OTB DEFEATED IN NORTHERN VA. While Alexandria and Arlington voters rejected off-track betting (OTB) on Election Day, Hampton voted to approve the proposal. Hampton now joins Richmond, Virginia Beach, and Chesapeake and the counties of Henrico, Brunswick, and Greensville as eligible sites for Satellite Wagering Facilities. The Virginia General Assembly approved OTB last year. Those cities and counties wanting an OTB facility are required to present the issue to voters in the form of a referendum. By law, an OTB referenda may not be offered to any locality in which it was defeated for at least three years.

FINDER'S CHOICE RETIRED Kentucky-bred Finder's Choice, a stakes winner of 15 races and more than $600,000, has been retired and will stand at the Northview Stallion Station in Chesapeake City, Maryland for the 1994 season. The eight-year-old son of Buckfinder set a Laurel turf course record of 1:46 for the mile and an eighth in 1992; he was originally retired last year, but returned to the races and finished a good third behind Star of Cozzene and Lure in the '93 Caesar's International.

BREEDERS' CUP SIMULCAST SHOW TO 600 OUTLETS This year's 5-hour Breeders' Cup simulcast show will be telecast at over 600 simulcast locations in the United States and, for the first time, will be broadcast to Europe as well. The telecast, hosted by Dave Johnson, is designed to appeal to the bettor; it's focus will be information rather than entertainment. Each race will be treated in a 30-minute segment to include late changes, analysis by a racing expert, paddock observations and selections. Experts will include European analyst Harry Herbert, whose father, Lord Carnarvan, owns Sprint runner Surprise Offer; former Racing Times editor Steven Crist; and the Blood-Horse's Ray Paulick.

FORBES BREAKS MARK John Forbes, the winningest trainer in Meadowlands history, smashed through the 500-win barrier at the N.J. oval Wednesday night. He needed just one victory to reach the milestone, but sent out four winners from four starters Wednesday.

BREEDERS' CUP

CLASSIC

Expect to see Bertrando on the lead Saturday; trainer Bobby Frankel commented yesterday, "My feeling is to just let him go and bury them leaving there. Just let him go. If the opening half is in :46 or :48, he's still going to finish the same way." The colt's breeder and co-owner, Ed Nahem, also announced that Bertrando will race again next year. "As long as he's sound, I think so," he said. "He's one of the superstars of the game, so why not give the racing fans another year?" Frankel's other speedster, Marquetry, will sit just off the pace for the Classic. "I want him to assume the stalking position," said Frankel, who will also have closer Missionary Ridge in the race. "If the speed backs up, then I think we have a good chance," said his jockey, Eddie Delahoussaye, who won the Classic last year with A.P. Indy. Canadian invader Peteski arrived in California just before midnight Wednesday. "This horse may go on and be better than any horse I've had," said trainer Roger Attfield. Devil His Due breezed a half in :49 1/5 yesterday with trainer Allen Jerkens looking on. Jerkens is making his first visit to Santa Anita since he was stable there 30 years ago. Kissin Kris was back on the track yesterday after working Wednesday. "I normally walk him after more serious work, but yesterday was just a blow out," said trainer David Bell. The colt schooled in the paddock Wednesday and Thursday. Pleasant Tango was also out for a gallop yesterday after his Wednesday breeze. "It was an easy half mile," explained trainer Chris Speckert. European Classic hopeful Ezzoud, who will be making his first start on the dirt, popped out of the starting gate yesterday morning before galloping on the main track. Looking forward to the race, trainer Michael Stoute said, "He'll sit just back of (the pace)...if he doesn't like the dirt, he'll be way back of it." Miner's Mark worked a bullet half in :46 2/5 yesterday. The three year old will try to duplicate the Breeders' Cup performance of his dam, Personal Ensign, who capped off her unbeaten career with a dramatic win in the '88 Distaff.

TURF

French Derby winner Hernando tried out Santa Anita's hillside turf course (and dirt crossing) and handled it super, according to jockey Cash Asmussen, who was aboard for yesterday's gallop. Opera House, scheduled to work this morning, was also out on the turf Thursday, and was unconcerned with the dirt crossing. "He didn't mind it at all. English horses are always crossing roads—we've got it all over the country. It could have been a hurdle, and he would've went over it," said his rider, jockey Michael Roberts. Morning line favorite Kotashaan went an easy half in :50 2/5 on the turf yesterday. Trainer Richard Mandella was not overjoyed at his post, 13, but added, "I'd rather have a bad post and good luck than bad luck and a good post." Hatoof, a daughter of Irish River who beat the boys as favorite in the Group I Champion Stakes last time out, galloped on the main track yesterday under the watchful eye of trainer Criquelette Head. Head also handled Kotashaan before the colt came to the U.S. "We sent him to America because he needed a lot of pace in his races." France's leading trainer Andre Fabre arrived Wednesday night and was at Santa Anita yesterday morning to oversee the preparations of the Fabre five for the Turf. "Intrepidity is my favorite," he said. "She is certainly one of the best I have ever trained. I think she will run well, but if she doesn't, she is still my favorite." This is only the second time a trainer will saddle a five-horse entry in a Breeders' Cup race; D. Wayne Lukas ran a quintet in the '88 Juvenile Fillies, including the first three finishers.

JUVENILE

Favorite Dehere had his first gallop over the Santa Anita strip yesterday, and seemed none the worse for wear after his cross-country trip Wednesday. "He knows how to travel," said trainer Reynaldo Nobles, adding confidently, "when you've got a champion, you've got to go where the races are." Dehere is stabled with trainer Darrell Vienna's string, prompting Nobles to comment, "Now there are two Juvenile winners in the same barn." Vienna has last year's victor, Gilded Time. Ramblin Guy will have blinkers added to his racing equipment for the first time Saturday. The son of Ogygian has been first or second in all five career starts; he has also been favored in every start, a streak which is sure to end Saturday. Brocco will make his first start around two turns in the Juvenile. "There's always a question the first time a horse runs a distance, but I've worked him in full gear around the turns two or three different times, and he's done everything I've wanted him to do perfectly," said conditioner Randy Winick. Shepherd's Field and Hot Number came out of their Wednesday breezes in good order. Blumin Affair went two miles at Hollywood yesterday morning, with the second mile at a two-minute clip. The Kentucky bred was scheduled to van to Santa Anita Thursday afternoon.

MILE

Mile favorite Lure stretched his legs over the Santa Anita turf course yesterday, going a half mile in :49. The four year old is 7-5 on the morning line, but if he goes off at less than even money Saturday, it will be the first time the Mile has an odds-on favorite. Jockey Gary Stevens was aboard his Mile mount, Baratheia, for the first time yesterday. "I was impressed," he said. "He went real nice. They say he likes (the turf) firm, and it's firm." Toussaud, who has never missed a check in 13 career starts, galloped Thursday morning; trainer Bobby Frankel said of her morning line odds, "I thought they'd make her 15 or 20-1 and was a little surprised when I learned she was 5-1. But I'm telling you, this is a nice filly." Neither Catrail nor his exercise rider, Mark Banner, came to harm yesterday after the two parted company on the way to the track. "That's the way he is," said trainer John Gosden. "We'll have to fit Mark with a parachute next time. Let's just say he's a character and leave it at that." Johann Quatz will blow out a quarter of a mile this morning.

DISTAFF

Top three-year-old Sky Beauty will blow out for the Distaff this morning, but jockey Mike Smith, who is five-for-five aboard the filly, will not be in the saddle. "I don't get on her in the mornings, because she pulls too much," said Smith. The daughter of Blushing Groom, who has Grade I stakes wins at six and seven furlongs, a mile, a mile and an eighth and a mile and a quarter, is a perfect one-for-one at the nine-furlong distance of the Distaff. Clement Hirsch, owner of Magical Maiden and president of the Oak Tree Racing Association, has had horses with trainer Warren Stute for almost 50 years. "Either he's a good trainer or I'm not very smart," said Hirsch. Added Stute, "The only reason we're still together is he lives on the other side of town and we never see each other." Magical Maiden will breeze Friday morning. Last year's Eclipse Award winner and Breeders' Cup champ Paseana will blow out a quarter of a mile this morning. "She is coming into this race as good as she did last year, and she loves this track," said trainer Ron McAnally. Trainer Shug McGaughey thinks Beldame winner Dispute has a shot to take the Eclipse Award this year if she can win Saturday. "Because of the strength of the field, a win in the Distaff will be a big factor in deciding who is the best three-year-old filly," he said. Dispute will blow out this morning. Vanity Handicap winner Re Toss will also breeze, scheduled for an easy three-eighths this morning.

JUVENILE FILLIES

Trainer Richard Mandella handles two of the Breeders' Cup morning-line favorites, Kotashaan for the Turf and Phone Chatter for the Juvenile Fillies. "I get up every morning scared to death—but then, you work all your life to get up and have that feeling," he said. Coup de Genie two-minute licked a mile yesterday under jockey Cash Asmussen. The daughter of Mr. Prospector will make her first start on the dirt Saturday after winning three of five on the turf in France. Heavenly Prize went three-eighths in :37 2/5, breezing, yesterday. She was scheduled to school in the paddock later in the morning, along with Shug McGaughey's other Breeders' Cup runners. McGaughey was happy with his filly's post position draw, number four, saying, "I didn't want her to draw the outside because racing is still kind of a new experience to her and I was afraid she would end up somewhere in the San Gabriel Mountains if she drew the outside post." Meadow Rendezvous schooled in the paddock Wednesday and Thursday; she is by Meadowlake, sire of 1990 Juvenile Fillies winner Meadow Star. Brian Mayberry's pair of Sardula and Rhapsodic will form a two-pronged attack in the Juvenile Fillies; while the speedy Sardula contests the pace, late-running Rhapsodic will be coming at the end. "Sardula has a lot of speed and if she wants the lead, she'll get it," said Mayberry. "Rhapsodic is more laid back and calm."

SPRINT

Alydeed arrived at Santa Anita at midnight Wednesday after working at Woodbine earlier in the day. The colt went five-eighths in 1:01. The four year old started the year with three consecutive wins including the Grade 1 Carter, but he has been off the board in his two most recent outings. "He has everybody confused," said trainer Roger Attfield, adding, "If he runs his best race, he will win as far as I'm concerned. He's just got to go out and do it." Music Merci, the seven-year-old who drew the inside for the Sprint, will school in the starting gate this morning. "He'd better get used to it," said trainer Bill Spawr. "He'll have to stand there a week (before the Sprint)." Birdonthewire walked yesterday after arriving at Santa Anita Wednesday. The four-year-old son of Proud Birdie, who has won three graded stakes in a row at seven furlongs, will get his first look at the California racetrack this morning. Sayyedati broke from the starting gate yesterday. "I have to be very pleased with the way she came out of the gate," said trainer Clive Brittain. "I can see American horses breaking a little sharper than her, but she's always ridden from off the pace." Demaloot Demashoot galloped at Hollywood Park yesterday morning, trainer Mark Hennig is undecided as to when he will ship the three year old to Santa Anita, but is leaning towards vaning very early Saturday. "I may elect to van Saturday morning at 4:00, to get him in the right time frame. That way, when we bring him up to the paddock, it will help him realize he's going over for a race." Canadian shipper Apelia will try to follow in the hoofsteps of 1990 Sprint winner Safely Kept; both fillies won the Genuine Risk at Belmont and the Garden State Budweiser Breeders' Cup on their way to the Breeders' Cup Championship.

BREEDERS' CUP SEMINAR Thoro-graph will host a handicapping seminar on the 1993 Breeders' Cup Championship tonight at the Cheyenne Supper Club in Arcadia, California. Led by Chip Vanai, the session will include an introduction to the Thoro-graph sheets and an in-depth analysis of each of the Breeders' Cup races. The seminar, which will last two to three hours, begins at 5:45 p.m. PST; admission is $25.00. For more information, call (800) 331-3778.

EUROPEAN 'HOPEFULS' FOR THE BREEDERS' CUP

By Graham Rock

"A triumph of hope over experience" was how Doctor Samuel Johnson described a second marriage; the same might be said of the European challenge for the 1993 Breeders' Cup.

Year after year, the cream of European thoroughbreds cross the Atlantic in search of glory, but the statistics suggest that, despite the depth of this year's team, the rewards will be meagre.

The Europeans have been favoured by the draw in many races. One of the strongest challenges will be for the Breeders' Cup Mile. Bigstone is probably best judging by his Group I victories in the Sussex and Queen Elizabeth Stakes. In the latter race, he beat Baratheia by a length and a half on softish ground, but under Saturday's conditions there are reasons to suggest that Baratheia might take his revenge.

After finishing second to Zafonic in the 2,000 Guineas on fast ground over a mile, Baratheia tried several distances before reverting to his optimum trip behind Bigstone.

John Gosden saddles Catrail and Wolfhound, both high-class sprinters in England. Take a look at Catrail. He has the rear end of a quarter horse and could make up into a live contender for the Sprint next year. This time round, though, his lack of experience should find him out, and with Lure drawn wide, Baratheia is preferred.

Europe is represented by eight in the Turf. Opera House and Intrepidity were third and fourth last time behind Urban Sea in the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe last time, with Hernando and Wemyss Bight behind them. Intrepidity's trainer, Andre Fabre, also saddles Serrant and Apple Tree but on European form, Intrepidity should take their measure.

Dernier Empereur is consistent, but short of class in this exalted company, while Hatooof, winner of the Dubai Champion Stakes and at the peak of her form, is ideally suited by soft ground.

With European challengers filling more than half of the field, they have a good chance of taking the prize on paper. Intrepidity has not been favoured by the draw. Hernando, winner of the French Derby, seemed ill at ease on the soft going in the Arc, and could spring a surprise if returning to his best.

The Hernando team are represented by Coup de Genie in the Juvenile Fillies. She completed a hat-trick in Group company before disappointing when fifth in the Prix Marcel Boussac on Arc day. The very testing ground may have found her out on that occasion, and she could be close on this faster surface.

It is hard to enthuse about the prospects of the three Europeans in the Sprint. Sayyedati is a high-class miler, and while both Monde Bleu and Surprise Offer have useful form, they would be several lengths behind the best at home.

The enigmatic Ezzoud contests the Classic. This horse has talent, but is about as consistent as a politician. In the Juddmonte International Stakes at York he ran on gamely to wear down Sabrehill, and a reproduction of that performance would put him in the firing line here, but he rarely runs two races alike.

Arcangues won the Prix d'Ispahan in May, beating Italian champion Misil, but he has a lot to find against Ezzoud if Michael Stoute's colt decides that Saturday is a running day. However, it would be a shock if either proved a serious threat to Bertrando and Best Pal.
