LANE'S END FURTHER REDUCES FEES

A month after releasing its 2009 stallion fees, Lane's End Farm announced that it has further reduced the fees for many of its stallions. Most notable of the changes is the fee for leading sire A.P. Indy, who will stand for $250,000, down from his originally announced fee of $300,000. Smart Strike, meanwhile, will stand for $125,000, down from $150,000. The fee for the recently retired Curlin (Smart Strike) remains at $75,000, as does the fee for first-year sire War Pass

(Cherokee Run), who stands his initial season for $30,000. "After reviewing the recent yearling and mixed sales results, as well as the current economic environment, I am announcing a further reduction in many of our 2009 stud fees for the Lane's End stallions," said the Versailles nursery's chief Will Farish, who added the farm will be offering 'stands and nurses' conditions on all stallions. "Lane's End has always carefully monitored the size of our stallions' books and, in an effort to increase market value for our clients, we will remain sensitive to this issue," said Farish. All existing contracts will be adjusted to reflect these new fees, according to Lane's End. Complete stallion roster, p3

SINNDAR FILLY TOPS TATTS OPENER

Trade was selective at Tattersalls' one-day Yearling Sale, which kicked off its marathon December Sale in Newmarket yesterday. The clearance rate, a much-beleaguered stat at last week's Goffs November Sale, came in at 55 percent for the 103 lots that changed hands. The 1,997,000gns turnover fell by 49 percent on last year, the 19,388gns average was down by 32 percent and the 8,500gns median dropped by 43 percent. Cont. p2

'ANOTHER GENETIC MASTERPIECE'

First Defence, Unbridled's Song's fastest Grade 1-winning son, is out of Grade 1 winner Honest Lady, a half-sister to Chester House, the original 'Genetic Masterpiece.' In 2008, Chester House, sire of 2 Breeders' Cup winners, is the sire of 18 Stakes winners including $1,000,000 Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Sprint winner Ventura (G1), as well as Grade 1 Met Mile winner Divine Park.

Three lots hit six figures, each of whom had been catalogued in an earlier yearling sale this autumn. The day's top lot was hip 172, a Sinndar (Ire) half-sister to 2002 G1 1000 Guineas third Alasha (Ire) (Barathea {Ire}). The filly realized €280,000 on BBA Ireland's bid at the Goffs Million Sale and was re-offered by breeder Barronstown Stud yesterday, making 170,000gns. Agent Liam Norris, buying for trainer William Knight, saw off Charlie Gordon-Watson for the bay.

"She is for an owner who has a two-year-old with me at the moment and was looking for a filly who could become a foundation mare," said Knight. "We tried for a few at Part One of the October Sale, but it was very tough there and this was the only one on our list today. She will always have residual value and she was a really nice, athletic filly. I've got about 20 yearlings this year, including some very nice ones from Keeneland. Although I'll have about 40 in training next year, the same number as this season, the quality has been improving all the time."

A Mizzen Mast half-brother to Group 1-placed Millie's Quest (Quest For Fame {GB}) was bought by Dubai-based owner Jaber Abdullah--one of the Rabbah Bloodstock nominees--through agent Gill Richardson for 140,000gns. The John Troy-consigned colt, catalogued as hip 191, had been withdrawn from Part One of Tattersalls' October Yearling Sale.

"He was a lovely, athletic horse," said Richardson. "I am not sure at the moment where he will be trained."

John Ferguson, underbidder on the Mizzen Mast colt, earlier spent 100,000gns on a King's Best filly who shares a grandam with Invincible Spirit (Ire) (Green Desert). Hip 145 had previously been purchased by Vincent McDonnell for €140,000 at the Goffs Million Sale.

Selling at today's first of five sessions of the December Foal Sale has been put back half an hour to 11 a.m. For catalogue and results, www.tattersalls.com.

TATTERSALLS DECEMBER - TUESDAY

Hip 312, f, Byron (GB)--Belle Rebelle (Ire),
by In the Wings (GB)

Consigned by Longfort Stud

When the chips were down at Goffs last week, it was the first-crop foals who sold well and Darley's Byron was responsible for the highlight of the second session at the Kildare venue. This January-foaled filly is out of a half to last year's G3 Prix Chloe winner Utrecht (GB) whose family includes Hector Protector and Bosra Sham.

Hip 445, f, Bertolini--Film Buff (GB), by Midyan

Consigned by Trickle-down Stud

This offering from Paul and Sara Thorman's establishment is a full-sister to the 2006 G2 Queen Mary S. third Nina Blini (GB) whose dam is a half to the 2002 G1 Irish 1000 Guineas third Starbourne (Ire).

Hip 469, c, Pastoral Pursuits (GB)--Cape Charlotte (GB),
by Mon Tresor (GB)

Consigned by Grove Farm Stud

By the 2005 G1 July Cup hero, this colt hails from a family of the high-class sprinters Cape of Good Hope (GB), Corrybrough (GB) and now Amour Propre (GB), who added to the honor roll when winning last month's G3 Cornwallis S.

Wariness about the unknown is a natural reaction in many areas of life, and the breeding community is no exception. Today's American breeders much prefer the familiar, unlike their predecessors who often reaped rich rewards from embracing imported stallions with open arms. Consequently the majority of imported horses--especially those with somewhat unfamiliar bloodlines--are likely to face an uphill struggle to win support from commercial breeders, even if they have established their merit on American tracks.

Gaining acceptance can be even harder for horses from South America. The only true exception to this rule that I can think of is the outstanding Argentine champion Forli, who enjoyed the benefit of being based at Claiborne. But Lord at War, another import from Argentina, demands an honorable mention after building a very respectable record as a stallion and an even better record as a broodmare sire. When Wishful Tomcat took the GIII Discovery H. three days ago, he became the fifth graded stakes winner of the year for Lord at War's daughters. Along with the Breeders' Cup Classic hero Raven's Pass, The Niagara Queen, Boss Lafitte and Queen of the Catsle, Wishful Tomcat is one of nine stakes winners among the 2008 runners produced by 115 daughters of the former Wimborne Farm stallion.

Raven's Pass is the sixth Grade I winner with a Lord at War dam, following War Emblem, Purim, Citronnade, Tali'sluckybusride and No Matter What, the last-named now being the dam of Rainbow View, who last week landed the Cartier Award for two-year-old filly.

Lord at War, like Forli before him, was a champion in his native Argentina, where he was unbeaten in three starts at around a mile. Transferred to California, he continued to be hard to beat and he won half of his 14 starts for Charlie Whittingham. Among his notable displays at four was his victory in the GIII Citation H., in which he led throughout to set a track record of 1:50.60 for a mile and an eighth. Then, at five, he scored a Grade I double in the San Antonio and Santa Anita H. under Willie Shoemaker. Lord at War's main weapons were speed and determination, and his speed had been very apparent in his preparation for the Citation H. A seven-furlong work on turf produced a time of 1:21.60 a week before the race.

Messrs Kilroe, Hale and Robbins allotted Lord at War 124 on the 1985 Blood-Horse Free Handicap for Older Males, just two pounds below the top-ranked Precisionist. Unfortunately--for many breeders--the power of his performances must have been muted to some extent by his pedigree.

Lord at War's bloodlines were largely European, despite his birthplace, as he was a son of General. General's main claim to fame was that he was a French Group 3 winner by the brilliant Brigadier Gerard, but he had earned little more than $17,000 in 12 American starts before heading for Argentina.

This was hardly likely to endear Lord at War to the locals when he originally retired to Walmac International in Kentucky in 1986. Lord at War later moved to Diane and Peter Perkins's Wimborne Farm.

To make matters worse, he failed to sire a stakes winner in his small first crop and he also seemed to be less than fully fertile, judging by American Jockey Club figures. For example, he achieved only 39 percent live foals to mares covered in his second season and 50 percent in his sixth. His career ended at the age of 18 in 1998, when he had to be destroyed several weeks after injuring a hind leg in a breeding-shed accident. His fee at the time was $20,000.

At the time, his death didn't appear to be a significant loss to the industry but his reputation was to grow considerably, to the extent that his final figures stood at 47 stakes winners from 381 named foals (12 percent). Twenty-one of the 47 became graded winners (an admirable 5.5 percent). At the end of 2001, he ranked as high as second (behind Danzig) on the APEX table of leading sires by "ABC" runners index and sixth behind A.P. Indy, Danzig, Storm Cat, Nureyev and Sadler's Wells on the APEX table of leading sires by "A" runners index.

So Lord at War has shown it can be done, and there seems to be a chance that another Argentinian import, Candy Ride, could also make the grade, given sufficient chances.

The parallels with Lord at War are quite pronounced. Candy Ride, too, became a champion miler in his homeland, and he too capped an unbeaten three-race career with an eight-length victory in the G1 Clasico Joaquin S. de Anchorena. His display there prompted John Sikura to suggest that Candy Ride was the best Argentine import since Forli.

California also became Candy Ride's destination and he too proved good enough to break a track record and to become a Grade I winner. He reached those landmarks simultaneously in the 2003 Pacific Classic, where he proved much too good for the likes of Medaglia d'Oro, Fleetstreet Dancer and Milwaukee Brew. His Beyer figure was a striking 123. At that stage Candy Ride's record stood at a perfect six for six, but he sidestepped the 2003 Breeders' Cup Classic and never raced again, despite being kept in training in 2004.

Unlike Lord at War's, Candy Ride's pedigree includes bloodlines which are far from unknown to American breeders. For a start, his sire Ride the Rails was an American-raced grandson of Fappiano. Kept busy at two, Ride the Rails won three of his eight starts, including a stakes race, and received 111 on the Experimental Free Handicap. This well-bred son of Cryptoclearance was also a good third to Dehere and Go for Gin in the GII Fountain of Youth and second to Holy Bull in the GI Florida Derby.

Candy Ride's broodmare sire, Candy Stripes, has also become a familiar name, thanks to the American exploits of such as Invasor, Leroidesanimaux, Different and Lundy's Liability.

Although a blank year prior to retiring to stud can represent a substantial setback, it hasn't stopped Candy Ride making an eye-catching start with a crop sired at a fee of only $10,000. No other freshman sire has sired more graded winners than the Hill 'n' Dale stallion (though Lion Heart and Birdstone have matched his tally of two). Evita Argentina got him off the mark with her victory in the GIII Sorrento S. in the summer and she was in the winner's circle again nine days ago after the Moccasin S. These victories came on synthetic surfaces, as did the Real Quiet S. success of Candy Ride's son Chocolate Candy. However, Candy Ride's second graded winner, Capt. Candyman Can, scored on traditional dirt when he took the GIII Iroquois S., and don't be surprised if Candy Ride were to add a turf stakes winner to his total. His victory in the GII American H. came on turf, so he is well qualified to sire winners on all surfaces.

Arqana Names Lacy as North American Representative:

The French-based sales company Arqana yesterday announced the appointment of Four Stars Sales' Tony Lacy as its North American representative. "Our fast-expanding company has implemented an ambitious globalization strategy since its inception in 2006, with the aim of giving our sales a more international profile," said Arqana President Eric Hoyeau. "America, as the largest Thoroughbred market in the world, has obviously been a priority target, especially as we are convinced that business opportunities between Europe and North America will develop sharply in the next few years. Therefore, we are greatly satisfied to have found the right man for such a key position in Tony." The Irish-born Lacy has been with Four Star Sales, a leading consignor, since the company was set up in 2002, and acts as sales and bloodstock consultant. He also manages a successful racing and pinhooking partnerships. Prior to settling in Kentucky, he spent five years in Dubai as assistant trainer to Erwan Charpy. Lacy also worked at Wintergreen Farm alongside top two-year-old trainer Jerry Bailey, and has worked with French trainers Emmanuel Chevalier du Fau and Henri-Alex Pantall. Lacy's role with Arqana will be to make Thoroughbred breeders, trainers and owners in the USA and Canada aware of the opportunities available at the French auctions to both buyers and vendors.

"I am humbled and excited to have been chosen by ARQANA to be their representative in North America," said Lacy. "I have been extremely impressed with the management's dynamic nature and ambitious goals. Their recent sales results have been a testament to their efforts to date. This industry has become increasingly global, and a broad network is an essential part of success in our ever-changing marketplace. I look forward to being an integral part of their future development and growth in this region."
