Right on Track: Monday's Belmont Park Report...

If you were looking for excitement at Belmont Park at 6 a.m. Monday morning, you weren't exactly in the right place. Up until about 8:30 a.m., the most entertaining thing to do on the Belmont backstretch was to watch photographers and camera crews jockey for position along the fence outside of Barn 3, former home to 2003 GI Belmont S. hero Empire Maker and the current digs of Triple Crown hopeful Big Brown (Boundary). Once the 'Big Horse' went under tack, the crowd quickly began to disperse throughout the barn area, searching for new positions. Finally led out by TVG analyst Frank Lyons, Big Brown emerged from the back entrance of Bobby Frankel's barn and made his way toward the paddock tunnel. (Ed. note: Lyons, also a bloodstock agent, recommended the purchase of IEAH's GI Santa Anita Oaks heroine Ariege, et al). After a quick trip through the saddling area, the IEAH Stables' colorbearer made it to the track beneath regular exercise rider Michelle Nevin following the renovation break.

Racing's next Triple Crown winner? Sherackatthetrack

'DIVINE' OPENER FOR MAGIC MILLIONS

As expected, there were fireworks at Monday's first broodmare session of the Magic Millions National Sale in Australia. MG1SW Divine Madonna (Aus) (Hurricane Sky {Aus}) brought a final bid of A$2.7 million to set a new record for a broodmare on the Gold Coast. Consigned by Widden Stud, the five-year-old mare was purchased by Bill Mitchell, acting on behalf of Darley Australia. "It's obviously a lot of money, but we're delighted to be able to buy her," said Darley Australia's Stud Manager John Sunderland. "It's very hard to get mares of her quality and, accordingly, you have to spend a lot to buy them." Mating plans have not yet been finalized for the mare. An A$80,000 yearling purchase, Divine Madonna won eight races, including four Group 1s, and earned more than A$2 million on the track for owners P & H Ryan Racing Syndicate, D Thackeray, Ms. M Shephard and Mrs. I P Kavanagh, wife of trainer Mark Kavanagh. "I am a bit sad, but it opens another chapter to her life and now we can look forward to her producing quality offspring," Mark Kavanagh said. "We're delighted with the price...and with my wife being a part owner it makes me feel a lot better! It's been a memorable ride, and, as they say, while one door closes, another will open." Cont. p3

Roughly five minutes later, the strapping bay got down to business, going for an easy gallop around Big Sandy before being greeted at the gap on the clubhouse turn entrance by trainer Richard Dutrow Jr., IEAH co-president Michael Iavarone and Lyons--along with plenty of observers, photographers and reporters.

The crowd began to grow as Big Brown made his way back to the barn and, once again, they lined up along a fence to get another glimpse--this time of his bath. IEAH co-president Rich Schiavo was also on hand now, and along with Iavarone, chatted with famed hoof specialist Ian McKinlay. The unbeaten colt seemed to enjoy the large crowd lined up to watch, photograph and record his every move, and fed right into it, seemingly posing at times and taking several looks over. After his bath, which included a couple of playful nips at Nevin's hand, Big Brown was led back into the barn by jockey and Dutrow assistant Rudy Rodriguez.

The action figures to pick up at Belmont this morning, with Big Brown scheduled for his final breeze before the big day. With more beautiful weather in the forecast, hope to see you all at the track!...SS

No Patch for Big Brown's Work...

Ian McKinlay will not patch the quarter crack on Big Brown's left front foot before his final Belmont S. workout. "I'm not going to put a patch on it until Friday," McKinlay said. "And the only reason for that is to let it dry up as much as possible. It is coming along well, and everything is on schedule."

The Belmont Breezes...

GI Kentucky Derby third Denis of Cork (Harlan's Holiday) had his final workout for Saturday's "Test of the Champion" at Churchill Downs yesterday morning, going four furlongs in :48.60 with jockey Robby Albarado in the irons. "I was very, very happy with what I saw today," said trainer David Carroll. "Robby was very careful not to go too fast early. [Denis] is very deceiving. He can go fast because he covers a lot of ground, so he was under wraps the last eighth. Robby just let his head out and he immediately accelerated, and it was a beautiful thing to watch. We're excited."

The colt is scheduled to ship to New York with fellow Belmont contender Macho Again (Macho Uno) tomorrow. Macho Again jogged two miles at Churchill yesterday. "He's on his toes and looks awesome, so we're just hoping to go up there with a lot in the tank," trainer Dallas Stewart said.

Icabad Crane (Jump Start), third in the GI Preakness S., worked a half at Fair Hill Training Center in Maryland yesterday. His time on the synthetic surface was identical to that of Denis of Cork. Exercise rider Lisa Davidson was aboard for the move. "I just wanted to give him a nice blow out heading into the race," trainer Graham Motion said. "It's nice to see him doing so well, and I'm very excited to be running him in this race. He's really improved a lot since the Preakness. I know this might really sound crazy, but over the past three weeks he's really matured." The colt arrives at Belmont today.

Up at Saratoga, Four Roses Thoroughbreds' Anak Nakal (Victory Gallop) breezed a half-mile in :49.67 under exercise rider Maxine Correa on a fast Oklahoma Training Track. Trainer Nick Zito, who spoiled the Triple Crown bid of Smarty Jones with Birdstone in 2004, remarked, "He's ready. He's been ready for a long time now." Added Kasim Masri of Four Thoroughbreds, who was on hand for the work, "The gallop out was beautiful. He kept wanting to go more and more. That's what he's bred for." Anak Nakal's sire came between Real Quiet (and jockey Kent Desormeaux) and a Triple Crown in 1998, getting up in the very last jump to win the Belmont by a nose.

year-old, when she annexed the G1 Queensland Oaks. She would later add a pair of Group 1 placings to her resume while bankrolling A$585,250. Bred to Redoute's Choice (Aus) in 2005, she foaled a filly by the leading sire the following year and in 2007 had an Encosta de Lago (Aus) filly. Zagalia sold in foal to Redoute's Choice on a Nov. 22 cover. In all, 123 mares sold at the National Sale Monday for A$11,747,250, an average of A$95,506. Fifty-six lots failed to find new homes, an RNA rate of 31.3 percent. Four additional broodmare sessions will run today through Friday, beginning at 11 a.m. each day, followed by three yearlings sessions, running from Tuesday, June 10 through Thursday, June 12. Bolger homebred Cuis Ghaire had to show guts when winning over this track and trip on debut May 14, continuing the rich vein of form being enjoyed by the Coolcullen juveniles; she demonstrated her speed this time. Blasting straight into the lead from the gate, she was asked to stretch at the quarter pole and was ridden out in the final eighth to score readily. "She's a very strong filly and pretty mature, even at this stage," revealed a satisfied Jim Bolger. "She's got a good attitude towards the game and could go a long way. She's giving all the right vibes." Cuis Ghaire will now point to the June 29 G2 Railway S. at The Curragh before stepping up in trip. Cuis Ghaire is bred on the same Galileo/Danehill cross that produced another nice homebred runner for Jim Bolger and his wife Jackie, 2006 European champion juvenile Teofilo (Ire). Click for the Racing Post chart.

It's now more than 200 years since the French proletariat overthrew the aristocracy in their bid for liberty, equality and fraternity, but Sunday's Prix du Jockey-Club provided another example of a French upstart overpowering the nobility. The upstart--Vision d'Etat--is still unbeaten in five starts, even though he cost no more than €39,000 as a yearling and is by a stallion whose fee in 2004 was a mere €1,950 (roughly equal to $2,460 at that time).

Vision d'Etat's victory acted as a reminder of the merits of the Grey Sovereign male line, which has supplied the American industry with such as Caro, Cozzene, In Excess and Indian Charlie. However, this male line's natural home in recent decades has been France, where it once supplied seven winners of the Poule d'Essai des Poulains in the space of 22 years and four winners of the Prix du Jockey-Club in 16 years. The fact that the last of those Classic victories was in 1992 suggested that this male line's glory days were over, but Vision d'Etat may be about to prove otherwise.

Eric Libaud's Classic winner is a great-grandson of Kaldoun, another individual who overcame modest beginnings. With nothing more important than three Listed wins to his credit during a four-year career, Kaldoun started out at a low fee, but he steadily climbed the rankings, to the extent that he became champion sire in 1994, at the age of 19. His record raised the question of whether any of his stallion sons could also rise from comparative obscurity, and a couple have done well. The dual Group 3 winner Kaldounevees has sired the international Group 1 winners Terre A Terre and Ange Gabriel, while the teak-tough Smadoun--a multiple Listed winner in the French Provinces--has also exceeded expectations by siring Vision d'Etat's sire, Chichicastenango.

The nearest Smadoun came to winning a group race was his 3/4-length second in the G3 Prix Andre Baboin as a four-year-old, and that effort earned him a weight no higher than 106 on the International Classifications.

Smadoun was clearly some way removed from the top flight and his fee, when he retired to Haras des Sablonnets as a seven-year-old, was only 6,000 francs for Thoroughbreds or half as much for non-Thoroughbreds.

Amazingly, he sired Chichicastenango in his first crop. This grey colt was good enough to become a Group 3 winner at two in 2000, but, as a May foal, he was open to above-average improvement from two to three. He duly sprang a surprise when the outsider of five in the G1 Prix Lupin, which he won narrowly from the future Classic winners Anabaa Blue and Milan. Although Anabaa Blue took his revenge by half a length in the Prix du Jockey-Club, Chichicastenango quickly gained another Group 1 success, this time wearing down Mizzen Mast to land the Grand Prix de Paris.

So why was Chichicastenango so much better than his sire? There must be a strong suspicion that he owed his Group 1 talent at least partly to the fact that his dam, the minor winner Smala, is inbred 2x3 to the great Northern Dancer. Smala's sire was Antheus, a Northern Dancer horse who won the G1 Gran Premio del Jockey Club, and his second dam Small Partie was by Fabulous Dancer, a Northern Dancer horse who became champion sire in France.

Unfortunately Chichicastenango didn't see action in 2002 and a blank year is never a help to a young stallion's prospects. Consequently, he began his stallion career at Haras de Victot at a fee of only €1,450 in 2003, but he has still managed to make an eye-catching start.

With only 36 foals in his first crop, Chichicastenango did very well to sire a pair of Group 3 winners in Chinandega and Chichi Creasy. Chinandega's success came at two in 2006, which helped raise her sire's fee to €4,000 (live foal) in 2007.

Vision d'Etat leads Chichicastenango's second crop, which again numbers 36 foals. Three group winners,

Vision d'Etat (red cap)

including a Classic winner, from 72 foals constitutes a very promising start, and it is going to be interesting to see whether the stallion can build on this solid foundation. We are probably going to have to be patient, as his third and fourth crops number 26 and 15 foals, respectively, but Chichicastenango could be a name to remember from 2010 onwards.

Two of his group winners are out of mares by Garde Royale, who did his group winning over 1 1/2 miles. Although this good son of Mill Reef sired a Classic winner in Carling (Prix de Diane), his name is primarily associated with jump racing, thanks to such good winners as Royal Auclair, Iris Royal, Royal Rosa, Garde Champetre and Nicanor. Interestingly, the details given in the Brisnet catalogue-style pedigree don't tell the whole story about Vision d'Etat's female line, as they don't include jumping details. The colt's dam, Uberaba, won four times over hurdles at Auteuil as a three-year-old, with her last two successes coming in claiming company. She was also tried over fences, without much luck. Vision d'Etat's half-sister Diana La Belle, a winner of an 11-furlong handicap on the flat, is now the dam of Kadabelle, a Group 3 steeplechase winner who once contested the Grand Steeplechase de Paris. Two of Uberaba's other foals, Bronnsa and Royal Away, won steeplechases.

Vision d'Etat's second dam, Ile d'Amour, didn't manage to win until her 25th attempt, in a 1 7/16 mile race at Rouen. She, too, ran in claiming races. However, Vision d'Etat's third dam Old England (who appears to have been a very difficult breeder) was a very useful performer from an excellent family. Old England's half-sister Mi Carina won the Prix Vermeille and finished fourth in the Arc, while another half-sister, Sweet Folly, won the prestigious Ladies H. in the USA. Yet another half-sister, Peroxide Blonde, produced the champion American colt Stage Door Johnny. Their dam Folie Douce was a talented half-sister to four very good winners in France in the 1950s, so Vision d'Etat's family is no stranger to success at a very high level.

There is every reason to think that Vision d'Etat will be equally at home over 1 1/2 miles, the distance of the Prix du Jockey-Club until it was reduced by around 330 yards after the 2004 race.

I had no strong objections to the reduction at the time, but I'm not so sure now that it was such a good idea.

The Racing Post ran an interesting item by Desmond Stoneham in the build-up to the Chantilly Classic, headlined, "Jury still out on decision to drop distance of Jockey-Club." One person who has apparently no doubts that the race should not have been shortened is former champion jockey Christophe Soumillon, even though he has won the shorter version on Darsi.

"The Jockey-Club is now really for milers as they are quickly into their stride and have speed from the start, so can steal the race," Soumillon suggested.

"I had a nightmare race on Hurricane Run and, with 20 more metres, I would have won. That defeat still sticks in my throat. Frankie rode a great race on Shamardal and pinched four lengths early in the straight.

"Hurricane Run was an outstanding horse and at least I went on to win the King George on him the following year. I don't know why the race was shortened. If a horse isn't able to win a Jockey-Club over 2,400 metres, then he's not good enough."

However, the reduction seems to be popular with owners, as the four runnings of the shortened Classic have averaged 18 runners, whereas the last 10 editions of 2,400-metre Classic averaged only 12.6 runners. And therein lies a problem. With bigger fields and a shorter run to Chantilly's long, sweeping bend, traffic problems are almost inevitable and the horses drawn on the wide outside seem to be at a disadvantage. If this is so, the Prix du Jockey-Club is no longer guaranteed to fall to the best horse, which is surely the objective of any Classic race.

In last year's 20-horse contest, Sagara had the misfortune to draw the outside stall and, in the circumstances, he did well to run on strongly for seventh, after being last turning for home. That wasn't a fair reflection of his talents, though, and by the end of the season he was officially rated superior to five of the six horses which finished ahead of him. The inexperienced Zambezi Sun also struggled from the 14 draw, but came from a long way back to finish fourth, beaten less than two lengths. He had beaten Shamdinan, who finished just ahead of him from the number 1 draw, by two lengths on their previous meeting.

I was therefore far from thrilled to see that the Irish raider Famous Name had been allocated the number 17 box in Sunday's Classic. In failing by only a head to catch Vision d'Etat, the son of Dansili was the only one in the first six to come from a draw higher than 11. Only three of the 10 horses drawn from 11 to 20 managed to make the first 10. It looks as though Soumillon is right, and that a horse's best chance of overcoming a very wide draw is to be quickly into its stride.

Shamardal, a champion juvenile, was fast enough to do so when he overcame his 13 draw in 2005 and the admirable Natagora, a Group 1 winner over six furlongs, also had enough early pace for her 11 draw not to be a problem. No wonder some people believe the Grand Prix de Paris is now more worthy of being described as the French Derby than the revamped Jockey-Club.

Q & A WITH THE BREEDERS' CUP BOARD CANDIDATES

There are 21 candidates up for election for the 12 openings on the 46-member Breeders' Cup Board of Members and Trustees. Ballots were mailed to current Breeders' Cup stallion and foal nominators June 2, and the election results will be announced at the BC Board meeting July 11. Bios of the candidates were included in the package sent to voters, but, as we did last year, TDN is responding to reader suggestions that we provide more information on the candidates' viewpoints. To that end, we posed the following question:

Why do you want to serve on the Breeders' Cup Board?

The candidates' responses will be published this week. Four are included today.

MARK TAYLOR

The Breeders' Cup, in my opinion, is the single greatest innovation in our sport in the last century. It is the one institution that can even come close to unifying our fragmented industry. In these trying times of scrutiny from the media and turmoil between different industry factions, it is of paramount importance that the Breeders' Cup be propelled towards new levels of success and significance around the world.

In the last two years, the Breeders' Cup has undergone a great deal of change. This change was precipitated by our core constituents, who are the breeders that fund the organization through foal and stallion nominations. During the merger with the NTRA, the Breeders' Cup had a lapse in communication, transparency and accountability, in my opinion. I believe these fundamental responsibilities are the foundation of success for any organization which operates with the contributions of others.

Over the last 18 months, the structure of the Board has been revised in a very positive way. We now have the original large group of trustees, which elects a smaller board that meets more regularly and can vote to get things done in a more efficient manner. I have seen great improvement in communication over all. While we are a long way from being where we need to be in some areas, I believe Bill Farish and Greg Avioli have accomplished a great deal over the last year. I look forward to contributing in any way possible towards fostering a culture of open communication, transparency and innovation within the Breeders' Cup.

BOBBY FLAY

The Breeders' Cup, which has now doubled its card from one day to two, is a special event. Unfortunately, with very little exception, only the industry itself knows that. While the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes get their much deserved attention, most of it comes from history and tradition. The Triple Crown races in their earlier heyday had very little competition for the gambling dollar, unlike the Breeders' Cup, which broke into the public's conscience during a nation-wide boom of casinos. I often wonder--if the Derby, Preakness and Belmont were started today, would they be able to gain as much attention?

Las Vegas had a virtual monopoly on the gaming dollar, especially when it came to slot machines and table games, until, of course, states like New Jersey, Connecticut and California approved their own gaming and Vegas started feeling the pinch! How did they fix it? They made their overall product better. Not the gaming, the whole environment and experience. Over the last decade, Las Vegas has once again regained its reputation as the mecca of all entertainment through great marketing, a tremendous food and beverage culture that rivals any city in America, cutting-edge style and hospitality and world-class entertainment. I've been able to study its evolution first hand, as well as participate in its success.

The Breeders' Cup will always have the equine stars from around the world racing under their banner; now all it needs is a supporting cast of other attractions and services that can match them. I want to serve on the Breeders' Cup Board simply because I think I might be helpful in this effort.

DON M. ROBINSON

First of all, I'm honored to be considered for this Board. As a third-generation Thoroughbred breeder, I feel the Breeders' Cup is the single greatest event/development our industry has given ourselves, and the racing public, in my generation. I will do all that I can to ensure its continued importance to Thoroughbred racing.

I bring a family farm business perspective--understanding the flexibility it takes, not only to survive, but to prosper into that next generation. This World Championship is vital to showcase our great ones to the entire globe for the betterment of this wonderful horse business and the protection of the lands to raise them.

ARNOLD KIRKPATRICK

After more than 45 years of active participation in many aspects of our business, I believe I have a combination of unique experience, perspective and useful skills that would make me particularly effective as a Board member.

I have learned over many years that we need to seek long-term solutions for our problems, rather than merely slapping band-aids on them. In the midst of desperate times, we certainly need to consider desperate measures; however, we also need to think things through and have the vision to foresee unintended consequences when we make decisions that will affect the long-term well being of our industry. I can and will contribute to those discussions.

Having served on the management teams of a major breeding farm and a struggling race track, I have developed a special empathy for everyday problems faced by most of the participants in the business. This hands-on understanding of our problems, together with a reputation for integrity and consensus-building skills, has helped me to be effective in previous leadership positions while working to be a positive influence on the Thoroughbred business. It may also be noteworthy that I played a major role in the original formation of the Breeders' Cup.

Finally, throughout my entire experience in the business--as Editor of The Thoroughbred Record (and Founding President of American Horse Publications); as Director of Research and the Racing Advisory Committee of the American Horse Council; as a board member of Thoroughbred Racing Associations of North America and the Australian Breeders Co-operative Society (providing me an international insight into racing and breeding); and as author of several books on the Thoroughbred industry--I have consistently campaigned to attract and educate new owners, to bring more transparency and integrity to the business, to attract and retain new fans, and to support research to improve the health of the business, as well as our most important asset, the horse.

I view this nomination as an important opportunity to continue my commitment to those goals and to the long-term quality and well being of our sport.

Reigning Horse of the Year Curlin (Smart Strike), getting ready for the June 14 GI Stephen Foster H. at Churchill Downs, worked seven furlongs in 1:24.60 under the Twin Spires yesterday morning. He galloped out the mile in 1:37.74. Regular exercise rider Carmen Rosas was in the irons. "I was very pleased with his effort," said trainer Steve Asmussen. "We did plenty with him this morning. We want him to be sharp going a mile and an eighth." The four-year-old will be making his first start since taking the Mar. 29 G1 Dubai World Cup. Eight-for-11 lifetime, he will be bidding for his fifth consecutive victory.

Held up in rear until pushed along to take closer order at the two pole, he was ridden to challenge at the distance and came under a final furlong drive to prevail in a blanket finish. "He's coming into form now," trainer Luca Cumani told PA Sport. "Every year he needs a couple of runs and the signs were encouraging when he ran at York last time. He runs in the [June 21 G1] Golden Jubilee at Royal Ascot next."

Margins: 4, 1HF, 2. Odds: 1.80, 2.05, 1.45.

Also Ran: Eva Kant (GB), Tapioka Express (Ire), Kathy Ridge (Ire). Scratched: Common Market (GB).

Sweet Hearth tore up her debut when dishing out a six-length beating to subsequent easy winner Piperita (GB) going six furlongs at this track May 13, and registered more of the same to claim a first stakes success here. Stalking the leaders through the early stages, she took control at halfway and was pushed clear of out-classed rivals inside the final 300 meters to win in impressive fashion.

BRISEIDA A THIRD 2008 CLASSIC WINNER FOR PIVOTAL by Christa Riebel

Stall Litex' Briseida (GB) (Pivotal {GB}) made a dream come true for her Bulgarian owner--for whom she marks the first Classic and, indeed, first stakes winner--when securing victory in Sunday's G2 German 1000 Guineas at Dusseldorf (see TDN 06/02). The Peter Schiergen-trained chestnut had to overcome the disadvantage of making her seasonal debut, but did so in style, wearing down every challenge of the smart runner-up Rosenreihe (Ire) and the Clive Brittain-trained Love of Dubai, with last year's juvenile champion filly Love Academy (Ger) finishing fourth. Briseida marks the third Classic winner for her sire Pivotal this year, following the example set by Halfway to Heaven (Ire) in the G1 Irish 1000 Guineas and Falco in the G1 Poule d'Essai des Poulains. Previously, Pivotal sired the filly Saoire (GB) to win the Irish 1000 Guineas in 2005, while Sylvester Lady succeeded in the Preis der Diana (German Oaks). Briseida was bred from the stakes-winning Be My Guest mare Party Doll (GB), who is also the dam of the group-winning sire Titus Livius (Fr); Be My Guest was also the damsire of the German 1000 Guineas runner-up Rosenreihe.

Gestut Hony-Hof's homebred Peintre Celebre filly Salve Germania (Ire) made a very promising winning debut to her racing career (result follows). She is the first foal bred from the G1 German Oaks winning mare Salve Regina (Ger) (Monsun {Ger}), who placed in four other Group 1 events, including seconds in the Deutsches Derby and Grosser Preis von Baden. Salve Regina is an own sister to the 2000 German Derby winner and prolific sire Samum (Ger) and the 2006 German Derby victor Schiaparelli (Ger), who won an additional three Group 1 races in 2007.

Gestut Schlenderhan's three-year-old filly Irisijana (Ger) (Diktat {GB}) was another maiden winner to make a very good impression (see "Breeders' Edition Europe"). She is the fourth foal out of the dual winning Rainbow Quest mare Iberi (Ger), whose previous progeny includes the listed-placed Tiger Hill filly Isotta (Ger). Iberi is a daughter of the listed-winning Green Dancer mare Iberica (Ger), the dam of the smart listed winner and group-placed miler Iberus (Ger). She is also the third dam of the G1 German Oaks heroine Iota (Ger), who shares Tiger Hill (Ire) as her sire with Isotta. The next dam Idrissa (Ger) also won the German Oaks, and is also the third dam of the recent G2 Grosser Preis der Badischen Unternehmen victor It's Gino (Ger).

A # will distinguish first-time stakes-winners, a @ will indicate first-time graded stakes-winners, a ▲ will denote a first-time Grade/Group 1 winner, a + will indicate first-time starters.

+ SALVE GERMANIA (IRE) (f, 3, Peintre Celebre--Salve Regina {Ger} {Hwt. Older Mare-Ger at 11-14f, G1SW-Ger, $530,252}), by Monsun {Ger}), the first produce of her Classic-winning dam, took a keen hold along the hedge in third until settling into a smooth rhythm down the backstraight. Swinging off the home turn to challenge in early stretch, the 2-1 favorite took a slight advantage into the final eighth and was pushed clear late to score by an easy 2 1/2 lengths from Secundus (Ger) (Daliapour {Ire}). Lifetime Record: 1 start, 1 win, €3,000.

The winning margin was 3 1/2 lengths. The talented gray filly, who was making her first start since finishing second nearly one year ago in the G1 Gran Premio Carreras de las Estrellas Distaff at San Isidro, will likely take a second crack at Argentina's equivalent of the Breeders' Cup Distaff at Palermo June 28.

MESA GRILL, 102 5th Avenue, New York, NY. 212-807.7400. www.mesagrill.com

When I knew I would be traveling to New York with my dad to watch our horse, Golden Spikes, race, I definitely wanted to eat at one of Chef Bobby Flay's restaurants. We chose Mesa Grill on 5th Avenue. The atmosphere was warm and comfortable. Our waitress was very friendly and informative. The goat cheese dip was a great appetizer, light and fabulous. The shrimp tamale was spicy and filling. The fried oysters were amazing! I had the lamb chops for dinner. They were perfectly seasoned and cooked just right. The chimichurri complemented the lamb. The fries were crispy, yet tender. I cannot wait to go back again. In fact, my dad and I purchased the Mesa Grill cookbook. We have been using these new recipes since we returned from New York. We love Bobby's short rib recipe. Don't miss Mesa Grill!

Seatings at 5:30, 7:30. Reservations required (tip: if you can't get a dining reservation, but are heading into the store for shopping, stop in to the cafe when you arrive and see if there are any cancellations. There often are.)*

On the same trip, we had lunch at the Cafe at the American Girl Place, which was fun and delicious. The pink decor was nice and feminine. You get started with delicious cinnamon rolls and pretzel bread. The French dip was flavorful, yet subtle. The chocolate mousse was light and chocolaty. The Cafe is well worth the trip.

P. S. Make sure your dad brings some extra $ for shopping.

BOBBY FLAY, Chef:

Chef and restaurateur Bobby Flay owns two of New York's finest eateries. BAR AMERICAIN, at 152 West 52nd Street, New York, NY (www.baramericain.com), has become an essential for many of the who's-who in the Thoroughbred industry. Located in midtown Manhattan, it is easily accessible, well worth the trek, and offers various foods of America at their very best. MESA GRILL, at 102 5th Avenue, New York, NY (www.mesagrill.com) is Flay's flagship restaurant, offering the best of American dining with an emphasis on the flavors of the Southwest. (See Scarlett Murphy's review above.) Reservations are highly recommended at each, and available to TDN readers by calling Sally Jackson at (212) 924-3076. But where does Bobby eat when he's not eating at one of the above?

MORIMOTO, 88 10th Avenue, New York, NY (www.morimotonyc.com) 212-989-8883.

Morimoto offers a wide variety of fine Japanese cuisine. In order to get the best dining experience, I choose to order the omakase, which means "chef's choice." This multi-course tasting menu allows the chef to give you what he thinks will be the most enjoyable dining experience. If something else sounds better to you, the menu is vast and has plenty to offer from sushi to steak. The prices are moderately expensive, but the food and overall dining experience are well worth it. Reservations are recommended.

CRAFTSTEAK, 85 10th Avenue, New York, NY (www.craftrestaurant.com). 212-400-6699.

Craftsteak offers the most modern take on the traditional steak house. Several different types of steak (corn-fed, grass-fed, etc.) are selected from the World's top ranchers and aged in numerous ways in the restaurant's own aging room. For those preferring a seafood option, a raw bar serving the freshest oysters, marinated and chilled seafood is available. The staff is incredibly well informed and ready to walk you through your selections. The prices are moderately expensive and reservations are recommended.

SCARPETTA, 355 West 14th Street, New York, NY. 212-691-0555

Scarpetta (translated from fare la scarpetta, which means to wipe your plate clean with a chunk of bread) is a newly opened restaurant in the city offering fine Italian cuisine in an airy, skylit setting. The menu is divided between small plates, pasta and main courses offering anything between spaghetti with tomato and basil to tuna. The dishes are priced moderately and reservations are recommended.
