Having finished first and second in two provincial starts earlier in the season, Lycitus scored his second win in three starts on his Paris debut at this course May 23, his latest outing. With Gerald Mosse back in the saddle for owner John Martin and trainer Francois Doumen, the colt made his first start in pattern company a winning one here when outpointing a small field of useful rivals. It was Herculano (Fr) (Subotica {Fr}) who made the running, closely pursued by an easy-going Lycitus. The winner went to the front as they entered the final quarter mile and ran on well to the line to maintain a comfortable advantage.

KEENELAND TO GO ONLINE

Just days after a group of central Kentucky breeders and consignors announced they had formed a consortium to hold online auctions, Keeneland is set to announce they will hold year-round online auctions as well, according to yesterday's Louisville Courier Journal. The paper reported the auctions were scheduled to begin this fall, and would be held in addition to the association's five annual live auctions. "I think the thoroughbred industry will embrace e-commerce," Geoffrey Russell, Keeneland's assistant sales director, told the paper. "I think we'll end up seeing expensive horses there. It will be a nice way to support our live auction sales." Last week, Lane's End Farm, Eaton Sales, Taylor Made Farm, Three Chimney's Farm and Coolmore/Ashford Stud announced they had formed a group called Equine Spectrum LLC to launch an internet auction exchange for horses and seasons. Keeneland had no additional comment yesterday.

K ONE KING INJURED

Grade I winner K One King (Apalachee) has suffered a suspensory injury to ligaments in his right fore and may be retired, according to the Daily Racing Form. The chestnut colt had been pointing towards the GI $1 million Hollywood Gold Cup July 9. Winner of the GI Oaklawn H. Apr. 15, he finished last of six over a sloppy track in the GII Stephen Foster H. at Churchill June 17. A nuclear scan was performed following that outing, and "pulled ligaments" were revealed. "He could race again, but it will be a long time," trainer Akiko Gothard told the Form. "We are thinking of maybe standing him as a stallion, but we haven't decided yet."

FUSAICHI'S NEAR FUTURE Though yet to shed much light on his specific plans for Kentucky Derby winner Fusaichi Pegasus (Mr. Prospector), trainer Neil Drysdale confirmed yesterday that the colt will not be ready for the Aug. 6 GI Haskell at Monmouth. "We won't make the Haskell," he said. "We'll probably run him in the Breeders' Cup Classic and maybe in a few races before that." Monmouth officials were hoping for a Haskell showdown that would include the winners of this year's three Triple Crown races. Preakness winner Red Bullet (Unbridled) and Belmont winner Commendable (Gone West) are scheduled to run in both the Haskell and the July 9 Dwyer at Belmont. Fusaichi Pegasus has yet to return to the track following the injury in his stall at Aqueduct that forced him out of the Belmont Stakes. Drysdale said he's be back in training "in a few days time."

VICAR RETURNS Vicar (Wild Again) has been entered in Friday's eighth race at Belmont Park, a money allowance over six furlongs. A multiple Grade I winner at three, the dark bay has made one start this season, finishing fifth in the Miami Beach H. at Gulfstream Apr. 30. He drilled three-eighths in a bullet :34 Tuesday morning for trainer Bill Mott. Multiple graded stakes winner Successful Appeal (Valid Appeal) is among the five other entrants.

Bond Pair Breezes:

H. James Bond trainees Behrens (Pleasant Colony) and Pleasant Breeze (Pleasant Tap) worked over the Oklahoma track at Saratoga Tuesday. Behrens, on schedule for the GII Suburban H. at Belmont July 4, completed six furlongs in a handy 1:13 2/5, while Pleasant Breeze, a possible for the $1 million GI Hollywood Gold Cup July 9, went the same distance in 1:16. "They both looked good," said Bond. "I have to do a little bit more with Behrens coming off a layoff."

Mother Goose Preparations:

Two of the top contenders for Saturday's GI Mother Goose S. breezed Monday morning. Secret Status (A.P. Indy), winner of the GI Kentucky Oaks, zipped through five panels in :59 4/5 at Belmont. The chestnut filly has not raced since her Oaks triumph at Churchill May 5. "Looking back at her schedule, her best races come when they are spaced out," remarked Kevin Kahkola, assistant to trainer Neil Howard. "She's handling the track well and seems very relaxed." Over at Aqueduct, Gill Comely heroine March Magic (Evansville Slew) breezed five furlongs in 1:01 4/5. "The work was just a feel-good, maintenance work," said trainer Rick Violette. "She had plenty left in the tank."

California Handicapper Wins Belmont Challenge:

Steve Terelak, from Culver City, California, defeated two court clerks from Brooklyn and an ice cream man from Plainview to take home first prize of $25,000 in last weekend's two-day $60,000 Belmont Park Handicapping Challenge. John D'Amico won second prize money of $11,000, Frank Auriemma earned $5,000 for third and Al Montella took home $4,000 for fourth.

After running third in the G1 Chilean Oaks last December, Babae followed up a third-place effort in her May 14 North American debut at Belmont with a fourth-place finish in the June 10 Just a Game Breeders' Cup H. last time out. Favored against seven others, the Chilean miss was bumped at the start, swept to the outside for the drive and finished gamely for a narrow win.

THE GRASS IS GREENER AT CALDER

By Frank Carlson

Steve Cross spends so much time tending to the grass at Calder Race Course, he doesn't have time to take care of the stuff growing in front of his house.

"My wife said we had the worst lawn in the neighborhood," said Cross, director of racing surfaces at Calder. "She told me it had to be re-sod, so I paid someone to come in and do my lawn at home."

Cross admits he doesn't spend a lot of time working at home during the summer. He has over nine acres of grass to care for on Calder's turf course, and he has to make it last for an average of 175 racing days, during some of the most severe rain storms imaginable.

In 1998, Calder had 105 3/4 inches of rain during its racing season and ran 236 turf races. Last year they had 133 inches (and two hurricanes, Floyd and Irene), and were still able to race on the grass 234 times.

"All three tracks (in South Florida) use a variation of Bermuda grass," explains Cross. "It's what works best here in Florida. So we all start out with the same seeds--it's what you do with them that makes it a good or bad racing surface."

Cross shows off his handiwork on Calder's turf course a couple of days before the end of May, when the sun is heating the air to 95 degrees. Reaching down into the grass to grab a handful, he exposes the top soil and the beginnings of its root system.

"These roots go down between 14 and 21 inches," he says. "See those little green sprouts just beginning down there? That's new grass. That's how we're able to keep the turf course healthy."

"Right now, we have the mowers set at 3 1/2 inches. As the summer goes on we'll keep raising the blades until at the end of the season we'll be at full height, about six inches."

"Now feel this divot," he continues, pointing out a slight indentation from a race run the previous day. "What we'll do on our days off is run the roller to smooth out the divots and push back the grass. I roll the course after every rain to fill in any divots. And we have the guys on the crew walk the course after each grass races pushing the grass back in place."

Cross, 41, who has a crew of six just for the turf course, has been in charge of Calder's tracks since 1991. Before that he was the turf superintendent at Gulfstream Park, where he began working in 1984.

"As soon as our racing season ends (Jan. 2) we begin working on the turf course by cutting the grass level to the ground. Then we run a furrow over it to turn the soil. It takes about 2 1/2 weeks for the grass to begin growing back."

What keeps the Calder turf course in good racing condition?

"We use as much fertilizer and water as the budget allows," Cross explains. "We use six tons of fertilizer every time we do the course. It's a granulated fertilizer that is only sold commercially. It wouldn't work on your lawn at home because it would just eat it up."

He adds, "Rain is the best kind of water because it's distributed evenly. If we get a dry spell and have to use the sprinklers, we have to be careful that we get an even distribution. If the sprinklers keep missing a spot, it will burn out and then it has to be replaced."

The biggest help to his turf course, rain, is also the source of his bane.

"When it rains we have to hope it drains well. That's only a problem when we get saturated. By rolling it, we can bring the water to the surface and hope the sun and wind will dry it quicker."

"I used to live by the Weather Channel, but I found out they were wrong as many times as they were right. So I quit listening. If it's going to rain I can't stop it."

The other contributing factor to the amount of use Calder gets out of the turf course is the placement of the temporary rail.

"We have four distances out from the hedge--10, 15, 20 and 25 feet," says Cross. "I try to let them run on the hedge on the weekends, so they can race bigger fields. Then we will place (the temporary rail) in one position for the other three days of racing. The next week we move it in or out depending on how the course is holding up. If you move the rail to its best advantage you'll get a lot of use from the turf course."

But the biggest factor may be that Cross has a green thumb...just don't tell that to his wife.

The Bob Baffert-trained pair of Silverbulletday (Silver Deputy) and Chilukki (Cherokee Run) eached turned in five-furlong breezes for their Monmouth Park stakes engagements. Dual champion Silverbulletday went in 1:00 2/5 and will start in the GII Molly Pitcher Breeders' Cup H. July 4, while 1999 champion two-year-old filly Chilukki drilled a bullet :58 3/5 for the six-furlong Regret S. on the Molly Pitcher undercard. Pro-tem leading handicap female Heritage of Gold (Gold Legend) continued her progression towards the July 30 GI Go For Wand H. at Saratoga with a six-panel work in 1:17 over a good track.

O'BRIEN SET TO RUN THREE

Aidan O'Brien announced last night that he plans to have three runners in the G1 Budweiser Irish Derby on Sunday--Ciro (USA) (Woodman {USA}), Glyndebourne (Ire) (Sadler's Wells {USA}) and Shakespeare (GB) (Rainbow Quest {USA}).

ST LEGER DRAWS 58 NOMINATIONS

A total of 58 horses, seven more than last year, have been entered for the £350,000 G1 Rothmans Royals St Leger. The 1 3/4-mile race, the world's oldest Classic, will have its 224th running at Doncaster Sept. 9.

It is testament to the fear that the Irish bookmakers feel whenever Aidan O'Brien puts forward his two-year-olds that, for the second time this season, they have replaced the withdrawn Ballydoyle favourite in a stakes race with another Ballydoyle favourite, as seen in the Listed Rochestown S. here June 5. This time it was Dream (Ire) (Sadler's Wells {USA}) who was pulled out before the race, with Freshwater Pearl taking over to claim the prize and continue the stable's fine run of juvenile success.

 An easy winner in a mile conditions event at Maisons-Laffitte June 9, Special Ring broke his maiden after two placed efforts as a juvenile. Displaying natural progression into stakes company, he led virtually all the way for a decisive first stakes win. The colt broke well from the gate along with Russian Tune, but soon gained the upper hand to set the pace as Chief Baron was reserved in rear. Turning for home, Special Ring was still travelling well within himself and had his rivals under pressure from the quarter-mile pole. He was ridden out thereafter to maintain a safe advantage and won with something in hand. Russian Tune moved up inside the final quarter and ran on well for second. Chief Baron made good strides from mid pack inside the final furlong to take third close home.

Geoff Wragg almost farms these races with his older horses. Wragg produced the progressive Island House here to win yet another stakes race under a fine ride from Michael Roberts. The colt had built on his conditions win Newmarket May 6 with success in a similar contest to this, the Listed Festival S. at Goodwood May 25. Here he was held up in third early as they followed the leader Zindabad in a straight line and it was only when the race began in the straight that Roberts started to ask the question. Hataab had taken it up with one-and-a-half furlongs remaining, but while he was using his energy in battling off the determined Zindabad up front, Island House was beginning to close with one smooth movement on the outside. When he eventually got to the front with 100 yards remaining, the tough pair had nothing left to fight him off with and Roberts made it look insultingly easy as he finished the race with a tight rein. Island House is a horse progressing, and his trainer pinpointed the G3 Scottish Classic Ayr Sept 24 as his next target.

2.40 Salisbury, Southampton Conditions S. (Class C), £9,900, 3yo, 6f 212ydsT, 1:27.80, gd/fm.
HOPEFUL LIGHT (GB) (c, 3, Warning {GB}--Hope {Ire}, by Dancing Brave {USA}) was sent to the lead from flagfall and raced in advance of the smooth travelling 11-10 choice Mana-Mou Bay (Ire) (Ela-Mana-Mou {Ire}). He was strongly ridden two furlongs out and held on in desperate fashion to hold the favourite by a head as the 6-4 second choice. Lifetime Record: 4-2-0-0, £10,269. O-Khalid Abdullah; B-Juddmonte Farms; T-John Gosden; J-Kevin Darley.

6.35 Kempton, Pipes And Drums Maiden Fillies S. (Class D), £6,660, 3yo, f, 1 1/4mT, 2:03.99, gd/fm.
+ TOP CRYSTAL (IRE) (f, 3, Sadler's Wells {USA}--State Crystal {Ire} {GSW-GB, G1SP-GB & Fr, $117,199}, by High Estate {Ire}), sent off at odds of 5-1 on her debut, was soon tracking the leader Poli Knight (GB) (Polish Precedent {USA}) and grabbed the lead early in the straight. She then showed her inexperience by wandering around, twice stopping the run of another debutante, Amneris (Ire) (Alzao {USA}), before running on to beat that rival by one-and-a-quarter lengths. The inevitable stewards' enquiry was called, but the interference was considered accidental and Top Crystal kept the race. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, £4,329 O/B-Michael Poland; T-Henry Cecil; J-Richard Quinn.

7.05 Kempton, European Breeders' Fund Maiden Fillies S. (Class D), £6,570, 2yo, f, 7fT, 1:26.36, gd/fm.
PEACEFUL PARADISE (GB) (f, 2, Turtle Island {Ire}-Megdale {Ire}, by Waajib {Ire}), the only runner with racing experience in the seven-filly line-up, was sent off the 2-1 favourite and was always close to the pace. First-time starter Caribbeandriftwood (USA) (Woodman {USA}) led into the straight, but was soon challenged and passed by Peaceful Paradise. The pacesetter fought back gamely and it was only the winner's experience which saw her home by one-and-a-half lengths. The winner was a 16,000gns TAOCT yearling. Lifetime Record: 2-1-0-1, £4,694.

GWENDOLINE (GB) (f, 3, Polar Falcon {USA}--Merlins Charm {USA} {GSW-GB}, by Bold Bidder {USA}) was placed in a handy position behind the leaders as Spot (GB) (Inchinor {GB}) made the running. She was ridden along to take the lead approaching the final furlong and was pushed clear in the closing stages for a comfortable 3 1/2-length win as the 5-2 favourite. The winner was a 9,000gns TAAU2 yearling. Lifetime Record: 2-1-1-0, £4,913.

PRINCESS OF GARDA (GB) (f, 2, Komaite {USA}-Malcesine {Ire}, by Auction Ring {USA}), with plenty of experience under her belt including a win at Haydock and a second to subsequent G3 Norfolk S. winner Superstar Leo (Ire), was sent off the 11-4 favourite. She shot straight to the lead from the stalls and was never headed, quickening clear early in the straight and extending her advantage with every stride, going on to win by five lengths.
