debut after starting his career with trainer Shug McGaughey out east. After winning six of his first 11 starts, including a 1 3/4-length score over Perfect Drift in the Apr. 30 Alysheba S. at Churchill Downs, the bay tired to be fifth behind Seattle Fitz (Arg) and Dynever (Dynaformer) in the June 12 GII Brooklyn H. He finished third in the July 31 GII Washington Park H., but faded again in his most recent outing, running sixth in the Aug. 22 GII Saratoga Breeders' Cup H. "I got him six or eight weeks ago," Mandella said. "He was in good shape when we got him and he's in good shape now. He's a big, beautiful horse and he should run well in the Native Diver." Dynever was freshened after finishing sixth in the GI Suburban H. in July, returning to be second in the Oct. 8 GII Meadowlands Cup. The four-year-old flattened out after putting in an uncharacteristic middle move in the Oct. 30 GI Breeders' Cup Classic and ran eighth, but could be better suited to the shorter distance here. "A mile and an eighth and a fast track will be good conditions for him," said Arneau Delacour, assistant to trainer Christophe Clement.

HKIS CELEBRATES TENTH ANNIVERSARY

The Hong Kong International Sale, featuring horses purchased by the Hong Kong Jockey Club at yearling sales all over the world, celebrates its 10th anniversary when it kicks off this morning at 11 a.m. "As sales go, the Hong Kong International Sale is the most unique in that we have horses from six countries in the sales ring," said Paul Williams of auctioneer Magic Millions. "The uniqueness of this sale makes it something special and we are proud to be associated with it." For the first time in the history of the event, horses will not need to be transported from Sha Tin Racecourse to the Convention Center on Hong Kong Island, as this year's sale will take place in the newly opened enclosed parade ring at the racetrack. A total of 20 two-year-olds have been prepared by the HKJC and catalogued for the auction, which includes three geldings from the third-last crop of the late Danehill. The former Coolmore stallion, who died in May 2003, has always been a popular commodity in Hong Kong, having sired the likes of Hong Kong Sprint winner Fairy King Prawn (Aus) and last year's G1 Hong Kong Mile hero Lucky Owners (NZ) as well as Scintillation (Aus) and The Duke (Aus), both HKIS graduates and candidates for tomorrow's G1 Hong Kong Mile. Danehill has also excelled at this sale, accounting for five of the six highest prices during its first nine years of the sale. The most expensive of his progeny set to go under the hammer this afternoon is hip 17, a son of Escape To Victory (GB) (Salse), purchased for €240,000 at last year's Goffs Orby sale. A half

Other sires represented in the sale include Cape Cross (Ire), Daylami (Ire), Gone West, Miswaki, and Montjeu (Ire). As is the custom with this sale, the Hong Kong Jockey Club will offer a HK$1 million bonus to the connections of a 2004 HKIS graduate who accumulates the most prize money at the end of the 2005-06 racing season in Hong Kong.

Fifth in the 10-meter Jockey Club, Badajo stretched out to 2400 meters last time out and came home a head to the good in the G1 Dardo Rocha. THE $900 BILLION MARKET

"We didn't do it for us, we did it because we thought it was good for the industry," reiterated Jim McAlpine, president and chief executive officer of Magna Entertainment Corp., throughout his presentation on the final day of the University of Arizona's Symposium on Racing. McAlpine was referring to MEC's acquisition of an interest in Amtote, the creation and implementation of Horse Wizard, and other company initiatives. Although optimistic, McAlpine was very clear on what he believes the racing industry needs to do to continue growth in the future.

A slide projected during his presentation indicated that horse racing currently is a $15-billion market. However, the overall U.S. sporting/gaming industry is a $900-billion market. McAlpine challenged industry members to stop competing against each other for that $15 billion. Instead, he said the industry should be focused on growing business by targeting the entire U.S. sporting/gaming dollar. As he indicated, this market is the industry's biggest opportunity. He suggested a plan focused on "a concerted and continuous effort to address the sport aspect of our business....and a concerted and continuous effort to gain market share from other forms of gaming."

McAlpine went on to address other industry issues, including the impact that state regulation has on the industry. "We've got barriers to success and we're not screaming from the rooftops, 'change, change, change'," McAlpine commented as he analyzed the industry's overwhelming focus on state and local markets. In response, MEC plans a regulatory reform approach that also includes selling the horse racing product for the appropriate price.

"We're in the entertainment business, the market should set the price," McAlpine said, adding, that the role of government is to protect, "but not protect one industry player from another."

Before closing, McAlpine addressed the topic of slot machines at racetracks, stating that they are part of the solution, but are not the entire answer.

"As [governments] give, they can take away," he said. "We can't just build our foundation and business model on this form of revenue."

For the future, MEC is focused on two key forces: fiscal responsibility and partnerships. "I can assure you that we at MEC strongly believe--what's good for our industry is good for MEC," said McAlpine. In closing, McAlpine offered a challenge to each audience member. "Think about vision. Think about your part in the vision. Be passionate, and embrace change."

Technological Advances on the Way...

Panel moderator Dan Luciano, president and general manager of American Greyhound Racing Inc., opened the discussion by emphasizing the impact technology has had on the industry. Luciano suggested that we can't predict how many other technological advancements will come along that will help racing, but signs point to quite a number of them.

Two companies on the cutting edge of technology were well represented during this panel discussion. The first to take the floor was TVG, represented by President Ryan O'Hara. During his presentation, O'Hara addressed the two-pronged market competition that horse racing faces as it competes within both the television and wagering markets. To ensure success in both markets, TVG relies on technological advancements. As O'Hara said, "Technology is vital. We try to stay on the cutting edge." However, TVG does not focus completely on technology. They also remain committed to customers. O'Hara added, "We worry about television and consumers."

TVG continues to initiate changes to make its products "more consumable." In 2004, the focus was on improvement of its television product. In 2005, TVG is committed to the advancement of its website and the launch of iTV, which is a form of interactive television that allows customers to wager and view race schedules and odds on their television.

The discussion then moved on to Paul Siegel, who serves as vice president of Global Cyber Licensing LLC. Siegel's focus was "using the Global Positioning System to provide perfect regulation of remote wagering." GPS is currently used by many casino gaming websites as a way to track the actual location of bettors, but has yet to be implemented by any horse racing account wagering websites. Siegel added that the benefits of adopting the GPS system include the ability to port to the internet, to provide defense of existing operations, and to support situations where sub-state divisions are required.

NTRA's Six-Year Plan...

To build momentum for the future, members of the National Thoroughbred Racing Association provided audience members with information about the organization's strategic plan for the next six years. D.G. Van Clief Jr., commissioner and chief executive officer of the NTRA, kicked off the session by presenting the organization's strategic goals, which include making racing a top-ten sport in America, growing pari-mutuel handle to target levels and utilizing the NTRA's convening authority to bring the industry's major organizations together. Keith Chamblin, senior vice president of Marketing and Industry Relations, presented the NTRA's marketing objectives and tactics for the next six years.

The NTRA's main marketing goal is to "transform increased interest into active participation," said Chamblin. Horse racing has seen a growth of 28.2 percent for fans in the 12-24 age bracket, which is higher than any other sport. To help maximize that interest, the NTRA is proposing an expansion of the number of major race days [Triple Crown races and the Breeders' Cup] from four to 14. Along with that expansion, other marketing tactics proposed include enhanced TV coverage, maximization of public relations assets, use of interactive resources, leveraging sponsors, creative tactical advertising and promotion and more national wagers tied to the major race days. Overall, Chamblin called "edutainment," or an effort to teach casual fans about handicapping, a key ingredient.

Greg Avioli, who serves as the organization's president and chief operating officer, provided the audience with information about the NTRA's involvement with federal regulation, including NTRA's Political Action Committee and other legislative agendas that the organization will pursue throughout 2005. NTRA is committed to protecting the industry's position as the only form of legal internet gambling.

To close this year's Symposium, Van Clief said, "We do believe the prospect of growth is real." However, he reminded the audience about the importance of internet wagering, calling it "vital to our growth, both domestically and internationally."

BREEDERS' CUP NOMINATIONS DUE TODAY

The Breeders' Cup final nomination deadline for 2004 foals is today. This is the last time 2004 foals may be nominated. The one-time nomination fee of $1,500 per foal nominates that foal for its entire racing career with no further nomination payments due to Breeders' Cup. Foal nominators earn nominator awards for every first, second or third place finish in any Breeders' Cup stakes. Breeders' Cup funded races total $35 million in 2005. Stallions standing the 2005 breeding season must also nominate to the Breeders' Cup by today. Nominating your stallion for this 2005 breeding season makes every 2006 foal eligible for nomination to this multi-million program. Every foal sired by a nominated stallion earns awards for the stallion nominator regardless if the foals are nominated. The nomination fee is equal to the advertised stud fee and the initial payment of $100 begins the nomination with the remainder of the fee invoiced quarterly through 2005. For more information, please call 1-800-RACECUP, or visit www.breederscup.com to nominate foals and stallions online.

TOMAHAWK TO PARK STUD Tomahawk (Seattle Slew--Statuette, by Pancho Villa), a champion two-year-old in Ireland, will stand the 2005 breeding season in Canada at Michael and Laurel Byrne's Park Stud as the property of Firestone Farms and Coolmore for a fee of CA$8,500. "We are extremely excited about Tomahawk coming to Park Stud," Michael Byrne said. "He brings to stud all the credentials that you would want in a champion sire. We believe Tomahawk to be the most exciting young stallion prospect to come to Canada in recent years." On the racetrack, the $2.5 million Keeneland July yearling purchase finished second in two of Europe's most prestigious juvenile races, the G1 Dewhurst S. and the G1 Middle Park S. The four-year-old retires with three wins and $245,935 in earnings.

Trainer Jimmy Picou to Retire:

After training Thoroughbreds for 45 years, Jimmy Picou plans on calling it a career after saddling Big Apple Daddy (Precise End) in Sunday's Damon Runyon S. at Aqueduct. "I feel a little bad, but it's the right thing to do," the 70-year-old said of his decision. "It's time to do something else." In 1954 Picou retired as a jockey and became an assistant trainer for Walter Kelley. Picou started his own stable in 1960 and won his first race as a trainer at Aqueduct in 1960. "I've been around a long time, but it doesn't feel that way," Picou commented. "My career feels like it's gone by in a blink of an eye. It's amazing. I'm very appreciative of the owners that supported me and the horses that I trained." In 1981, the conditioner scored one of his biggest wins in the GI Travers S., defeating eventual three-year-old champion Pleasant Colony with Willow Hour. "We bought Willow Hour as a yearling and winning the Travers might have been the most exciting race of my career," he added.

OUIJA SWEEPS BOARD

In addition to garnering two Classics and the GI Breeders' Cup F/M Turf, Ouija Board (GB) (Cape Cross {Ire}) was awarded the title Racehorse of the Year at the Racehorse Owners' Association Horse Racing Awards at London's Park Lane Hilton Thursday. The homebred came on top in a poll of the ROA's near 7,000 members and Racing Post readers. She also took home the Outstanding Three-Year-Old Filly title whilst owner Lord Derby was named Owner of the Year. The G1 2000 Guineas and G1 Champion S. hero Haafhd (GB) (Alhaarth {Ire}) took the honors for Outstanding Three-Year-Old Colt, and Soviet Song (Ire) (Marju {Ire}) gained compensation for finishing runner-up in the Horse of the Year poll by taking the Outstanding Older Horse title. The promising Group 1 winners Damson (Ire) (Entrepreneur {GB}) and Shamardal (Giant's Causeway) respectively headed the Two-Year-Old Filly and Colt divisions. The G1 Hong Kong Sprint hopeful Pivotal Point (GB) (Pivotal {GB}) took Outstanding Handicapper honors.

Yesterday's Results:

TRIPLE TWO (GB) (f, 2, Pivotal {GB}--Tara's Girl {Ire} {MSP-GB}, by Fayruz {GB}) went postward as the 2-1 favorite off a debut win going an extended seven furlongs, at this track Nov. 27. The crowd's choice was trapped along the rail in a tracking fifth after breaking moderately from her inside gate here. Angling off the rail to lead around the home turn, she required a forceful Tom Queally drive inside the final furlong to withstand the late flourish of market rival Rancho Cucamonga (Ire) (Raphane) by 3/4 of a length. She was a 12,000gns TATDEC weanling and 12,000gns TATDEC yearling. Lifetime Record: 2-2-0-0, £6,890. O-Cheveley Park Stud; B-Foldcord Ltd; T-Ed Dunlop.

Wolverhampton, 2.30, Mdn, £5,210, 2yo, 7f 32yds (AWT), 1:32.63, stn.

Miller-HK 4x, MSW-HK, GSP-GB & Fr, was reserved off the pace in midfield until making good progress under pressure with three furlongs remaining. Ridden along to challenge at the top of the stretch run, the 8-1 chance was driven out inside the final furlong to best Davenport (Ire) (Bold Fact) by a head. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, £3,387. O/B-Ballymacoll Stud Farm; T-Brian Meehan.

TENBY TO ITALY

G1 Grand Criterium winner Tenby (GB) (Caerleon--Shining Water {GB}, Kalaglow {Ire}) will continue his stallion career in Italy next season. Beaten as the odds-on favorite in the 1993 G1 Epsom Derby, he will relocate from the Yushun Stallion Station in Japan to Allevamento Il Grifone, near Turin, in a deal brokered by British-based bloodstock agency Allan Bloodlines. His 2005 fee has yet to be announced.
