low up in the G1 Emirates Airline Champion S. in the same year since 1968 hero Sir Ivor with an emphatic six-length success yesterday. "He really impressed me and, of all his wins, I've no doubt that today was his best," jockey Kevin

Manning said. It could also be his last--trainer Jim Bolger indicated that the colt will be retired. "It was his last run--he has done everything right and it is all over now," Bolger said. Capping a memorable afternoon for Bolger, following the surprise win of Intense Focus (Giant's Causeway) in the G1 Darley Dewhurst S., the 6-5 crowd's choice opened up with three furlongs remaining and, by the time he reached the line, had smashed the track record set by Palace Music in this race 24 years ago. In a strong renewal filled with exciting prospects and a hot favorite in Ballydoyle's Rip Van Winkle (Galileo {Ire}), Intense Focus would not have been on many handicappers' lists. Splitting Art Connoisseur (Ire) and Lord Shanakill when runner-up in the G2 Coventry S. at Royal Ascot, he was beaten a neck when third to Mastercraftsman (Ire) in the G2 Railway S. at The Curragh June 29 before finishing fifth behind subsequent G1 Prix Morny and G1 Phoenix S. winner Bushranger (Ire) in the G3 Anglesey S. back there July 12. Sixth in the Sept. 14 G1 National S. and third in the Goffs Million a fortnight later, he was third once more behind Naaqoos (GB) in the G1 Prix Jean-Luc Lagardere at Longchamp last time Oct. 5, after which the blinkers were swapped for a visor. Breaking well from his rail draw, he chased the generous pace set by the Million winner Soul City (Ire) (Elusive City), and needed some bravery to squeeze between Finjaan and Shaweel (GB) (Dansili {GB}) with a furlong remaining. Joined in battle with the former and the strong-finishing Lord Shanakill thereafter, he dug in gamely to thrust his nose in front in the final stride. "His last two runs were very solid coming into the race," Kevin Manning said. "In the Million, he was very good, and he put in a fantastic run in France, both times on ground slower than he probably wants. This was the first time he's had quick ground since Royal Ascot, so it was by no means a surprise. Both horses had the chance to beat him, but he came back at them and, on the day, the best horse won. He's a tough individual who takes it all in his stride and is very professional, so I don't see why he won't go on next year. He's a strong type of horse and handles quick ground, but how far he is going to get is another day's work." While many have scoffed at Jim Bolger's assertion that New Approach is the "European version of Secretariat," the chestnut provided a passable impression of that great here. The chestnut accounted for all bar Henythenavigator in both the G1 English and Irish 2000 Guineas in May before restraint was called for as connections sought to stretch his stamina beyond a mile. Despite an overabundance of enthusiasm during the early stages of the G1 Epsom Derby, G1 Juddmonte International and G1 Irish Champion S. at Leopardstown last time Sept. 7, it is a mark of his class that his exuberance only cost him success in the middle of those contests--and he had the excuse of returning from an injury-enforced break when third in that test. Showing no signs of keenness following a sluggish start here, he tracked rabbit Upton Grey (Ire) (Dalakhani {Ire}) until taking command passing the half-mile marker and surging clear. Kevin Manning said, "He actually fell out of the gates, but the pacemaker did a fantastic job, and when I picked him up he went about his business like a true professional. I couldn't believe how much light he put between them when I took a peep at the furlong pole and, although he's got his quirks, he's a very good horse and it would be hard to come across another like him." Bolger added, "He is the finest horse beyond a mile that I have trained." Click for the Racing Post chart, the brisnet.com PPs or the free brisnet.com catalogue-style pedigree.

Lahaleeb had endured some tough tests en route to a hard-earned first stakes success. Stepped up after a seven-length win in a nursery at Newcastle Aug. 6, the bay picked up minor awards in the G3 Prestige S. and G2 May Hill S. before finishing runner-up in the G3 CL Weld Park S. at The Curragh Sept. 28. Held up with the stand's side group here, she launched her challenge inside the final quarter and got the better of the far-side leader Aspen Darlin, drawing off to a convincing score. "She's held her form quite well and is tough," said jockey Darryll Holland after completing the double following the exploits of Stimulation (Ire) in the G2 Challenge S. "I thought she won quite tidily, and she has a bit of size about her--she's light-framed, but hopefully she can fill out over winter. I think she'll improve a lot and this is not a bad trial for the Guineas, but Mick [Channon] will decide." Successful in the Apr. 16 Listed European Free H. over this course and distance on sophomore bow, Stimulation has proved admirably consistent in pattern company without getting his head back in front since. Fourth in a typically competitive renewal of the June 18 G3 Jersey S. at Royal Ascot, he was second in the G2 Lennox S. at Goodwood July 29 and third in the valuable Tokapi Trophy at Veliefendi Sept. 7 in his two latest outings. Stalking Cat Junior whilst leading the far-side group through the early fractions of this, he was asked for an effort 2 1/2 furlongs from home and ground down that rival under pressure with 75 yards remaining. "He's a fast-ground horse who is good right-handed and has plenty of speed, so I hope he goes to Hong Kong," commented winning rider Darryll Holland. "He's been on the go a long time, but is tough and has held his form very well in good company." Shedding maiden status at Newcastle in her third attempt May 29, Crystal Capella stepped up to take a July 26 York handicap before registering a first stakes success in the Aug. 24 Listed Alice Keppel S. at Goodwood. She doubled her black-type tally with victory in the Listed Princess Royal S. at Ascot last time Sept. 26, and claimed a career high with a battling performance in the inaugural running of this contest. Positioned in third for the most part, Crystal Capella was pushed along to challenge G1 St Leger runner-up Unsung Heroine with 2 1/2 furlongs remaining. She took a slight lead into the final eighth and would not be denied as that rival rallied bravely in the closing stages to gain the verdict in the bobber. "She's brave and also progressive," trainer Sir Michael Stoute told PA Sport. "That was good, it's her fifth win in a row, and we're thrilled with her. If only we could find a few more like this. She'll remain in training next year." Click for the Racing Post chart, the brisnet.com PPs or the free brisnet.com catalogue-style pedigree.

Informed Decision opened her career with an impressive 6 1/2-length score at Gulfstream in January, and was beaten just a nose when second in an allowance test the following month. Fourth in the Mar. 2 GII Davona Dale S., she then shipped to Lexington and demonstrated a liking for the Keeneland Poly with a 6 1/4-length victory in an optional claimer Apr. 11. The grey was sidelined after that, returning to be third in the Aug. 23 GIII Victory Ride S. at Saratoga. She came back to take the Sept. 20 Missile Belle S. at Belmont, and was the heavy chalk to make it two in a row. Rated just off the pace as Secret Gypsy led them through a half in :44.21, Informed Decision accelerated when they straightened for home, flashing past the frontrunner to win going away. Click for the brisnet.com chart, the brisnet.com PPs or the free brisnet.com catalogue-style pedigree. The seven-year-old captured the July 4 GIII Stars and Stripes H. at Arlington, then disappeared after taking the Sept. 3 Cape Henlopen S. at Delaware Park. Out of action for more than a year, he finally got back to work at Kentucky Downs Sept. 13, finishing a lackluster eighth in the GIII Kentucky Cup Turf S. at a mile and a half, but he was ready to fire second time off the layoff. Jockey Rene Douglas restrained the gelding at the back of the pack through the opening mile. He was trying the flat mile for the first time, but Soldier's Dancer showed an affinity for the trip with this decisive score. The grey gelding disappeared after taking a state-bred stakes at Tampa Bay in April, returning to be second in the off-the-turf Band Is Passing S. at Calder Aug. 16. Shipped north for a nine-furlong stakes on a yielding Philly Park course Sept. 13, he went from last to first to win going away and was the even-money chalk yesterday. The Florida-bred rated off moderate splits, then emerged from the crowd in the stretch and opened up late for a popular victory. "To describe this race in one word, I would have to say 'perfect,' because this horse lets you do whatever is necessary with him to be in the right position to win," said jockey Manoel Cruz. head out to get the nod. The dark bay finished fourth in an optional claimer on the Arlington Poly June 22 for Team Pletcher, then was shipped to trainer Martin Wolfson. He captured an off-the-turf optional claimer going a mile at Calder Aug. 30, and entered this after going gate to wire in the 12-furlong Plagiarize S. on the dirt Sept. 20. Changing tactics to sit just off the leaders this time, It's A Bird had to angle outside for running room on the backstretch. Backing up a second in last term's G2 Goodwood Cup with a fifth in the 2007 G1 St Leger at Doncaster, Veracity came off the shelf after a year-long break to occupy the same berth in the Sept. 13 Listed Stand Cup S. at Chester. He enjoyed a confidence-boosting score in a marathon Pontefract conditions event last time Oct. 6, and led home a Godolphin exacta in this career-high moment. Frankie Dettori's chosen mount stalked long-time leader Classic Punch (Ire) (Mozart {Ire}) in second until joining that rival with three furlongs remaining. Taking a slight lead passing the two pole, he was driven out up the hill to repel the closing pack. "It was good result having first and second," trainer Saeed bin Suroor told PA Sport. "I'm pleased for the winner, and he has now won two on the trot. I'm also happy with Sagara, as he was much more focused in his racing. "We claimed her knowing she had a great turf pedigree," explained winning trainer Jason Servis. "I kind of followed her a little bit in Florida when I was down there. I had to shake for her and I won the shake. After her last race I was a little hesitant about bringing her back in two weeks--I was not thinking she was stakes material, but now she's looking pretty good. She'll come to Florida with us this winter. I'm sure there will be some nice races for her." The 3-2 favorite Sharp Susan (Touch Gold) broke through the gate before the start. Godolphin's long-range plan to add Melbourne's signature spring staying races to its cache came to fruition with All The Good here. Purchased from the Gerard Butler stable and having just his fourth outing wearing the royal blue, the five-year-old rocketed into contention for the G1 Melbourne Cup Nov. 4 with a stylish victory from fast-finishing Nom du Jeu. The easy winner of a Newbury handicap, the Aug. 22 Newburgh H., in his last start before heading to Australia, the chestnut was sent out at 40-1 in quest of his first group success. Jockey Kerrin McEvoy settled the entire midfield, gradually let him stride forward from the 1200-meter pole, then unleashed a powerful sprint in the final 200 meters. Godolphin representative Diane Cooper said All The Good had been selected specifically for an Australian Cups campaign, adding, "The team has done a great job. The horse travelled well and settled in well, and he clearly likes being in Australia."

Godolphin has had to settle for second in the Melbourne Cup twice, with Central Park (Ire) (In the Wings {GB}) in 1999 and Give The Slip (GB) (Slip Anchor {GB}) in 2001; Faithful Son (Zilzal) finished fourth in the 1998 Caulfield Cup. The stable's biggest prior wins in Australia came in the G2 Queen Elizabeth S. at Flemington, with Hatha Anna (Ire) (Sadler's Wells {Ire}) in 2001 and Fantastic Love (Peintre Celebre) in 2004.

Hussler Off for Holiday...

Seven-time Group 1 winner and Horse of the Year Weekend Hussler (Hussonet) simply failed over the distance, despite being given every opportunity by jockey Brad Rawiller. He finished six lengths back in 12th after weakening in the straight. "It is a hard way to find out and disappointing for all of us, but at the end of the day he didn't stay," Rawiller said. "At the 600 metres, I was able to come out and make sure we could go through our gears, but on straightening I knew we were in trouble." The gelding goes for a spell with a bankroll of A$3,068,900 and a record of 17-12-1-0. Looking ahead, connections are considering options including the G1 Hong Kong International Mile in December and the G1 Dubai Duty Free H. next March.

Zagreb Scratched...

Trainer David Hayes is optimistic that Zagreb (Zabeel {NZ}) will recover in time for the Melbourne Cup in 16 days after being scratched 90 minutes before the Caulfield Cup when he failed a vet inspection. Hayes reported a problem with the Gerry Harvey-owned horse after he worked this morning. "Often these things resolve very quickly, other times they don't," he remarked. "Perhaps he could have taken his place in the field, but we would have been very disappointed with ourselves if he ran badly."

STEVENS PONDER'S BREEDERS' CUP RETURN

Gary Stevens, who returned to competition yesterday with a third in the Living Legends event, revealed before the race that he may accept a Breeders' Cup mount.

Horsephotos

Appearing on the Down the Stretch morning program on Sirius Satellite Radio, Stevens said he had been offered a mount in one of the Friday Breeders' Cup races, but declined to reveal the name of the horse or trainer. Commenting on whether or not he would accept the ride, he said, "A lot will depend on how I feel this afternoon. If I'm blowing real hard after the race, I'll have to see. I'll have to see what my fitness level is. But if I'm 100-percent confident I can do this, we'll see what happens."

GOVERNATOR TO PRESENT CLASSIC TROPHY

Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger will present the trophy for the Oct. 25 GI Breeders' Cup Classic, it was announced yesterday. "We are extremely pleased that Gov. Schwarzenegger has chosen to attend Breeders' Cup 25 and present the trophy for the biggest race in North America," said Oak Tree Director and Executive Vice President Sherwood Chillingworth. "He will be presenting the Classic trophy along with Mrs. John Gaines, whose late husband was instrumental in formulating the Breeders' Cup concept back in 1984. I think the Governor recognizes the importance of the Thoroughbred industry here in California, and his presence on Oct. 25 does indeed lend a great deal of prestige to the event."

Already successful at this level when taking the G2 Prix Greffulhe at Saint-Cloud May 12, the homebred rebounded from an unplaced effort in the June 1 G1 Prix du Jockey Club at Chantilly to finish runner-up to Montmartre (Fr) in the G1 Grand Prix de Paris over this track and trip July 14. Only sixth when trialling for the main showpiece in the G2 Prix Niel here Sept. 14, he is joined by Crossharbour and Candy Gift in a three-pronged assault from the Andre Fabre stable successful five times since 1987.

There has been much discussion about the best way for the Thoroughbred industry to handle the current economic downturn. What steps do you think are required to weather the storm?

OWNER DELMAR PETTIGREW, KEARNEY, NEBRASKA

Your selection of persons to query were good people who answered intelligently, and all touched on different issues bearing weight on industry problems--issues, quite frankly, that existed long before this recent economic crisis came to fore. Nonetheless, all agreed somewhat on the root of the problem...getting more fans to the racetrack. Mr. Reddam was correct, more marketing is needed. We should stop "preaching to the choir," and reach out to new fans.

Cot Campbell mentioned outrageous vet bills--I can attest to that. This September past, my vet charge on the one horse I have at the track was over $600, and she's a sound horse (she earned $1,500 that month, less than her training cost).

Mr. Sanan is correct in that more owners are needed. We could attract more owners if the purses were large enough to assure at least breaking even with a horse at the track. This would also help stop the attrition of owners leaving the business, never to return.

My wife and I recently drove 1,800 miles round-trip to attend Keeneland races, a track where young and old alike attend, filling the stands to capacity. Why? Because they offer a great product, marketed to the public, covered generously by the media. Their races are filled with quality horses, the facility is clean and beautiful, the staff friendly and helpful. They offer 17 days of racing in the fall, and 17 days in the spring. The fans are anxious to attend because they know, "it starts, and it ends." Other racing facilities should take a look at their program, and apply the lessons to be learned there. I know such a short meet would not be economically feasible for most facilities, but maybe somewhat shorter meets could be helpful.

One final thought. Your format seems to assume that only the super-rich could possibly contribute intelligent suggestions to the industry problems, when just maybe the small guy, too, might have something to contribute.

op/ed
by bob fierro

AND IN THIS CORNER, 2-YEAR-OLD SALES

Immediately following the Keeneland April this year, Jay Kilgore and I, who are partners in a company that offers selection services at the two-year-old sales, decided to take a look at the rationale, market and schedule for these venues. We sensed something was in the air, and no one was really addressing some issues that needed to be discussed.

We outlined our thoughts in a letter to TDN which was designed to spur discussion, but not necessarily to make recommendations. The letter was never published because, quite frankly, so much more was on the plate of the industry at that time, ranging from the Triple Crown to the subsequent events and controversies involving Eight Belles, Big Brown, steroids, and then the yearling sales season began.

Ironically, we're glad the letter never made it into print because in the interim not only has TDN issued an invitation to me to become an Op-Ed contributor, but also with the two-year-old season right around the corner (yes, it is, the first sales close in mid-October), the points we wanted to make in the spring seem to us to be more salient to set forth in the fall. Indeed, timing is everything.

The Background

Despite what might be charitably called a positive spin about the relative acceptance, let alone success, of some of the 2008 two-year-old sales, this segment of the Thoroughbred market is in the throes of one of the great watershed years in the history of the industry, and this happened before the 2008 yearling market tanked.

This watershed is not limited to this industry, of course--2008 is already proving to be one of the potentially historic breakthrough (or, some cynics would say, breakdown) years in recent history in a wide variety of industries. Many of those who invest in Thoroughbreds make their livings in those industries, so we aren't telling tales out of school here.

What is affecting the Thoroughbred two-year-old market is intimately tied to the economic, cultural and even political upheavals that are affecting all segments of the world's societies. It's crystallized in the United States where major problems are often given 15 minutes of talking-head television time and deeper analysis only on op-ed pages or, if you're lucky, magazines.

Those factors include:

- a) The extraordinarily high cost of doing business these days in industries where transportation and food supply are critical.
- b) A stratification of the economic system that has driven the divisions deeper between high-end consumers and the middle market.
- c) The turmoil in the financial and credit markets.
- d) The necessity to improve safety conditions for man and beast alike.
- e) The increased stress on families and communities where 24/7 workdays are commonplace.

These, and other factors such as the usual short-sightedness and greed, have combined to create the beginnings of a dialogue in the two-year-old sales market that is bubbling beneath the surface. It needs to be brought out into the open and put on the table for discussion so that market leaders can assess, and address, trends and concerns that threaten to open wide fissures next year.

The purpose of this treatise is to begin that dialogue, not because we want to lead it or even be part of it—we are more like catalysts, and everyone knows that catalysts sink to the bottom of the test tube. However, it is necessary for those who are leaders in the marketplace—consignors, sales companies, buyers and their agents, and veterinarians—to start to plan and coordinate a little better for the benefit of all, beginning with the horse and ending with the consumer.

Here are what we consider to be the major factors that are reshaping the way the two-year-old marketplace is going to be positioned in the very near future, and questions that need to be asked (and answers found) to deal with them.

You can also pick up a copy of the TDN today on the Keeneland backstretch courtesy of Pin Oak Stud

Breeze Show Surface vs. Racing Surface

The decision by Ocala Breeders' Sales Company (OBS) to install a synthetic racetrack this year for its four sales sent shockwaves through all segments of the industry for several reasons. Although only anecdotal evidence has surfaced, it seems that horses came out of their breezes with fewer aches and pains and injuries than on dirt tracks, which was one of the effects some consignors and buyers noticed last year when Keeneland switched over to its synthetic surface.

Secondly, not only have the breeze times been faster across the board on synthetic tracks, but also it is apparent from the internal figures that DataTrack compiles that many horses are able to stretch out more efficiently on synthetic surfaces—average stride lengths in our system have risen across the board at OBS and Keeneland.

This brings up a parallel factor—of the seven major sales, four are now on synthetic surfaces (OBSFEB, OBSMAR, OPSAPR, KEEAPR) and three on completely different dirt surfaces (FTFFEB, BARMAR, EASMAY). The latter are not likely to go over to synthetic soon and that means the market must make a judgment as to whether breeze show surface matters in regions where the racing is mostly on synthetic—and vice-versa. One of the most ironic upshots of the 2008 season is that not a single horse breezed on the turf at these sales.

One Breeze Show vs. Two

The move to one breeze show at FTFEB and KEEAPR, and the abbreviated second breeze show at OBSMAR because of threatening weather, has brought into question the viability of two breeze shows at OBSFEB, OBSMAR and BARMAR. Indeed, there was immediate jabber at the OBSMAR sale this year that it might not be a bad idea to restructure the sale, which was an astounding success despite a lack of horses that breezed back, in this manner.

The argument for reducing OBSFEB to one breeze show is stronger--very few horses come back at a quarter mile in the second show, and rarely, if ever, do horses do better on average at the second breeze show than at the first. Two breeze shows tend to increase the chances for injury, of course, but the system also exposes consignors and buyers to one of the major problems in the market that is perhaps stronger than all the others.

Reducing Costs and the Stress

One key to creating a more efficient two-year-old market is to recognize the horrendous scheduling problem that exists over the confluence of the timing of FTFEB, BARMAR and OBSMAR which was crystallized once again this year, mostly due to the fact that BARMAR and OBSMAR had overlapping breeze shows. (In the past, this has also happened with FTFEB and BARMAR). In our opinion, it must be addressed because soon one of these sales will probably suffer.

Just look at the tentative schedule for the 2009 FTFEB, BARMAR and OBSMAR sales. Fasig-Tipton is looking to hold its only breeze show on Feb. 27 (Friday), and Barretts want to hold its first breeze show on Mar. 2 (Sunday)--a day before Fasig-Tipton begins selling. Oh, it gets better. While not set in stone, the first OBSMAR breeze will probably be either on Friday/Saturday (Mar. 6-7) or Saturday/Sunday (Mar. 7-8). Barretts has its second breeze show listed for that Sunday.

The exercise riders, the consignors and quite a few buyers and agents will have to miss part of the breezes in Miami, Los Angeles and Ocala just to make airline schedules in an era of flight cutbacks and at a time of the year when flight paths often head into bad weather over the Midwest. Barretts' auction begins on Tuesday, which gives everyone just a couple of days to go back to Ocala for the second OBSMAR breeze show.

One way to start sorting this out is for OBS to consider eliminating its first breeze show and just have one on the weekend before the sale. Can any person (or company) do a reasonably complete job at all three sales for clients in these conditions? Those who will suffer the most, in the end, will be consignors and the sales companies.

Consignors, buyers, agents, advisors and stable personnel who are forced to make increasingly difficult travel connections and deal with rising travel costs in the short period of time linking these three sales is not something to be met with the "business as usual" dismissal. It is a conflict that affects efficiency as well as well-being of the individuals involved, to say nothing of the stress on family life.

These sales, which are immediately followed by Keeneland's, wreak havoc with families trying to plan for spring breaks, Easter holidays, and various other events that take place at this time of the year. To us, that is the bottom line in this business--an industry that is constantly trying to replenish itself with younger talent cannot afford to overlook the socio-economic strains of its way of doing business just for the sake of conducting business as usual. Let the dialogue begin.

ECLIPSE WINNER TAKES GRAND NATIONAL

Reigning champion steeplechaser Good Night Shirt (Concern) made it five straight victories with a resounding four-length score in the Grand National Steeplechase at Far Hills, New Jersey, yesterday. Three-for-five during his Eclipse season, the seven-year-old capped the campaign with a win in the Colonial Cup in South Carolina last November. The chestnut was a perfect three-for-three to kick off 2008, taking the Apr. 12 Georgia Cup Hurdle S., May 10 Iroquois Hurdle S. and Sept. 21 Lonesome Glory Hurdle S., where he set a course record of 4:24.88 for 20 furlongs at Belmont Park. Content to sit second during the early going yesterday, Good Night Shirt drove to the front at the next-to-last fence and pulled clear under jockey Willie Dowling. "He's a machine and he's getting better," said Dowling. "He's unbelievable, just one of those horses that can do it." Owned by Sonny Via and trained by Jack Fisher, the gelding established a single-season steeplechase earnings record of $395,520 yesterday.

HAWLEY GOES GATE TO WIRE VS LEGENDS

Sandy Hawley sent Tribal Chief (Tribal Rule) right to the front and never looked back to win the Living Legends race at Oak Tree yesterday. The "Sandman" lulled his competitors to sleep after getting his mount off to a sharp start from post 2. Three horses lined up at the top of the stretch to challenge, but Tribal Chief switched leads and found more, drawing off to a 6 1/2-length triumph. Dee Dee's Legacy and Jerry Bailey outgamed Scandalous and Gary Stevens for second, with Pat Day and Swift Demand another head back in fourth. "I was a little nervous going into the starting gate, because I haven't been out of a gate in 10 years. That was the part that I was worried about, so I grabbed a big handful of mane," the 59-year-old Hawley admitted. "All I had done really was breeze a couple of horses five-eighths--I was only ready to go three-quarters, and it was a seven-furlong race. But it was a great experience." A native of Ontario, Hawley captured the Eclipse Award in 1976 and won the Queen's Plate four times. During 31 years in the saddle, he won 6,449 races and captured 18 riding titles at Woodbine. He had not ridden since July 1, 1998, and was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1992. The Livings Legend race, an entry-level allowance for Cal-breds, featured eight Hall of Fame riders. Bailey, who claimed to be riding his first horse since he retired in 2006, remarked, "I prepared perfectly. My legs, my air and my arms all went out at the same time. Fortunately, it was at the wire." Click for the brisnet.com chart. Video, sponsored by Taylor Made.

Ice Cool Kitty took three state-bred stakes before finishing a non-threatening third as the heavy favorite in last year's Iroquois. After rebounding with a hard-fought triumph in Aqueduct's Montauk H. against fellow New York-breds to conclude 2007, she caught an off track in her '08 debut, where she finished last of seven in a muddy renewal of the Gil First Flight H. July 4. She then set the pace before fading to third in the Fleet Indian S. July 30. With another start under her belt, she was third by three in the Saratoga Dew S. Once again, she made another step forward here. After saving ground until the quarter pole, Ice Cool Kitty angled to outside and collared the early pacesetter By the Light in the final strides to win by a length and make amends for her 2007 Iroquois disappointment.

Purse Cut for Aqueduct:

Daily Racing Form reports that purses for the upcoming meet at Aqueduct will be cut 10 percent. The decrease was precipitated by a dropoff in handle at New York Racing Association tracks; according to DRF, the daily average handle was off 10.6 percent at Saratoga and 10 percent at Belmont Park this fall. "This is at least the schedule through the end of December," NYRA President and CEO Charlie Hayward told DRF. "But, to be honest with you, given where the economy is and just where things are, I think this is probably at least an Aqueduct winter meet schedule."

JUST AS WELL (h, 5, A.P. Indy--No Matter What {GISW-US & SW-Fr, $185,538}, by Nureyev), a half-brother to top European juvenile filly Rainbow View (Dynaformer), G1SW-GB, $353,289, returned from a 23-month hiatus to graduate at Delaware May 18. After adding an allowance score in his turf bow at that oval June 3, the dark bay finished a solid third in an optional claimer at Saratoga Aug. 2. He faded to finish last of eight when stretched out to 13 furlongs in the John's Call S. at the Spa Aug. 15, but came back to run second in a local 8 1/2-furlong affair Oct. 4. Unhurried early, the five-year-old took to the outside to deliver his challenge and got up in time to defeat Quip (Arg) (Pure Prize) by 3/4 of a length. LION QUEEN (f, 2, Lion Heart--Plenty of Stars, by Salt Lake) hopped at the start of her Sept. 27 debut up at Turfway Park and raced seven wide thereafter, but managed a late close to finish a decent sixth. The 7-2 third choice argued the early pace three wide, poked a head in front on the turn, shook clear in upper stretch and reported home one length ahead of Of One Heart (Perfect Soul {Ire}). The $97,000 FTKNOV weanling and $120,000 KEESEP yearling is the 18th winner for her freshman sire (by Tale of the Cat). Indy Summer (A.P. Indy) failed to threaten and wound up ninth. My Dear Girl S. cont.

La Chica Sensual broke her maiden for a $40,000 tag at Monmouth Park May 30 before taking a $40,000 starter allowance at this track June 26. Runner-up in the July 12 JJ's Dream S., the grey filly posted an 8 1/4-length success in the Desert Vixen S. of the Florida Stallion Series Aug. 16 and missed by a head in the second leg, the Sept. 6 Susan's Girl S. Taken off the early pace, La Chica Sensual slid up into contention on the turn, came wide for the drive and pulled away to a convincing score.

Big Drama has been unstoppable since graduating in his second start at Calder Aug. 2. He added a victory in the Dr. Fager S. two weeks later, came home a solid winner in the Affirmed S. Sept. 6 and was even-money to continue his domination of the Florida Stallion series here. Trying two turns for the first time, the dark bay raced in second, came through on the fence approaching the quarter pole and drew off for his fourth straight score. Big Drama became the sixth juvenile to sweep the Florida Stallion series, which was established in 1982. He follows Smile (1984), Naked Greed (1991), Seacliff (1995), Express Tour (2000), and Sir Oscar (2003).

Frolic's Dream fought her way home to score by a length in her debut on this strip Sept. 21, but had only herself for competition here. The grey came away running from her rail post and turned on the afterburners in the stretch to win under a hand ride. "I was wondering how far she'd win by," said winning trainer Marty Wolfson. "She showed that she's good in her first race, and she's grown two inches since then. There have been offers to buy her." As for her next

You Luckie Mann made a monster impression in his July 26 debut over course and distance, scoring by 14 3/4 lengths, but could quite transfer that form to the Florida Stallion Stakes. The gray was third to Big Drama--who completed a sweep of the series yesterday--in the six-furlong Dr. Fager S. Aug. 16 and filled that same spot in the Affirmed S. over seven panels Sept. 6. Only

A maiden winner at second asking at Delaware Park July 26, Bon Jovi Girl missed by a neck when third in a six-furlong allowance Aug. 11. The dark bay atoned for that defeat with a 9 3/4-length success in the off-the-turf Fairway Fillies S. in her first two-turn venture Sept. 13 and was coming into this off a respectable fourth to Dream Empress (Bernstein) in the GI Darley Alcibiades S. at Keeneland Oct. 3. The winner of a valuable handicap over seven furlongs at Galway Aug. 3, Almass took a same-trip conditions event at The Curragh last time Sept. 30. Racing in the second rank through the opening exchanges here, she traveled best of all at the quarter pole and readily took a gap to hit the front soon after. Sprinting clear of her field when driven, the homebred ran on well to gain black type in comfortable style. "I couldn't believe the way she quickened up," said winning rider Declan McDonogh. "I let them go at it for a furlong in the straight and I still had plenty of horse under me. The gap wasn't much and she looked small going into it, but she has so much heart and she's so game. The ground she covers for such a small filly is unbelievable and, when I gave her a backhander, she quickened really well." Video, courtesy of attheraces.

Better known as a jumper until his second-place finish in last year's renewal of this race, Caracciola prepped for this with a fourth in the Shergar Cup Stayers H. at Ascot Aug. 9. Settled on the outer in mid-division initially, the veteran made smooth headway to shadow the leaders with three eighths remaining. Shaken up at the quarter pole, he was driven to the front a furlong from home and stayed on relentlessly to provide trainer Nicky Henderson with a second win in the race. "He got a lovely position and into a lovely rhythm early on and they went really fast," revealed the delighted winning jockey Eddie Ahern. "I let him down at the two pole and he quickened and ran on well. If something had come to me, he'd have gone on again. He's full of enthusiasm. I spoke to Nicky [Henderson] this morning and he said the horse was in flying form, he'd love the ground and this race was the plan since last year. He hadn't run for a while, but he got him plenty fit enough at home."
