SELLERS RETIRES Jockey Shane Sellers has officially announced his retirement from race riding. The 38-year-old piloted more than 4,000 winners in a career marked by several comebacks from serious injuries. Sellers, who had been outspoken about the issue of insurance coverage for jockeys injured on the racetrack, had not ridden in a race since Oct. 2 at Hoosier Park. The Louisiana native made the decision to retire following the annual meeting of the Jockeys' Guild in Irving, Texas Dec. 7, when he felt that the insurance situation would not be resolved in a timely enough manner for him to resume riding. "After going to this year's [Guild] meeting, we all know [Guild chief executive officer Dr. Wayne Gertmenian] and his team will win this war," Sellers said in a press release from the Guild. "Unfortunately, it won't happen overnight, and he told us that when he stepped in. Old management set us back 25 years. To win this war, we're going to lose some soldiers, and I choose not to be one. Thank God I'm able to literally walk away and not lose everything because of a spill. I've given my heart and soul to this game and this industry for 23 years. I'm not going to lose my kids' future for a $45 jock mount." Sellers rides into the sunset with 4,070 career victories from 23,795 mounts and earnings of $123,041,486. Among his biggest wins were Breeders' Cup victories aboard Buck's Boy (Turf, 1998) and Countess Diana (Juvenile Fillies, 1997) as well as the 2004 GI Blue Grass S. aboard The Cliff's Edge.

from Jason Orman's barn last month, earned the bullet when he stopped the clock in 1:24 2/5. The handsome dark bay hasn't raced since finishing sixth in the GI Haskell Invitational H. Aug. 8. Minister Eric got the distance in 1:24 3/5, while Action This Day, shelved after checking in sixth in the GI Kentucky Derby, was another tick slower that. "They all looked terrific," said Mandella, who added, "They're all being aimed at the Malibu; whether or not I do something different, I don't know."

FAIT ACCOMPLI (f, 3, Louis Quatorze--Passive Action, by Double Negative), third to Island Sand in the Jan. 25 Busanda S. over the inner, showed she could run well fresh when she captured the Sept. 1 Saratoga Dew S. off the eight-month vacation. A badly beaten seventh to Ashado in the GII Cotillion H. at Philly Park Oct. 2, she faced off tracks in her next two, finishing fourth at this level Nov. 12 and fifth in the restricted Montauk H. Nov. 28. Returning to the inner surface as a 2-1 chance, Fait Accompli made a sweeping move rounding the turn, set her sights on 8-5 chalk Provincial (Pulpit) a furlong out and swept past that rival late to prevail by 1 1/4 lengths. TANI MARU (c, 2, Cherokee Run--Bullville Belle, by Holy Bull), third and then seventh against Saratoga special weight company in August, was haltered for $75,000 out of a second-place effort at Belmont Sept. 24. He came right back to wire a Big A special weight test Oct. 27, then ran a solid third, beaten 4 1/2 lengths, in the Nov. 14 Huntington S. Making his first foray past two turns as the 9-5 pick, the $160,000 KEESEP yearling came in at the break and bumped a rival, recovered to stay within striking distance of the free-running Scrappy T (Fit to Fight), locked horns with that foe in upper stretch and asserted in the final strides to post the neck victory. The 2-1 Father Weist (Pulpit) closed to within a neck of the pair despite taking an extended survey of the crowd in the final furlong. Lifetime Record: SP, 6-2-1-2, $72,924.

That effort was bolstered when the winner came back to take the Damon Runyon S. by 8 1/2 lengths over the weekend and Storm Thief was duly supported here as the 6-5 pick. After stalking up the backstretch here, the chestnut bid for the lead turning for home and wore down the pacesetting second choice Organizer (Raffie's Majesty) by 1 1/4 lengths. Laurel Opening Delayed:

The winter meet at Laurel Park, which had been tentatively scheduled to open Dec. 26, has been delayed due to weather, ground-water drainage problems and additional issues with the foundation of the new track. It is now expected that the track will open for training Dec. 26, with the meet starting Jan. 22. Racing will continue at Pimlico through Jan. 17. "We are just days away from finishing this project in regards to the dirt track," said Jim Gagliano, executive vice president of racing operations for the Maryland Jockey Club. "We remain convinced that the short-term inconveniences, while considerably burdensome, will be outweighed by the greater good in the long run." The track was originally scheduled to open in early October, but trainers stabled at Laurel only have the option of jogging their horses in the shedrow. Magna Entertainment Corp., which operates the MJC, picks up the cost of shipping horses to Bowie for workouts. Horsemen have been vocal in their criticism of the progress of the track renovations and have continued to express their concerns. "It's likely this track will fall apart," Richard Hoffberger, president of the Maryland Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association, told The Blood-Horse. "The project has been flawed from the beginning. Virtually anything that could go wrong has gone wrong." Ted Malloy, who built the track at Palm Meadows and at the newly renovated Gulfstream Park, was hired by Magna to oversee the project. He countered, "I promise you I won't leave here and give you a track that's not safe. I know what a good racetrack is. I'm trying to give you the best."

He took an entry-level allowance as an 18-1 outsider over Delaware's lawn Sept. 26 and was looking to go three-for-five on the sod here as a 6-1 chance. The dark bay gelding was last of eight with two furlongs left to run, but came flying late to nip 9-1 New Science (Wild Event) by a nose. King David's Son (King of Kings {Ire}), the 6-5 pick, was rank early and could do no better than fourth. Lifetime Record: 6-3-1-0, $54,210. OLD GOLD (g, 3, Touch Gold--Restless Colony {MSW, $126,094}, by Pleasant Colony) hit the board in a pair of Aqueduct inner-track races last February, but went to the sidelines for the spring and summer. The dark bay, formerly with trainer Todd Pletcher, returned to be second for Graham Motion over course and distance Nov. 13 and was the clear class of the field at 1-5 to get his picture taken. Jockey Ryan Fogelsonger asked his mount to go get the speedy Real Classic (Real Quiet) leaving the backstretch and Old Gold responded at once, ranging up to take control before extending well clear of the pack. The pair cruised home 15 lengths to the good of United Notion (Malibu Moon). Old Gold, a $210,000 FTSAUG yearling, is a three-parts brother to Latour (French Deputy), GSW & GISP, $248,605; and a half to Liberty Gold (Crafty Prospector), GSW & GISP, $598,963. ### Keeneland Donations for 2004 Total $862,052:

Keeneland announced Tuesday that it gave a total of $862,052 to more than 80 charitable organizations in 2004. The donations included a contribution of $200,000 to the Maker's Mark Secretariat Center, a retraining and adoption program for retired Thoroughbreds; $100,000 to the University of Kentucky; and $50,000 as the final installment of a five-year, $250,000 commitment to the temporary exhibit gallery of the Kentucky Historical Society. Thirty-seven health and human services organizations received donations, with the Hospice of the Bluegrass and the American Cancer Society each receiving the final $10,000 installment of $50,000 contributions. Kentucky Educational Television also received $10,000. Speaking during Keeneland's annual holiday luncheon, Fran Taylor, executive director of the Keeneland Foundation, said, "This holiday event is very special to us. We never fail to be inspired by the good work of the many dedicated non-profit organizations in our community. It's an opportunity to reflect on how fortunate we are to live in a place where so many people work toward the same goal--making central Kentucky a better place to call home."

Wild Zone to Millennium Farms:

Wild Zone (Wild Again--Music Zone, by The Minstrel), who stood the last four seasons in Texas, will relocate to Millennium Farms in Lexington, Kentucky for 2005. Mike Cavey has purchased a 50-percent interest in the 14-year-old. Cavey, who co-owned Wild Zone earlier in his career with Adelaide Riggs and Frank Stronach, spearheaded the stallion's move to the Bluegrass State. "I always felt Wild Zone belonged in Kentucky, from his 1:07 3/5 record speed, to his consistency at siring double-digit juvenile winners. He is great value compared with other Kentucky sires of two-year-old winners." He added, "Millennium does a super job of getting their stallions good books, and we already have 40 mares committed for 2005." A seven-time stakes winner of $509,973, Wild Zone has seven stakes winners and progeny earnings of more than $6.4 million from his five crops to race. He will stand for a fee of $5,000 live foal.

CHANNEL 4 LAUNCHES EXCHANGE

British television broadcaster Channel 4 Racing has entered the world of sports betting by creating an on-line betting exchange. It was developed by 4Interactive, the interactive division of Channel 4, in partnership with Betdaq, the world's second largest exchange operator. Available via the Channel 4 website www.channel4.com/racing, the exchange will provide a live betting service to registered users and is launched on the back of a number of recent initiatives, including re-launching the website and the broadcast of interactive camera angles during live racing. Dave Kerr, the station's Head of Sport, said: "At a time when the future of horseracing on Channel 4 is uncertain we are actively pursuing ways to generate additional commercial return from the sport and a betting exchange is a logical way of achieving this. It is a further addition to the comprehensive service that we already provide punters." Betdaq's Rob Hartnett added, "Exchanges have dramatically improved the way that many dedicated bettors enjoy their involvement with sports betting. This partnership with Channel 4 will bring the concept to an even broader audience and further hasten the growth of a sector that has risen from nothing to an estimated annual turnover in excess of £2 billion per annum in four short years." Betting exchanges differ from regular bookmakers in that they provide a facility for individuals with a different opinion on the outcome of an event to come together and bet against each other. The exchange sits at the centre of every transaction, and acts as facilitator and stakeholder. It settles the bets in favour of whoever has won and charges a small commission from the winnings of each customer in each market.
