MAXIMUM SECURITY'S RETURN DOESN'T ANSWER MANY QUESTIONS

The Week in Review, by Bill Finley

Just about everyone was prepared to either love or hate the performance of Maximum Security (New Year's Day) in the GII San Diego H. Saturday at Del Mar. Either he would come back and dominate or he would struggle in his first performance outside of the notorious Jason Servis barn. There didn't appear to be much room for a gray area.

But that's where things have landed. He was good enough to win but not so good that he proved beyond any doubt that he is the same horse as he was throughout last year and when winning the $20-million Saudi Cup in February.

The optimist can point to a strangely run race in which Maximum Security set the early pace, was taken back by substitute jockey Abel Cedillo and dropped back to third. That's not exactly the easiest way to win a race, but Maximum Security had a second run in him and just nipped Midcourt (Midnight Lute) by a nose. He showed a lot of determination. Plus, it was his first race in nearly five months and new trainer Bob Baffert admitted Sunday that he didn't have Maximum Security fully cranked up.

"I actually thought he was pretty good right after the race being that I only had him about 80%," Baffert said. "I didn't think he'd have to do a stop-and-go movement [during the race] but he showed what a great horse he is." Cont. p3

SOMELIKEITHOTBROWN GOES ALL THE WAY IN BERNARD BARUCH UPSET

Somelikeithotbrown, a sneaky-good third after setting a fast pace last out, was left alone on a much easier lead in Sunday's GII Bernard Baruch S. at Saratoga and parlayed it to an upset victory, leading home a one-two finish for trainer Mike Maker.

Drifting up to over twice his 4-1 morning-line quote, the bay figured to take pressure from second choice Halladay (War Front) to his outside, but instead got loose under Tyler Gaffalione and walked the dog through pedestrian fractions of :24.79 and :49.08. Halladay started to turn up the heat nearing the lane and it briefly appeared as though the frontrunner would get swallowed up, but Somelikeithotbrown re-broke outside the furlong grounds and was always doing enough to hold stablemate Mr Dumas at bay. Cont. p5

Baffert added that he considered the San Diego a small step in the process.

“It’s a good starting point, we learned a lot about the horse, now we’re caught up and he’s ready to go,” he said

Yet, it wasn’t unreasonable to expect something better than a nose victory in a Grade II race. This is the horse who was last year’s champion 3-year-old and right after the Saudi Cup was widely considered the best horse in training. The Maximum Security that won the GI Cigar Mile H., the Saudi Cup and crossed the wire first in the GI Kentucky Derby would have crushed the type of horses he faced in the San Diego.

That horse, of course, was trained by Servis, and every time one of his former horses races, everyone is left to wonder if they will perform for new trainers who are not using performance-enhancing drugs.

All of which is why one should neither write Maximum Security off or declare that he is back. There are just too many questions and there is plenty of time for them to be answered.

Baffert mentioned the GI Woodward S. at Saratoga as a possibility for Maximum Security, but it’s much more likely that he will go next in the GI Pacific Classic at Del Mar on Aug. 22.

“He’s got a lot of will to win, he’s courageous and a smart horse,” Baffert said. “There’s just something about him, he’s got a lot of will to win. He’s got a lot of W’s by his name and there’s a reason for that.”

But, for Maximum Security, the goal now goes beyond winning. He needs to not only win the Pacific Classic but to do it impressively and show everyone that he is the one to beat in the GI Breeders’ Cup Classic.

As for the San Diego, I’ll give him a B- for a grade. That doesn’t mean there’s not an A+ performance yet to come. Cont. p4

Still No News Out of Saudi Arabia

It's been 138 days since the running of the Saudi Cup and 129 days since Jason Servis was among a long list of individuals indicted for allegedly doping their horses. That should be more than enough time for Saudi racing officials to have concluded their investigation and determine whether or not Maximum Security will be disqualified and the purse redistributed. The ultimate decision may rest on whether or not any illegal medications were found in Maximum Security's system after the race, but those tests should have been concluded months ago.

What's going on? Another week has gone by without any answers.

Here's what Director of Strategy and International Racing for the Jockey Club Of Saudi Arabia Tom Ryan told the TDN in an email last week: "Work on the Maximum Security investigation continues. At the moment it looks like we will be able to issue an official statement as a means of an update over the next week or so."

Will Volatile and Vekoma Meet Up?

The expectations for Volatile (Violence) were so high coming into the GI Alfred Vanderbilt S. Saturday at Saratoga that not everyone was raving about his victory. A lot did go his way. Rival Whitmore (Pleasantly Perfect) broke through the gate prior to the start, which likely compromised his chances. And Volatile was somehow allowed to set about as slow a pace as you will ever see for a Grade I sprint race. The first quarter went in 23.46 and the half was completed in 46.67 before Volatile won by 1 1/4 lengths.

Volatile | Sarah Andrew

But that doesn't mean this wasn't a test for a horse who had never even run in a graded stakes race before, no less a Grade I. His three opponents had earned a combined $6,091,100 and Volatile beat them decisively. Cont. p5

After campaigning Mitole (Eskendereya), who ran an uncharacteristically poor race last year in the Vanderbilt when third, trainer Steve Asmussen may once again have the best sprinter in the country.

But there's at least one outstanding horse standing between Volatile and an Eclipse Award and that is Vekoma (Candy Ride {Arg}), the winner of the GI Runhappy Carter H. and the Gi Runhappy Metropolitan H. The Aug. 29 GI Forego at Saratoga seems like a logical spot for both Vekoma and Volatile, and if both show up, that may be the race of the meet.

Keeping An Eye on Kentucky's COVID-19 Situation

For now, spectators will be allowed to attend the Kentucky Derby, but one has to wonder if that is about to change.

Churchill Downs made the announcement June 24 that it has received permission from Governor Andy Beshear to allow fans to attend the Derby week races during a short September meet at Churchill. At the time, the state was doing quite well in its fight against the coronavirus. According to the New York Times, on June 24 there were only 199 new cases of coronavirus in the state. On Sunday, 836 new cases were reported, the second highest total since the outbreak began.

"We're not playing around with the numbers that we're seeing," Beshear said.

Had there been that many cases on a daily basis back in June, it seems highly unlikely that Beshear would have given the green light to having fans. Churchill has said that the amount of people allowed to watch will be limited, but haven't said what sort of number they are targeting.

Around 50,000 seems like a reasonable estimate, which would be a public gathering that would be unprecedented since COVID-19 became a fact of life. Considering what's going on, not just in Kentucky but around the country, it's hard to imagine that happening. Beshear certainly has reason to reverse course.

Third after leading to deep stretch in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf, the bay annexed the John Battaglia Memorial S. and Gill Jeff Ruby Steaks to start his sophomore campaign, but headed to the bench for the rest of the season after running fourth in the GII Toyota Blue Grass S. Last in a Gulfstream optional claimer upon return Jan. 20, he captured a Turfway allowance Feb. 21 and was runner-up in the TwinSpires Kentucky Cup Classic S. there Mar. 14.

Showing the way through sharp splits in the GII Fort Marcy S. June 6 at Belmont, he held well to fill the trifecta behind next-out GI Manhattan S. hero Instilled Regard (Arch).

“I thought his last race, he went a little too quick and opened up a little too much. There was a loose horse getting him a little more in the bridle than what we wanted. But I thought it was a very credible race,” Maker said. “On paper, I was concerned that he and [Halladay] might hook up, but Luis [Saez, aboard Halladay] took back a little bit and let us have things our own way.”

“I was a little surprised down the backside when I was all by myself,” added Gaffalione. “I thought there would be a little more pressure, but I was happy with where I was and how he was running. All the credit to Mike and his team, they had him ready today. Every time I reached back and threw a cross and when I got into him a little bit, he kept on responding and giving me more, so I was pretty confident coming to the wire.”

United, who ran Horse of the Year Bricks and Mortar (Giant's Causeway) to within a head in last fall's GI Breeders' Cup Turf, picked up his third consecutive graded stakes victory in Sunday's GII Eddie Read S. at Del Mar as he continues to build a legacy of his own.

Ambitiously spotted off a third-place run in the GII John Henry Turf Championship S. Sept. 28, the gelding just missed at 51-1 in the Turf and was a narrow runner-up again in the GII Hollywood Turf Cup S. here Dec. 1. Scoring in the GII San Marcos S. when making his 5-year-old debut Feb. 1 at Santa Anita, he repeated by a hard-fought nose in the GII Charlie Whittingham S. May 23 and was backed to favoritism in this six-horse group.

Tracking second choice Neptune's Storm from second through fractions of :23.88 and :47.84, the chestnut turned up the pressure without being asked passing three-quarters in 1:11.68 and drew on even terms at the top of the lane. Poking his head in front at the eighth pole, he gradually beat back the game pacesetter and held firm from a rail-running Sharp Samurai to prevail.

"We ran him short [nine furlongs] just to pick his head up. Sometimes you run them long too many times they get stale," said winning trainer Richard Mandella. "But this horse is training so well on the dirt, month after month, I'm going to consider running him in the Pacific Classic. I've been thinking all summer about it."

Pedigree Notes:

One of 192 stakes winners and 114 graded/group stakes winner for the late, legendary Giant's Causeway, United is the second graded stakes winner and third black-type winner out of 16-year-old Indy Punch, a $200,000 purchase by Fascinating Rock Mares at Keeneland November in 2016. A half-sister to MSW/GSP Galloping Gal, dam of GISW Liaison (Indian Charlie), she is represented by a juvenile Carpe Diem filly named Friendly Skies who hammered for $250,000 to Solis/Litt at Fasig-Tipton Saratoga, a yearling Uncle Mo filly and a colt by War Front foaled May 22. Mr Ritz, who picked up his first graded stakes win in last year's GIII Seagram Cup S. at Woodbine, successfully defended his title in Sunday's renewal with a frontrunning score.

An upset victor of the Caesars S. on the Indiana Grand turf as a sophomore, the homebred was third in the GIII Ontario Derby before running second by a nose in the local GII Eclipse S. in his 4-year-old bow. Fifth in the GII King Edward S. back on grass, he went wire to wire in the Seagram Cup and repeated in the Presque Isle Downs Mile S. Runner-up in the GII Autumn S. to close his 2019 account, he was third at odds-on when making his seasonal debut in the Eclipse July 4.

Made the clear favorite here, Mr Ritz dictated terms while pressed by longshot Explode (Trappe Shot) through splits of :24.28 and :47.95. Cut loose by Patrick Husbands three furlongs from home, he was confronted by another longshot in Cooler Mike approaching the lane, but made short work of that rival once turning for home and stayed clear down to the line.

Nyqu1st The Eclipse Champion and Kentucky Derby hero's daughter Dream Quist wins by almost four... Swoosh!

Making history: it takes foresight

Darley

Second choice Skywire ran on late to overtake Cooler Mike for the place.

“When he made the lead, I was a little worried with that horse [Explode] pressuring him, but he was so relaxed,” said winning trainer Josie Carroll. “You could tell he was very relaxed and then we he got a :24 [quarter], I said, ‘You know what, they’re not going to catch him today.’”

Pedigree Notes:

One of 120 stakes winners and 58 graded/group stakes winners for Juddmonte’s Oasis Dream, Mr Ritz is the second black-type winner out of Que Puntual—a graded stakes winner at Woodbine who was also second in the 2005 GI Diana S—following Oceanographer, a Group 3 winner in Australia. Her final foal is 3-year-old filly Mente Hermosa (GB) (Gleneagles {Ire}), unplaced in one start thus far in Ireland. Second dam Repartija was a Group 1 winner in South America and a half-sister to Argentinian G1SW Comisariato (Arg) (Combe {Arg}).

Based out of the League's offices and studios in Los Angeles, he oversees all communications for NFL Media, including NFL Network, NFL Digital and NFL Films. Additionally, Alex also handles the communications for the League's Broadcasting and Media Strategy group as well as its Sponsorship and Consumer Products divisions.

CC: What is your favorite racing memory?

AR: I would have to say attending my first live racing experience, the 1999 Breeders' Cup with you and your family. In the last race, the Classic, I picked the winner, Cat Thief, who was ridden by Pat Day and took a nice little price. I took my winnings and bought a Breeders' Cup poster that I still have hanging on my wall in my house.

CC: Briefly explain why the NFL owns a network and the advantages of having one when the sport is already so well covered through other channels.

AR: I think for some other sports, it might make more sense as a marketing tool. And it certainly is a marketing tool for the NFL as well, but going all the way back to 2002 when the NFL decided to start their own network, they were really trying to extend their footprint into the off season and make the NFL 365 days a year. Basically, bridge the gap between everything that happens between the Super Bowl and the next time the regular season kicks off. The Scouting Combine is a perfect example of the type of off-season event the NFL has built using NFL Network.

CC: A change in the sports landscape is the advent of legalized betting. How does NFL Network plan on addressing the growth of legalized betting on its platform?

AR: For a very, very long time the league had a pretty strong stance against gambling to protect the integrity of the game. And to be sure, that stance on protecting the integrity of the game hasn't changed. At the same time, obviously the reality is that the landscape is changing in the United States towards sports betting and of course, we need to adapt to that. Clearly a lot of our media partners are asking us how comfortable we are with them talking about things like point spreads. I'd say it's an ongoing evolution.

CC: Speaking of changes, what do you see as major trends outside of legalized betting that would affect the television landscape?

AR: Obviously we're in the midst of the COVID pandemic, and that's changed so many things. To me, the best example of something that could have a long-lasting change is how we had to adapt for the NFL Draft, which for the first time ever had to be done completely remotely. Cont. p13

Bernie Sams: 859.987.2330

The Commissioner was in his basement and all the coaches and GMs around the league were at home. There was definitely some trepidation about whether we were going to be able to pull it off, not only from a technological standpoint, but if fans would enjoy it. We found that it worked extremely well. We had very few issues on the technological side and the feedback was that fans enjoyed seeing people in their homes in this type of presentation. From a production standpoint I think that's going to change a lot of how things are done across the entertainment industry in general.

CC: How has COVID changed your business and operations at NFL Network?

AR: I think that we're going to find various efficiencies in the way that we do business because of this experience, and there will probably be permanent changes in the way that media is produced. Now that we've gone through this whole experience, there's going to be some major changes for the better, and certainly that are going to be cost-effective changes going forward.

CC: I'm sure everyone is asking, but obviously you have a season coming upon you pretty quickly. How do you control that message with the uncertainty around how the season will be conducted?

AR: I think the NFL has been fortunate on the timing of this because we've been able to see how others ports that needed to go before us have reacted. We're a couple weeks away from training camps opening. All along Commissioner Goodell has been very solid about, "Hey, we're going to start the season." We're going to obviously listen to all the medical experts and we're going to adjust as we need to, but we still feel very confident about having the season. There may just be a few wrinkles along the way.

The big question is really how many fans are going to be able to attend some of these games. I think some of that is going to be determined by different state regulations. I know some news is already starting to come out in places like Kansas City, where they've already said that they're not going to have full stadiums. I think probably some places will be empty, and some places you'll have partial fans. It remains to be seen.

CC: The NFL, like many other sports, has challenging issues to address, whether it be about health issues with concussions, violence with domestic abuse and cultural revolutions like the BLM movement. Do you have a philosophy or best practice on how to address challenging issues?

AR: When big issues come up, the NFL and Commissioner Goodell often look at it as an opportunity to take a leadership position in society and make some very positive change. Sometimes we're directly involved in it, for instance the Ray Rice domestic violence issue that obviously brought the problem of domestic abuse to the forefront. I think we've tried to be very thoughtful about how we respond to it.

The best thing you can do is try to stick to your values. Although the NFL has caught a lot of criticism for things, I do honestly believe that they have a good set of values and priorities. And when we get to these issues that bubble up, I sincerely think that we try to do the right thing and try to convey that through our communications practices. If there's issues that need to be addressed and fixed, we try to do that as quickly and fairly as possible.

CC: How do you manage covering negative stories about the sport or league when you own the network?

AR: That is a question that we get all the time, and there is definitely a balance between strictly being a PR mouthpiece for the League and then being a Hard News organization. I can tell you that a lot of folks that work for NFL Network and our digital properties in Los Angeles are long-time journalists that have broken a lot of big stories at other outlets and they certainly aren't here just to be regurgitating press releases from the NFL. At the same time, I think everybody understands that we are owned and operated by the NFL. The general line that we try to stay on is we will report the news— both the good, the bad and the ugly. I think if you look at some other outlets dealing with negative news, they will go on for hours speculating about it. NFL Network is going to report the news as long as it's relevant and as long as there are confirmed facts, but we're going to stay very factual. We're not going to speculate and obsess for hours.

CC: Horse racing has had its fair share of negative coverage in the last few years. If you were running the PR strategy for the sport, what would your suggestions be on how to address these matters?

AR: I don't have a vast depth of knowledge of the sport, but being in Los Angeles and close to Santa Anita I have heard a lot about the health and safety issues the sport has faced. I don't know if you can draw any parallels to the issues that the NFL has had on the player health and safety front with concussions, but I know for Commissioner Goodell and everybody on down, our number one priority, no matter what we're talking about, is the health and safety of our players. I can't speak to if that has been the number one priority in horse racing in terms of not only the horse, but the jockeys as well.

From my standpoint, you really need to make sure that these tracks have the latest state-of-the-art safety measures.

There need to be regulations in terms of medications these horses are being given. I think making the health and safety of the horses and their riders a priority has got to be something that is at the forefront of every decision that's made in the industry.

CC: What are the unique traits about the sport of horse racing that need to be exploited by stakeholders to promote and introduce their sport to a larger audience?

AR: I don't think it's any secret that the sport of horse racing is tightly intertwined with sports gambling, and it does have the benefit of being something that is available pretty much every day at any time. So as sports gambling continues to become more prominent across the United States, there is an opportunity for the horse racing industry to piggyback off of the increased popularity in sports betting and see if the rising tide of that can help lift their boat as well, so to speak.

CC: Is there a business mistake that you try to avoid at all costs?

AR: A lot of what I do is constant communication with the media--whether that's texting with reporters, phone calls or trading emails with them. Those relationships can be harmed pretty seriously if you're not up front with them, or if you don't deal with them in a way that is fair. I've probably made that mistake over the years and I've definitely learned from it.

You're not going to always be able to tell the media everything that they want to know, but if you're honest and you let them know the reasons why you can't speak to a certain thing or that you need to avoid the subject, I think you'll always have their trust. Having that trust, transparency and honesty with the media is something that's not only important to me, but it's something that can be translated into other industries and relationships that people have in business.

CC: What's the best advice you have received on how to be good at PR-related issues?

AR: It was from a former boss who used to say, "If you have to eat"--well, let's just call it horse manure. "If you have to eat horse manure, don't nibble." And what he meant by that is if you have some bad news, don't try to downplay it or put a little of it out there at a time. Instead, just go ahead and rip the band-aid off, get it all out there at once. The quicker you get out there and the quicker you own up to it, if that's what the case is, the sooner that you can start to move forward and not suffer a death by a thousand cuts.

CC: If you were the commissioner of horse racing, what would you look to change to improve the image or perception of the sport to reach a new audience?

AR: Well look, I don't pretend to know all the distribution and media deals that racing has. I do see racing on NBC Sports and FS1. Of course there are networks like TVG that focus on the product seven days a week, but they're also owned by a third party. It is unfortunate that the sport does not have its own platform to generate content focused on fan development and a channel to entertain avid fans not exclusively through the lens of wagering, but the story-telling side of the game.

I know in this environment where there are a million different ways to consume content, it can be a challenge to cut through the clutter. But I think for horse racing, if it's going to continue to grow and be more popular, it's not only the sports gambling angle on it, but they really need to increase their distribution on all forms of media platforms and have better control of its message and the content that is being disseminated.

If you look at the horse racing fan base, it's considered a sport that attracts an older generation. A big challenge for horse racing stakeholders is how are they going to develop that new generation of fans? Which is going to be important and frankly, something that we face at the NFL. When you look at kids now, they have so many options. So how can we get in front of that younger generation and get them interested in what our sport is or what our entertainment is? When we think about that as the NFL, we think a lot about our presence on social media.

So, what is horse racing doing about social media? Because let's be honest, that's the way a lot of kids consume content these days. I think some of the older generation is a little dismissive of those social media platforms, but they are important for getting in front of a younger generation, which again is the first step towards building fans for the future

Media distribution, control of content platforms like a network and a vibrant presence on social media are all important things that horse racing needs to lean into, with the overarching value of never compromising on the health and safety of equine and human athletes at the forefront of it all.

SUPER SAVER COLT STAYS TWO TURNS; EARNS RISING STARDOM AT SARATOGA

Wertheimer and Frere homebred Happy Saver (Super Saver) made good on a flashy debut last month and handled nine panels at Saratoga like he was just getting going to garner the ‘TDN Rising Star’ moniker Sunday afternoon. The Todd Pletcher pupil aired by 5 1/2 lengths at first asking going seven furlongs at Belmont June 20, and was even-money against a solid-looking group of winners this time around. He broke alertly, but was out-footed into the first turn and took up a ground-saving spot in third. Ridden along to avoid getting shuffled back into the second bend after a :48.25 half, he looked briefly like he might be coming up empty as Irad Ortiz, Jr. was all over him to get going as noses pointed for home. Happy Saver tipped out wide while figuring out his leads, soon found another gear and kicked on with a flourish to inhale Beau Luminarie (I Want Revenge) and canter away a geared-down four-length winner in 1:49.93.

“He’s been training great—he’s [GI Belmont S. runner-up and GI Haskell S. third] Dr Post (Quality Road)’s workmate and they’ve been working head and head, so we had confidence that his first out [effort] was legitimate,” Pletcher told Acacia Courtney on the Saratoga Live broadcast. “You’re always a little concerned when you’re stretching out off of one race to a mile and an eighth, but he’d trained really well and he’s got a great personality—he’s very relaxed. I got a little worried around the first turn, it got a little crowded and we weren’t exactly where we thought we’d be, but he seemed settled and I was really impressed with his last eighth of a mile.”

While Pletcher acknowledged that the GI Runhappy Travers S. in two weeks would likely come up too quickly, he mentioned the GII Jim Dandy S. Sept. 5 as a possible next spot for Happy Saver.

The winner’s dam, Happy Week (Distorted Humor), was a MSP sprinter for these connections and was disqualified from a third-place run in the 2011 GII Shuvee H. over a one-turn mile. She produced a Candy Ride (Arg) filly in 2019 and sold for $30,000 to John Ropes at last year’s Keeneland November sale carrying a full-sister to Happy Saver. Happy Saver’s third dam is Weekend Surprise (Secretariat), best known as the dam of A.P. Indy.

NYQUIST FILLY RELISHES STRETCH OUT TO BECOME SIRE’S FIRST WINNER

C&H Diamond Racing LLC & Baccari Racing Stable’s Dream Quist (Nyquist) improved significantly on the stretch out at Ellis Sunday to become the first winner for her freshman sire (by Uncle Mo). A debut fifth as the favorite sprinting in the Churchill slop June 28, the $265,000 Fasig-Tipton October yearling was off as the 5-2 second choice this time, but was bumped from both sides leaving the gate. She moved up in between horses to sit perched in third and tugged her way up to challenge the pacesetter heading for home after a half in :48 flat. She started to wear down the frontrunner at the quarter pole, and spurred clear as they straightened to kick away convincingly by 3 3/4 lengths. Odds-on favorite Bahama Mischief (Into Mischief), a $300,000 KEESEP yearling who was a close second on debut at Churchill June 26, rallied to complete the chalky exacta.

Dream Quist, who sold on the final day of the final major yearling sale of 2019, is out of a mare who earned a 95 Beyer Speed Figure when taking a Lone Star sprint stakes race as a July juvenile.

Dream Quist's dam Seacrettina (Sea of Secrets) produced an American Pharoah filly in 2019 and was bred to Street Sense for 2021.

The winner's sire, a champion juvenile who would go on to take the 2016 GI Kentucky Derby before retiring to Darley, led all first-crop sires by yearling average last season at $236,318.

Vanzzy, winner of the Rushaway S. over Turfway's synthetic surface in March, was fourth in his first turf attempt in the June 20 GII Pennine Ridge S. and was coming off a third-place finish in the July 4 GIII Kent S. over the Delaware lawn. In tight quarters under the wire the first time, the bay stalked the pacesetters from the rail into the backstretch. He bullied his way through a narrow opening to take the lead at the top of the lane and strode clear an easy winner.

"This was his best race yet," said trainer Mike Pino. "You can see he is getting better with each race, especially when we can get him to settle like we did. He broke through at that distance at Fair Grounds Dec. 19, and was fourth in a fairly productive running of the Randy P. Romero Memorial Overnight S. there Feb. 1 after misbehaving in the paddock. Gelded in the interim, the 5-1 shot broke well enough from the rail before settling into a midpack spot. SUGOI (c, 3, Karakontie {Jpn}--Timeless Spirit, by Devil His Due), a maiden winner over the synthetics at Turfway in March, added a main-track allowance score at Will Rodgers Downs Apr. 14 and was claimed for $50,000 from a narrowly beaten runner-up effort in his turf debut at Churchill May 29. He was a well-beaten sixth in an off-turfer at Ellis Park July 2. Sent off at 10-1, the bay colt went quickly to the early lead and was in hand through fractions of :24.86 and :48.60. He skipped clear at midstretch and came home 1 1/4 lengths to the good of Kaziranga (Candy Ride {Arg}). ELLE Z (f, 3, City Zip--Court Appeal, by Candy Ride {Arg}), an easy debut winner at Will Rogers Downs in her May 13 debut, raced greenly when fifth trying the lawn at Churchill Downs June 7. The 6-5 favorite took the lead shortly after the break and zipped through fractions of :21.55 and :44.81 and just held on to score by a neck over the late-closing Lea's Princess (Lea). Elle Z was a $7,000 KEESEP yearling and RNA'd for $72,000 as an OBS June juvenile.

Court Appeal, who sold for $50,000 at the 2019 Keeneland January sale, produced a filly by Tonalist last year and a filly by Karakontie (Jpn) this year. She was bred back to Karakontie. Her Tonalist filly sold for $50,000 at this year's Fasig-Tipton February sale. Click for the Equibase.com chart. Lifetime Record: 3-2-0-0, $36,822.

5th-Saratoga, $72,000, Msw, 7-26, 2yo, 5 1/2fT, 1:02.36, fm.

OUTADORE (c, 2, Outwork--Adore You {SP, $276,240}, by Tactical Cat) was let go at 6-1 as the less fancied of a pair of juvenile runners saddled by a trainer whose prowess with young horses--especially on turf--is well documented, and he proved to be the "right" Ward while providing his first-crop sire (by Uncle Mo) with a second winner and first on the lawn. Irad Ortiz, Jr. had ridden Outadore's stablemate River Tiber (War Front) to a fourth-place run on debut at Belmont June 12, but landed on Outadore this time off a fairly unassuming worktab and it was soon clear why. Away well in typical Ward fashion, Outadore chased two-time runner-up filly Mad Maddy (American Pharoah) through an opening quarter in :21.63 and half in :44.77. The grey had his head cocked towards the stands a bit as he challenged for command in upper stretch, and he took over while racing greenly before pulling away to a 2 3/4-length graduation. Mad Maddy held off River Tiber to be second.

Outadore is half to Piedi Bianchi (Overanalyze), MSW & MGISP, $476,700. His dam, who was at one point claimed for $12,500 before finishing a close third at long odds turf sprinting in the 2007 Buffalo Trace Franklin County S. at Keeneland, is a half to a stakes-winning juvenile who was second in the 2012 GII Adirondack S. over the local main track. Outwork was also responsible for the debuting runner-up in Sunday's second race, a maiden special weight for New York-breds on the dirt.

Outadore is bred on a version of the same Uncle Mo over Storm Cat as Sunday's Ellis romper Dream Quist (Nyquist). Sales history: $140,000 Wlg '18 KEENOV; $290,000 Ylg '19 KEESEP. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $39,600. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

MORE LIKE IT (g, 3, More Than Ready--Dance Craze, by Mizzen Mast) rallied to be second over an additional sixteenth downstate July 5, and belied 9-1 odds to kick off Sunday's card. Ridden along into fourth while perched off the inside, the dark bay found his best stride in midstretch to out-kick Silver Token (Mizzen Mast) by a nose. The winner has a 2-year-old full-brother named Halpert who has been working regularly at the Spa toward a debut. EFFINITY (c, 2, Effinex--Letshootpool {SP, $154,147}, by Freud) was runner-up while facing state-bred company in his five-furlong debut at Belmont Park June 19. The even-money favorite pressed the pace three wide through an opening quarter in :23.36, grabbed the lead after a half in :46.85 and strode clear to graduate by four lengths. He is the first winner for his Grade I-winning freshman sire Effinex (Mineshaft), who died in 2017. Work Out (Outwork), at 11-1 the longest shot on the board, was second.

Effinity was a $10,000 FTNMIX weanling and a $60,000 SARAUG yearling. Letshootpool, with Effinity in utero, RNA'd for $19,000 at the 2018 Keeneland January sale. 9th-Del Mar, $52,500, Msw, 7-26, 3yo/up, 1m, 1:39.83, ft. FRIAR'S ROAD (c, 3, Quality Road--My Sugar Bear, by Giant's Causeway), last seen finishing sixth in the GI Runhappy Santa Anita Derby June 6, uncorked a big turn move to break through back in the maiden ranks Sunday. Fifth sprinting behind MGSW Thousand Words (Pioneerof the Nile) at Santa Anita last October, the bay resurfaced to be second going a mile in Arcadia Mar. 15, earning an 87 Beyer Speed Figure behind the well-regarded Shooters Shoot (Competitive Edge). He was second again over nine panels at Oaklawn May 2 and earned a similar speed figure in the June 6 Santa Anita Derby, only against much tougher foes. Installed as the even-money while drawn to the far outside, Friar's Road broke slowly and was hung wide around the first turn towards the back of the pack. He got plenty of pace to set up his late kick despite camped out off cover, and was given his cue by Victor Espinoza to get going around the turn for home. He challenged for command at the top of the lane, and while briefly looking like he might have run out of gas, called on his class to edge away in the final sixteenth by 1 1/2 lengths. Charlito (Fed Biz), a $725,000 Fasig-Tipton Gulfstream grad, completed the exacta of high-dollar horses. The winner is campaigned by the same connections as $5.6-million City of Light (Quality Road). Sales history: $500,000 Ylg '18 KEESSEP. Backed down to 7-10 this time, he zipped right out to the front and never looked back en route to a 2 3/4-length victory over longshot firster Morethanaconqueror (Artie Schiller). The winner's 2-year-old half-sister Saranya (The Factor) was a $320,000 OBS Spring purchase last month by Peachtree's John Fort off a :10 flat breeze. She was pressed by Avuncular (Uncle Mo) through an opening quarter in :22.31 and a half in :45.19, but turned back that stubborn foe inside the final furlong en route to a 3/4-length victory. Favored Kay's Project (Jack Milton) was second for the filly exacta. Can't Buy Love RNA'd for $47,000 following a :20 4/5 work at this year's OBS Spring Sale. MAGICAL STROLLS IN SECOND GOLD CUP

Magical | Racing Post

With racemares like Magical (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), there is a sense of point-and-shoot and Wayne Lordan had little trouble in steering her to a sixth top-level success in Sunday's G1 Tattersalls Gold Cup at The Curragh. Sent to the front almost from the outset, the 2-9 favourite merely had to repeat her effort when winning the course-and-distance G1 Pretty Polly S. June 28 and she gave generously to issue another beating to over-matched rivals. Kicking off the home turn, she stayed on strongly as expected as stablemate Sir Dragonet (Ire) (Camelot {GB}) earned second, 2 1/4 lengths behind. He was in turn two lengths ahead of last year's G1 Irish St Leger heroine Search For a Song (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), who was putting up her best effort of 2020.

"It went perfectly--she's top-class," Lordan said. "She's very straightforward and gets into a lovely rhythm--she went by the line not in top gear. She's a massive mare to ride and has a big, powerful action so with a small field with not a whole lot of pace I opted to keep it simple. I was riding the best horse and she's uncomplicated with a great attitude. As we know, she can fight when she has to but she hasn't had to in her last two starts."

Were it not for Enable (GB) (Nathaniel {Ire}), Magical would have another three Group 1s to boast of and in this era of the supermares she stands as one of the trailblazers for her sex.

HOLLIE DOYLE BECOMES RETAINED JOCKEY FOR IMAD AL SAGAR

Hollie Doyle has been appointed the retained jockey for Imad Al Sagar of Blue Diamond Stud. Al Sagar has been part owner of Classic-winning colts turned sires Authorized (Ire) (Montjeu {Ire}) and Araafa (Ire) (Mull Of Kintyre), as well as MG1SW Decorated Knight (GB) (Galileo {Ire}) among others.

"We are thrilled to add Hollie Doyle to our team," said Al Sagar in a statement. "We have all been impressed with how Hollie has risen to become one of the best of her profession. She is an extremely dedicated, strong and astute jockey. We have some lovely horses to run for us this season and I look forward to Hollie becoming an invaluable member of our team."

Added Doyle, "I am delighted to be teaming up with Imad Al Sagar for the near future. I hope that we will have plenty of success."

The Newmarket-based Blue Diamond Stud is home to approximately 45 broodmares and there are an additional 30 horses in training.

Her career has particularly taken off since September, when she captured the first leg of a notable G1 Irish-English Champion S. double at Leopardstown. Forcing connections into keeping her in training for one more season, she now has four Group 1 wins from her last five starts and has justified that decision in no uncertain terms. Now that she is accustomed to making her own running, it could be that she is able to put it up to the Juddmonte sensation the next time their paths cross.

Lordan is of the opinion that the change in tactics is beneficial. "She jumped and she bowled away, she has a big easy action. She made it the last day and zinged along, today she was a little bit more relaxed out there in front," he added. "I felt if anyone got to me, it would only help me. From the minute you sit on her till you get off, she feels like she has a presence. She's a high-quality filly and she is definitely up there with the top ones, we know that by her form."

Wayne Lordan & Magical | Racing Post

Aidan O'Brien was at home and told the Racing Post, "She is a great mare. The only reason she is here now is because of the progress she made over the winter and she had progressed again from the Pretty Polly, so we are delighted the lads kept her in training. She might get a little bit of an easy time of it now, but the options would be the [G1] Juddmonte International and the [G1] Irish Champion S. She could wait for the Irish Champion, but we'll see."

Pedigree Notes

Magical's dam Halfway To Heaven (Ire) (Pivotal {GB}), who was bred by Trevor Stewart, won the G1 Irish 1000 Guineas, G1 Nassau S. and G1 Sun Chariot S. and is making her own special mark within the Coolmore broodmare band. Covered by Galileo throughout her second career, she has produced the G1 Lockinge S., G1 Fillies Mile and G1 Prix de l'Opera heroine Rhododendron (Ire), as well as the G3 International S. scorer Flying the Flag (Ire).

Halfway To Heaven is out of Stewart's triple group-winning sprinter Cassandra Go (Ire) (Indian Ridge {Ire}), who also produced the G3 Summer S. scorer Theann (GB) (Rock of Gibraltar {Ire}). She has become a star producer in her own right, throwing the GI First Lady S. and GI Rodeo S. heroine Photo Call (Ire) from a mating with Galileo and also the G2 Richmond S. scorer Land Force (Ire) (No Nay Never). Halfway To Heaven's daughter Tickled Pink (Ire) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) raced for her owner-breeder and took the G3 Abernant S. and G3 Sandown Sprint S.

The third dam Rahaam (Secreto) was responsible for the notable sire Verglas (Ire) and the listed scorer Persian Secret (Fr) (Persian Heights {GB}), who is the ancestress of several classy performers. Her daughters Seba (GB) (Alzao) and Do the Honours (Ire) (Highest Honor {Fr}) were decent types, with the former capturing the Listed Chesham S. and finishing third in the GI Mother Goose S. and Do the Honours winning the G3 Prix de Meautry. The latter is the second dam of the G1 Melbourne Cup hero Cross Counter (GB) by Galileo's son Teofilo (Ire). Halfway To Heaven also has a yearling full-brother to Magical.

BARNEY ROY ON TOP IN BAVARIAN BATTLE

Godolphin's well-travelled Barney Roy (GB) (Excelebration {Ire}) began this latest European campaign with a third in Royal Ascot's G1 Prince of Wales's S. last month and the gelded bay was all heart to claim Sunday's G1 Grosser Dallmayr-Preis--Bayerisches Zuchtrennen at Munich. The even-money favourite sported temporary headgear during the preliminaries of the 10-furlong contest and the soothing effect contributed to a smooth passage off the clear leaders in rear for the most part. Making headway in the straight when ridden along with a quarter-mile remaining, he joined the front rank, despite rolling around, entering the final furlong and was driven out to earn a third elite-level success in game fashion. Try as he might, last term's G1 Deutsches Derby fourth Quest The Moon (Ger) (Sea The Moon {Ger}) could not find a way past in the latter stages and was denied by a neck, with Joseph O'Brien-trained G3 Meld S. victor Patrick Sarsfield (Fr) (Australia {GB}) running on well to finish 1 1/4 lengths adrift in third.

"We were a little concerned when the rain came this morning as all of his best form is on fast ground," said William Buick of the 2017 G1 St James's Palace S. and this year's G1 Jebel Hatta hero. "I thought the German horses set a very good standard, it was a very tough race and he struggled with the conditions from a long way out. He's a high-class horse and his courage and ability got him to win the race. We thought the pace would be good and he jumped a little bit slow from the gates. We were positioned one place further back than where I wanted to be, but he was comfortable and relaxed. I followed Quest The Moon as I knew he'd take me into the race and I got a nice lead off him."

Winning trainer Charlie Appleby added, "Barney Roy and Spotify flew in yesterday and stabled well overnight, but we came here looking for good-to-firm ground and the rain was a negative for our two horses. There was a strong pace from the start, the local horses ran very well and stamina really came into play."

He continued, "I'd like to thank Munich for putting the race on and allowing us to come. I'd also like to thank the sponsors very much for sponsoring the race at such challenging times for everybody. We're delighted to be here, at Group 1 level, for Godolphin and very much appreciate everybody's support."

Pedigree Notes

Barney Roy is the first of five foals and one of three winners produced by a daughter of G3 Ridgewood Pearl S. and G3 Brownstown Stud S. victress Cheyenne Star (Ire) (Mujahid). He is half to Listed Maggie Dickson Gold Cup runner-up Wisdom Mind (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}) and the once-raced 2-year-old colt Noble Dynasty (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}), who shaped with a deal of promise when a debut second at Newmarket last month. Descendants of his Listed Garnet S.-winning third dam Charita (Ire) (Lycius), herself a half-sister to GSW G1 Premio Vittorio di Capua second Stanott (Ire) (Mukaddamah), include ill-fated MG1SW speedster Gordon Lord Byron (Ire) (Byron {GB}).

LADY BOWTHORPE TAKES THE VALIANT BY STORM

Sunday's G3 Betfred Valiant Fillies' S. may have been robbed of Billesdon Brook (GB) (Champs Elysees {GB}) with the ground gone against her, but as the race's star turn fell away there was at least an impressive winner in Lady Bowthorpe (GB) (Nathaniel {Ire}) to boost the Ascot contest. Only fourth in Pontefract's Listed Pivalong S. last time July 7, the 12-1 shot was anchored in last early by Kieran Shoemark and delivered a potent surge in the straight to overhaul Miss O Connor (Ire) (Roderic O'Connor {Ire}) approaching the furlong pole. Drawing clear from there, she had 4 3/4 lengths to spare over Farzeen (GB) (Farhh {GB}), who held off Look Around (GB) (Kingman {GB}) by a head.

Trainer William Jarvis said, "She's been unlucky this season and things didn't really work out for her at Pontefract, but she's very smart and is the second-best filly in training in Newmarket by Nathaniel! She swept by the whole field and was impressive."

Runner-up in mile handicaps at Sandown and Newmarket in September and October, Lady Bowthorpe returned to win one on the Polytrack at Lingfield June 6 before being denied a clear run when sixth back at Newmarket June 28. While her latest effort in the Pipalong was an improvement, there was little to suggest that she was capable of a performance of this nature in a race as competitive.

Jarvis revealed that he had some guidance. "I've always thought she is good, but all credit to James Toller as he said we should run her in this race. I prepared her and trained her and he pushed me to go for the race," he explained. "She hasn't quite achieved what we hoped she would, but she is owned by a very patient owner. It is her first group winner and she is a valuable filly now. She was drawn nine of nine at Pontefract which was not great for her, but it has all come good for her today."

Pedigree Notes

Lady Bowthorpe is the second foal out of Maglietta Fina (Ire) (Verglas {Ire}), with the first being the high-class sprinter Speak in Colours (GB) (Excelebration {Ire}). Already successful in the G3

Phoenix Sprint S. and G3 Renaissance S. and third in the G1 Prix de la Foret before this term, he has now added the G2 Greenlands S. and G3 Ballycorus S. to his tally and is still on the up. Her third is the 3-year-old filly Pretty In Grey (GB) (Brazen Beau {Aus}), who looks a surefire black-type performer having won four in a row including a Newmarket handicap on Saturday. A half-sister to the G2 Sandown Mile, G3 Diomed S. and G3 Sovereign S. winner Tullius (Ire) (Le Vie Dei Colori {GB}), her 2-year-old filly by Mayson (GB) unfortunately died last year but she has a yearling colt by Muhaarar (GB).

SANTOSHA PROVIDES COULSTY BREAKTHROUGH IN THE PRINCESS MARGARET

Santosha | Racing Post

Providing another boost to the form of the July 10 G2 Duchess of Cambridge S., Santosha (Ire) (Coulsty {Ire}) stepped up to capture Sunday's G3 Princess Margaret Betfred S. at Ascot and provide her Rathasker Stud-based first-season sire with his initial black-type winner. Sent off at 5-1 coming off a third placing behind the G3 Albany S. scorer Dandalla (Ire) (Dandy Man {Ire}) and the subsequent Listed Star S. winner Fev Rover (Ire) (Gutaifan {Ire}) in that contest at Newmarket's July festival, the bay was reserved off the early pace by Thomas Greatrex and delivered to lead approaching the final furlong. Despite veering left in the closing stages, she was always doing enough to hold Hala Hala Hala (Ire) (Exceed and Excel {Aus}) by 3/4 of a length, with the winner's stablemate Caroline Dale (GB) (Lethal Force {Ire}) the same margin behind in third.

Trainer David Loughnane was enjoying his red-letter day. "It's great to have my first group winner at Ascot. It's the Mecca, isn't it, everyone wants to train winners here," he commented. "We work very hard and we have had a lot of luck along the way, but it's the icing on the cake that our first group winner is here."

Santosha, the sole progeny out of a relative of Gold Academy (Ire) who captured the Listed Strensall S. and was third in the G1 Queen Elizabeth II S. and G1 St. James's Palace S., went up against Dandalla and co as the 50-1 winner of a six-furlong median auction novice at Lingfield June 26. Also 50-1 there, she got within 3/4 of a length of a major upset and could arguably have been closer had the winner not veered across her path late on. Staying true to Thomas Greatrex, Loughnane's decision was rewarded by a ride belying a lack of experience in this company as Santosha was guided to a breakthrough success.

The occasion was not lost on the jockey, who said, "It is what we work towards. It is something I never really thought I would be doing and it's great to get the opportunity from Dave and the team at home support me a lot, so it's great to give them a group winner. We got a lovely run into the race and she has really stuck her head down and galloped. She got a bit lonely in front in the end, but she was brilliant. Stepping up in trip will be no problem at all--she stayed really well. I was running in snatches during the race, but once I got hold of her at the two-furlong pole she actually went down a gear and took off."

Loughnane was celebrating a rare first and third in Pattern company for a lesser-known trainer, with Caroline Dale holding on for third having forced the pace. "I sat on them both Wednesday or Thursday morning and I told both owners I wouldn't be able to split them," he added. "Caroline Dale's run a blinder. She has got headed and she has stayed on and galloped all the way to the line. She is a very tough filly and has got so much speed. Hindsight's a great thing and maybe we should have gone for the [G3] Molecomb S. [at Goodwood], but this felt like the right race. She will have her day. The ground was probably quick enough for Santosha. The race ran to suit her just a little bit better."

"Santosha should never have been the price she was--my surname might have something to do with it, but we are looking to change that. She was still a touch green today, but she is a very progressive filly and we've got a lot to look forward to. I think she will probably be a nicer filly next year, stepping her up to seven furlongs and a mile. She travels so sweetly, she never overdoes herself. She does what you want her to do and is push-button. Today was the plan, but the [G2] Lowther [at York] would have to be one of the next on her list. There are quite a few options in France for her." Cont. p8

Coolmore representative demolished the G1 Investec Oaks field by nine lengths on July 4 and will receive a break in the weights. A two-time winner of the G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe, Enable's 12-race winning streak was snapped with a runner-up performance in very soft ground in last year's Arc, and she found Ghaiyyath 2 1/4 lengths too good on the day in the G1 Coral-Eclipse S. at Sandown last time.

"Enable is in good form," trainer John Gosden told the Ascot Racecourse notes team on Sunday morning of his triple King George winner. "She ate up and had a nice lead-out, jogged up well, had a pick of grass. I was clear that she wasn't wound up for the Eclipse, and I didn't see the point of jumping out the gate and trying to go head to head with Ghaiyyath (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) first time out--I didn't think that would be any help to her, so she ran great and she has come on for the race."

ENABLE EXITS KING GEORGE WELL

Fresh off the back of her 5 1/2-length victory in the G1 King George VI & Queen Elizabeth S. on Saturday, Enable (GB) (Nathaniel {Ire}) emerged from the Ascot showpiece in good condition, trainer John Gosden confirmed.

The next start for the formidable Juddmonte colourbearer is undecided, but she is targeting a pair of races at York--either the Aug. 19 G1 Juddmonte International S. or the Aug. 20 G1 Yorkshire Oaks. The former features a rematch with Ghaiyyath (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}), while the outstanding dual Classic heroine Love (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) is slated to take part in the latter. The

QATAR GOODWOOD FESTIVAL TO UTILISE TURFTRAX

The upcoming Qatar Goodwood Festival will provide live weather data from TurfTrax, the Cambridgeshire-based technology company announced on Sunday. Developed in conjunction with a number of leading UK racecourses, the system provides horsemen, media and the general public with up-to-the minute GoingStick readings, going maps, irrigation and rails positions, as well as detailed live weather data comprising wind speed and direction, rainfall and soil moisture content via a dedicated webpage. This technology was previous used with success at Royal Ascot and Newmarket's July Cup Festival.

"We have been delighted with the response to the live weather data app so far," said TurfTrax Managing Director Mike Maher. Cont. p9

He added, "There certainly seems to be increasing demand for accurate data and the benefit of the TurfTrax weather system is that the information it measures comes direct from the course and not a weather station in the nearest town which could be several miles away.

"The information delivered by the app has been available to racecourses using the TurfTrax weather system for a number of years, but investment in the front-end now enables them to make the same information available to a wider group of stakeholders."

Franconia made the quantum leap from a Nov. 8 debut second over seven furlongs at Chelmsford City to open eyes with an impressive triumph upped in trip for Newbury's June 13 Listed Abingdon Fillies' S. last time and continued in fine fettle with a second black-type victory here. Employing patient tactics off the pace in rear until turning for home, the odds-on favourite made stealthy headway in the straight to launch her challenge wide approaching the quarter-mile marker and was ridden out to deny Gold Wand after a prolonged duel with that rival.

"We didn't actually go that fast and it turned into a two or three-furlong sprint with me and Andrea [Atzeni aboard Gold Wand]," explained Frankie Dettori. "My filly took all of two furlongs to get into top gear, but in the end she was well on top. I suspect a mile-and-a-half will be her game from now on. She's not overly big, she's quite delicate so I think we'll be taking it step by step."

Franconia, one of four winners out of a dual-winning half to G2 Prix Greffulhe victor Ice Blue (GB) (Dansili {GB}), is a full-sister to the hitherto unraced 2-year-old filly Fine Lace (GB) and a yearling colt. SEVEN BROTHERS (IRE) (c, 2, Slade Power {Ire}--Ihtifal {GB}, by Dansili {GB}), penalised six pounds for registering a July 6 debut success over this trip at Ayr last time, broke well and led from flagfall in this straight dash. Stoked up when threatened on all sides passing the two pole, the 11-4 second choice refused to buckle and kept on gamely under continued rousting in the latter stages to hold Bankrolled (Ire) (Requinto {Ire}) by a head. "I liked him a lot when he won at Ayr and he's been good in his work at home since then," said winning rider Kevin Stott. "He came here with a penalty and did it the hard way on ground a little bit faster than ideal. He tried his hardest, he stuck his head out and I'm very happy for the owner." Half to a yearling colt by Profitable (Ire), Seven Brothers is the fourth of five foals and one of two scorers out of a winning full-sister to G3 Prix de Lieurey victress Zibelina (Ire) (Dansili {GB}), herself the dam of MGSP G2 Champagne S. second Royal Crusade (GB) (Shamardal). That Ballydoyle newcomer, who is a 1.3million gns half-brother to the last year's G1 2000 Guineas hero Magna Grecia (Ire) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}), made eye-catching progress to finish a clear second in a debut full of encouragement. Assistant trainer Shane Lyons said of the winner, "He did it all wrong in Navan and is very immature. He was fly-leaping and leaning off the rail, but in fairness to him he had to do it the hard way there. That has stood to him today and he appreciated that ground. We've always liked him and when the penny drops mentally he will be a nice horse. We've always thought he was a stakes horse and, being by Kingman, you don't know how high he can go. THUNDER BEAUTY (IRE) (f, 2, Night of Thunder {Ire}--Quiania {Ire}, by Dansili {GB}), a 12-1 shot on this debut, broke well and was professional racing towards the fore throughout the early stages. Gaining a narrow advantage approaching the furlong pole, the bay lugged left and bumped Harannda (Ire) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) on the rail but readily asserted for a 1 3/4-length success and was allowed to keep the race by the stewards. Elizabethan (War Front), the daughter of Misty For Me (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) and full-sister to U S Navy Flag and Roly Poly, was unable to land a serious blow in seventh. “We seem to have a nice bunch of 2-year-olds, particularly fillies, and she had been showing up well in the past three or four weeks,” trainer Ken Condon said. “In the spring, she was showing a lot of pace but just got a little bit of a setback. She had a problem with her wither and needed a bit of time. She’s from a staying German family and it might not have been any harm that she had an enforced break for a while. We hope she’s stakes class and she’s by a very good sire. She has a very professional way of doing it and she went to the line strongly, so I’d say seven should be fine. She’s in the new Ballyhane race at Naas and that might be where she goes now.” The dam, whose yearling colt is by Dragon Pulse (Ire), is a daughter of the G3 Prix de Psyche winner Quilanga (Ger) (Lomitas {GB}) and a granddaughter of the G2 German 1000 Guineas heroine Quebrada (Ire) (Devil’s Bag). That links her to Quidura (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}), who was successful in the GII Ballston Spa S. and GII Canadian S., runner-up in the GI Diana S. and third in the GI Jenny Wiley S. and GI Matriarch S. Sales history: €42,000 Ylg ‘19 TIRSEP. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $11,537. O-David K Kelly & Mrs Pauline Condon; B-Kildaragh Stud & Michael Downey (IRE); T-Ken Condon.
