AZERI HEADED TO THE CLASSIC

Former Horse of the Year Azeri (Jade Hunter) will bypass Saturday's GI Breeders' Cup Distaff and take on the boys in the $4-million Classic, trainer D. Wayne Lukas said Tuesday. "It wasn't easy," Lukas said of the decision. "A lot of thought went into it. [Owner] Michael Paulson and I really agonized over it. We looked at all the situations. It was our unanimous decision." The six-year-old mare has won 17 out of 23 starts for a total of $3,959,820, but ran the worst race of her stellar career in her only other attempt versus males, finishing eighth in the GI Met Mile earlier this season. She was last seen notching Keeneland's GI Overbrook Spinster S. Oct. 10.

FUNNY CIDE SHARP IN BREEZE

Dual classic winner Funny Cide (Distorted Humor) breezed a bullet half mile in :46 4/5 at Belmont Park Tuesday in preparation for Saturday's Classic. "Funny Cide is doing better than he ever has in his life," trainer Barclay Tagg commented. "He's leveled off a little and become more sensible. He is still a very strong and a hard horse to gallop, but Robin [Smullen, assistant trainer/exercise rider] and I have figured him out." The popular gelding finished ninth in last year's Classic, but entered that race off a third-place finish in the GI Haskell Invitational H. in August. This year, he comes off a game GI Jockey Club Gold Cup victory Oct. 2.

PERFECT GETS HIS FIRST LOOK AT LONE STAR

Defending Classic champion Pleasantly Perfect (Pleasant Colony) got his first look at Lone Star Park Tuesday, galloping once around under exercise rider Crystal Brown. "He was a little anxious to get out early, but he's a very kind and good natured horse," trainer Richard Mandella said. "He's had his works already. He might open gallop through the stretch, but that's about it." The six-year-old comes into Saturday's race off a 69 day layoff. "My goal is the Breeders' Cup and the Japan Cup Dirt Nov. 28," the conditioner added. "My fear was that if I ran him in the Goodwood and Breeders' Cup, he would be dragging his tongue in Japan."

beaten 10th in the GII Pennsylvania Derby Sept. 6, the chestnut colt looms the one to beat. "We wanted to give him plenty of time off," trainer Allen Iwinski said. "He's been training excellent. In his last work he was kind of rank going in, so I think that means he's at the top of his game."

2005 Fee - $30,000 Live Foal

FROM THE DESK OF...
Bill Oppenheim

DID THE MARKET PEAK ON SEPTEMBER 24th?

Friday, September 24--that was five weeks ago this Friday--was the day the all-time record for a horse sale was broken, during the 11th (of 14) sessions of the Keeneland September 2004 yearling sale. The day ended with 2,819 yearlings having been sold by then, for $318,245,700, averaging (through 11 days) $112,893; the previous world record, set at Keeneland November, 1999, was when 3,461 horses sold for $317,666,000, averaging $91,784. The new record sale, Keeneland September 2004, finished up with 3,370 yearlings bringing $324,904,300, and averaging $96,411. Because it provides such an interesting benchmark, let's just look at those two sale totals in tabular form:

Sale: Cat--Sold--%Sold/Cat--Gross--Average
Kee Sept 2004: 4891--3370--69%--$324,904,300--$96,411
Kee Nov 1999: 4856--3461--71%--$317,666,000--$91,784

Keep in mind that the percentage sold/catalogued is only a sort of technical calculation done by the likes of me before sales take place, just to try and get an idea of what we might expect to happen. During and after sales, the percentage sold of those offered is far more significant. But I think it is very interesting that in both record sales, the number catalogued was in the 4800's, the number sold was in the high 3300-3400 range, and the overall sale average was in the $90,000's. We'll come back to those points in a moment.

It was sometime around the 24th of September that I made my bullish, confident prediction that this meant the major thoroughbred auction market would certainly break the $1-billion mark for only the second time in history. By the time Goffs kicked off their revamped Orby the following Monday, September 27 (the same day Keeneland September finally ended), something had evidently happened in the stars: Libra must have crossed into Saturn in the seventh house, I don't know.

But the market turned: as everybody who was at Goffs and Tattersalls' October sales knows, the British/Irish yearling market wasn't up 15 percent like America had been the week before, it was off by 15 percent.

Though Maryland yearlings and OBS Mixed Select were way up--and Deauville's second-cut October yearling sale was up, too, Monday's opening session of Fasig's October yearling sale was down: ominously, the average was down by 16 percent. To be truthful, these late October yearlings, some of whom have been through sales before, too, might just be an example of overproduction seeping into the American market: it's getting late for 2-year-old pinhookers, and an awfully lot of people filled their orders in that record September sale. But, however you measure and gauge the swings and changes, we've been hearing that phrase--"off 15 percent"--rather too much these past five weeks.

Consequently, the November sale takes on even more significance than usual. The market has been on an upward curve since it bottomed out in 1992, and recovered to survival levels in 1995. There were blips in 2001 and 2002 (especially MRLS, for the November sale), but, basically, the major thoroughbred auction market has ranged between $800-million and $1-billion every year since 2000. Either the downturn began sometime between September 24-27, in which case we can expect the November sale to be down 15 percent, or the messy effects of overproduction will be limited to Europe, and the much broader American market will result in November being roughly level with 2003.

The accompanying table shows some very basic figures for the last five November sales: number catalogued, number sold, gross, and average. What jumps out at you is that 1999-2000 witnessed record totals: 5,111 catalogued in 2000; 3,461 sales in 1999, grosses over $300-million, averages over $90,000 both years. In 2001-02 there were dramatic drops in all categories: only 3,597 catalogued in 2002, just 2,377 sold; grosses under $190-million; and averages in the 'Seventies, not the 'Nineties. Oppenheim cont.

THINK CHAMPION

ALDEBARAN was Champion Sprinter of 2003.

His first dam was Champion 3-year-old filly and her mother was Champion 3-year-old filly.

Do you see a trend here?

DARBY DAN
 F A R M

That market began to recover last year: the number catalogued and sold was about the same as in 2001, but the gross was up almost $50-million, to $236-million, and the average crept back above $90,000. This year, there are 4,460 catalogued--up 10 percent from 2003. That should mean close to 3,000 sales, but the key figure will be the final sale average: if it's above $90,000, that's a good market; if it's below $90,000, then it's not so good.

Coolmore Trifecta...

Mr. Coolmore is grinning today: the weekend results rocketed Monashee Mountain and Montjeu to 2-3 on the European freshman sire list behind (now-distant) stablemate Giant's Causeway, who rocketed to the top spot the previous weekend. Monashee Mountain--a Danzig half-brother to Mineshaft, who won his first four starts (including two seven-furlong G3's), but disappointed thereafter--is the really surprising one, in that no one actually saw him coming, or said so out loud, anyway. Montjeu at least had introduced himself with his first foals (in 2002) in much the same manner as Cape Cross had done in 2001: great-looking crop of first foals, impressed the judges, sold very well. Now Motivator has punched his sire Montjeu's ticket to the big time--at least for the next few months.

As you can see from the accompanying table (p5), this is another pretty promising crop of young sires to come along: 12 of the top 13 European freshman sires have 27 or more runners (the only exception is Dubai Millennium, who might be the best of the lot), and all 13 have 10 or more winners. Besides Montjeu, the one who really looks like they're going to be even better as three-year-olds is King's Best--and he's already had 51 runners and 18 winners so far. See chart p5

Australie broke her stakes duck with a smooth performance in the Listed Grand Prix du Lion d'Angers Aug. 23, but failed to find the necessary extra, finishing sixth when upped in class for the G2 Prix de Royallieu at Longchamp Oct. 2. Down one notch for this event, she produced a career-best effort to comfortably account for the determined Elopa, a lightly raced winning half sister to G1 Singapore Airlines International Cup hero Epalo (Ger). Australie was reserved off the pace set by Trinity Joy (GB) (Vettori {Ire}) for much of the contest and began a forward move once into the home straight. Quickening to a slight lead at the furlong pole, jockey Thierry Jarnet ensured his elbows were in fine working order as he only needed to push his mount in the closing stages, to secure the purse without recourse to the whip.

Winning trainer Richard Gibson credited a deep bench with Australie's victory yesterday. "I have some talented three-year-old fillies in my stable this year, which has allowed me to choose the correct races for each of them and that has made things easier for me," admitted Gibson. "Australie was running for only the sixth time this year and is still quite fresh which is important at this stage of the season. She has gone from strength to strength and probably didn't quite stay the trip in the Royallieu. I shall discuss with her owner whether or not she remains in training for next year."

TETON FOREST RETIRED TO SPENDTHRIFT

Graded stakes winner Teton Forest (Forestry--Tomorrow's Child, by Al Nasr {Fr}) suffered an undisclosed injury while training for the GIII Lone Star Derby and has been retired from racing. The three-year-old will enter stud next season at Spendthrift Farm for a fee of $5,000 live foal. His stud career will be co-managed by Stuart Morris of Highclere Farm. Produced by the stakes-winning Tomorrow's Child, the dark bay is a 3/4-brother to graded stakes winner Tomorrows Cat (Storm Cat), now a leading sire in New York. Racing in the colors of B. Wayne Hughes, Teton Forest was a game second in the GII Riva Ridge Breeders' Cup S. June 5. He didn't race again until Sept. 18, when he romped by six lengths in the GII Jerome H. at Belmont in what would be his final career start. He heads to the breeding shed with a record of 8-3-2-0 and earnings of $222,000.

Training Sale in Newmarket yesterday. The three-year-old, purchased for 220,000gns, is expected to continue his racing career in the U.S. BBA Ireland agent Patrick Cooper outbid big-spending British jumping trainer Howard Johnson for the three-year-old, a British handicap winner for trainer John Dunlop. "I have bought him for an American owner and he'll go into training on the East Coast in the U.S., although I am not sure who will train him," said Cooper. "He'll run on the Flat initially, but hopefully he'll go on to be a jumper in America." But it was Johnson and his owner Graham Wylie who dominated the day, picking up three six-figure lots, led by three-year-old Regal Setting (Ire) (King's Theatre {Ire}), a 215,000gns jumping purchase. Saudi agent Saad Al Khatani paid 205,000gns to outbid Johnson for Starry Lodge (Ire) (Grand Lodge), a four-year-old who will be aimed at the King's Cup in Riyadh by his new owner, Prince Faisal bin Khaled. The sale continues today, with bidding beginning at 10 a.m.

These Days

By Dan Fick

As industry organizations go, the Racing Medication and Testing Consortium (RMTC) is one of the new kids on the block.

It was formed in 2002, after an Arizona Racing Symposium industry summit on therapeutic medications and prohibited drugs in racehorses. The 25 racing organizations represented decided to join forces to establish uniform national medication rules and develop stricter drug testing standards.

The first priority established by the Consortium was to develop recommended policies for the therapeutic medications every racetrack veterinarian uses on a daily basis. Through a comprehensive review of existing research and pharmaceutical company guidelines by a committee some of the best minds in the fields of equine physiology, toxicology, pharmacology and analytical chemistry, the Consortium has established recommended procedures for administrations, withdrawal times and threshold testing levels for some of the most frequently used therapeutic racing medications. The Consortium has worked diligently to build specific information, including scientific references, into these recommendations. At the April 2004 joint convention of Racing Commissioners International and North American Pari-Mutuel Regulators, the corresponding uniform model rules were adopted. The RMTC staff and board members have been working with individual racing commissions to foster state-to-state adoption. To date, more than half of the state racing commissions have begun the necessary review and adoption process.

The second priority has been research. If indeed it is determined that additional research needs to be conducted on some therapeutic medications, those topics will be placed on a priority list for future research projects funding by the Consortium. In the past, research dollars to establish drug withdrawal times and regulatory thresholds, and develop tests for new drugs like erythropoietin have been difficult to obtain, or available only for work completed on an intrastate basis. With no central coordination, research efforts were duplicated in some areas and under-funded in others. The Consortium has taken action to change that by creating a national research program and it has committed $300,000 to fund five research projects in 2003 and has budgeted $650,000 for 2004. Cont. p 7

Better detection of the use of prohibited substances and practices only begins with uniform rules and testing research. At its most recent meeting in September, the RMTTC board approved the development of a request for proposal (RFP) for the development of best practices, minimum standards and recommended procedures for backstretch and training center security programs, including but not limited to the training of security personnel and racing investigators, video surveillance systems, detention barns and informant reward programs. Increased backstretch security should result in better detection of rule violations and act as a deterrent to those contemplating trying to gain a dishonest edge. For those cheaters that are caught, the Consortium sub-committee on penalties is finalizing recommendations for a more severe structure of fines and suspensions for the use of illegal drugs and substances not approved for use in the horse. Repeat offenders would be faced with multi-year suspensions and five figure fines. On the flip-side of this issue, the Consortium is considering a more realistic penalty structure for overages of approved therapeutic medications and obvious environmental contaminations.

As the Consortium looks ahead, we hope to cement strong working relationships with individual state racing commissions by providing a source of unbiased information on medication, testing and research. The Consortium also hopes to continue to anticipate and respond to problems facing the racing industry by funding sound, scientific research. The long-term goals of uniform drug testing protocols and procedures, laboratory certification and continued communication and coordination among racing chemists world-wide will require the increased cooperation of state racing commissions.

Organizationally, the Consortium also must establish a long-term funding mechanism that will allow it to achieve these goals and objectives. This is not a committee or task force assembled to resolve a temporary issue; the Consortium needs to be – and will be -- a permanent fixture on our landscape. In 2002, the Board of Stewards of The Jockey Club committed $300,000 in bridge financing to the project and called on others in the industry to provide financial support while a permanent funding formula was developed. As a result, over $2.5 million dollars has been committed by racing industry organizations, racetracks and horsemen's groups to fund the Consortium for 2003 through 2005. At the September meeting, representatives of the major national horsemen's organizations agreed to seek a $5 per start fee in each state beginning as soon as possible, but no later than January 1, 2006. Oak Tree at Santa Anita and the Florida HBPA have already begun a similar funding formula. The horsemen's funds will be designated for research and drug testing. The racetracks are also being asked to develop a comparable funding formula to provide funds for enhanced security including backstretch improvements and drug testing.

Our sport, and indeed our businesses, are all built on integrity. When our customers believe that the game is played on an un-level playing field, they look elsewhere for opportunities to wager and they don't normally come back. We owe it to our fans and to every participant in the sport to ensure that the playing field will be level. The RMTTC has taken a leadership position to make this happen. I often hear racetrackers say "not in my lifetime" when the discussion turns to uniform medication rules from state to state. I firmly believe the Consortium will succeed not only in our lifetimes, but in this decade.

(The Racing Medication and Testing Consortium is a 501 (c) (3) charitable organization whose mission is to develop, promote and coordinate, at the national level, policies, research and educational programs to ensure the fairness and integrity of racing; safeguard the health and welfare of racehorses and participants; and protect the interests of the betting public. Additional information about the Consortium is available on its web site <http://www.rmtcnet.com>.)

Editor's Note: Dan Fick is the executive vice president and executive director of The Jockey Club. In September, he was elected to succeed D.G. Van Clief Jr. as the chairman of the Racing Medication and Testing Consortium. "These Days" is an occasional update on industry activities, services and initiatives at The Jockey Club and its family of companies.
