TWO AT $385,000 TOP KEENELAND'S THIRD SESSION

Two horses each brought $385,000 to top the third session of the Keeneland November Breeding Stock Sale. Last year, six horses from the third session sold for $400,000 or higher, with $600,000 as the topper. For that reason, average price of $51,603 for the 302 horses sold was down 35.8% from last year (276 lots at $80,386). However, median price of $40,000 was down just $5,000 from a year ago. Silverleaf Farms, Inc., agent purchased one of Wednesday's toppers, LOOIE CAPOTE (4yo racing filly, CAPOTE out of stakes-placed CATCH ON QUICK, by SMARTEN), from the Walmac int'l, agent consignment. And the other high-price, SEATTLE ROCKET (8, m, Seattle Slew—Perlita, by Baldric), dam of two-year-old English stakes winner REDOUBTABLE and in foal to SHADEED, sold to T. Shimokobe from the consignment of Eaton-Williams, agent. Cumulative totals through three days: 896 horses sold for $70,824,000, to average $79,045, with a median of $45,000. The sale continues through November 14.

AMERICAN HORSES PREPARE FOR JAPAN CUP

Star of Cozzene will be leaving California and heading to Tokyo Racecourse on November 16 for the November 28 Japan Cup, according to his trainer Mark Hennig, who said the five-year-old is doing great. New owners Tomaeato Farm, which purchased Star of Cozzene from Team Valor after his victory in the Man o War, decided not to supplement him to the Breeders' Cup and to instead point him for the Japan Cup. Hennig admits to having mixed feelings about having to miss the Breeders' Cup. "With the goal of the new owners being the Japan Cup, it's a tough task to ask him to run in both. As the trainer, it's my job to give them what they want.

CHURCHILL DOWNS BUDWEISER BREEDERS' CUP HANDICAP, $200,000-added,

Grade II, 3 & up, f & m, 1M, Churchill Downs. Miss Indy Anna, who has never started carrying less than 112 pounds, will be carrying only 111 for this assignment. Her longest race was the seven-furlong Grade I Test Stakes, which she lost by a head. Wilderness Song, on the other hand, will go to the post carrying a hefty 121 pounds. In her last start, the Grade I Spinster Stakes, she carried 124 pounds to an eighth-place finish. The five-year-old mare by Wild Again is a two-time graded stakes winner this year. Deputation, assigned 119 pounds, last tasted victory in the Pimlico Distaff on May 8. Since then the daughter of Deputy Minister has posted five straight losses, including a fourth-place finish in the Spinster in her last outing. Autumn Mood, with a 106-pound assignment, might be a good show bet in this race. The four-year-old by L'Emigrant has finished third in her last four trips to the post, all in California. Miss Jealski has won $600,874 and eight of 29 lifetime starts. A four-year-old daughter of Baldski out of the Valid Appeal mare Jealous Appeal, Miss Jealski, who will carry 112 pounds, will try to extend the one-race winning streak which began in her last start, an allowance race at Hawthorne.

"Being an American, the Breeders' Cup has more meaning to me. It was hard to pass it up and watch it go by knowing you defeated both the mile and the mile-and-a-half winners." Hennig also said discussions have been taking place as to whether Star of Cozzene will be retired at the end of the year. United States exportation laws mandate that the horse must return to America after the race, and a decision on where his future lies will come at that time. Meanwhile, Hennig is looking forward to his first trip to Japan. Jockey Jose Santos will also be flying out for the mount. Fraise today joined the list of official invitees for the Japan Cup. In his last start, the Breeders' Cup Turf, the son of Strawberry Road (AUS) finished a fast-closing fourth. Other American-based horses scheduled to run are Luazur and Kotashaan (FR), who will also ship to Japan Nov. 16. Trainer Dick Mandella said that he found the prospect of the Japan Cup settling the Horse of the Year question (see Opinion, p. 4) a bit unsettling. "It doesn't seem right for a Japanese race to decide an American champion," said Mandella. "You wouldn't have a European horse who won the Arc have his championship determined by running in a race in the United States."

BREEDERS' CUP WRAPUP

Flawlessly came out of her ninth-place finish in the Breeders' Cup Mile a little "scuffed up," according to trainer Charlie Whittingham. "It was kind of embarrassing for her to run that poorly, but after the first turn, she was done," said her trainer. "But we couldn't find anything seriously wrong with her." Whittingham said she will be pointed to the Nov. 28 Matriarch at Hollywood...Sprint winner Cardmania was out for a jog Tuesday at Santa Anita and will point for the January 9 San Carlos Handicap, according to trainer Derek Meredith...Best Pal has been sent to Golden Eagle Farms in Ramona to be freshened, according to trainer Gary Jones...Jones also said that Meafara, second in the Sprint, is being considered for the Dec. 11 $100,000-added Vernon O. Underwood Breeders' Cup at Hollywood Park.

MARJORIE CORDERO INJURED IN TRAINING ACCIDENT

Majorie Cordero was injured this morning on the Belmont training track when the three-year-old Seattle Slew filly she was galloping, Pine Falls, broke down. She was taken to North Shore Hospital on Long Island. "She's got a big gash on her right knee, and will have plastic surgery today," said her husband, trainer Angel Cordero Jr. "She's doing much better now and should be home Friday." Cordero said that the filly, owned by Joe Allen, had to be destroyed.

WALL STREET DANCER RETIRED

Wall Street Dancer, a multiple graded stakes winning son of Sovereign Dancer, has been retired from racing with earnings of $834,728. The five-year-old son of Sovereign Dancer won or placed in seven graded stakes, including victories in the Grade II Bowling Green Handicap (defeating Fraise), the Grade II Pan American and the Grade III Cradle Stakes. He also set a track record of 1:41 2/5 at Turfway Park going 1 1/16 miles on the dirt. A decision on where he will stand has not yet been reached.

OPINION POLL:*WHO'S HORSE OF THE YEAR?

Bud Delp, trainer, 1980 Horse of the Year, Spectacular Bid: "Lure. He's just a super, super runner. He's done his best running on the turf, naturally, but he's still impressive. His last two starts were so impressive that I'd have to give him Horse of the Year. It's between him and Kotashaan, obviously, and Kotashaan was awesome, but I think Lure has done it all and deserves it."

Tom Durkin, NYRA/Breeders' Cup racecaller: "Kotashaan. Mostly because he beat practically everybody he ran against. He was a Grade I winner from May to November. Aside from very, very early in the season, the only loss he had was a very narrow loss for which the jockey took the blame. You can't give it to any of the dirt horses this year. Lure is a great horse, but he's a specialist. I don't know what you have to do to be Horse of the Year if Kotashaan's not it."

Rob Murphy, breeder/relief pitcher, St. Louis Cardinals: "Lure. I know the award is just for this year, but he's a repeat Breeders' Cup winner and did it in great fashion to cap off a great year. In his two losses to Star of Cozzene, he was giving away weight and I know a Horse of the Year shouldn't have limitations, but it wasn't at his best distance. I think with Lure defending his crown and having to do it 3,000 miles away from home, it made it a little tougher for him. Kotashaan did it on his home course where Lure did not."

Jim McKay, ABC Sportscaster: "My honest opinion is that there isn't a Horse of the Year. In saying that, I'm not putting anyone down, but saying it in the sense that no horse has stood out above the pack so clearly that you can say, 'that's the Horse of 1993.' It's been back and forth all year, with horses dropping out and now it's come down to Lure and Kotashaan, who are both very good horses, but neither one really stands out above the other. They're kind of apples and oranges in terms of their abilities, as well."

Dave Johnson, ABC/Meadowlands racecaller: "I would say that it's not decided yet, but down to Lure and Kotashaan, depending upon what he does in the Japan Cup. If he wins that, he should be Horse of the Year. It will be interesting to see what he does, but it is Horse of the YEAR, so I think it's important to wait until the end of the year before a decision is made. Both of them were just terrific in the Breeders' Cup. If anything, Lure overcoming the ship had to be more impressive, but the award is decided on the racetrack, not on the airplane."

Elliott Burch, 3-time trainer, Horse of the Year (Sword Dancer, 1959; Ants and Letters, 1969; Fort Marcy, 1970): "I think it's wide open. I don't think any of the horses I saw win the Breeders' Cup qualify. Personally, I don't think it should be a survival-of-the-fittest contest, but obviously, a horse who lasts all year has the edge over a horse who fades in May. It seems like racing these days is all about money, and if that's the case, give the award to the winner of the Breeders' Cup because that's where all the money is won. That wasn't the way it was when I trained. You ran for $25,000 or $50,000 all year long and then the big ones were for $100,000. I can't recall ever winning a race for more than that. Like I said, though, I personally wouldn't give it to any of the Breeders' Cup winners this year."

Jerry Brown, publisher, Thorograph Speed Figures: "I distinguish between accomplishment and ability, and this year, probably on both counts, I'd have to give it to Lure. He was better in his division than anybody else was in their division, and he was the best grass horse to run in recent years. In the races he lost, he was giving weight to Star of Cozzene, and was never beaten at level weights. Kotashaan is obviously the other contender, but Lure is slightly a better horse on figures."

Andy Beyer, Author and Washington Post columnist: "I'm leaning strongly towards Lure, who is a great horse but at a disadvantage in America where there are so few opportunities for him to run at his own specialty. He is clearly the best in the world at it. But I guess we'll all be watching what happens in Japan."

Woody Stephens, trainer, 1982 Horse of the Year Conquistador Cielo: "I think Lure, I really do. He's been on the ball all year long. He's unbelievable and so consistent. He won the Breeders' Cup two straight years. I wouldn't know who could go around him."

Charlsie Cantey, commentator, ABC/ESPN: "I don't think it can be written down in one horse's name. In lieu of a clear-cut handicap or three-year-old horse, this is a year where you've got to go to the turf, babies and fillies. I'm sure Bertrando will get his share of votes, but it boils down to the turf horses for me. Lure gave the most dazzling and overwhelming performances, but he won only one Grade I. Star of Cozzene beat Kotashaan handily and he also beat Lure, but he had to get weight to do it. So it becomes a complex circle where one beats the other beats the other. Kotashaan didn't ship and Lure did, while Star of Cozzene went everywhere and won everywhere. All three are really incredible and hard to separate. If I was really voting, I would have to go with Lure for sheer brilliance. The only times he got beat, he was giving away weight."

Phil Johnson, trainer: "Without a doubt, Hollywood Wildcat. My theory is, they talk about the three turf horses who are good at what they do but are one-dimensional. They have to run on turf and have shown that they are no good on the dirt. Lure is the fastest of the three at up to a mile and an eighth. Star of Cozzene beat Lure when he gave Lure weight. Kotashaan stayed in California and he runs hard with Bien Bien and Luazur, who beat him two races back in the Del Mar Handicap, Grade II. Hollywood Wildcat ran two times on turf in her last four starts and won both, including the Grade II Del Mar Oaks. She also beat three-year-olds and older horses on dirt in the Breeders' Cup Grade I, and has won at seven different racetracks in her life."

Jenny Kellner, President of National Turf Writers' Association: "That would probably have to wait 'til after the Japan Cup, but right now I'd say Lure. He's done different things and won at different tracks. His was the most impressive victory Saturday with the possible exception of Brocco, but Brocco couldn't be Horse of the Year."

Trevor Denman, California track announcer: "Lure, definitely. He's done so many different things and is just so versatile. And the way he wins, he has stamped himself above everybody else at a mile on turf."

Al Michaels, ABC Sportscaster: "I had Arcangues in the Breeders' Cup so as far as I'm concerned, he's Horse of the Year and Horse of the Decade. Honestly, it's so tough at this point, but how can you not like Lure? He's such a great horse that I don't know how you come away from him? In a year where nobody really stood out, I can't think of anyone who deserves it more."
