BREEDERS' CUP CHAMPIONSHIP AT SANTA ANITA SATURDAY

Santa Anita Park will host the tenth edition of the Breeders' Cup Championship this Saturday, November 6. With $10,000,000 in purses as the drawing card, 103 horses have been pre-entered for the seven Breeders' Cup races. This is the second time the event has been held at the Arcadia, California track; the 1986 running at Santa Anita produced a record Oak Tree meet attendance of 64,155 and a North American single-day on-track handle record of $15,410,409. Post time for the first race of the Breeders' Cup card will be 10:10 a.m. PST; the Sprint, first of the Breeders' Cup races, will go off at 10:55 a.m. PST. In addition to the seven Championship races, Santa Anita will feature three added-money stakes, the Cascapedia, Smile and Skywalker Handicaps.

For the tenth year, NBC will televise the Breeders' Cup, live from 1:30 to 6:00 p.m. EST; it is estimated that 17 million people will tune in during the broadcast, which will air on 198 stations. The NBC telecast will also be fed internationally to 46 countries.

'CLASSIC' PRODUCER PUT TO REST

No Class, Canadian Broodmare Champion and the dam of five stakes winners, including four champions, was humanely destroyed yesterday morning due to complications from a recent bout with laminitis. The 19-year-old broodmare, who had a major impact on recent Breeders' Cups by producing not only '92 Turf runner-up Sky Classic, but also Classy 'N Smart, dam of '91 Distaff winner Dance Smartly, will be buried at Sam-Son Farm in Milton, Ontario, Canada. No Class produced Sky Classic, '92 Eclipse Award-winning turf horse and also Canadian champion as 2-year-old colt, older horse and turf horse; Regal Classic, Canadian champion two year old; Grey Classic, also two-year-old champion in Canada; and Classy 'N Smart, Canadian's champion three-year-old filly and dam of Dance Smartly, Horse of the Year at three in Canada and Eclipse Award winner as North America's top three-year-old filly. The broodmare had a weanling colt by Deputy Minister in 1993.

ANTLEY SETS OUT ON CALIFORNIA CAREER

Jockey Chris Antley, the nation's leading rider in races won in 1985, has moved his tack to California and will begin riding Wednesday at Santa Anita. The 27-year-old reinsman, who led the standings in New York and New Jersey on the East Coast, is named on six mounts; agent Bill Barisoff, who handled Bill Shoemaker before his retirement, will have Antley's back.

LAUREL

Today's Preview.

Maryland-breds compete for a purse of $60,000 in today's seven-furlong Chaledon Stakes. Apparitiontofollow (Silver Ghost), undefeated at the distance and riding a two-race winning streak, faces graded stakes winner Gala Spinaway (Star Choice).

BREEDERS' CUP CLASSIC

Eighteen horses were pre-entered for the $3,000,000 Classic, but with the defections of Brunswick and Grand Jewel, and with Hernando likely for the Turf, a full field of 14 is now probable for the race. Trainer Bobby Frankel will saddle a trio of Classic runners; Bertrando and Missionary Ridge are both in fine shape after working on Sunday, but a swollen spot on the face of stablemate Marquetry was cause for concern. "It's a bump and I don't know what caused it," said Frankel. "Maybe it was a cut in his mouth. We're treating it with salt water and hot compresses on his face." While New York shippers Miner's Mark, Devil His Due and Wallenda arrived at Santa Anita yesterday, three-year-old Diazo had his final prep for the Classic Monday, breezing five-eighths in 1:01 1/5 under jockey Laffit Pincay Jr. Best Pal also tuned up for Saturday's race, going six furlongs in 1:12 3/5 with Corey Black in the saddle. French Group I winner Arcangues arrived from Europe Monday afternoon and is in quarantine; English hopeful Ezzoud was due in late yesterday.

TURF

The $2,000,000 Turf was oversubscribed with 19 horses; the early favorite is Kotashaan. Trainer Paco Gonzalez will try to beat the favorite with Bien Bien, taking blinkers off for this race. "Last time they raced each other, my horse got beat by a nose. My horse was in blinkers and I don't think he saw (Kotashaan.) If you look at the film, you can see my horse start to come back after he sees him. After I saw that, I took the blinkers off." Solar Splendor, 10th in last year's Turf, is scheduled to work this morning, as is Luazur. Trainer Ron McAnally is still undecided on whether to run Johann Quatz in the Turf or the Mile; the colt worked six furlongs in 1:13 Sunday. Arriving Monday and currently in quarantine are Apple Tree, Dernier Empereur, Hatoof, Hernando, Intrepidity, Serrant and Wemyss Bight; Muhtarram and Opera House were due in later in the evening.

JUVENILE

With the declaration of Dove Hunt, a field of 11 two-year-old colts are pointing for the $1,000,000 mile-and-a-sixteenth Juvenile. New York favorite Dehere will work an easy three furlongs at the Middletown (N.J.) Training Center this morning before shipping to California on Wednesday. Brocco, a $215,000 two-year-old purchase, will breeze at Santa Anita today. Trainer Brian Mayberry is considering the addition of blinkers for his Juvenile runner, Ramblin Guy. "I don't think he really puts out all the time," said Mayberry. "All of his races are good, but sometimes he doesn't seem to focus and do all he can do." On Monday's work tab at Santa Anita: Creston went a bullet seven-eighths in 1:25 2/5 under jockey Corey Black; Flying Sensation worked six furlongs in 1:13 2/5 with jockey Laffit Pincay Jr. up; Ferrara went seven furlongs in 1:27 2/5 headily with trainer Gary Jones and owner Dee Amodeo.

SPRINT

The $1,000,000 Sprint drew the biggest crowd of pre-entries with 25, but there have already been five declarations: out are Anjiz, Arches of Gold, Binalong, Cargo and Superstrike; Plantaganet is also doubtful. Last year's Juvenile winner Gilded Time worked a strong six furlongs in 1:10 4/5 Monday; the three-year-old will be making his first start since last year's Breeders' Cup in Saturday's Sprint. Reformed claimer Music Merci will have his final Sprint prep this morning; the seven-year-old finished fourth in the Juvenile in 1988. Another Breeders' Cup returnee, '92 Sprint winner Thirty Slews, galloped at Santa Anita yesterday. He has only started three times since last year's Championship. "He's a real sensitive horse and he drops a lot of flesh whenever he runs, so I really have to pick my spots with him," said trainer Bob Baffert. Three-year-old Demaloot Demashoot caught the Hollywood clockers' attention Monday with a sharp half-mile in :45 2/5. Gold Spring will work an easy five furlongs this morning at Keeneland and ship to California Wednesday. Alydeed will also arrive in California Wednesday from Canada. Arriving Monday and in quarantine were Kashani and Monde Bleu; Sayyedati and Surprise Offer were scheduled in later in the day.

DISTAFF

The $1,000,000 nine-furlong contest for the fillies and mares has drawn a strong field of nine despite the loss of Jolypha, who suffered a career-ending sesamoid fracture on Thursday. Returning champ Paseana worked three-quarters in 1:13 Sunday and walked yesterday morning. Florida-bred Hollywood Wildcat breezed Monday, also going six furlongs in 1:13 3/5. Arriving from the East yesterday were top sophomores Sky Beauty and Dispute; both worked at Belmont Park Sunday, with Sky Beauty going a mile in 1:43 and Dispute working five-eighths in 1:01. Re Toss suffered a quarter crack in her left front foot Monday, but her trainer, Henry Moreno, was not worried about it. "It seems to be all right. We are putting a patch on her, mainly as a precaution. It appears she will be fine." Supah Gem just walked the shed Monday after breezing five furlongs under jockey Alex Solis Sunday. Four-year-old Party Cited is "90% okay" after kicking herself on the right hind leg last week.

MILE

The starting gate will be full for the $1,000,000 Mile, with 14 likely to start. Last year's winner and this year's heavy favorite, Lure, arrived from New York Monday. The colt worked five eighths in the slop at Belmont Sunday, getting the distance in 1:02 1/5. Working in New York Monday was New York-bred Fourstars Allstar; the four year old went a half-mile in :48 and is due in California Wednesday. The temperamental Toussaud worked a half-mile in :47 1/5, handily, from the gate yesterday. Paradise Creek will have his final five-furlong work today or tomorrow. The four year old will be making his second start since undergoing ankle surgery last spring. Stablemate Lech will also work today or Wednesday. Trainer Paco Gonzalez will make a final decision on the status of his Mile nominee Visible Gold after she breezes this morning. If the filly does run, she will be ridden by Gonzalez' nephew, apprentice Sal Gonzalez Jr. Charlie Whittingham's lone Breeders' Cup starter, last year's female turf champ Flawlessly, will also work this morning. Ski Paradise is in quarantine after arriving Monday; also scheduled in yesterday were Barathea, Bigstone, Catrail and Wolfhound. Kingmambo, son of two-time Mile winner Miesque, developed a slight fever and did not make the trip; Maryland Moon has also been declared.

JUVENILE FILLIES

Eight two-year-old fillies will compete for the winner's share of the $1,000,000 purse. Heavenly Prize, the only representative from the East, will try to keep her record unblemished; the Shug McGaughey trainee was one of his six winners on Breeders' Cup Preview Day at Belmont. The Frizette winner arrived from New York yesterday. Trainer Brian Mayberry will run an entry for Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Moss, with both Sardula and Rhapsodic set for the race. Sardula's nemesis, Phone Chatter, galloped Monday; her trainer is looking forward to trying her at the mile and a sixteenth distance of the Juvenile Fillies. Meadow Rendezvous had her final Breeders' Cup prep Sunday, going five-eighths in 1:01. Astas Foxy Lady has not fully recovered from her skin rash and will not run. The only European two year old in the Cup, Coup de Genie, flew in to California Monday and is in quarantine.

ANGLES

*Three Belmont Stakes winners have tried the Classic; A.P. Indy won both last year. Colonial Affair will try to make it two in a row, and is taking a similar route. The two colts both won the Belmont, finished off the board in the Molson Million, then ran well in but did not win the Jockey Club Gold Cup as their final Classic prep.

*The Super Derby is a super Classic prep. Of the six Classic runners who have made their last pre-Cup start at Louisiana Downs, five have been first or second, but only Alysheba, 1988, won both. Wallenda, Peteski and Kissin Kris come out of this year's Super Derby.

*Geldings are just two for 40 in Breeders' Cup races; there are 14 geldings pre-entered in this year's Breeders' Cup, including one of the two who have been successful—Thirty Slews, the '92 Sprint winner.

*No winner of the Arlington Million has ever won the Turf, but Theatrical finished third in that race before triumphing in the '87 Breeders' Cup Turf; '93 Turf contender Johann Quatz finished third in year's Arlington Million.

*The favorite has won the Juvenile for the last three years.

*The winner of the Norfolk Stakes has taken two of the three California BC Juveniles: Chief's Crown in '84 and Capote in '86; the 1987 Juvenile winner Success Express was the best finisher from the race that year, running fourth in the '87 Norfolk. This year's Norfolk winner was Juvenile hopeful Shepherd's Field.

*Six of nine Distaff winners have prepped in the Spinster at Keeneland; Paseana is the only '93 Spinster runner to contest this year's Distaff.

*Don't count on longshots in the Distaff; the favorite has won the race seven of nine times, with the second choice taking the other two editions.

*A past Breeders' Cup winner has never produced a Breeders' Cup winner; there are nine chances to change that this year. Six Cup winning sires—Capote, Gulch, last Tycoon, Manila, Skywalker and Wild Again, and one dam—Personal Ensign—are represented by Cup runners this year.

SCOOPS

The long and the short of it. Classic runner Colonial Affair is the tallest horse in trainer Scotty Schulhofer's barn; his groom, Vincente Zapien, is the shortest in the barn. The two have been together since the colt came to the track as a two year old.

Calling Dr. Scholl. Bill Shoemaker's Classic runner Diazo wears shoe pads to protect his sensitive feet. The champion jockey, who rode Ferdinand to victory in the '87 Classic, said the pads make a big difference, adding, "it must be like somebody with a corn. His feet hurt him all the time."

The pleasure is mine. Trainer Chris Speckert has sent out two horses for previous Breeders' Cups, Pleasant Stage, winner of the '91 Juvenile Fillies and Pleasant Tap, second in the '92 Classic. This year's runner? Pleasant Tango. Pleasant Colony sired all three runners.

Saddling her first Grade I runner. Juvenile starter Creston was the first graded stakes winner for his trainer, Jenine Sahadi; the two will try Grade I competition for the first time in the Breeders' Cup.

Teamwork. Trainer Neil Drysdale and jockey Eddie Delahoussaye have teamed up to win three Breeders' Cup races; the '84 Distaff with princess Rooney, the '89 Turf with Prized and the '92 Classic with A.P. Indy. The two will try to do it again with Hollywood Wildcat in the '93 Distaff.

WRITERS UP:

MILCH HAS NO 'TIME' FOR RULES

By Bill Finley

So, the television producer—the one who breaks all the rules, who introduces nudity to prime time, who was thrown out of Yale Law School and who hitched from Buffalo into Canada at the age of 8 to place bets—has pre-entered a horse that hasn't run in a year in the Breeders' Cup Sprint. Of course, this runs contrary to every unwritten rule and tradition of racing. Must just be David Milch being David Milch, noted non-conformist.

"No, not at all, I have no attachment to doing things out of the ordinary," Milch says with great emphasis on his unorthodox version of what he says is an orthodox personality.

But perception is often more powerful than reality, which Milch surely knows since he deals with the most unreal world there is, television. As one of two executive producers and the creator of the controversial and racy new series "N.Y.P.D. Blue," he has stirred up much controversy. As co-owner of Eclipse Award winner Gilded Time, he may be seen as playing by his very own set of rules, whether he likes that spin or not.

This much is certain: Gilded Time can run. A terrific 2-year-old, he ended an unbeaten year in last year's Juvenile, which immediately earned him an Eclipse Award and the role of early favorite for the Kentucky Derby. And then he disappeared, spending time in oblivion as a mysterious foot ailment wiped out, for him, the Triple Crown, and most of his year.

In most cases, a top horse like Gilded Time, who has had such a lengthy absence, would return to top competition slowly. There would be an allowance race, maybe an easy stakes spot and then a major race. But Milch and trainer Darrell Vienna may decide to bypass steps one and two. Gilded Time, unraced since Oct. 31 of last year, is pre-entered for the Breeders' Cup Sprint. Against the fastest horses in North America, he may be going into battle woefully unprepared.

But Milch sees nothing but logic in what others consider an illogical plan.

"This is an extraordinary animal, which Darrell Vienna has felt from the first day we had him," said Milch. "He could do things that other horses couldn't. We wouldn't be thinking about something like this unless we didn't feel that he's an extraordinary horse. Unless I think he can win, I will not run him."

Milch fell in love with racing as a child when his father used to take him most summers to Saratoga, which was, he says, the only vacation his family had.

"Spending time with him at the track, those were the happiest moments of my childhood," he said. "I've always had a special connection to racing since."

Even then, it was apparent Milch was exceptionally bright but a little off center. For instance, he reportedly was expelled from Yale Law School after he destroyed a police car's roof lights with a shotgun blast. He tried this and that before he was hired as a writer for "Hill Street Blues," where he began to establish a reputation as one of the more talented people in his profession.

Though he says he finds little time for racing, the sport remains one of his great passions. He owns a small stable of horses, the best of which is Gilded Time, who has provided him with some ecstasy, some headaches, lately more headaches.

"This year has been terribly frustrating," he said. "You wait all your life to get a chance like this. What made it worse is that we could never absolutely pinpoint his problem. We would take diagnostic tests, which never really revealed what was wrong with his foot."

"Maybe it's been a case of the adhesions breaking up, but nobody knows. I can't tell you how many blacksmiths I flew in to take a look at him. All we do know is that his foot problem is over."

Healthy and training well, Gilded Time is ready to race, maybe in the Nov. 6 Breeders' Cup Sprint for a million bucks. Yes, it seems to be a made-for-TV movie. Mickey Rooney as the crusty old trainer, Michael J. Fox (ever noticed how short that guy is?) as the jockey, Mr. Ed as Gilded Time.

"If I'm writing the script, he runs back and beats them," Milch said.

So the story might get played out Breeders' Cup Day. For once, David Milch can't write in his own happy ending.
