IRISH CHAMPION S. TAKING SHAPE

Churchill is trading around even money favourite for the Irish Champion S. on Saturday | Racingfotos.com

The prospect of Churchill (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) taking on stablemate Winter (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) remained a possibility when both Ballydoyle stars appeared among 14 possible runners for Saturday's G1 QIPCO Irish Champion S. at Leopardstown. O'Brien has also left Winter in the G1 Coolmore Stud Fastnet Rock Matron S. the same day, so he also has that option for the four-time Group 1 winner. Other potential Ballydoyle representatives in the Irish Champion S. are Hydrangea (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), Lancaster Bomber (War Front), Cliffs Of Moher (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) and Taj Mahal (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}).

A strong British challenge is headed by Eminent (Ire) (Frankel {GB}) who looked a future Group 1 winner for Martyn Meade when landing the G2 Prix Guillaume d'Ornano at Deauville last month.

"The plan is to run and Frankie Dettori rides," Meade said on Tuesday, which would mean Eminent will be having his fourth different jockey in as many runs. That fact doesn't worry Frankie Dettori who told Racing Post, "I'm delighted to be riding Eminent as he is a very exciting colt and looks as if he'll enjoy going around Leopardstown. It's a race in which I've done well previously and hopefully can do so again."

Joining Eminent from England could be Roger Charlton's Decorated Knight (GB) (Galileo {Ire}), already a Group 1 winner in Ireland this year when successful in the G1 Tattersalls Gold Cup at The Curragh in May, Benbatl (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) from the Saeed Bin Suroor stable and Sir Michael Stoute's Poet's Word (Ire) (Poet's Voice {GB}). Dermot Weld could be doubly represented by a previous winner of the race in The Grey Gatsby (Ire) (Mastercraftsman {Ire}), who claimed the scalp of Australia (GB) (Galileo {Ire}) in 2014 and GI Man O'War S. winner Zhukova (Ire) (Fastnet Rock {Aus}). The Jim Bolger trained Moonlight Magic (GB) (Cape Cross {Ire}) could be a second Godolphin runner while heavy rain on Monday night will surely encourage trainer Ken Condon to let his good money spinner Success Days (Ire) (Jeremy) take his chance in the €1.25m contest.

SHOWROOM BOLTS TO 'TDN RISING STARDOM'

Showroom, a Sept. 30 G2 Royal Lodge S. and 2018 G1 Epsom Derby entry, was sharply into stride and seized control after the initial strides of this unveiling. Shaken up at the quarter-mile marker, the 7-2 pick quickened in impressive fashion to surge clear approaching the final eighth and maintained a high tempo in the run to the line, stopping the clock five lengths in advance of Ship of the Fen (GB) (Champs Elysees {GB}). Showroom, who was produced by an unraced half to Listed Prix Urban Sea victress Lake Palace (GB) (Nayef) and last Saturday's Listed La Coupe de Marseille winner Hebah (Ire) (Sea the Stars {Ire}), is a half-brother to last term's G2 Prix de Malleret heroine Al Wathna (GB) (Nayef) and a yearling colt by Wootton Bassett (GB). His dual stakes-placed granddam Lia (Ire) (Desert King {Ire}) is kin to Listed Prix Delahante runner-up Lit (Ire) (Danehill), who in turn is the granddam of GI American Oaks third Little Journey (Fr) (Great Journey {Jpn}).

The €30,000 ARAUG yearling's fourth dam, G2 Prix de Pomone-winning G1 Prix Vermeille third Light the Lights (Fr) (Shirley Heights {GB}), is also the granddam of G1 Prix du Jockey Club hero and MG1SW sire Lawman (Fr) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}), G1 Prix de Diane victress and GI E.P. Taylor S. runner-up Latice (Ire) (Inchiner {GB}), and GSW G1 Prix Maurice de Gheest second Satri (Ire) (Mujadil).

NOSEDA HAS BIG PLANS FOR JUVENILES

The emergence this year of the big-spending ownership syndicate Phoenix Thoroughbreds has seen trainer Jeremy Noseda unleash some well bred, expensive and ultimately smart looking 2-year-olds such as Lansky (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}) and Take Me With You (Scat Daddy). However he also appears to have a strong team of juveniles belonging to other owners and the Newmarket trainer issued an update on some of these on Tuesday. Quivery (Violence) is one Noseda is keen on despite her defeat last time in the G3 Prestige S. at Goodwood. The Marc Keller owned filly, who was a $360,000 purchase at Ocala in March, was previously two for two and Noseda is hoping a return to a more conventional track will allow the filly show her true colours.

"She will go to the [G2] May Hill [at Doncaster on Sept. 14] if the ground is good or faster," Noseda said. "The race didn't work out well at Goodwood. She didn't like Goodwood and she wants a flat track. As long as she gets good or faster ground, she is definitely a filly for Doncaster."

'TDN Rising Star' Betty F (GB) (Frankel {GB}) created a good impression when making a winning debut in a novice event at Newmarket Aug. 26 and Noseda is aiming for the top with the filly who is part owned by her breeder Charles Fox.

"She came out of the race well, she didn't beat anything much but the manner in which she did it was good, she's very talented," he said. "The aim is the [G1] Cheveley Park S. and it depends if we have a race in between, or just take her for a racecourse gallop."

THE SOCIAL ANGLE

WITH ROB BOOBYER, NEWBURY RACECOURSE

By Amie Karlsson

More and more businesses in the Thoroughbred industry are using social media to strengthen their brand and reach out to current and potential customers and clients. Rob Boobyer, Head of Marketing at Newbury Racecourse, shares his insights on their strategies for social media marketing.

TDN: What are the benefits of social media marketing for businesses in the Thoroughbred industry?

RB: From a racing point of view, which is what we use it primarily for, social media is very much a direct access to customers. It is a way for us to communicate our messages and to engage with customers and potential customers. The more we can engage people the more we can spread our message to their associates.

TDN: What are the aims with your social media marketing?

RB: On a very basic level, it is to try to encourage people to come racing. Secondary, it is about communicating messages to our customers about what goes on during a raceday. The third objective is more about educating and providing informative content about things that our followers might want to know. It could for example be a video of us watering the course, or a panoramic shot from the inside of the parade ring prior to a race. Cont. p4

TDN: What social channels do you prefer, and what type of content do you post on each platform?

RB: We primarily use Facebook and Twitter. We are using Instagram a lot more but it is very much linked to our activity on Facebook. We try to push similar content across the three platforms. The content we put on Twitter tends to be a little bit more about the racing. Instagram is of course heavily picture led and Facebook is a mix between the two. We also use Facebook more for advertising purposes, as we can target specific demographics and tailor our messages to different groups.

Generally, people find videos more interesting than static photography, but it depends a lot on the content as well. We have posted videos of, for example, the watering machine going around the course and the sprinklers in the parade ring, and they get an amazing amount of engagement. Those little glimpses of what is going on behind the scenes, what it takes to prepare a racecourse, are very popular.

And sometimes, posts you wouldn't expect to have a massive reach get picked up. For example, we posted a photo a while back of a horse that jumped going over the finishing line in a flat race, as a caption competition, and that got a lot of engagement.

TDN: Do you look at other organisations, inside or outside the Thoroughbred world, for inspiration?

RB: Yes, we are looking at what we can do differently and how we can improve what we do. If a racecourse does something particularly well, we look at what they are doing to see if we can do something similar. And the same in other industries, if there are things that we feel we can use.

Most industries have embraced social media and individual companies are using it in different ways: some as a customer service tool, some as a promotional tool. We are trying to use it as a mix between the two. But the nature of social media is that it changes on almost a daily basis, so we have to constantly evolve to maximize our reach.

TDN: How do you measure success? Can you convert social media followers into customers?

RB: That's the challenge! We can measure click-through rates. The ultimate ideal is that we can engage someone on social media and that conversation will lead to a ticket purchase. We then get their data, which allows us to speak directly to them through email or post.

TDN: What are the biggest mistakes to avoid making?

RB: Make sure everything that is sent out is proof read and make sure that your links work. It is the same with more traditional marketing: you have to make sure it is accurate. The thing with social media is that everything is such a fast pace and anything you put out there is amplified massively so you must be aware of the content you are putting out, making sure that you don't open yourself up for having errors amplified.

TDN: Going forward, what social media trends are you looking forward to?

RB: I think more user-generated content. Particularly from a racing and racing experience point of view. The more people enjoy what we offer and share that with their followers and friends, the easier it will be for us to convince people to purchase tickets.

“The Goffs UK (ex Doncaster) Premier Yearling Sale continued its impressive rise with a 13% gain in gross and a 15% gain in average, breaking the £50,000 average mark for the first time, and for at least the sixth successive year the percentage sold from those catalogued broke the 80% mark (83.0% this year), making this sale unique among North American and European yearling sales with such impressive clearance rate figures. The BBAG Yearling Sale in Baden-Baden last Friday suffered marginal dips in gross (-8%) and average (-4%) but did mark the impressive sales debut of Lanwades’ 2014 G1 German Derby winner Sea The Moon, who has now had 15 yearlings sell for an average of €110,386, including a €460,000 colt in Baden-Baden.”

Needing to come down a couple of pegs after a latest sixth in the G1 Prix Rothschild at Deauville July 30, Usherette duly returned to the winner's spot for the first time since last year's

G2 Duke of Cambridge S. In the interim, the homebred had suffered two knocks to her confidence when sixth in the

G1 Falmouth S. at Newmarket last July and on her latest outing

but had shown she retained all her ability in between when third in the G1 Prix d'Ispahan at Chantilly May 28 and the latest edition of the Duke of Cambridge at Royal Ascot June 21. Unlike in the Rothschild, when she was ridden from the front, the bay was anchored with two behind early tanking along for Mickael

Barzalona. Getting a couple of smacks to deliver her winning effort, she veered left as she gained the lead in the final 50 metres but was allowed to keep it by the officials after an inquiry.

Usherette is the first foal out of the useful Monday Show, whose second was the winner's full-sister Show Day (Ire) who Winning her third race on the bounce when breaking her black-type maiden in the 12-furlong Listed Derby du Languedoc at Toulouse June 16, Sirrin was disappointing when eighth in the G3 Prix Minerve over an extra half-furlong at Deauville Aug. 13 but rebounded here under positive tactics from Alexis Badel. Sent to the front soon after the start, the imposing bay kicked in the straight and only Lady Paname was able to give meaningful chase. The Listed Lingfield Oaks Trial-winning dam, who also produced the useful Hong Kong performer Sinkal and has a yearling filly by Intello (Ger) to come, is connected to the G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe and G1 English and Irish Derby-winning European champion Sinndar (Ire). The sorry saga surrounding jockey Davy Russell, the Irish Turf Club and Russell's punch to the neck of King's Dolly (Ire) (Golan {Ire}) before the start of a hurdle race in Tramore on Aug. 18 has hopefully run its course following the jockey's visit to Turf Club headquarters at The Curragh on Tuesday. Russell received a belated four-day ban for the incident after the case was re-opened for review following the decision by the Turf Club referrals committee to issue just a caution to Russell over the incident, a decision which led to further condemnation on social media, not only of Russell's actions but also over the leniency shown by the Turf Club. Russell's suspension begins on Sept. 19, which leaves him free to ride in the seven-day long Listowel Festival which kicks off this Sunday.

HINKLE FARMS SEEKING BIG SEPTEMBER

Nyquist | Coady Photography

by Jessica Martini

Four years ago, Tom Hinkle, brother Henry and daughter Anne Archer watched a weanling colt by Uncle Mo go through the sales ring at the 2013 Keeneland November sale, attracting a final bid of $180,000. The team jumped into action to secure the colt's dam Seeking Gabrielle (Forestry) for $100,000 just one hip later. The purchase proved to be fortuitous when that weanling, who sold for $230,000 at the Keeneland September Yearling Sale the following fall and for $400,000 at the 2015 Fasig-Tipton Florida sale, went on to become champion 2-year-old and GI Kentucky Derby winner Nyquist. Hinkle Farms will offer a half-brother by Flatter to the champion as hip 84 during Monday's Book 1 session of the Keeneland September sale.

"I was there at the sale with my dad and my uncle," recalled Anne Archer Hinkle. "It's always great when a mare sells at the same time as her foal. That way you can kind of gauge what you think other foals out of her will look like. [Nyquist] was great looking. He sold really, really well. He sold one hip in front of her and we were walking into the sales pavilion to get a seat and I just remember everybody saying, 'Wow--he sold really well for an Uncle Mo.' That was Uncle Mo's first crop at the time and not that many people had seen too many of his weanlings. He was not Uncle Mo yet. I'm sure there were people out there smarter than us who knew what he was going to turn into now, but we certainly didn't know that at the time." Cont. p3

PRACTICAL JOKE TO ASHFORD IN '18

Klaravich Stables and William Lawrence's three-time Grade I winner Practical Joke (Into Mischief--Halo Humor, by Distorted Humor), most recently a victor of the GI H. Allen Jerkens S. at Saratoga, will stand at Coolmore America's Ashford Stud for the 2018 breeding season.

"He's a very, very good-looking horse, he's by one of the hottest sires in the country and he's amongst the very best racehorses of his generation," Ashford Stud manager Dermot Ryan said of Practical Joke. "We're absolutely delighted that he's coming to stand here."

OPPENHEIM: BATTERS UP! 6

Bill Oppenheim previews the upcoming Keeneland September sale, examining what first and second-crop yearling sires to watch out for.

The 2013 auction was Seeking Gabrielle's second straight appearance at the November sale. The mare, with Nyquist in utero, RNA'd for $90,000 in 2012.

"There is nothing wrong with the mare," Hinkle said. "She is attractive, but she is not a show-stopper. I think she is one of those mares that, her foals are more striking and more attractive than she is. She is just not flashy."

Of the mare's appeal to her family's commercial breeding operation, Hinkle added, "We were looking for more mares that year. When we purchased her, she was in foal to Blame, and I know my dad and my uncle were especially excited about Blame and thought it would be great to have another foal by him. Then after seeing how great the weanling was, I think that was even more reason to go for the mare. Honestly, I think we were surprised when she only sold for what she did. And now, of course, that looks like a bargain."

The yearling received another boost when his sire Flatter was represented by recent GI Travers S. winner West Coast.

"That was great--we all shared a text between ourselves," Hinkle said. "It was perfect timing. But Flatter is a really great sire, so there is no reason why he can't have really top-tier horses."

Hip 84 is one of two half-siblings to Kentucky Derby winners scheduled to sell at Keeneland next Monday. Dromoland Farm will offer a half-sister by Pioneerof the Nile to 2017 Derby winner Always Dreaming (Bodemeister) as hip 124.

Hinkle admitted having such a well-related yearling in the shedrow provides the consignment with an extra bit of buzz.

"We're really fortunate just to have the family on the farm and to own the mare," she said. "For a small consignment like ours, it's definitely really exciting. We just hope when he gets there, he lives up to the hype. Because he certainly does have a lot of hype around him. It's a special thing to be the only Flatter in Book 1, as well." Cont. p4

Seeking Gabrielle produced a filly by Blame in 2014. That foal sold for $330,000 to Bridlewood Farm at the 2015 Keeneland September sale. The mare produced a filly by War Front this year and is currently in foal to Tapit.

“Historically, we try to sell everything, so the plan now, and when we bred to War Front, is to sell the foal,” Hinkle said. “That’ll be a decision that we have to finalize further down the road. Of course it’s always in the back of your mind, at one point I know we’ll want to hold on to a filly of hers and you can’t do much better than War Front. But that foal will be so appealing to so many people. It’s hard to turn away from that as well. The mare is back in foal to Tapit and she’s carrying a colt. We’ve taken a big swing with her, but I think she’s worth it and she’s proven herself.”

Hinkle Farms will offer three yearlings during the Monday’s Book 1 session. In addition to the Flatter colt, the farm will also send an Orb half-sister to multiple Grade I winner Divisidero (Kitten’s Joy) (hip 44) through the sales ring; as well as hip 100, a daughter of Candy Ride (Arg) out of stakes placed Sweet Tess (Afleet Alex).

Hinkle Farms purchased Madame du Lac (Lemon Drop Kid), with Divisidero in utero, for $150,000 at the 2011 Keeneland November Sale.

“She is so beautiful,” Hinkle said of the Orb yearling. “She has a massive walk and everything out of that mare has the best temperament. They are all smart and this yearling is exactly the same way. She’s also the only Orb in Book 1.”

Madame du Lac’s Bernardini colt RNA’d for $60,000 at last year’s September sale. Hinkle Farms retained a 50% interest in the colt, who has been training at Fair Hill, and will campaign him in partnership with Gunpowder Farms, which owns Divisidero.

Hinkle Farms purchased Sweet Tess, in foal to Candy Ride, for $250,000 at the 2015 Keeneland November sale. The mare is a half-sister to GISP Lady Melesi (Colonial Affair), dam of MGSP Seruni (Saint Liam).

“She is a beautiful, beautiful mare,” Hinkle said of Sweet Tess. “We’re all so pleased with this filly. She is big and she has plenty of bone. Sometimes you worry with the first foal, you worry that they might be a little slight, but she is not. She is super strong. I think people are really going to like her.”

Hinkle Farms has catalogued 21 yearlings to the September sale, including an additional five yearlings in Book 2.

“We are also really pleased with our Book 2 yearlings, which include colts by Curlin, Pioneer of the Nile, and Uncle Mo and fillies by Arch and Into Mischief,” Hinkle added.

The draft also includes a half-sister by City Zip to recent P.G. Johnson S. winner Orbolution (Orb) (hip 1762).

Hinkle Farms currently is home to a broodmare band of close to 40 head.

“Or, as my dad said earlier today, ‘Too many,’ Hinkle laughed. “We are selling a few in November because we have to cut down on our numbers, but we need to have enough. You can’t just have five or six mares if you are trying to sell foals as yearlings. We’ve realized if you bring too few to the sales, if the big ones that you’re really banking on doing well don’t do as well for you as you’re hoping, it can be harder to come back from that. You just need enough numbers to have a little bit of a safety net.”

The farm traditionally offers all of its crop as yearlings, but in an unusual turn, will sell some weanlings at the upcoming Keeneland November sale.

“This year we are selling three weanling colts, but that is only because we have 18 colts and eight fillies and we don’t have enough paddocks for when they get to be yearlings to separate all the colts. Some years, it is a really even 50-50 split, but we were really hit hard by colts this year. It isn’t a bad thing, but we do have to let a few go.”

Following in her father and uncle’s footsteps, Hinkle is the third generation of her family to help operate the 1,000-acre Hinkle Farms in Paris, Kentucky.

The 27-year-old will be making her third trip to the September sale as the farm’s director of bloodstock services, but she originally had other plans.

“My senior year in college, I was really dead-set on going to veterinarian school,” Hinkle said. “When I got out of school, I worked for some small animal hospitals and, I think going through the application process and actually getting some real experience in that setting, I just realized I didn’t quite think it was for me.”

She continued, “But even early on in college, I thought whatever I do, I always want to be able to help out with the farm. My dad and my uncle did other things--they were really involved in highway construction--and my dad managed the farm, as well. So that was a lofty goal of mine. But then when I decided I didn’t want to go to vet school, I talked to my dad and my uncle about working full time for the farm and they were kind enough to find a place for me. And I’ve been working with the farm ever since.”

Hinkle is clearly relishing her role at the farm which is steeped in generations of her family’s history.

“It’s been really fulfilling to be involved with something that is so special to my family and to be able to work with my family,” she said. “Most people look up to their dad and think that he hung the moon. That’s how I feel. I know that I have such a special opportunity to learn from my family members, who I have a tremendous amount of respect for. Of course it’s challenging learning how to work with family when you’re just used to interacting with them on a personal level, but it’s been a great experience and I’ve learned so much from them. I know I have a lifetime more to learn, but I’ve really enjoyed it so far.”

The Keeneland September sale begins Monday at 3 p.m.

BATTERS UP!

Beginning with the $60-million increase in gross from Keeneland September 2012 to Keeneland September 2013, the last four years of Keeneland September (2013-2016) have seen 11,100 yearlings sold for a total of $1.114 billion and an average of $100,435. So we know what the target is: somewhere in the neighborhood of 2,775 sold for a gross of $278 million, and a $100,000 average. That's where the sale has been the last four years. But those totals are weeks away; first we have the new Fasig Turf sale this Sunday, then the all-new Keeneland Book 1 on Monday, followed by a three-day Book 2 next Tuesday-Thursday. We'll clock in with a report Tuesday on the first two, pretty much entirely new days, and then next Saturday we'll try and make sense of the 'first week.'

One striking thing about this year's catalogue, it seems to us, is the prominence of second-crop yearling sires, whose first 2-year-olds are racing this year. Most years, the sires with their first yearlings take center stage among younger sires, and those with first 2-year-olds suffer from the 'yesterday's news' syndrome. But this year is a little different: 26 sires with their first yearlings are represented during the 13 days of selling, totaling 585 yearlings (13.1% of the 4,309 catalogued). There are 33 sires with their first 2-year-olds, represented by 695 yearlings (16.1% of those catalogued), and 25 sires with their first 3-year-olds, which combined have 489 yearlings (11.1%) catalogued. All together, the three youngest groups of sires include 84 sires, with 1,769 yearlings catalogued, an average of 21 yearlings per sire, and constituting 41% of the total number of yearlings catalogued over the 13 days. Cont. p7

For potential buyers looking at any of the 695 yearlings from the second crops of their sires, the first port of call on their bookwork will be the North American Freshman Sire List, so let's have a look at that (click here). The top six Kentucky-based freshman sires all have more than 20 yearlings catalogued, so those will of course be of particular interest. The Leading Freshman Sire as of now is WinStar's Overanalyze, a dual GII winner of the Futurity S. and Remsen S. at two, and winner of the GI Arkansas Derby at three for Repole Stable; his sire, Dixie Union, is also the sire of last year's number two Freshman Sire, Union Rags. Overanalyze is the sire of 17 winners to date, three Black-Type Horses (two Graded), and the earners of $685,617. He's been a bit of a surprise package, to say the least: his 52 yearlings sold last year averaged just $27,437, but based on these results, he's due for a price upgrade. That, however, won't happen in the first week, as all 31 of his yearlings are catalogued in the second week. Same for Freshman Sire #3, Spendthrift's Jimmy Creed, a $900,000 yearling by Distorted Humor who won the GI Malibu S. and is the sire of 11 winners, five Black-Type Horses (two Graded), including Spectator, winner of the GII Sorrento S. and third in the GI Del Mar Debutante S. last Sunday. He has 23 catalogued in the sales, all again in the second week.

Hill 'n' Dale's Violence, a son of Medaglia d'Oro who was a $600,000 yearling and won three of his four starts, including the GI Cashcall Futurity, and was second to Orb in the GII Fountain of Youth S. in what turned out to be his final career start, is number two on the Freshman Sire List, with 11 winners and two Black-Type Winners, including last weekend's Del Mar Juvenile Turf S. winner Encumbered. He's been a very popular horse all along--last year 70 yearlings from his first crop averaged $88,736, and 19 yearlings this year have averaged $96,695--and has 47 yearlings catalogued, the first eight of them in Book 2.

The aforementioned Orb, Claiborne's son of Malibu Moon who won the 2013 GI Kentucky Derby, currently ranks fifth on the Freshman Sire List, including last week's Saratoga BTW Orbolution. Orb has been this crop's commercial leader all along; he's had 15 yearlings sell so far this year for an average of $315,584. He has 54 yearlings catalogued, one in Book 1 and 26 in Book 2, so half of his yearlings are in the first week.

Coolmore's Ashford division stands #4 on the Freshman Sire List with the undefeated Champion North American 2-Year-Old of 2012, Shanghai Bobby, by Into Mischief's sire, Harlan's Holiday; and #6, Declaration of War (War Front), who won the G1 Queen Anne S. and G1 Juddmonte International, and ran a close third in the GI Breeders' Cup Classic on dirt as a 4-year-old in 2013.

Shanghai Bobby has six winners, four of them Black-Type Horses, while Declaration of War also has four BTH (three GSP), including G3 winner Actress, and Olmedo, beaten a short head in the G3 Prix Des Chenes at Chantilly last Sunday. Shanghai Bobby has 54 yearlings catalogued, all but three (in Book 2) in the second week, while Declaration of War is the leading sire with first 2-year-olds by number catalogued, with 78--13 at Fasig, four in Book 1, 30 in Book 2, and 31 in the second week.

Orb has 54 yearlings catalogued in KEESEP's first two books | Claiborne Farm

Not forgetting the first-crop sires, who will of course evince plenty of interest themselves. Ashford's dual Grade I winner Verrazano tops the charts with 75 catalogued, and is one of seven first-year sires with more than 35 catalogued. Three Chimneys' 2013 Champion 3-year-old Will Take Charge, who has already had 11 yearlings average $257,272 (click here--first-crop yearling sires, NA only), has 65 catalogued, while Lane's End's Noble Mission and Airdrie's Cairo Prince have 58 and 54 catalogued, respectively. All four of these have double-digit representation in the first week. The top seven first-year sires by number catalogued are rounded out by WinStar's Fed Biz (45 catalogued), Spendthrift's dual GI Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile winner Goldencents (43), and Three Chimneys' Strong Mandate, Wayne Lukas's previous GI Hopeful S. winner by Tiznow for owners Baker and Mack (he won it again on Monday for the same owners, by the same sire, with Sporting Chance). Strong Mandate, who has 38 catalogued, had an $825,000 filly at Saratoga, and thus ranks, at least for now, second on the first-crop sires table with six sold for an average of $222,833.

While that average is sure to fall, he's still made quite an impression for a $10,000 sire.

FASIG-TIPTON GULFSTREAM SALE MOVED TO FLORIDA DERBY WEEK

The Fasig-Tipton Gulfstream Selected 2-Year-Olds in Training Sale, held in recent years at the beginning of March, has been moved to the end of the month to coincide with GI Florida Derby week, Fasig-Tipton announced Tuesday. The Under Tack show will be conducted Monday, Mar. 26, while the sale will be held Wednesday, Mar. 28. The 67th renewal of the Florida Derby will be run Saturday, Mar. 31.

"Moving our 2018 Gulfstream Sale three weeks later allows us to be a part of the excitement of Florida Derby week," said Fasig-Tipton President Boyd Browning. "Positioning the sale around the Florida Derby should bring the auction added exposure, and the timing should work well for both buyers and sellers."

Nomination forms for the 2018 Fasig-Tipton Gulfstream Sale are now available.

HANDLE UP, ATTENDANCE SLIGHTLY DOWN AT DEL MAR

Del Mar's 78th summer season, which came to a close Monday, showed an increase in handle over 2016 while posting a slight decrease in attendance. Total wagering for the meet came in at $451.5 million, for a daily average of $12,542,000, up 5.1% over the previous summer, while 476,628 patrons came through the gates for a daily average of 13,240, down 1.5% from last year's figures.

The seaside oval posted gains in average field size from 8.3 horses to 8.6 and crucially, with the Breeders' Cup set to be contested there for the first time this fall, Del Mar saw four racing fatalities after 17 deaths marred last summer's meet.

"In many ways, you might call this one of the very best meets we've ever had here," said Del Mar Thoroughbred Club's president Joe Harper.

Executive vice president for racing Tom Robbins added, "If you remember the circumstances coming into this meet, there was real concern about how we'd be able to perform. Filling a five-day race week with high-end product is a challenge on any circuit these days. But our horsemen rallied, our racing proved to be top quality and safe and we were able to put on a first-rate show for fans around the country."

Flavien Prat finished the meet strong, booting home seven winners in the final three days to capture the Del Mar riding title with 35 victories. The 25-year-old French native, who tied Rafael Bejarano for last year's crown and also knotted with apprentice Evin Roman for this year's Santa Anita winter/spring meet honors, finished six up on both Bejarano and Roman, who tied for second with 29 winners apiece.

Richard Baltas and Phil D'Amato battled to a draw in the training title race, each collecting one win on closing day to finish with 18 victories apiece. This was the first title of any kind for Baltas, while D'Amato took home the crown last summer.

Brothers Pete and Kosta Hronis's Hronis Racing LLC earned its third Del Mar owner's championship, sending out seven winners and racking up $854,055 in earnings, highlighted by champion Stellar Wind (Curlin), who defended her title in the GI Clement L. Hirsch S. July 30.

Del Mar's fall meet, which features the Nov. 3-4 Breeders' Cup World Championships, will get underway Wednesday, Nov. 1 and run through Sunday, Nov. 26.

GIOIA STELLA (f, 4, Medaglia d'Oro--Dowry, by Belong to Me), a $1.5-million Keeneland September yearling purchase, moved through her maiden and 'one other than' conditions in New York last year and was last seen finishing sixth in a one-mile turf event at this level at Saratoga July 22. Finding the waters shallower as the 1-2 favorite here, the filly endured a wide trip, but still finished with good energy to score by six lengths over Untouchable U (Red Giant). The winner is a half to GI American Oaks winner Nereid (Rock Hard Ten), GISW, $303,800; and GI Belmont Oaks Inv. runner-up Sea Queen (Lemon Drop Kid), SW & GISP, $474,495. Dowry is also responsible for a yearling full-brother to the winner and a weanling filly by Empire Maker. She visited Uncle Mo this spring. Lifetime Record: 10-3-2-0, TOUCHING RAINBOWS (g, 4, Aragorn {Ire}--Violin Case, by Gold Case) graduated from the maiden ranks and added a second victory in the mid-level claiming ranks in 2016 and appeared to fit best in races below the allowance level, but has subsequently showed astonishing improvement since arriving to the care of trainer Phil D'Amato. Second, beaten just a neck, in a seven-furlong optional claimer for Cal-breds at Santa Anita July 1, the chestnut recently annexed an Aug. 10 optional claimer at that same level locally, registering a 99 Beyer Speed Figure--14 points higher than his previous top.
