KY GOVERNOR'S TASK FORCE ISSUES REPORT By Maryjean Wall

One theme shone through the various presentations made Monday by the Governor's Task Force on the

Future of Horse Racing in Kentucky: that the state long known as the cradle of the race horse has much work to do to retain its leadership position in the sport. "There is a 100-percent certainty in my mind that if we maintain the status quo in the horse industry in Kentucky, our position vis-à-vis the other states' competitive environment will deteriorate," said Nick Nicholson, chairman of the Task Force's Industry Financial Matters subcommittee. The 58-page report, delivered Monday to Gov. Steve Beshear, suggested that alternative sources, including an increased pari-mutuel takeout, might have to be found to fund the recommendations including:

- Increasing purses to remain "The Horse Capital of the World," as well as keeping the Kentucky Breeders' Incentive Fund competitive and expanding the Kentucky Thoroughbred Development Fund.

- A drug-testing laboratory to include a research component that potentially would be used by other horse sports. Edward S. Bonnie, chairman of the integrity subcommittee, said he is meeting Tuesday with the United States Equestrian Foundation regarding a potential partnership with that group and Kentucky racing in drug-testing efforts.

- Greater oversight of simulcast wagering. This would include a measure requiring tracks to record the exact time of races on all video feeds originating from Kentucky, and requiring tote companies and video providers to synchronize their time systems. Bonnie said that problems including past-posting have been noted, with the present system not working as effectively as desired.

- Greater staffing of the Kentucky Horse Racing Commission. Cont. p2

When I reviewed Stardom Bound's pedigree back in September, prior to her victory in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies, I pointed out the following:

"Tapit isn't the first notable stallion produced by his female line, as his third dam Moon Glitter was a stakes-winning sister to Relaunch..."

"Relaunch and his sister were gray, inheriting their color from their dam

Foggy Note, whose grand-sire, Mahmoud, ranks as one of the few grays to have won the Epsom Derby in the last 75 years.

"Of course, Stardom Bound and Tapit are also gray, as are Tapit's first four dams. Indeed, there are an unusual number of grays in Stardom Bound's pedigree. This $375,000 two-year-old is out of My White Corvette, a gray daughter of the gray stallion Tarr Road. Grey Dawn, the sire of Tarr Road, was another who owed his coat color to Mahmoud, who sired his dam Polamia. Cont. p4

Task Force member Robert Vance said he views the urgency of the recommendations as an economic issue affecting a wide swath of the state, from farmers who grow hay in counties beyond the Inner Bluegrass to the tourism industry to veterinarians and feed suppliers. Casino gambling was not directly suggested as a means of funding the Task Force's proposals. However, Kentucky Sen. Damon Thayer said one outcome is that the proposals could refocus the debate over slots into an argument for using slots to save Kentucky's No. 1 agriculture industry. Thayer said he is preparing a bill for the January session of the State Legislature, proposing that pari-mutuel taxes go directly to horse racing. The full report can be read at www.khrc.ky.gov.

KHRC EXPLORES EXPANDED REGULATION

By Maryjean Wall

Greater regulation and reporting of shock wave therapy on horses racing in Kentucky developed into a prime discussion topic Monday during the regular meeting of the Kentucky Horse Racing Commission. The outcome might tie a desire to see greater oversight of this therapy into the commission's apparent desire to move closer to bringing training centers in Kentucky under its authority.

Veterinarians are the sole persons authorized to administer shock wave therapy to horses in Kentucky. Veterinarian Foster Northrop told the commission that the therapy "does have its positive uses, but it can be equally abused." The commission's concern is that lay persons might be using shock therapy machines at training centers before shipping the treated horses to tracks on race days. Policing the use of these machines is virtually impossible at private facilities, according to racing commissioners.

KHRC Chairman Tracy Farmer

"We're trying to crack down on lay people using it," Northrop said, adding, "Is it a widespread problem? I don't know." Other topics discussed at the meeting included state steward John Veitch's request that racing moved towards electronic records on horses, in lieu of requiring foal papers to be on file in the racing office. Chairman Tracy Farmer directed Veitch to discuss this with The Jockey Club and return with a report.

UPDATE ON KY EQUINE NECROPSY STUDIES
By Maryjean Wall

Veterinarian Mary Scollay's necropsy studies of horses injured while racing appears poised to expand into greater frontiers, following discussions Monday with the Equine Drug Council of the Kentucky Horse Racing Commission. According to Scollay, the drug council's necropsy committee hopes to widen the studies in Kentucky from racing injuries to include horses euthanized as a result of training accidents. The Equine Injury Data Base, begun last spring, now has 79 tracks participating throughout the United States. In Kentucky, any horse that dies as a result of a racing injury is sent for necropsy at the University of Kentucky's Livestock Disease Diagnostic Center. Scollay also told how Kentucky's racing commission veterinarians have been collecting blood samples since October on severe or catastrophic injuries; Scollay said she is "shopping" a research project in which she would compare such samples with blood taken from horses which finished their races. She hopes to learn from these samples whether or not there is validity to the public perception that horses suffering breakdowns had been heavily medicated before racing.

In discussing future studies, Scollay said she also would like to see the necropsy study's capabilities expanded in Kentucky so that the fractured limb, as well as the opposite limb, can be studied with digital imaging. Pioneering research by Dr. Sue Stover in California demonstrated some years ago that most breakdowns accompanied a pre-existing injury. Scollay's study is an attempt to find a way to use data on these injuries to help prevent future breakdowns.

“Tarr Road is an unfamiliar name. He was only a minor stakes winner, and his only graded performer was Stardom Bound’s dam My White Corvette, who was placed in a Grade II at two and a Grade III at three.

“My White Corvette’s broodmare sire, the Santa Anita Derby winner Marfa, was yet another gray. Marfa inherited his gray coat via his female line, his first three dams being grays. The third dam Singing Witch was by Royal Minstrel, a gray grandson of one of the Thoroughbred world’s most famous grays, The Tetrarch. It was The Tetrarch’s brilliant daughter Mumtaz Mahal who ranked as the second dam of Mahmoud, so all three gray lines in Stardom Bound’s pedigree trace to The Tetrarch, who earned superstar status during an undefeated juvenile career 95 years ago.”

Now Laragh, another gray daughter of Tapit, has become the second Grade I winner from the first crop by Gainesway’s rising star, taking the Hollywood Starlet S. Tapit looks guaranteed to end the year as champion sire of two-year-olds and leading freshman sire, which amounts to a spectacular start for a horse who began his career at no more than $15,000.

Significantly, Laragh is also out of a gray mare with a pedigree featuring Mahmoud and The Tetrarch. Her dam, unraced Rose of Summer, is by El Prado, a stallion who is inbred 5x5x4 to Mahmoud, through Almahmoud, Mr Trouble and Ghazni.

Then there’s Laragh’s second dam Cherokee Crossing, whose sire Cherokee Colony has four lines of Mahmoud in the first six generations of his pedigree, through Boudoir, Grey Flight, Almahmoud and Flushing II.

As Mahmoud was born as long ago as 1933, anyone can be forgiven for being unaware that this record-setting Derby winner shared the same female line as two other tremendously influential imports to America. As mentioned earlier, Mahmoud was a grandson of The Tetrarch’s exceptional daughter Mumtaz Mahal, who produced three outstanding broodmares in Rustom Mahal (dam of the brilliant English sprinter Abernant), Mah Mahal (dam of Mahmoud) and Mumtaz Begum (dam of Nasrullah and second dam of Royal Charger). Laragh’s third dam Sky Meadows has 5x5 inbreeding not only to Nasrullah, but also to his close relative Royal Charger, so Mumtaz Mahal is a recurring factor throughout Rose of Summer’s pedigree.

It could be a worthwhile exercise to delve back into the further reaches of the pedigrees of any potential mates for Tapit, to see whether they show a similar accumulation of Mahmoud, Mumtaz Mahal and The Tetrarch.

It could also pay to look at the pedigrees of some of the other stallions which have enjoyed success with El

Bit of Whimsy Horsephotos

Prado mares. The Grade II winner Bachelor Blues is by Smoke Glacken, a gray whose pedigree is packed with Nasrullah, Royal Charger and Mahmoud. The Grade I winner Bit of Whimsy is by Distorted Humor, who is inbred in the first five generations both to Nasrullah and to Royal Charger's son Turn-to.

Asi Siempre, one of El Prado's leading winners, has an intricate pedigree which features the three-part-sisters Lady Capulet and Turkish Treasure in the second generation. Lady Capulet is inbred 4x3 to Mahmoud and Turkish Treasure 4x4, and Asi Siempre has five lines of Mahmoud in six generations.

Of course, there are plenty of breeders who understandably prefer to attribute a good winner's talent to something a bit more recent in its pedigree. Laragh's pedigree will please both camps, as there are at least two viable explanations for her considerable ability.

The more straightforward explanation is that the first five generations of her pedigree feature three lines to Mr. Prospector (4x5x5), two to Nijinsky (4x5, with a third line in the sixth generation) and two to Northern Dancer (5x4, with another line in the sixth).

Put another way, her first five generations include duplications to three of the greatest stallions of modern times--stallions who collectively sired 483 stakes winners for a stunning 18 percent stakes winners to foals. Pairing Mr. Prospector with Nijinsky has long been regarded as a profitable partnership, so dual, or triple, inbreeding to them can be expected to crop up more often as their names gradually move back through the generations.

Dual inbreeding to Mr. Prospector and Northern Dancer in the first five generations is also certain to become fairly commonplace, with Flower Alley, Roman Ruler and Scat Daddy among those helping to set the trend.

SHAPIRO RESIGNS FROM CHRB According to Daily Racing Form, Richard Shapiro resigned from his post as chairman of the California Horse Racing Board during a monthly meeting yesterday. Shapiro told DRF that the decision to leave the CHRB was "mine and mine alone." He added, "No one has asked me to do this; to the contrary, I have been asked to stay. But this is a personal decision I have pondered for many months, and I have decided it's time for me to move on." Shapiro has served on the Board since 2004, and was appointed chairman in January of 2006. During his tenure, the CHRB was aggressive in addressing such issues as synthetic tracks, steroids and the dispute between horsemen and advance-deposit wagering companies. He was reappointed to another four-year term by Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger in October. "Over the last four years, I believe this Board has been progressive and worked hard in a variety of aspects to improve the state of racing in California," Shapiro told DRF. "Some of our good intentions have in fact proved beneficial, and in spite of our best efforts, some have not panned out as well as we would have wished. But none of our efforts were done without the sole desire of supporting the industry, the game, and trying to improve the state of racing in California." The 55-year-old real estate developer was formerly president of Western Harness Racing.

One of the eye-catching offerings is Hamford Stud's hip 40, the 11-year-old mare Baileys on Line (GB) (Shareef Dancer), a three-parts sister to the 1994 G1 Irish Oaks heroine Bolas (GB) (Unfuwain), whose progeny includes the 2006 G2 Prix Greffulhe runner-up Onerous (GB) (Groom Dancer) carrying to the first-season sire Jeremy (Danehill Dancer {Ire}).
