Santa Anita Oaks. She was the early favorite for the GI Kentucky Oaks, but was ruled out of the race after spiking a fever two weeks prior that caused her to miss training. Cont. p4

The bay returned better than ever, crushing a field of overmatched foes in last term's GII Summertime Oaks. She took her show on the road to Saratoga, where she proved equally dominant, beating GISW Carina Mia (Malibu Moon) by 5 1/4 lengths in the GI CCA Oaks before romping by seven lengths in the GI Alabama S.

Besting Carina Mia and Kentucky Oaks winner Cathryn Sophia (Street Boss) with another decisive score in the GI Cotillion S., Songbird suffered her first defeat at the hooves of four-time champion and future Hall of Famer Beholder (Henny Hughes) in the GI Breeders' Cup Distaff, coming up a nose short after a gritty stretch battle.

The Fox Hill runner lost nothing in defeat to her older rival and was granted her second Eclipse as the country's best 3-year-old filly.

Returning to winning ways in 2017, Songbird posted a one-length victory in Belmont's GI Ogden Phipps S. June 10 and wired the field to win the GI Delaware H. July 15 by a similar margin at her owner's hometrack. Making her final start at Saratoga this past Saturday in the GI Personal Ensign S., the $400,000 FTSAUG buy was run down late by MGISW Forever Unbridled (Unbridled's Song) to be second by a neck, after which Porter decided to send her to Rood and Riddle for a full evaluation.

"Songbird was probably the best horse I've ever had in many ways and I've had some good ones," Porter told the TDN Thursday afternoon. "She was just so popular and exciting. It's hard to believe that she is retired. I've been talking to Dr. Larry Bramlage for three days about this. I'm just glad that I decided to pull the plug and get her down there and get her examined." Cont. p5

Porter, who underwent a long battle with lymphoma during Songbird's campaign, but recently announced he is in remission, continued, "They mean a lot to you when you have them so it's hard to compare. If you had them all at once maybe you could compare them. I can't think of any horse that has given me more excitement, though I've had excitement from a lot of horses. She was something awful special. She obviously meant a lot to me and my family and we enjoyed racing her. She kept my mind off some things when I was going through my health issues. As a racehorse, she couldn't have meant more to me than anything."

Trained by Jerry Hollendorfer and ridden by Mike Smith for the entirety of her stellar career, Songbird won 13 of 15 races, with nine of those wins being Grade 1s, and retires with earnings of $4,692,000.

Jerry Hollendorfer checks in on Songbird during her stay in Wesley Ward's barn at Saratoga last summer | Horsephotos

"It is hard to see her go," Hollendorfer told the TDN. "I've been blessed and grateful to train a horse like Songbird. No one in our barn or that has ever been around her will ever forget her. We wish her the best in her new future."

Smith echoed similar sentiments, saying, "It is a bittersweet sad. Certainly, I am going to miss seeing her everyday and miss getting the opportunity to ride her in all these great races. I am happy she is retiring to be a momma. All is good. I just want to thank her and all the connections that were involved. I am very blessed to be the guy who got to ride her. I am very proud to put her on my resume of horses that I've been so blessed to ride. She was a champion over and over again."

Bred by John Antonelli, Songbird is out of Grade II winner Ivanavinalot, a granddaughter of Forty Niner, who was privately purchased by Coolmore in 2015. In addition to Songbird, the Medaglia d'Oro/Forty Niner cross has produced the likes of Hall of Famer Rachel Alexandra, MGISW New Money Honey and recent GI Alabama S. heroine Elate.

Ivanavinalot is also responsible for the juvenile filly Song of Mine (Ghostzapper), who summoned $800,000 at last year's Fasig-Tipton Saratoga Sale; the yearling filly Sophisticate (Tapizar); and a weanling filly by Triple Crown winner American Pharoah. The 17-year-old mare was bred back to Pioneerof the Nile.

Songbird will go to Taylor Made until the Fasig-Tipton November sale to be held in Lexington Nov. 6. Porter has enjoyed many good results at that auction, selling MGISW Round Pound (Awesome Again) to Darley for $5.75 million in 2007; Horse of the Year Havre de Grace (Saint Liam) to Mandy Pope's Whisper Hill Farm for a record $10 million in 2012; and Grade I winner Joyful Victory (Tapit) to Aaron and Marie Jones for $2 million in 2013.

Invest, Innovate & Reinvest (Without an Eye on Current ROI)

I received an email a few weeks ago. It was from a fellow in Finland who had been betting the pick 4, 5 and 7 on Swedish harness races. He asked me if these bets were offered in North America, and (if yes) if we were able to upload tickets via FTP to our ADWs like he does. Someone contacting me for an answer to a question like this wasn't overly striking, but the last couple of lines of the email made me take notice.

"I have now played the V6/V4/V75 with positive ROI almost every day for a little over year. I am a stats major, so my angles are based on statistics and machine learning," he wrote.

This young man is 21 years old. He was not attracted to racing by a band or giveaway, nor was he introduced to the races like many of you and I--through a family member who liked the sport. Also, unlike many of us at that age, he was betting some serious money; probably six figures a year.

Young Josse represents an important part of racing's younger target market. Ensuring him, and those like him are able to use the tools they are comfortable with to consume the sport is of paramount importance.

The problem, however (as we noted in Part I), is that racing is very old, and getting older. It's glaringly obvious that not many 70-year-olds are uploading tickets via comma delimited files they created through artificial intelligence. It stands to reason that new ways to wager, the use of data, and many other innovative ideas do not have much of a market in racing's current demographic landscape. This is a problem because it's extremely difficult to bring something innovative to a boss at a public company like Churchill Downs Inc. and have to sell him or her on the development of a product that might not pay dividends for years.

Despite the lack of current ROI on these products, I believe they're vital. If these tools are not created, people like Josse will seek out games of skill where they are readily available.

The Writing is on the Wall--New Gamblers Love Fixed Odds

In 2008, Australian horse racing opened up its betting markets to fixed odds and exchange wagering. In that year, according to the Australian Racing Fact Book, handle on this form of win betting was AUS$167M. Eight short years later, over AUS$3.5B was bet on this form of wagering. The market spoke loud and clear--bettors like betting a horse at a 5-1 locked in price.

This, really, should not be too surprising. Sports betting in the US is only legal in Las Vegas, and its handle has doubled since 2006 in casino sports books. In shadow markets, people have been betting New England +7/-110 since forever.

Don't miss the closings for these upcoming races in the Breeders' Cup Challenge Series – all part of the Win and You're In(TM) Program. Breeders' Cup nominated race winners get an automatic berth into the Breeders' Cup World Championships with pre-entry and entry fees waived.

E-Sports betting and forms of daily fantasy sports betting are not dissimilar, and overseas, fixed odds have been offered for all types of gambling. Telling a younger gambler than a 3-1 shot can end up at 8-5 while the race is being run is like telling them we once had to call the operator to make a long distance call.

What Australian racing has noticed is that despite this wagering being considered an affront to pari-mutuel win betting, the pie has grown. In 2007, total handle on Thoroughbred racing in Australia was AUS$12.7B. In 2016 it was close to AUS$16B. Cont. p7

Other jurisdictions have modified their offerings due to the popularity of locked-in prices. In 2016, New Zealand announced an investment totaling $30M over three years to develop a fixed-odds betting system. Their racing head John Allen told Business Day, “customers prefer the certainty of fixed odds and we need to be competitive in that space.”

Now, certainly a system like this in North America is not something that's doable overnight. However, expanding and exploring more areas for a quasi-fixed odds offering like Betfair--currently licensed and operating in New Jersey--should be something the sport takes a hard look at.

In racing, cannibalization worries are often used as an excuse to do nothing, but nothing is being cannibalized if overall handle is growing. Fixed-odds or exchange wagering represents not only the present, but the future. In some way, or some form, I believe U.S. horse racing needs to be a part of it.

Lean on “Skills-Based Pricing” By Injecting Value into the Betting Pools

Jeff Hwang, an expert on gambling (especially with the millennial demographic), introduced the concept of “skill-based pricing.” Skill-Based Pricing simply means that the game itself must be priced right, be beatable, and must compensate for the opportunity cost to play it. Hwang believes that this is what the millennial gambler is looking for when choosing a game to play. For racing, obviously the top-line price--the takeout, please stop raising it!--is very important. But there are other ways to inject value into betting pools, too; some of them already being explored by horse racing.

- I love Patch as a racehorse, but my goodness, his price in the Derby was mind-numbing. He created value for every other win wagering choice in the race. This happens more often than you think on “Big Days” and the sport should keep trying its best to attract casual fans to the betting pools.

- Because takeout rates are not coming down and signal fees are going up, newer players who want to get better and play more are relegated to player rewards systems that are unavailable to them (they don't play $500,000 per year, but they may want to). Racing should drop the high thresholds for rebating, make them more available to those who seek them out, and broaden the tent. It creates immediate value.

- Over the years, horse racing has learned that carryovers drive value-seeking punters from just about everywhere. Promoting them, and looking for new innovative ways to create them is a step forward towards skill-based pricing.

HINKLE FARMS

- My new Finnish friend Josse has found value in the high takeout “V” pools in Sweden, in part, because these bets are offered to the general public in corner stores and online through the lottery system. Brad Cummings’s Equilottery and other lottery concepts can place immediate value into the pools if brought to market. There are horse racing-friendly states and provinces that should continue to be lobbied to allow for such a concept here in North America.

In the end, today's younger gambler expects everything obvious--to play on mobile phones and tablets; to watch crisp pictures in high definition; to be treated well when visiting a racetrack; for cost-effective intricate data they can use to wager. But beyond that, the true skill game gambler--those who play fantasy sports, E-Sports or are attracted to other brain games--is smarter than any generation before them. These punters expect to work hard at a game, be able to consume it easily through modern mediums, and if they're good enough, have a chance to win.

I believe if horse racing invests and modifies its offering to marry it with what's currently happening in the gambling world, it can continue to be, for generations, what it always has been--the greatest gambling game the world has ever seen. (Click to return to p1) *Dean Towers has been a board member of the Horseplayers Association of North America since 2008. ‘EUROPEAN ROAD TO THE KENTUCKY DERBY’ TO GUARANTEE 2018 DERBY SLOT

For the first time, a standalone qualification series for the GI Kentucky Derby will be run in Europe, with seven one-mile races to be run across England, France and Ireland. The points-based series, called the “European Road to the Kentucky Derby” and based upon the “Japan Road to the Kentucky Derby” introduced last year, will guarantee one horse a spot in next year’s Derby, to be held May 5.

The seven races will include four turf events this fall and three on synthetic next season, beginning with the Sept. 24 G2 Juddmonte Beresford S. at Naas and closing with Newcastle’s Burradon S. Mar. 30. The series also includes the G2 Juddmonte Royal Lodge S. Sept. 30 at Newmarket, the G1 Qatar Prix Jean-Luc Lagardere on the G1 Prix de l’Arc de Triomphe undercard Oct. 1 at Chantilly and the G1 Racing Post Trophy Oct. 28 at Doncaster.

“With premier races for Europe’s top horses often staged on turf in the months of May through October, we felt it was important to work with our European partners to create a distinctive path for horsemen who are interested in the Kentucky Derby,” said Bill Mudd, president and chief operating officer for Churchill Downs Incorporated. “Any European horse that intends to test the Kentucky Derby now has an opportunity to qualify by competing in the new series. By working with great partners at the racecourses along with the British Horseracing Authority, France Galop and Horse Racing Ireland governing bodies, we’re optimistic this new series can add to the worldwide popularity of the Kentucky Derby.”

Points will be awarded to the first four finishers of all qualifying races, with a 10-4-2-1 distribution for the four juvenile events, a 20-8-4-2 setup for the first two races of next season and a 30-12-6-3 dispersal for the final qualifier.

In addition, the Dec. 13 Zen-Nippon Nisai Yushun, a race that often decides Japan’s champion 2-year-old dirt horse, has been added to the “Japan Road to the Kentucky Derby” to make it a three-race series, joining the Cattleya Sho Nov. 25 and the Hyacinth in mid-February. Domestically, the Springboard Mile S. for 2-year-olds at Remington Park Dec. 17 has also been added to the Derby points schedule.

‘TDN Rising Star’ and multiple graded stakes winner Unified (Candy Ride {Arg}--Union City, by Dixie Union) has been retired to Lane’s End and will stand for $10,000, the farm announced Thursday.

Campaigned by Centennial Farms and trained by Jimmy Jerkens, the $325,000 Fasig-Tipton Saratoga purchase started his career with a fast and professional maiden win to earn his ‘Rising Star’ nod last February and followed up with scores in the GIII Bay Shore S. and GII Peter Pan S. in the spring.

Laid up for eight-plus months after running fifth in the GIII Pegasus S. last June, the dark bay returned to defeat MGISW Mind Your Biscuits (Posse) in the GIII Gulfstream Park Sprint Championship S. before running second in the GI Carter H. and seventh in the GII Belmont Sprint Championship S. in his final start. He retires with a record of 7-4-1-0 and earnings of $476,880. Cont. p9

Pounded into 3-4 favoritism for Thursday's P.G. Johnson S. at Saratoga, StarLadies Racing's Orbolution sat a trip nearly identical to that of her victorious turf debut over course and distance July 23, saving ground from a low draw and accelerating through at the rail before going on to a powerful victory and becoming the first black-type winner for her first-crop sire (by Malibu Moon).

Able to drop down onto the fence soon after the start, the $370,000 Keeneland September purchase enjoyed the run of the race behind a very slow pace. Traveling on the bridle around the far turn, she was right on the back of the leaders exiting the bend and when the gap came for her, she exploded through and sprinted home to score convincingly. As she did in her debut, she raced greenly through the final furlong, switching leads a couple of times. The outposted Wild N Ready raced wide on both turns and finished willingly for second while covering 53 feet more than the winner, per Trakus data. Sassy Sienna endured the second-widest journey (+48) and kept on well for third.

A debut third as the favorite at Keeneland Apr. 27, Orbolution rounded out the triple in a five-furlong Belmont maiden rained off the lawn May 25. She graduated with authority over course and distance July 23 and doubled her win tally in style Thursday.

"I trained the mare, My Rachel, and she was nice on the turf, so we weren't surprised that she ended up on the turf," commented winning trainer Todd Pletcher. "She was training pretty well on the dirt and she was precocious. She was ready to go early. Once we got the opportunity to put her on the grass, it allowed her to show what she's capable of."

A half-sister to a pair of black-type performers, Orbolution is out of a Grade III-placed half-sister to GISW turfer Jack Milton (War Front) and to GSW Peace Preserver (War Front). Orbolution's yearling half-sister by the late City Zip is consigned as hip 1762 to the upcoming Keeneland September sale. My Rachel produced a filly by Declaration of War earlier this year and was bred back to Honor Code. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

5th-SAR, $73,000, (S), Msw, 8-31, 2yo, 5 1/2f, 1:05.90, ft. ULTIMATEENTICEMENT (g, 2, Drosselmeyer--Pavati, by Unbridled's Song) ran on nicely enough to complete the exacta in a June 18 maiden over the Golden Gate Tapeta for trainer Tim McCanna and filled the same spot against his fellow New York-breds in a six-furlong heat here Aug. 7. Settled midfield through the opening exchanges, the 8-5 favorite held that position before being asked for some run entering the lane. Gaining first run on the well-bred firster New York Hero (Mineshaft), Ultimateenticement challenged for the lead three abreast at the eighth pole and kicked on nicely to score by two lengths. New York Hero, from the same A.P. Indy sire line as his half-brother MGSW & MGISP Upstart (Flatter), was outrun early, but kicked it in on the turn and was doing his best work through the line.

IDES OF ARCH (g, 3, Arch--Chestoria {MSW & MGSP, $521,056}, by Chester House), off the board in four previous tries, including a fourth-place effort last out July 15 at Belmont, was given a 34-5 chance in this spot and found a cozy spot at the hedge in fourth behind sharp splits of :23.32 and :46.39. Tipping into the clear at the top of the lane, the homebred fought gamely between rivals to prevail by a head over Gosilenty (Silent Name {Jpn}). The winner has a juvenile full-brother named U S S Archerfish, a yearling half-sister by Candy Ride (Arg) and a weanling half-brother by Uncle Mo. His dam was bred to Vancouver (Aus) this season. RUNNING MATE (c, 3, Creative Cause--Street Mate, by Street Cry {Ire}), named a ‘TDN Rising Star’ after a blowout track-and-trip debut win last October, aired again in a Fair Grounds optional claimer Nov. 25 before finishing third in the Sugar Bowl S. Dec. 17. Ninth after dueling on a hot pace in the GIII LeComte S. Jan. 21, the dark bay was laid off for nearly six months and ran second at even-money back here July 20. Backed to narrow 19-10 favoritism in this spot, Running Mate tracked the speed from a joint second past a :22.03 quarter, came to call in the center of the strip at the top of the lane and surged to the front at the furlong grounds en route to a 3 3/4-length tally. Second choice Great Lou (Ready’s Image) was second-best. The victor has a yearling half-sister by Majesticperfection and a weanling half-sister by Summer Front. The 7-5 crowd's pick Thursday, Nikki Bella battled for command from the bell, before laying a half-length off Queen Roller (Hold Me Back) through an opening quarter in :22.35. In front shortly thereafter as that foe beat a rapid retreat, she soon came under fire from Worth Avenue (First Dude), but responded gamely given a few taps of the persuader in upper stretch. Ultimately, the bay sailed home a 3 1/4-length winner over that foe. Her dam Heart of Honor has a 2-year-old filly by Cape Blanco (Ire), a yearling full-sister and a weanling half-sister by Danza. Heart of Honor's second dam is a full-sister to Eillo (Mr. Prospector), the champion sprinter of 1984 and she was covered by 2014 GI Arkansas Derby hero Danza this spring. RIGHTEOUS RUTH (f, 3, Tiznow--Rutherieanne {GISW, $1,298,671}, by Pulpit) closed late to take second when unveiled over this course June 11, and the daughter of GI Del Mar Oaks heroine Rutherieanne donned cap and gown over course and distance last out July 9. Favored for the second consecutive start, this time at 6-5, the Jonathan Thomas trainee played a waiting game in fourth against the fence behind a middling pace. Kept quiet behind six furlongs in 1:12.36, Tyler Gaffalione hit the go button and shifted Righteous Ruth out three paths. She stuck her head in front inside the final 50 meters and withstood the late charge of Sweet Story (Mass Media) in a bobbing finish to win by a nose. Thomas celebrated the first graded stakes of his career with Catholic Boy (More Than Ready) in the GIII With Anticipation S. at the Spa Wednesday. (Click here for a feature on Thomas by Brian DiDonato.) Rutherieanne, a full-sister to GIII Violet S. heroine Ruthenia and a half-sister to SW Ruthville (Afleet Alex), is responsible for an unraced juvenile filly named Eileen's Song (Kitten's Joy), but was not bred back. Summer Sunday thrashed a field of open-company maidens by five lengths on her July 15 debut and made it two straight with a comfortable success in the Aug. 6 Nandi S. Able to make the lead with a minimum of fuss from the inside stall, Summer Sunday galloped along on an easy pace, was set down for the drive at the three-sixteenths pole and ran out an facile winner. Dancing Allstar, the Sovereign Award-winning juvenile filly of 2007, is the dam of a weanling filly by Noble Mission (GB) and was most recently bred to Tale of Ekati. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

Eskiminzin belied debut odds of 18-1 to take a five-furlong maiden by a neck July 9 and was a good runner-up to the talented Be Vevy Vevy Quiet (Silent Name {Jpn}) when last seen in the Aug. 5 Clarendon S. Void of early speed and second last linking up with the track proper, Eskiminzin was held up near the tail before making some headway inside on the turn. Steered off the fence and into the four path off the final corner, he came calling for the lead inside the furlong marker and was along late for the victory. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

Pink Lloyd ran his winning streak to six with this hard-fought tally. The prohibitive chalk, who had earned triple-digit Beyers in four of those five wins, jumped on terms and settled in second tracking a longshot leader. Given his head a quarter-mile from home, Pink Lloyd was tackled by chief market rival Jacks Encarpment a furlong for home and had to dig deep to hold that rival in a driving finish. The chestnut, who earned a career-best 106 Beyer for his win in the June 10 Achievement S., earned a first graded-stakes success in the GIII Vigil S. July 16 and was exiting a cozy success in the Aug. 12 Shepperton S.
