

BRADSELL CLAIMS NUNTHORPE GLORY FOR VICTORIOUS RACING

Bradsell | Racingfotos.com

by Sean Cronin

Victorious Racing's 2023 G1 King's Stand Stakes hero and 'TDN Rising Star' Bradsell (GB) (Tasleet {GB}--Russian Punch {GB}, by Archipenko), on an enforced sabbatical for 329 days after registering that career high, added to his comeback win in this month's Listed Prix du Cercle with a dominant performance in Friday's G1 Coolmore Wootton Bassett Nunthorpe Stakes at York.

The 3-1 second favourite was swiftly into stride on the far wing and chased the trailblazing Ponntos (Ire) (Power {GB}) in second through the initial stages of this straight five-furlong dash.

NOTABLE SPEECH WARMS UP FOR MOULIN TILT ON JULY COURSE

NEWMARKET, UK -- Amid strong winds and squally showers which served as a reminder that after this weekend the baton will be passed back across Newmarket's Devil's Dyke to the Rowley Mile, the 2,000 Guineas and Sussex Stakes winner Notable Speech (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) took advantage of the July Course for one last time this season with an early-morning gallop on Friday.

Ridden by Paul Eddery, Godolphin's chestnut colt worked over a mile alongside stable-mate Highland Avenue (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}).

"I was pleased with how he came out of the Sussex Stakes and the plan is to head to the Prix du Moulin," confirmed Notable Speech's trainer Charlie Appleby. "This fitted in well to come up here. He has enjoyed himself on an away day without being put to the sword.

"Paul knows him inside out and was delighted with him and I was pleased with the way he picked up, so it was job done.

The unbeaten juvenile Ancient Truth (Ire), another son of Dubawi, was also in action on Friday morning with William Buick over the strip of ground where he was last seen in public winning the G2 Superlative Stakes. He will head next to the G1 Vincent O'Brien National Stakes at the Curragh on September 15.

Easing to the front passing halfway, he was beyond recall entering the final furlong and kept on powerfully under a late Hollie Doyle drive to hold the chasing pack, headed by Believing (Ire) (Mehmas {Ire}), by 3/4-of-length. Course specialist Starlust (GB) (Zoustar {Aus}) was a head adrift in third, a neck in front of the fast-closing antipodean Asfoora (Aus) (Flying Artie {Aus}).

"We were getting him ready for Dubai in the spring, but he fractured a fetlock in February and it's been an amazing route back for him," explained trainer Archie Watson. "I'm not one for sectionals, but I was told he did the fastest closing final two furlongs in the race last year. This year, thankfully, we were drawn with the Czech horse [Ponntos] who goes off quick. When Regional and Live In The Dream came out I couldn't decide if I wanted them in as pace angles or out as very good horses."

"Luckily Ponntos was always going to go what he did, but Hollie [Doyle] was even taking Bradsell back off him as he was going so well today. I thought when the injury happened it would be a question of saving him for a stallion job next year, but at every stage he passed with flying colours. I know the vets like to stay behind the scenes, but they really have done a phenomenal job with this horse. We still can't believe a horse like this was buyable for £50,000."

"That is expensive for us and I know people see us as a big yard, but we have very few six-figure horses and for us to compete at this sort of level by buying horses at a lower level, it means a lot. He won the Coventry and he's a King's Stand winner. Now he's a Nunthorpe winner and I hope he can keep doing more."

Hollie Doyle was beaming in the aftermath and added, "It's a real credit to Archie. When Bradsell had his injury we weren't sure if he was going to run again, but here we are winning the Nunthorpe. Obviously I'm aware Hayley [Turner] won this and I think she's just grateful to see someone else in the position to be capable of winning it. The race went perfectly to plan, I just feared that the other side might come across and negate the advantage. The ground he gained on the others in the first two furlongs was incredible really. I could have really done with Ponntos leading me for a bit longer, but I'm lucky that Bradsell is very straightforward. He was travelling best everywhere. I had plenty left in the final furlong, but he was idling a bit and I was starting to think I could have gone quicker. I haven't won a Group 1 since Trueshan in the [2023] Prix du Cadran and this was the ride I was looking forward to most this week. He's a very special horse to me and doing it for Archie makes it really special. The owners, Victorious Racing, have been really loyal to us, so it's great." Cont.

George Boughey | Tattersalls

George Boughey was buoyant after the display of second home Believing, whose consistency has been her hallmark this term. "I'm just delighted," he said. "She was probably on the wrong side [of the draw] and credit to Archie's horse, he's a very fast horse. Believing just gets a bit outpaced at that crucial point and nothing really took her into the race properly. It was a lovely ride from Ryan [Moore] and she was getting there with each stride. She will head to the [G1] Flying Five [at the Curragh] and that has been the plan for a long time. She's dancing every dance and, hopefully, she pops up at some point."

Ralph Beckett was delighted with the performance of third-place finisher Starlust and commented, "It was a terrific effort and I'm thrilled with him. He's a big horse and he's going to get bigger and stronger as he gets older. He's climbed the ranks, he's very consistent and loves it here. That's a significant factor and hopefully we will be back here this time next year."

Henry Dwyer was at a loss to explain the defeat of 6-4 favourite Asfoora, who might continue her European tour in Ireland. "Oisin [Murphy] made mention of the fact that the track was suitable, firmness-wise, but after three days of racing, it's quite chopped out and he just didn't feel like he could get traction," the trainer said. "He might be looking for excuses and we might be looking for excuses, but that's what he was hanging his hat on, to an extent. I'd have to watch a replay, but it just looked like Ponntos quickened away from them early and Bradsell sort of tracked him and we couldn't quite go. I didn't like Asfoora's last 50 yards, she was there to run second, or at least third, and she just looked a little bit plain. We never make decisions on raceday and we won't know if there is a genuine excuse until the next couple of days. We'll have a think about things and see what we do going forward."

"Whether she's reached her peak and is on the way down, or whether she didn't like the track, I'm not sure. I wouldn't be thinking of going to the Breeders' Cup and, if there was an option, we might go to Ireland for the Flying Five. If anything comes out of the run and we're not happy with her, she'll be going home for sure."

ALL GATHERED FOR A BIG SATURDAY

by Tom Frary

Saturday's action sees the winding-up of York's Ebor Festival and a trio of exciting juvenile races at The Curragh and Goodwood, with the Knavesmire venue boasting the most valuable prize in the G2 City of York Stakes. Cheveley Park Stud's TDN Rising Star Audience (GB) (Iffraaj {GB}) is the star attraction in the seven-furlong feature and it is fair to say that he has turned around his fortunes this term with dynamic successes in the G1 Lockinge Stakes and G2 Lennox Stakes. He may have achieved more when winning under a five-pound penalty in the latter contest at Goodwood last month than when upstaging Charyn (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}) in Newbury's Lockinge in May and currently rates as the best in this niche category as a result.

"He has no group 1 penalty to carry, which is obviously an advantage and he ran very well in this race last year when he was second to Kinross," the Stud's managing director Chris Richardson said. "I think Goodwood showed seven furlongs suits him better than the stiff mile at Ascot, where he ran very well in the Queen Anne but probably didn't quite get home. It's a competitive race, as ever, but if he can produce his last run, hopefully he'll be right there."

The aforementioned Kinross (GB) (Kingman {GB}) attempts a historic treble in this, having won the last two renewals, but Marc Chan's beloved veteran has dipped in form this term. He has a four-year experience edge over Lake Forest (GB) (No Nay Never), who was successful in the G2 Gimcrack Stakes here 12 months ago and runner-up in the G1 Commonwealth Cup at Royal Ascot in June, but Tony Bloom and Ian McAleavy's 3-year-old has the benefit of youth as he moves up in trip.

Trainer William Haggas is expecting the distance to suit. "He's in really good form and this is the race we want to have a go at, but he doesn't want any cut in the ground," he said. "He wants really quick ground and hopefully it will be fast enough on Saturday. We're not sure about the trip, there's enough on the dam's side of his pedigree to say he wants the trip. He's never been better than at the line both times this year over six, so it could be that he is better over seven maybe, but we will see."

Lots To See...

It is an action-packed afternoon everywhere and York's card also includes the G3 Strensall Stakes, which hosts Jeff Smith's G1 Nassau Stakes runner-up See The Fire (GB) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) as she drops in class. While Goodwood offers an uninspiring G2 Celebration Mile, it represents an ideal opportunity for Juddmonte's G3 Thoroughbred Stakes winner Lead Artist (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) to complete the next stage of his career on paper at least.

VALUE DURABILITY SUCCESS

The Sussex track's G3 Prestige Fillies' Stakes is of far greater interest, being the stage for Cheveley Park Stud's TDN Rising Star Formal (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}).

The Sir Michael Stoute-trained daughter of the G1 Falmouth Stakes winner Veracious (GB) (Frankel {GB}) looked special on her winning debut at Newbury last month and could bring an end to a 30-year drought in this seven-furlong juvenile fillies' prize for Freemason Lodge since the stable's last winner Pure Grain (GB) (Polish Precedent). Juddmonte's Newmarket debut winner Tabiti (GB) (Kingman {GB}) is another fascinating candidate from the Ralph Beckett stable replete with juvenile talent in 2024.

At The Curragh, the G2 Coolmore Stud Wootton Bassett Irish EBF Futurity Stakes has a quartet engaged and is the epitome of what they term "small but select", with none easily discounted. Ballydoyle's G2 Railway Stakes winner Henri Matisse (Ire) (Wootton Bassett {GB}) has the most kudos, but his Galway maiden-winning stablemate and TDN Rising Star Rock Of Cashel (Ire) (Wootton Bassett {GB}) is an interesting race buddy. They are taken on by the Silverton Hill Partnership's G3 Tyros Stakes winner Hotazhell (GB) (Too Darn Hot {GB}) and the Joseph O'Brien-trained Leopardstown maiden scorer Scorthy Champ (Ire) (Mehmas {Ire}).

If the Futurity is open, the G2 Alpha Centauri Debutante Stakes is the exact opposite with Ballydoyle's division leader Bedtime Story (Ire) (Frankel {GB}) scaring off all meaningful outside competition. At this stage, she could be joined by the stable's impressive Galway maiden winner and fellow TDN Rising Star Bubbling (Ire) (No Nay Never), but very little else after her ultra-dominant performance in the Listed Chesham Stakes and imposing follow-up in the G3 Silver Flash Stakes. In what should amount to an individual time trial, the clock will tell us more than the formbook as we continue to assess the raw material of the brilliant TDN Rising Star.

COOL HOOF LUKE WINS THE GIMCRACK

by Tom Frary

Fourth in Royal Ascot's G2 Coventry Stakes and third over seven furlongs in the G2 Vintage Stakes at Goodwood, John Wallinger's Cool Hoof Luke (GB) (Advertise {GB}--Dutch Monument {GB}, by Dutch Art {GB}) showed that speed is his game by taking Friday's G2 Al Basti Equiworld Dubai Gimcrack Stakes at York. Anchored towards the rear early by Oisín Murphy, the Andrew Balding-trained 8-1 shot was delivered with a potent kick to lead passing the furlong pole and get to the line 3/4 of a length ahead of Shadow Of Light (GB) (Lope De Vega {Ire}), with a head back to Symbol Of Strength (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}) in third.

"He's a big 2-year-old--you look at him and you think he's going to be a better 3-year-old, we weren't sure about the trip as he's bred to be a sprinter and looks like a seven-furlong horse," Anna Lisa Balding said. "I think we were a bit disappointed at Goodwood, but he came back and won the right one today."

Charlie Appleby's assistant Alex Merriam said of Shadow Of Light, "That was his first step up into group company and it is a big step up. I think he's probably learned a lot, he's run his race, but he just got beaten by one better on the day. I think the trip is fine for him, he'll stick at six for now, but he just got beat by one on the day."

Adrian Keatley was delighted with the effort of the 80-1 shot Symbol Of Strength. "I'd like to think I've been looking at them long enough now to know when we've got a good one, but I was starting to doubt myself when I saw he was the outsider of the field yesterday," he said. "He's a good horse, he'll have no problems getting seven furlongs and next year maybe even a mile, he's got scope and will grow a bit, we think a lot of him and the sky is the limit. He's in the Mill Reef and we'll go there as long as the ground is not too soft." Cont.

VAUBAN TAKES THE LONSDALE CUP

by Tom Frary

Unable to definitively show that he belonged with the best stayers until Friday, the Riccis' Vauban (Fr) (Galiway {GB}) sprung to life to enter that sphere in the G2 Weatherbys Hamilton Lonsdale Cup at York. Disappointing when favourite for the G1 Melbourne Cup in November, the Willie Mullins-trained 2022 Triumph Hurdle winner had followed home the classy Giavellotto (Ire) (Mastercraftsman {Ire}) in the G2 Yorkshire Cup here in May before finishing well-beaten when fourth in the G1 Gold Cup at Royal Ascot and third in the G2 Curragh Cup.

Relishing the return to fast ground and a flat track, the 11-2 shot cruised in behind under William Buick before being let loose to seize the lead 1 1/2 furlongs down. Surging clear from there, he appeared to idle as his relative Al Nayyir (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) closed in late to make it a short head at the line, with three lengths back to the long-time leader Gregory (GB) (Golden Horn {GB}) in third.

"The ticket for Australia is not quite booked, but it has been our intention all season and we said we'd work back from the Melbourne Cup," Rich Ricci said. "I don't know what Willie wants to do next, he's got an entry in the Irish St Leger but Melbourne still remains the plan, we'll see what the handicapper does. He was very good today, he was ready to rock, he looked a picture and showed a great turn of foot. His first run this year here was great, he ran a huge race in the Gold Cup but he just didn't stay and then at the Curragh it probably came a bit soon."

Vauban | Racingfotos.com

“We learned a lot from Australia last year--we did things different than in the past, we'd always gone in the second shipment and run later than he did. I just said to the team, 'let's start with Melbourne, let him tell us he's not able to go and work back from that'. His two targets were the Gold Cup and today and I guess he'll go in the second shipment again.”

Tom Clover said of Al Nayyir, “He's a new horse for us, but he shaped up well in his home work and we were looking forward to running him. We couldn't quite believe the price he was, he has some very good form and he's got a very high rating. He's a very good horse by a very good sire and hopefully he can go one better very soon. He was very resolute, he saw the race out very strong and hopefully he's a horse we can think about travelling with in the winter.”

Notable Speech after working on the July course

"We decided to bring him up here three weeks out from a potential look at the National Stakes," Appleby said. "There's a long gap from the Superlative Stakes to the National Stakes so it was a matter of getting a bit of gas out of him."

"He is a horse that I feel will appreciate a bit of juice in the ground, which he should get over there [in Ireland]. What he has done to date you can't fault. Native Trail, Pinatubo and Quorto were all unbeaten going into the National Stakes and he is ticking the same boxes, as they say."

THE LION IN WINTER MOVES UP TIMEFORM JUVENILE RANKINGS

With his win in the G3 Tattersalls Acomb Stakes this past Wednesday, The Lion In Winter (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) has broken the fillies' stranglehold on the Timeform 2-year-old rankings, having taken up the mantel as the second-highest juvenile this season.

The effort at York earned a 115p, which puts him behind stablemate Bedtime Story (Ire) (Frankel {GB}) at 116p but ahead of Babouche (GB) (Kodiac {GB}) with a 113p and Fairy Godmother (Ire) (Night Of Thunder {Ire}) at 112p. The new rating is the highest by a juvenile colt thus far this season.

"The Acomb was about as strong as juvenile Group 3 [races] get and both the visual impression--the first three came a long way clear--and the timefigure support a bullish view of the form," commented Timeform handicapper Simon Baker.

After a top-class performance in the G1 Juddmonte International Stakes, City of Troy (Justify) is the highest-rated horse in training with a 130p.

The figure was strong enough to find him atop the heap this season after the previous bar set by White Birch (GB) (Ulysses {Ire}) and Kyprios (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) in Europe landed on 128. City of Troy's win completed a hat-trick for Ballydoyle after The Lion In Winter (Ire) and Los Angeles (Ire) (Camelot {GB}) took the G3 Tattersalls Acomb and G2 Sky Bet Great Voltigeur Stakes, respectively, on the same day.

CHARLES O'NEILL TUNING UP FOR THE PAT SMULLEN CANCER TRIALS IRELAND CHARITY RACE

Charles O'Neill, CEO of Irish Thoroughbred Marketing (ITM), has issued an update on his progress ahead of his participation in the Pat Smullen Cancer Trials Ireland Charity Race at the Curragh on Saturday, August 31.

O'Neill is one of 20 riders scheduled to take part in the race run in honour of Smullen, the nine-times champion jockey in Ireland who died from pancreatic cancer at the age of 43 in September 2020.

The other riders in the race include Smullen's son Paddy, who started riding racehorses at Conor Hoban's pre-training yard a few years ago and is currently riding out for Gordon Elliott and Dermot Weld.

"After years of wondering what I can do to provide support for the fight against cancer I have decided to ride in the above race [Pat Smullen Cancer Trials Ireland Charity Race]," said O'Neill in a statement.

"Some 13 years ago I lost my younger brother David and my dad Charlie to this terrible illness. Since December 1, 2023, to allow me to ride in the event I have been riding out five days a week with supporting horse trainers Martin Brassil, Shane Nolan, Ross O'Sullivan, Johnny Murtagh and Jessica Harrington.

"It's 35 years since I last sat on a racehorse and I have been working closely with RACE [The Racing Academy and Centre of Education] to make this race date. In the process I have lost over 20kgs in weight in order to make the scales.

"I really would appreciate any support that you can give and you can sponsor me by clicking this link."

DUBAWI SON OF HYDRANGEA DEBUTS AT THE CURRAGH

13.45 Curragh, Mdn, €20,000, 2yo, 7fT
OFFICER (IRE) (Dubawi {Ire}) is the latest blue-blooded colt from Ballydoyle to appear during a golden summer for Coolmore, being the third foal out of their G1 British Champions Fillies & Mares Stakes and G1 Matron Stakes heroine Hydrangea (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}). A full-sister to fellow top-level winners Hermosa (Ire) and The United States (Ire), she has already produced the stable's promising Listed Hurry Harriet Stakes winner Wingspan (Ire) by Dubawi. Officer's rivals include Juddmonte's fellow newcomer Storm Piece (GB) (Night Of Thunder {Ire}), a Ger Lyons-trained son of the G1 Falmouth Stakes heroine Timepiece (GB) (Zamindar).

Friday's Results:

6th-York, £100,000, Mdn, 8-23, 2yo, 7fT, 1:24.43, g/f.
ANGELO BUONARROTI (c, 2, Justify--Curlylocks {Ire}, by Galileo {Ire}) was the second highest-priced lot when selling for €1-million at Arqana's Breeze-Up sale earlier this year and went some way to justifying that lofty price tag with a breakthrough success in Friday's British Stallion Studs EBF Convivial Maiden Stakes at York. The February-foaled chestnut, who first went through the ring for $135,000 as a Keeneland September yearling, was initially trained by Dominic Ffrench Davis, but was transferred to the Raphael Freire yard before posting a three-length debut ninth when highly tried in Royal Ascot's G2 Coventry Stakes. Placed under the stewardship of Ralph Beckett prior to this second start, he displayed a willing attitude to graduate by 1 1/4 lengths from Shah (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) in Britain's richest juvenile maiden of the year. The 2-1 favourite was swiftly into stride and stalked the pace in second after the opening exchanges of this seven-furlong heat. Shaken up to launch his challenge passing the quarter-mile pole, he seized control approaching the final furlong and was driven out in the closing stages to hold on in battling fashion. "He got a stone bruise before the [Aug. 3] Goodwood maiden he was supposed to run in and I had to scratch him," explained Beckett. "The extra time probably was a positive and the track suited him better than Goodwood would have done. He's a good horse, we kind of knew that already, and it depends on how far we go now."

"He could go a mile this year, I think it will be within his scope, but I don't know whether he needs to yet. I don't know if we'll go straight into a Group race, we might go for the [Listed] Flying Scotsman [at Doncaster] and work our way up. It just depends on how we feel." Angelo Buonarrotti is the third of five registered foals and second scorer out of a full-sister to multiple Group 1-winning sire Churchill (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), G1 Cheveley Park Stakes heroine Clemmie (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), G3 Diamond Stakes victor Blenheim Palace (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) and the stakes-placed Dower House (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}). Clemmie, in turn, is the dam of last term's stakes-winning G3 Royal Whip Stakes runner-up Unless (Justify). RAGING SEA GETS HER GRADE I IN PERSONAL ENSIGN UPSET

Raging Sea | Sarah Andrew

by Stefanie Grimm

Meet racing's newest millionaire. Raging Sea (Curlin), closing in an all-out stretch drive, just got up to nail pacesetter Idiomatic (Curlin) in the shadow of the wire to win Friday's GI Personal Ensign Stakes at Saratoga.

Billed as the renewed rivalry between Idiomatic and her GI Ogden Phipps upsetter Randomized (Nyquist), the Personal Ensign featured four runners from that June 8th race--all four finishing inside the top five and missing only the recently-retired Pretty Mischievous (Into Mischief). In fact, this is a group of fillies and mares who have taken turns beating or nearly beating one another. Cont. Pg. 3

MCPEEK, THORPEDO ANNA SWING FOR THE FENCES IN THE TRAVERS by Alan Carasso

When 'TDN Rising Star' Thorpedo Anna (Fast Anna) enters the gate for Saturday's $1.25-million GI Travers Stakes at Saratoga, it'll be more than a sporting gesture on the part of the ownership group and trainer Ken McPeek.

The conditioner is rolling the dice against a field that includes three other Grade I winners--an oft-brilliant, but sometimes unpredictable reigning Eclipse Award champion, a Classic winner over the course and distance and a seven-figure yearling whose full potential has yet to be realized.

Sure, Thorpedo Anna could have faced her peers in last weekend's GI Alabama Stakes, but having proved herself several lengths superior to that bunch in races like the GI Longines Kentucky Oaks and GI Acorn Stakes and GI CCA Oaks, there was little about a win in that event--historic though it is--that was going to enhance her CV.

The Travers entered the discussion, and McPeek announced to a FOX audience his intention to give his filly the opportunity to strut her stuff against the opposite sex.

Tactics will be interesting from the inside draw, but she is in receipt of five pounds from the boys, and though the task is daunting by definition, McPeek--who won the 2012 Travers with the dead-heating Golden Ticket (Speightstown)--doesn't come off as the least bit intimidated. Cont. Pg. 5

8-1 shot Soul of an Angel (Atreides) came just a head short of upsetting Idiomatic last out in the GIII Molly Pitcher Stakes at Monmouth July 20. Fourth in the Ogden Phipps two back, Raging Sea rebounded last out to take the GII Shuvee Stakes in what wound up being the perfect prep over course and distance July 21.

Breaking side by side in the outer two gates, it was Randomized who jumped first to the early lead Friday but Idiomatic was quick to counter punch and the pair took it to one another into the first turn while opening up a gap back to Xigera (Nyquist) and Raging Sea who took up a solo fourth. With neither conceding an inch up front, the opening quarter ticked off in :23.28 and it was far back the eventual winner who had just Soul of an Angel beat up the backstretch. It was Idiomatic who made the first real move into the far turn and, for a moment, looked free and clear as Randomized threw up the white flag and retreated through three-quarters in 1:10.53. But looming from the back was Raging Sea who just kept finding, despite switching back to the wrong lead at the sixteenth marker, down the Saratoga stretch and nailed last year's champion older dirt female in the shadow of the wire to top a Curlin-sired exacta.

"She [Raging Sea] had been training really well and the race set up for her," said winning trainer Chad Brown who also trained the fourth-place finisher Randomized. "Randomized and Idiomatic really hooked up there and it set it up for this horse. A little disappointed Randomized didn't fire as well, but she missed a little time with a couple little things between the last start and this start. I'm thinking maybe she felt it around the quarter pole. But Raging Sea--it was her day today, and she ran down a real Champion. I'm just so proud of her, so happy for Mr. Jon Clay, who bred this horse and actually RNA'd her as a yearling. He believed in her, sent her in to us, and she's really had a great career. Very rarely has she disappointed us. It's easy to be patient when you have a good owner like John. We rested her this winter, we brought her back and she's one of those horses that's just constantly improved--her pedigree would say she would. Obviously, we saw the best of her today."

Brown noted that the GI Spinster Stakes at Keeneland Oct. 6 would be next for his newest Grade I winner.

Winning jockey Flavien Prat added: "To be honest on the form, I knew I was going to make a run. I didn't know if they could hold me off or not. It felt like he [Florent Geroux aboard Idiomatic] was still going well from where I was, it was just a matter of if I could get there on time." Cont.

Pedigree Note:

Hill 'n' Dale's Curlin continues to produce at the top level with Raging Sea becoming his 23rd Grade I winner. Out of an unraced Storm Cat mare who brought $1.6m as a KEESEP yearling in 2007, she is her dam's first graded stakes winner but is a half to MSP Welcoming (Tapit), herself the dam of MSP Reconcile (War Front). Readers may recognize Raging Sea's third dam Weekend Surprise (Secretariat), the dam of none other than Horse of the Year and late leading sire A.P. Indy (Seattle Slew) along with MGISW Summer Squall (Storm Bird). Stormy Welcome last produced a yearling City of Light filly who sells at Keeneland September as hip 1827. She was barren to Curlin for this season but returned for another attempt at a full-sibling in 2025.

“I think if we had run in the Alabama, very good chance we would have won there,” McPeck told national media gathered for an NTRA teleconference earlier in the week. “But it’s also kind of beaten the point that, ‘OK, she’s a great 3-year-old filly, but the fact that we get a weight break and she’s here, and she’s doing well, and I’m not overly intimidated by this group of colts. So at this point, we’re here, and it’s good chance to find out how good or great she could be.”

‘Rising Star’ Fierceness (City of Light) will look to become the first Todd Pletcher-trained Travers winner since Stay Thirsty won for Fierceness owner Mike Repole in 2011. As always, the question is: which version of Fierceness will show up on the day? The one that aired in the GI Breeders’ Cup Juvenile and GI Curlin Florida Derby could win this by daylight, but his third at 1-5 in the GIII Holy Bull Stakes and 15th as the favorite in the GI Kentucky Derby won’t do on Saturday. And off a ‘good’ win in the GII Jim Dandy Stakes last time, is another poor effort in the offing and as one of the top two betting choices at that?

“We contemplated running in the Belmont but felt like Fierceness was little tired, lost a little weight, wasn’t quite training like he normally does,” Pletcher said. “So [we] decided to freshen him up, and I think it paid dividends with a with a big performance in the Jim Dandy against the quality field, and put the derby experience behind us. And I love the way he’s been training since then, so hopefully continues to move forward in the Travers.”

The field’s third ‘TDN Rising Star’ is Sierra Leone (Gun Runner), whose trainer Chad Brown would like to win this race as much--if not more--than any other. A colt that still gives the impression that he is an unfinished item, the $2.3-million Fasig-Tipton Saratoga topper from two summers ago ran well--just not well enough--in the Derby and in the Belmont and was runner-up to Fierceness in the Jim Dandy.

Those that view the glass as half-empty will say he was up to his old tricks and that he’s never going to get over the hump. Those with a more optimistic outlook will argue that it’s at least possible he turned a corner in terms of his professionalism and that a truly run race over a Classic distance could level the playing field.

“Hopefully a good pace develops in front of him, and he can navigate a clean trip without getting stopped and come with his late run,” said Brown. “And hopefully at a mile and a mile and a quarter, it’s good enough to get there in time.”

Brown also saddles the progressive ‘TDN Rising Star’ Unmatched Wisdom (Cairo Prince), who makes his graded stakes debut Saturday off a front-running victory in the restricted Curlin Stakes July 19.

Were there such a thing as an ‘honorary’ Rising Star, that would certainly be awarded to Dornoch (Good Magic). The full-brother to 2023 Derby winner Mage is perhaps the most blue-collar of Saturday’s top chances, but he’s clawed and scraped his way to wins in the GI Belmont Stakes and GI Haskell Stakes and he’s a nickel on the dollar to battle every step of the way in the Travers.

“Well, I mean, it’s like living a dream,” trainer Danny Gargan said in the teleconference. “It’s hard to win three Grade Is in a row. He’s doing really well, but it’s a tough feat. He’s been fighting hard these last couple races. We just hope he shows up and shows that fight again.” Cont.

'Time' Is Of the Essence in Sword Dancer

At one point over the last few months, it appeared that 2022 GI Breeders' Cup Turf hero Rebel's Romance (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) had the GI Sword Dancer Invitational Stakes on his agenda. While the 6-year-old is targeting a campaign towards a return trip to Hong Kong in December, his talented younger half-brother Measured Time (GB) (Frankel {GB}) is here in his stead and should take plenty of beating.

The homebred is batting .750 over the course of his eight-race career to date, having posted convincing wins in the G2 Al Rashidiya Stakes and G1 Jebel Hatta Stakes in Dubai over the winter. Fourth, but beaten just over a length in a hot and subsequently productive renewal of the G1 Dubai Turf at Meydan Mar. 30, the bay offered relative value at better than 3-1 in the GI Resorts World Casino Manhattan Stakes over this course June 8 and he sat handy to a modest pace before storming home to score by two lengths. Immediately behind was stablemate Nations Pride (Ire) (Teofilo {Ire}), who returned to post a facile success in the GI Arlington Million on Aug. 11.

Another stable companion, namely Silver Knott (GB) (Lope de Vega {Ire}), has been made the even-money favorite in the Sword Dancer and seems to like the American variety of racing. Outside the top three just once from nine starts in this country, the gelding is perfect in his three runs this term, including an all-the-way victory in the GII Bowling Green Stakes at this venue July 28, where he had the comebacking Soldier Rising (GB) (Frankel {GB}) 2 1/2 lengths back in second.

The Sword Dancer serves as a 'Win and You're In' qualifier for this year's Breeders' Cup Turf at Del Mar Nov. 2.

'Danno' Looks To Repeat the Dose in Jerkens

No one could have--or should have--taken issue with the connections of Book'em Danno (Bucchero) had they opted to run for the same pot against a dramatically easier field at Charles Town Friday evening instead of Saturday's GI H. Allen Jerkens Memorial Stakes. But after some deliberation, trainer Derek Ryan ships into the Spa for the second time in three months, looking for his charge to add to his sensational success in the GI Woody Stephens Stakes on the Belmont undercard June 8.

Book'em Danno | Sarah Andrew

On that occasion, the New Jersey-bred gelding sat reasonably close to a hot pace and made an early bid for the lead. In front by a space with just a furlong to go, the dark bay held sway to take it by a half-length over 'TDN Rising Star' Prince of Monaco (Speightstown). Book'em Danno exits a hard-fought victory over the re-opposing Little Ni (Mohaymen) in the July 19 Jersey Shore Stakes at Monmouth. The latter has since been sold and goes out for Mark Casse on Saturday.

It can be argued that Prince of Monaco lost the Stephens at the break, when he was pinched back and bumped, and he nearly bridged a 14-length deficit nevertheless. He makes the cross-country trip again, but will have to deal with a new rider--albeit a Hall of Famer--in the form of John Velazquez.

Flavien Prat forced that decision by opting to stick with Klaravich Stable's Domestic Product, whose sire validated 2-1 favoritism in the 2017 Jerkens. The Klaravich homebred won this year's GIII Lambholm South Tampa Bay Derby, albeit with a very modest speed figure, and was a well-beaten second in the Listed Pegasus Stakes after finishing 13th in the Derby. He cut back to one turn for his latest and responded with a 7 1/2-length romp Irado Ortiz, Jr. boldly deserts Book'em Danno in favor of the lightly raced 'TDN Rising Star' Speak Easy (Constitution). Sidelined off a 1 3/4-length debut score at Gulfstream Jan. 27, he returned with a handy 2 1/4-length allowance success July 27. WinStar Farm and Siena Farm are also represented by the rail-drawn World Record (Gun Runner), who set lively fractions en route to a 6 3/4-length tally over Jefferson Street (Street Sense) in the GII Amsterdam Stakes July 26.

Vahva, Prima In The Ballerina

Potentially one of the shortest-priced favorites on the Travers card could be Vahva (Gun Runner), who is at the top of the female sprint division. Trainer Cherie DeVaux has the 4-year-old firing on all cylinders after the filly won the GI Derby City Distaff and the GIII Chicago Stakes--both at Churchill Downs. Her ability to lay just off the speed makes her exceedingly dangerous when the stretch arrives.

Scylla | Sarah Andrew

Standing in her way are a pair of Juddmonte homebreds in 'TDN Rising Star' Scylla (Tapit) and Accede (Into Mischief). The former, trained by Bill Mott, won the GII Fasig-Tipton Fleur de Lis Stakes by a neck under the Twin Spires June 29 before finishing runner-up behind Adare Manor (Uncle Mo) in the GI Clement L. Hirsch Stakes at Del Mar Aug. 3.

As for Accede, the Chad Brown trainee won the GII Bed o' Roses Stakes during the Belmont at the Big A meet June 15 and was the runner-up in the GII Honorable Miss Stakes at the Spa July 24.

Society (Gun Runner) has a top level win to her credit, but it came almost two years ago at Parx in the GI Cotillion Stakes. Trained by Steve Asmussen, the 5-year-old ran third in the Chicago in her lone 2024 start. --J. N. Campbell

The Class Climber

In the GI Forego Stakes, Mullikin (Violence) was made the 8-5 morning-line favorite by David Aragona. The colt earned that nod after he cleared the allowance ranks at Keeneland in April, won an optional claimer at Churchill Downs in early June and last out took home his first graded win in the GII John A. Nerud Stakes at Saratoga July 6. Not only is the 4-year-old in search of his first Grade I, but so is his conditioner, Rodolphe Brisset.

“We are not scared of taking a shot, obviously it is a little bit different when you lead one over there at 8-5, but for us it doesn’t change anything,” said Brisset. “The routine is going to be the same. We know how to handle the pressure. I have been around those good horses for a long time. That is the good part of it.”

Up to the task of playing spoiler are a bevy of challengers including the Three Chimneys-owned and Steve Asmussen trained Gun Pilot (Gun Runner). The colt won the GI Churchill Downs Stakes on the Derby undercard, but finished third in the GII True North Stakes at the Spa June 8. The winner was Baby Yoda (Prospective), who returns in the Forego after finishing fourth over the same surface in the GI Alfred G. Vanderbilt Handicap July 27.

Wathnan Racing's Cagliostro (Upstart) rolls into town off a strong performance in the one-mile Hanshin Stakes in Louisville June 30. The colt trained by Cherie DeVaux is used to facing older company and the 4-year-old seems well-suited to one-turn races. --J. N. Campbell

While the O'Brien is clearly a means to an end for Senor Buscador, it is anything but that for Cal-bred sensation The Chosen Vron (Vronsky), who looks to make it seven consecutive victories. Only fifth in that 2022 renewal, the chestnut filled that spot in last year's GI Breeders' Cup Sprint, snapping an eight-race winning streak. Since then, the closest he has come to not getting his picture taken was three back when besting Happy Jack (Oxbow) by three-parts of a length in the Apr. 27 Kona Gold Stakes at Santa Anita. He's already posted a victory at the current meet, a successful defense of his title in the GI Bing Crosby Stakes July 27.

CAITLINHERGRITNESS BEATS THE BOYS IN THE KING'S PLATE by Alan Carasso

Caitlinhergrtness | Michael Burns

Perhaps done in by a two-week turnaround when just beaten in the July 20 Woodbine Oaks, Siena Farm and WinStar Farm's Caitlinhergrtness (Omaha Beach) proved possibly the biggest beneficiary of the six-day postponement of the C$1-million King's Plate, clawing her way past heavily favored My Boy Prince (Cairo Prince) in the final 40 yards.

The $375,000 OBS April breezer was off at 9-1 in the King's Plate--a race in which the fillies had more than held their own against their male counterparts--and took up a forward position from between horses in the second flight for Rafael Hernandez as stablemates Essex Serpent (Honor Code)--last-out winner of the GIII Marine Stakes--and My Boy Prince vied on a good pace up front.

Sahin Civaci allowed the chalk to claim Essex Serpent fully three furlongs from home, setting him a tall staying task over a 10-furlong trip at which he was perhaps a bit suspect. Nevertheless, My Boy Prince carried the lead past the eighth pole, but by this time, Caitlinhergrtness was bearing down and she grinded her way past in the shadow of the post. Midnight Mascot (Army Mule) ran on nicely for third.

Caitlinhergrtness, named in honor of WNBA hoops star Caitlin Clark, is the sixth filly to beat the boys in Canada's premier 3-year-old race since Inglorious (Hennessy) in 2011. Hernandez and trainer Kevin Attard teamed to win the race when still known as the Queen's Plate with Moira (Ghostzapper) in 2022.

"She's obviously all class and all racehorse. She's handled everything really well," the winning conditioner said. "She's withstanding everything we've thrown at her. I was happy with where he [Hernandez] positioned her the whole way around there and at the quarter pole, I thought we had a shot.

"She gave it all she had," continued Attard. "My Boy Prince, kudos to him. He put in a gallant effort today. You know, he was a little suspect by a lot of people going this far, but he just proved what kind of class horse he is. I think our filly's pretty special, and it took everything she had to run him down, and she's the champ."

Originally trained by Todd Pletcher, Caitlinhergrtness was a second-out maiden winner going Aqueduct's one-turn mile last September ahead of a fourth as the favorite in the Nov. 5 Tempted S. Fourth in a Valentine's Day allowance at Gulfstream, she was transferred to this barn and won her turf bow July 6. She was all but home in the Oaks last time, only to be chinned on the wire by Kin's Concerto (Mendelssohn).

Pedigree Notes:

Caitlinhergrtness is the eighth worldwide black-type winner for Omaha Beach, who was recently represented by Band of Brothers (Aus), a Group 3 winner in Melbourne, as well as new 'TDN Rising Star' With the Angels at Saratoga Aug. 22. The King's Plate winner is the 223rd worldwide stakes winner out of a daughter of the legendary Giant's Causeway.

A $135,000 buyback at the 2010 Keeneland September Sale, Belatrix was sent to Brazil, where she made five starts for three runner-up efforts at Gavea. The dam of two Brazilian-bred foals, Belatrix was repatriated in 2017 and in 2020, was purchased by breeder Jesse Korona for $40,000 with this filly in utero at the Keeneland November Sale.

A half-sister to MSW & GISP Dogtag (War Front) and to the dam of Australian MGSW & MG1SP Osipenko (NZ) (Pierro {Aus}), Caitlinhergrtness counts Street Cry (Ire)'s full-sister Helsinki as her third dam. The latter has left her mark on the breed as the dam of the influential MG1SW sire Shamardal (Giant's Causeway) and GSW Geoffrey Chaucer (Montjeu {Ire}). Belatrix was purchased by Sean S. Perl Bloodstock for $11,000 in foal to Greatest Honour at KEENOV last year, but did not produce a foal and was covered by Loggins this season.

HANDICAPPING SATURDAY'S TRAVERS CARD AT SARATOGA by Steve Sherack

TDN's Senior Racing Editor Steve Sherack handicaps Saturday's five Grade I races at Saratoga, headed by the 155th renewal of the Travers.

GI Sword Dancer (Race 9) - Can't envision a scenario where the Sword Dancer doesn't go through either of the Godolphin/Charlie Appleby runners Measured Time (GB) (#2) or Silver Knott (GB) (#4), who both enter off impressive graded wins over the Saratoga lawn. Silver Knott is already proven at this 1 1/2-mile trip and has never been in better form, and we still may not have seen the best yet from Measured Time, who stretches out off his two-length win over subsequent GI Arlington Million winner and stablemate Nations

Arcangelo winning the 2023 Travers | Sarah Andrew

Pride (Ire) in the GI Manhattan. I'll be using both of them for equal amounts in my multi-race wagers, but if I had to give a slight edge to one of the two, let's go with Measured Time.
Top Selection: #2 Measured Time (7-5).

GI Ballerina (Race 10) - F/M Sprint division leader Vahva (#3) comes into the Ballerina fresh (working bullets at Keeneland) and in career form following powerful wins in the GI Derby City Distaff and GIII Chicago, both at Churchill Downs. She should also sit an ideal, stalking trip behind Society and Munnys Gold, who figure to hook up early. If anyone can take down the favorite--it certainly won't be easy--it will be Scylla (#5). Hall of Famer Bill Mott confidently brings her back just three weeks following a very good second in the GI Clement L. Hirsch at Del Mar and also turns her back to one turn. Top Selection: #3 Vahva (1-1).

THE World's YEARLING SALE

GI Forego (Race 11) - Will Run Classic (#5) get enough pace up front to help set up his kick? While I'm not entirely confident that will happen (you can never be too certain on this circuit these days), I've been impressed enough with how Run Classic has finished off his two races at Gulfstream this term for Jose D'Angelo to find out at anything near the morning-line quote of 5-1. Seventh in the G1 Dubai Golden Shaheen, he prepped for this with a very strong rallying second in his South Florida return in the Smile Sprint. Absolutely no knocks on the in-form Mullikin (#6), who is the clear-cut horse to beat; and Angkor (#7) will also be on some of my tickets at a nice number as well. Top Selection: #5 Run Classic (5-1).

GI H. Allen Jerkens Memorial (Race 12) - Domestic Product (#3) took his game to the next level with a visually impressive blowout win turning back to a one-turn mile in the Gill Dwyer downstate and will cut back an additional furlong in this fantastic renewal of the Allen Jerkens. Trainer Chad Brown has won this race two previous times with Domestic Product's sire Practical Joke (2017) and Jack Christopher (2022), who were both turning back from third-place finishes in the GI Haskell. Certainly a fantastic sign to see Flavien Prat remain aboard after also recently partnering GII Amsterdam winner World Record, GI Woody Stephens second Prince of Monaco and Haskell third Timberlake. Jefferson Street (#10) will be too big of a price not to include on some tickets after being against the track as the heavy favorite in the Amsterdam; and they'll all have to beat deserving favorite Book'em Danno (#8), who has done absolutely nothing wrong in his eight-career starts. Top Selection: #3 Domestic Product (9-2).

GI Travers (Race 13) – Ever since Corporate Power (#4) debuted with a promising fourth-place finish on the Pegasus World Cup undercard (highlighted in our 'Second Chances' series), I've been patiently waiting to see what the son of Curlin could do in a race where he could sit back and make one big run going the Classic distance. This spot couldn't get any tougher, but he'll finally get that opportunity at a big price Saturday. He's added two narrow wins since his aforementioned debut sprinting at Gulfstream and had to sit much closer to the pace than I think he really wants while facing small fields, including a runner-up finish in the local Curlin. There appears to be plenty of pace signed on for him to close into if he's good enough to compete at the top level. Having 11 Travers wins between Hall of Famers Shug McGaughey and Javier Castellano (could be a big day for Javy) certainly doesn't hurt his chances, either. The expected pace scenario will also favorably play to the hand of Sierra Leone (#2), who is more than capable of delivering in a race of this caliber after a pair of well-documented defeats as the chalk. Those two will have to run down the ultra-game Dornoch (#7), who certainly won't go down without a fight. Top Selection: #4 Corporate Power (15-1).

SARATOGA NOTEBOOK: WORK IS DONE, NOW IT'S ALL UP TO THORPEDO ANNA

by Tim Wilkin

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y.--There was a steady stream of people ambling over to trainer Kenny McPeek's barn at the Annex behind the Oklahoma Training Track Friday morning. They all wanted to send good thoughts to him and his 3-year-old filly, Thorpedo Anna (Fast Anna), as Saturday's $1.25 million GI Travers Stakes at Saratoga Race Course quickly approached.

McPeek, standing outside his office with his canine companion Sony at his side, accepted all the positive vibes. Some lucky ones were even able to secure a pink Thorpedo Anna baseball cap, which were delivered to McPeek's barn courtesy of Fasig-Tipton.

"We're relaxed," McPeek said Friday morning. "I'm not nervous. My work is done."

Thorpedo Anna will attempt to become the first filly since 1915 to win the Midsummer Derby. She is also the first since Wonder Gadot in 2018 to run in the race; she finished last.

McPeek is hip to the history of fillies in the Travers. He has done some research. He knows what a big deal it would be if Thorpedo Anna could pull this off.

Thorpedo Anna | Sarah Andrew

And he is not about to take any credit for what Thorpedo Anna has done to earn her shot at possibly making history. She has won all four of her starts this year--three of them Grade I's--by a combined 18 3/4 lengths. It's all on her.

"It is her that has dragged us here because she has been so dominant," McPeek said. "I didn't wake up saying 'I want to win the Travers with a filly.' I have a filly that really deserves a chance at it. She dragged us here. I didn't push it."

But here she is. Thorpedo Anna, who will start from the rail with jockey Brian Hernandez, is the 3-1 co-second choice on the morning line (along with Fierceness (City of Light)). Among those she will face in the eight-horse field are Dornoch (Good Magic), the GI Belmont Stakes and GI Haskell Stakes winner and Sierra Leone (Gun Runner), who is overdue to win one of these big race.

"I don't have any doubt that she will be competitive," McPeek said. "I think there is all to gain and not much to lose. If she wins, that's historic. If she doesn't, then we'll regroup and take her to Parx and win the (GI) Cotillion."

Cox Says Timberlake Should Thrive When He Tries Cutback In Allen Jerkens

It was during the running of the GI Haskell Stakes at Monmouth Park last month when trainer Brad Cox started thinking about the 500,000 GI Allen Jerkens, for his 3-year-old Timberlake (Into Mischief) which will be run Saturday at Saratoga. Cont.

“I figured it out at the eighth pole of the (1 1/8-mile) Haskell,” Cox said outside his barn at the Oklahoma Training Track.

After being part of the Triple Crown trail--Timberlake got off after fading in the GI Arkansas Derby on March 30--Cox gave him some time off before taking on a distance of ground in the Haskell.

Part of the third-place finish in the Haskell can be blamed on the layoff.

Cox is not convinced that Timberlake can't handle two turns and, before all is said and done, he might get that chance. For now though, it's the seven-furlong Allen Jerkens.

“That was a big ask in the Haskell going a mile and an eighth off that layoff,” Cox said. “I thought he ran a great race. I am not going to be too hard on him. Can he win going two turns? Absolutely. He showed that in the (GI) Rebel.”

Timberlake, who is owned by Siena Farm LLC and WinStar Farm LLC, will be reunited with jockey Florent Geroux, who was on board for the first five starts of Timberlake's career. He replaces Flavien Prat, who rode Timberlake in the Arkansas Derby and Haskell.

Prat, who could have ridden four horses in the Jerkens, chose Domestic Product (Practical Joke) for trainer Chad Brown.

Cox is optimistic the cutback will be something that Timberlake will relish. He tried seven furlongs twice before, breaking his maiden by 9 1/4 lengths in his maiden breaker and then finishing second in the GI Hopeful at the end of the 2023 Saratoga meet.

“This is something that will benefit him,” Cox said. “I love the horse. It's a hard race, but I think he is going to run a fantastic race. Maybe there will be a horse that jumps up ... hopefully it's him.”

Time Off Helps Vahva, The Even-Money Favorite In Ballerina

The last time Vahva (Gun Runner), a 4-year-old filly from the barn of Cherie DeVaux, ran was June 22 when she won the GIII Chicago at Churchill Downs.

Sixty-three days later and here she is, the even-money morning-line favorite for Saturday's $500,000 GI Ballerina at Saratoga.

The time off was by design.

“Last year, we had to give her time to get over her races,” DeVaux said outside her barn on the Saratoga backstretch. “In between her starts, we turn her out for a few weeks and bring her back and just target whatever race we are going for. She has shown up every time we have done that.”

In her career, Vahva has won six of 13 career starts with three seconds and two thirds.

Vahva | Sarah Andrew

Vahva, who will be ridden by Irad Ortiz Jr., has won five of her seven attempts at seven furlongs; she was second in the other two.

Five of her last seven starts have been at the distance, all in graded stakes. She has won four of them.

“It seems to be her specialty,” DeVaux said of seven furlongs. “Six of six and a half is too short and a mile could be in her wheelhouse. For now, we are going to keep her where she is most effective. She just tries every time she runs.”

DeVaux also has Cagliostro (Upstart) entered in the $500,000, GI Forego. The 4-year-old colt, like Vahva, has won two of three starts this year. In his last start, he won the listed Hanshin Stakes at Churchill Downs by a length.

He is 9-2 on the Forego morning line.

Cagliostro is cutting back to seven furlongs, a distance he has not run since his first career start. That came at Saratoga in 2022, and he finished sixth.

“We just want to see how effective he can be,” DeVaux said. “I think he can handle it. He can handle two turns going a mile. I don't know about 1 1/8 miles. He seems to lose his kick late in those races.”

KEENELAND AUGUST FLASH SALE INCLUDES DAM, HALF-SISTER TO BLACK FORZA

Black Forza | Racingfotos

Keeneland will offer an August Flash Sale featuring the 'Black Forza Collection' which will include Harlee Honey (Harlan's Holiday), the dam of G2 Richmond Stakes winner Black Forza (Complexity) as well as Ocean Honey (West Coast), his 4-year-old half-sister.

Online bidding will begin Monday, Aug. 26 at noon ET and will close at 3 p.m. ET on Thursday, Aug. 29. More detail on each of the horses, including pedigree pages, walking videos, conformation photos and repository information is available by clicking here. It is the first Keeneland Flash Sale since 2021.

Now 11 years of age, the winning Harlee Honey is being offered in foal to Zandon and is being consigned to the Flash Sale by Legacy Bloodstock, agent. A daughter of the multiple stakes-placed Absolute Nectar (Carson City), Harlee Honey is a half-sister to GII Santa Ynez Stakes winner California Nectar (Stormy Atlantic) and SW Redstart (Blame). Ocean Honey is offered as a broodmare prospect only by Paramount Sales.

Both Harlee Honey and Ocean Honey are available for in-person inspection in the Lexington area prior to or during the sale. To view Harlee Honey at Rosemont Farm in Lexington, contact Tommy Eastham. To see Ocean Honey at Dundrum Farm in Versailles, contact Lesley Campion.

"Keeneland is pleased to offer these two exciting individuals from the family of Black Forza, one of the most promising juveniles racing in the world today," Keeneland Vice President of Sales Tony Lacy said. "This unique collection and Flash Sale, along with the newly announced Keeneland Championship Sale at Del Mar prior to the Breeders' Cup World Championships, show Keeneland's commitment to providing our customers with tailored and innovative sales offerings while partnering with clients to craft sales experiences to meet emerging trends in our industry."

By the hot freshman sire Complexity (Maclean's Music), Black Forza was bred in Kentucky by Dash Goff and won his maiden at second asking at Fairyhouse in Ireland before scoring by a half-length in the Richmond at Goodwood Aug. 1. Sold for $27,000 as a Keeneland November weanling and for $65,000 as a yearling, Black Forza was hammered down to Michael O'Callaghan for £220,000 ($273,903) at this year's Goffs UK 2YO Breeze-Up Sale.

Lacy said that Keeneland had taken an admittedly cautious approach to digital sales, by design.

"My background in the digital space is that I helped Arqana set up Arqana Online and I'm a big believer in the digital space, but also there's no action without a repercussion," said Lacy, who served as Arqana's American representative prior to his joining Keeneland. "What we're doing and the way we're approaching it is that we're supporting the people who support us in every aspect. We're doing this in partnership with Paramount and Legacy Bloodstock."

Keeneland held their first flash sale in 2020, in the midst of the Covid pandemic, but hasn't held one in three years. "We wanted to take a pause," Lacy explained. "Everyone is in the space. There's a new startup every day. We want to make sure any digital sale has the same feel, holds to the same standards, has the same transparency as what you'd get in a normal brick-and-mortar auction. We're looking to do this in a select manner. You should see no difference between the two activities--digital and brick and mortar. It's all one. It's all one business model. We've been very cautious. Every live sale we do has a digital aspect to it. We're trying to refine how people interact with us remotely to make it as seamless as possible." Lacy said that the live inspection of stock by professionals was an integral part of the sales process.

"You can't do something to undermine the people who support you on a brick-and-mortar sale, the ecosystem that makes it possible," said Lacy, a former partner in Four Star Sales. "I've been on both sides of this, both as a consignor, an agent, and a sales consultant. What I'm afraid of is that digital sales are removing the most critical area of the process and one of the most valuable skills and that's horsemanship. (Digital) may be a cheaper way to (sell horses) but the conditions of sale have to be rock solid through every aspect and that's not something that's consistent in this space. We have had the ability to do this the last two years, but we were uncomfortable about many aspects of how it was evolving. We were focusing on our core business. We've got to maintain the relationship between the horsemen and the principals, the excitement, the theater. Otherwise, it just becomes a transaction."

HONOR MARIE, MO PLEX HEADLINE BIG TRAVERS WEEKEND FOR LEGION

BLOODSTOCK by Katie Petrunyak

Click here for our visit with Honor Marie and other Legion Bloodstock graduates | Sarah Andrew

Kyle Zorn considers himself and his partners Travis Durr and Kristian Villante to be a group of big thinkers. The trio set out with some pretty high expectations for themselves when they formed Legion Bloodstock three years ago, but looking back now, they never could have predicted the initial success that their partnership has enjoyed.

Over the next few days in Saratoga, Legion Bloodstock's handiwork will be on full display. Their biggest find to date, Grade II winner Honor Marie (Honor Code), takes on the GI Travers Stakes, but there are plenty of other loaded runners throughout the weekend.

Insubordination (Ire) (Bungle Inthejungle {GB}) will get his first try on turf for George Weaver and partners Two Eight Racing, Berry Family Racing and Kaleta Racing on Saturday. The 2023 Goffs Orby Yearling Sale purchase was runner-up in his debut over a sloppy track at Saratoga on Aug 3. In the same race Papiamento (Medaglia d'Oro), a $250,000 OBS March purchase, will make his second career start for Whit Beckman and owners Ryan and Larisa Kamp.

On Sunday Bellacose (Audible), an eye-catching debut winner for Jeremiah Englehart, runs in the Seeking the Ante Stakes. Resolute Racing purchased a majority share in the New York-bred juvenile filly earlier this week. Later in the card, GIII Sanford Stakes victor Mo Plex (Complexity) is the morning-line favorite in the Funny Cide Stakes for R and H Stable.

"To have a horse in the Kentucky Derby with Honor Marie and then to have really nice horses like Mo Plex, Bellacose and so many others, I don't think we expected to have quite the influx of good horses so quickly," admitted Zorn. "To have so many horses come out of these racing groups and then individual horses that we bought for clients show up on the big stage like they have, it's been pretty awesome."

Prior to launching Legion, Zorn was the racing manager for owner Maribeth Sandford. Over the years as he was working the sales, he would repeatedly run into Villante, a former assistant to Todd Pletcher who was working as a bloodstock agent, and Durr, who ran a training center in South Carolina. The group formed an easy friendship and when they started landing on the same horses at the sales, they began discussing how they might combine forces and build something that was bigger than themselves.

The result was Legion Bloodstock, a full-service bloodstock agency. Not only does the group select horses for their clients, but they also run their own racing syndicate through Legion Racing and provide the opportunity for racing management services.

Honor Marie is a prime example of the full gamut of their operation. Purchased by the group at the 2022 Keeneland September Sale, the son of Honor Code broke his maiden on debut last year for Legion Racing. Afterwards, co-owners Kerry and Alan Ribble bought out the rest of the Legion partnership. Michael Eiserman, Earl Silver, and Dave and Kenneth Fishbein eventually joined the ownership group after Honor Marie's win in the GII Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes.

Along the way, Legion has served as racing manager for the Whit Beckman-trained colt.

"When [the Ribbles] approached us, they wanted somebody that could not only buy the horse, but kind of help them with the steps along the way afterwards," explained Zorn. "So we feel like we are part of the team. Whit has done such an unbelievable job with him. He's a quirky horse and he's a May foal so he has had that against him as he has gone against some of these big-bodied colts, but he has just been so awesome along the way. Every race, he gives it his all." Cont.

After a troubled start in both the GI Kentucky Derby and the GI Belmont Stakes where he closed late to finish fourth, Honor Marie will be a bit of an underdog in the Travers.

“He’s had some bad racing luck out of the gate, but he showed that he belongs with these horses,” said Zorn. “I loved Whit’s plan to get him up here and train all summer. He has really thrived up here. He’s grown and filled out. We were hoping to get this opportunity, but it was Whit’s decision. If Whit said he wanted to drop back and punt and look for an easier race, we would have supported him in that. But the fact that we are here, I think we’re live. He’s going to be a longshot on paper, but I expect this horse to run a big race.”

Mo Plex is another colt that Zorn believes has a big shot this weekend. The New York-bred Jeremiah Englehart trainee romped to a 10-length win in his first start at Aqueduct on June 20 prior to his Sanford victory. Englehart was considering the GI Hopeful, but opted to stack the colt up against state-bred company in the Funny Cide Stakes and if all goes well, target the GI Champagne Stakes next.

“I love Jeremiah’s plan with this horse,” said Zorn. “Even though he’s a big colt, he’s still maturing. This horse is literally growing by the minute so I’m really excited to see him run on Sunday.”

Nearly all of Legion’s purchases are sent directly to Travis Durr’s training center after the sales. According to Zorn, that’s a big part of what has made Legion so successful in its inaugural years. Not only does Durr have an intimate knowledge of each horse and can place them with trainers that might fit their style, but he can also give his partners an inside look at the type of horses their program could benefit from buying.

In the case of Mo Plex, Durr had worked with Complexity’s offspring over the winter and told Zorn and Villante to keep an eye on the first-crop sire going into the 2-year-old sales. The Legion team landed on Mo Plex at this year’s OBS April Sale and purchased the Jesse Hoppel-consigned colt for Englehart’s JCE Racing for just $45,000.

Honor Marie was also a value buy for the team. Villante recalled spotting the colt at Keeneland September and purchasing him for $40,000.

“I think he was a case of getting lost in the shuffle,” Villante explained. “He was in a later book and being by Honor Code, that wasn’t really what anyone was necessarily looking for at that time. He was a very athletic horse and he’s not the biggest horse in the world, but he moved well and seemed very classy. Especially when you’re trying to shop on a budget, you’re better off buying the athlete and not necessarily worrying about the pedigree as much.”

Legion has enjoyed success with bigger-ticket purchases as well. They bought Tricky Temper (Into Mischief) for $230,000 at last year’s OBS April Sale for Mark Stanley. Another Englehart trainee, the filly is two-for-two this meet in Saratoga, getting her second career stakes win in her latest start in the Union Avenue Handicap on Aug. 16. Carlisle Bay (Speightstown) came out of last year’s Fasig-Tipton Saratoga Sale for $400,000. The Barbara Minshall-trained juvenile won on debut at Woodbine in May and has since placed in the My Dear Stakes for Hoolie Racing.

There are plenty of other Legion-purchased 2-year-olds that have yet to make their debuts. Villante estimated that they have around 40 juveniles to watch in this year’s crop. A little under half of those are owned by Legion Racing, although many are being bought out as their client list grows.

The Legion team is particularly excited about the horses they purchased at last year’s Goffs Orby Sale. Insubordination was one of their Book 2 purchases, but they also came home with half a dozen yearlings in Book 1. Among the group, they are particularly high on an Earthlight (Ire) colt they bought for €140,000. Named Mary’s Lad (Ire), the juvenile is preparing for a debut with Beckman this fall. Cont.

Zorn, Villante and Durr will all be in Saratoga this weekend, but afterwards their focus will turn to the Keeneland September Sale. Already this summer, Legion Bloodstock has signed the ticket on four yearlings at Fasig-Tipton July and another seven at the Fasig-Tipton New York-bred Sale, where at one point they bought three consecutive hips at the auction for a combined $230,000.

“The New York-bred Sale didn't unfold how we thought it would when we bought three hips in a row, but really it's about being at the right spot at the right time and having our homework done,” said Villante. “We're probably going to go to Keeneland with a similar mindset and try to buy a handful there. From there we go to Goffs and then back here for October in Kentucky.”

“You can't buy any horses if you don't have clients willing to put out the money to give you the chance to buy them,” he continued. “We could all go to sales and identify which ones are good, but ultimately those who buy them are the ones that have the clients that are willing to pay for them.”

Villante credits their clients as well as their trainers for Legion's early success. The majority of Legion Racing-owned horses are sent to Englehart, Beckman or Barbara Minshall. Villante and Beckman got to know each other when they worked for Todd Pletcher together and then when Legion was formed a few years ago, Beckman was starting out on his own as a trainer around the same time. Durr and Englehart have shopped the sales together for many year and Durr also has a longstanding relationship with Minshall from breaking and training 2-year-olds for several of Minshall's clients.

“I think that our group has grown and taken the strides it has taken because of the relationships we have with one another and with our trainers,” said Villante. “Everyone has the same common goal. It's not really one of us carrying the team. It's all of us pulling the rope the same direction.”

Legion has seen demand from their clients for specialty syndicates, including a New York-bred partnership and another group that buys out of Ireland. Next, they have plans to launch Legion Ladies, an all-female racing syndicate. Lindsay O'Hara, who formerly served as Director of Sales and Nominations for the Breeders' Cup, will join the team as ambassador for Legion Ladies.

“We've seen the success other racing groups have had with women-only groups, so we wanted to make our own version of it,” said Zorn. “When we started talking about Legion Ladies, there was an instantaneous following.”

Creating opportunities to make racing enjoyable--as well as hopefully profitable--for their clients is a main area of focus for the Legion team.

“The biggest thing for us is we treat this as a business, but it's also fun for us,” said Zorn. “Myself, Travis and Kristian, we're all fans of horse racing first. It's a passion and we try to share that with owners, making sure that they're having a good time with this because if it's not fun for everybody, then what's the point in doing it?”

“I think the biggest thing for us is loyalty,” he continued. “People are investing their money with us and they're putting their trust in us. We want people to feel like we're doing the best job for them. We're placing these horses with the best people and we want to make sure that the horses we buy speak for themselves.”

SECOND CHANCES: 'HIGH HOPES FROM DAY ONE' FOR MCKINZIE FILLY MANCUSO, A STRONG SECOND ON DEBUT AT DEL MAR

by Steve Sherack

In this continuing series, TDN's Senior Racing Editor Steve Sherack catches up with the connections of promising maidens to keep on your radar.

Mancuso (f, 2, McKinzie--Medaglia d'Argento, by Medaglia d'Oro) came within a neck of putting an exclamation point on a banner weekend for her high-profile connections at Del Mar last Sunday.

Given a 7-1 chance in her unveiling for trainer Phil D'Amato, the Little Red Feather Racing colorbearer broke well from her inside draw and was ridden along by Antonio Fresu to chase in a joint second while caught in some traffic through a very sharp opening quarter in :21.37.

The heavily favored Bob Baffert-trained second-time starter Usha (Tiz the Law) continued to motor heading into the far turn and was well clear approaching the quarter pole as Mancuso and the Baffert-trained $850,000 OBS April graduate Tenma (Nyquist) began to rally in tandem.

Mancuso raced in between the Baffert pair as they turned for home and threaded the needle beautifully as they straightened. With Usha the first to blink in the stretch, it was down to Mancuso and Tenma with neither giving an inch. Mancuso fought on bravely along the inside, but just couldn't hold off Tenma in a race that didn't deserve a loser.

The final time for 5 1/2 furlongs over the fast main track was 1:04.22. Mancuso earned a very solid 77 Beyer Speed Figure.

"We've had high hopes from day one and we were patiently waiting for the right spot," Little Red Feather's Founder and Managing Partner Billy Koch said.

Legion has seen demand from their clients for specialty syndicates, including a New York-bred partnership and another group that buys out of Ireland. Next, they have plans to launch Legion Ladies, an all-female racing syndicate. Lindsay O'Hara, who formerly served as Director of Sales and Nominations for the Breeders' Cup, will join the team as ambassador for Legion Ladies.

We want people to feel like we're doing the best job for them. We're placing these horses with the best people and we want to make sure that the horses we buy speak for themselves."

"I thought she handled everything really well and I don't think she had the greatest trip of all time always being down on the inside. Turning for home it got exciting, but she was still in between horses and almost had to check a little bit because the other Baffert was tiring. Antonio Fresu said that he never could go to the whip because (Tenma) was so close and he didn't want to hit (Mancuso) left-handed thinking she might react and bump into the other filly. She's still learning and is a little bit inexperienced, but obviously the talent is there."

Koch added with a laugh, "And who knows? If she was on the outside, maybe the roles would've been reversed and we'd be a 'TDN Rising Star' instead of on maiden watch."

Mancuso hails from the first crop of McKinzie, who is responsible for six winners, including 'TDN Rising Star' Chancer McPatrick. Bred in Kentucky by Silesia Farm, Mancuso brought $115,000 as a yearling out of the Warrendale Sales consignment at last year's Keeneland September sale. Mancuso's four-time winning dam Medaglia d'Argento, a daughter of Gill Valley View Stakes winner Meribel (Peaks and Valleys), brought $110,000 from breeder Silesia Farm while in foal to The Factor at the 2016 Keeneland November sale.

Mancuso could make her next start in a 5 1/2-furlong maiden special weight on Del Mar's closing day card Sunday, Sept. 8, Koch said.

"She's a big, scopey filly with a lot of talent and we hope that she'll be able to stretch out at some point to longer distances," Koch said. "So far, she's done everything right. She ran the way we expected her to and it's exciting."

Little Red Feather and D'Amato also teamed up to win last Saturday's GI Del Mar Oaks with the unbeaten Little Red Feather campaigns Iscreamuscream in partnership with Agave Racing Stable, John Hundley, Jr., Marsha Naify and John and Stacey Snyder. Thought Process's ownership group also includes Madaket Stables and the Estate of Brereton C. Jones.

"It was a lot of a fun and Mancuso winning would've been the perfect capper to the weekend," Koch said. "Couldn't be prouder of the way the horses performed and the job that Phil D'Amato and his team have done. And for all the Little Red Feather partners, it was just a special weekend."

In a race that came down to the 2022 and 2023 winners respectively, it was Filo Di Arianna (Brz) who re-claimed the crown in a gate-to-wire victory in the rescheduled GII Bet365 King Edward Stakes at Woodbine. The now 8-year-old gelded son of Drosselmeyer, a champion in two countries as Brazil's champion 2-year-old colt in 2018 and Canada's champion male sprinter and male turf horse in 2022, missed last year's edition of the race--won by War Bomber (Ire)--to spend the summer at Saratoga--a trip the resulted in a sixth-place finish behind Casa Creed (Jimmy Creed) in the GIII Kelso Stakes last July. Unraced from that start until March of this year, Filo Di Arianna made a trio of starts in North America but only returned to the winner's circle once back in Canada for the GII Bet365 Highlander Stakes June 29.

Filo Di Arianna | Michael Burns

At his best on the front end, Friday's 3-5 favorite demanded the lead from the far outside gate and plowed his way there, lowering his head and taking jockey Shahin Civachi along for the ride to clear up the backstretch run ahead of 53-1 longshot Kaukokaipuu (Mr Speaker). Alone to set the tempo through fractions of :23.75 and :46.09. War Bomber made his move midway around the turn and the race's last two winners turned for home side by side. In a gutsy bob of heads all the way to the wire, it was Filo Di Arianna who just got the late edge over his rival to earn the win.

"I kind of feel if they were going to beat him, it was going to be today," admitted trainer Mark Casse. "I thought maybe he was about 85, 90 per cent. He's 8-years-old – as we get older, it's not as simple. We'll see – that's our target [the GI Woodbine Mile]."

Pedigree Note:

The Brazilian-bred Filo Di Arianna, one of 66 stakes winners for Drosselmeyer, is a son of Principessa Capri (Brz) (Northern Afleet)--a broodmare who is a perfect six for six of winners from runners. In addition to Friday's winner, she has also produced a pair of Brazilian G1 winners in Culo E Camica (Brz) (Agnes Gold {Jpn}) and Filo Di Arianna's full-brother, Monanfan (Brz) (Drosselmeyer). The dam herself, a winner in both Brazil and the United States, is a half to another G1 winner in Gata Y Flor (Brz) (Forestry). The family is rife with South American talent throughout including Brazilian champion 2-year-old filly Cores Do Brasil (Brz) (First American). The winner has a 2-year-old unraced full-sister named Di Capri and a weanling half-brother by Claiborne stallion War of Will.

Woodbine winning machine Patches O'Houlihan successfully defended his GIII Bold Venture S. title in wire-to-wire fashion Friday. He was sent to the front and faced some pressure through a half mile in :44.55. He shook free turning for home, led by 2 1/2 lengths at the stretch call and held safe.

The final time for 6 1/2 furlongs was 1:14.90, not far off the course record of 1:14.44, set by Noholdingback Bear July 1, 2016.

After wiring this same race in 2023, fan favorite Patches O'Houlihan held on gamely to record a nose victory in the GIII Vigil Stakes Sept. 16. His six-race winning streak came to an end when fifth in the GII Kennedy Road Stakes Nov. 18, then was given some time off. He returned to action in style with a runaway win in the Pink Lloyd Stakes versus fellow Ontario-breds July 28.

"He's a very good horse, and he's proved it again today," winning trainer Bob Tiller said. "And we're blessed and very happy to win it. So, I'm thrilled. I'm absolutely thrilled. You know, we'll carry on from here. He's been training really super."

Pedigree Notes:

Patches O'Houlihan is one of two graded winners for his sire Reload, a MGSW Phipps homebred. He is one of four graded winners for his broodmare sire Silent Name (Jpn). Six-time winner Maythefourthbwithu is also represented by a Souper Speedy colt of 2023 and a Reload colt of 2024. She was bred back to Oscar Performance. Owner/breeder Frank Di Giulio, Jr. purchased Maythefourthbwithu for $3,549 at the 2012 Canadian September Select Yearling sale.

DR. HERNANDO PLATA-MADRID DIES AT 63

Veterinarian and theriogenologist Dr. Hernando Plata-Madrid passed away at the age of 63 according to an obituary released by his family Friday. The following was provided to the TDN courtesy of the Plata family:

“Hernando Plata-Madrid, 63, of Versailles, KY, passed away on the morning of August 18. Hernando was born July 14, 1961, in Bogota, Colombia, where as soon as he was able, he got busy with his favorite past time: work.

After getting his Doctorate in Veterinary Medicine from De La Salle University in Colombia and completing his internship, masters degree and theriogenology residency at the University of Missouri, Hernando would spend a year in Virginia Beach, VA where he would meet one Lisa Martin before moving to the Bluegrass. The pair would get married January 28, 1998, and would go on to have three children in daughters Gabrielle and Mackenzie, and son Griffin.

Following decades spent as a pivotal part of the equine industry as a theriogenologist, Hernando and Lisa would open his own practice in Plata LLC in 2014, with Hernando spending the next 10 years devoting endless hours to his clients that he cared for deeply.

After years of excellency in the world of equine fertility, Hernando and Lisa would open Silver Meadows Farm where Hernando would import purebred draft Brabants breeding stock and produce foals of his own. He later exported the first Brabants colt to Australia to continue his mission of the preservation of the breed.

While his work ethic was unlike any other, Hernando’s value to the people that loved him stretched far beyond his craft with his infectious laugh, words of wisdom, and complete inability to stop talking at times.

Anyone who had the privilege of meeting and knowing Hernando knew there was a direct correlation between how much time you spent with him and how much you smiled.

Hernando is survived by wife Lisa, along with his children: Gabrielle (Johanna Carvajal Cortez), Mackenzie, and Griffin, parents Jaime Plata and Stella De Plata, sister Adriana Plata (Mauricio Andrade), aunt Maria Plata (Galo Vizcaiao), uncles Bernardo Plata and Mauricio Plata, cousins Alexandra and Emilio Gotchelin and Maria Mejia-Opaciuch (John Opaciuch), brother-in-law Michael Martin (Tana), sister-in-law Marlene Brown (Henry), mother-in-law Harriett Martin, and numerous nieces and nephews.

A celebration of life for Hernando will be held September 22 at Praying Field Ministry at 6605 McCowans Ferry Rd in Versailles from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. In lieu of flowers, the family requests that all donations on Hernando’s behalf be directed to autismspeaks.org.”

SELL YOUR HORSE FOR $500? Q AND A WITH BIDXSELL'S SAEED ALMADDAH

Salute the Stars (left) wins the Pegasus | Sarah Andrew

The new digital ad platform BidXSell is scheduled to launch its initial sale August 28, when it will offer the winner of last year's Pegasus Stakes, Salute the Stars (Candy Ride {Arg}). We sat down with Saeed Almaddah, the President and CEO of Silk Road LLC, which operates the platform to discuss how it is different from other digital sales companies.

TDN: The digital sales arena is becoming increasingly crowded, with bricks-and-mortar sales companies getting into the game and digital-only sales companies joining the fray as well. Why did you decide to launch this now, and how will BidXSell distinguish itself from the others?

SA: The idea for BidXSell was conceived when we observed that the rise of digital sales was disrupting the traditional horse industry economy, straining long-held relationships and creating challenges. Development took about a year, during which we gathered input from major industry players to ensure the platform would meet the needs of the market. What sets BidXSell apart is that we place the auction tool directly into the hands of the stakeholders. Unlike traditional bricks-and-mortar sales, which involve facility, staff, advertising, and concierge services at a standard commission rate, BidXSell focuses on providing the digital infrastructure to stakeholders who already have the other of the pieces of the physical sale puzzle in place. We offer the digital auction machinery and contact list, empowering users to manage and complete sales on their own terms. By avoiding monopolization and allowing owners to maximize their investments, we believe BidXSell will enhance the global digital auction economy.

Additionally, with our strong industry connections, we will attract buyers from across the continents to one platform. Our main office located in Saudi Arabia further extends our reach, opening up the market and purchasing power on a global scale.

TDN: It seems as if a unique feature of yours is that sellers are launching their own mini-sale, so to speak, using your platform. Is that oversimplifying it?

SA: No, that description is accurate and aligns perfectly with the platform's design. Given the high cost of digital investment, not everyone can independently create their own digital auctions. Recognizing the growth and evolution of the digital market, we built BidXSell as a tech company with deep industry knowledge to provide a scalable platform for all stakeholders. Our goal is to support the industry's digital expansion by allowing sellers to launch their own mini-sales within a robust and adaptable framework. This platform will adapt to the needs of all industry stakeholders including agents and trainers.

TDN: Can traditional consignors also establish their own sale, for several different owner-breeders? An RNA sale, for example?

SA: Absolutely. Consignors were central to our development process. We aimed to provide them with the tools necessary to continue serving their clients while adapting to the digital landscape. BidXSell enables consignors to host sales for multiple owner-breeders and manage RNA sales. Our platform supports hybrid events, where digital sales complement live events, allowing consignors to maintain their relationships and expand their services with digital capabilities.

TDN: How can you provide all of these services for a $500 flat fee, with no percentage to the platform?

SA: The flat-fee structure is designed to be efficient and straightforward. We provide the auction platform and digital services while leveraging the fact that many stakeholders already have the necessary infrastructure for private sales. The flat fee covers access to the auction technology, while the bulk of the operational work remains with the consignors and owners. For those needing additional services, we offer a higher fee option that includes full consignment services from entry to money transfer.

TDN: If a horse RNAs, there is no fee?

SA: Correct. We charge a listing fee for the horse, but there are no additional fees if the horse RNAs (Reserve Not Attained). Our goal is to support users throughout the auction process with minimal additional costs.

TDN: How many horses a year will you need to sell to make this platform work?

SA: The success of BidXSell isn't determined by a fixed number of horses sold annually but by the overall effectiveness and user satisfaction of the platform. We designed BidXSell to scale and adapt, focusing on fostering a vibrant and active marketplace where quality and user experience drive growth.

TDN: Is there anything I haven't asked you that you'd like to say?

SA: One of the greatest features of the platform is the ability to host a private sale. No other digital auction or market has such a feature. BidXSell allows the owner of a particularly high end asset to essentially keep it off the public market, while capitalizing on the auction market structure. Owners of exceptional young racehorses are often bombarded with offers to purchase the horse or a part of the horse after an impressive debut. BidXSell puts the unique and powerful capability of a private auction into the hands of these owners. The same feature is perfect for the highest end seasons and shares as well which are often restricted from public auction sales.

I'd like to underscore that BidXSell is dedicated to revolutionizing the online horse auction experience. Our platform was built with the industry's needs in mind, offering innovative features and a user-centric approach. With our connections in the industry, we're positioned to bring buyers from across the globe to one platform. Additionally, our main office in Saudi Arabia allows us to expand market reach and purchasing power worldwide. We're excited about the potential of BidXSell to enhance the digital auction landscape and are committed to evolving alongside the industry's needs.

BREEDERS' CUP, JOHN DEERE RENEW, EXTEND PARTNERSHIP

Breeders' Cup Limited and John Deere have renewed their multi-year partnership, further cementing John Deere as the official supplier of agricultural, turf and construction equipment for the Breeders' Cup World Championships, the organizations said in a joint release.

As part of the arrangement, John Deere becomes the title sponsor of the GI John Deere Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies' Turf to be held on Future Stars Friday at Del Mar Nov. 1.

"John Deere is immensely proud to be the official supplier of agricultural, turf and construction equipment for the Breeders' Cup World Championships and the Thoroughbred breeding and racing industry dating to 2002," said Auston Till, Equine Business Manager, John Deere Ag & Turf. "This year, we are equally excited to expand our partnership with the Breeders' Cup to include title sponsorship of the John Deere Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf."

Added Heather Higgins, Senior Vice President of Corporate Partnerships for Breeders' Cup Limited: "We are delighted that John Deere has continued to partner with the Breeders' Cup. They remain a trusted resource for horsemen of many disciplines and have shown fantastic support of equestrian sports on a global scale. John Deere has enjoyed a long association with the World Championships, and we look forward to expanding our partnership."

John Deere will also partner with Breeders' Cup in entitling the John Deere Turf Course and the John Deere Dirt Course at the World Championships and will present the John Deere Award to an outstanding Thoroughbred breeder of a Breeders' Cup contender upon completion of the two-day global festival of racing.

John Deere has offered exclusive equine discounts through the National Thoroughbred Racing Association's NTRA Advantage program since 2002 and has been the official equipment supplier of the NTRA since 2001.

"We are excited for the announcement of this multi-year agreement, which further demonstrates that horse racing and John Deere go hand in hand," said Tom Rooney, president and chief executive officer of the National Thoroughbred Racing Association.

'PICKLE FOR THE PONIES' EVENT TO BENEFIT PDJF, THERAPEUTIC HORSES OF SARATOGA

The Legacy Pickleball Club will host "Pickle for the Ponies", a family-friendly pickleball tournament benefitting the PDJF and Therapeutic Horses of Saratoga. The event, held Monday, Aug. 26 from 3-6 p.m at the Legacy Pickleball Club in Ballston Spa, NY, will offer spectators the chance to "meet racing celebrities and support two impactful causes." Celebrity players will include members of the Saratoga jockey colony, Hall of Fame jockeys, thoroughbred racing trainers and media personalities. There will also be a silent auction onsite.

"As an Ambassador for Therapeutic Horses of Saratoga and the Permanently Disabled Jockeys Fund, I'm excited to participate in this new community outreach event" said retired Hall of Fame jockey, Ramon Dominguez. “This new event will bring the Saratoga community and the racetrack community together for a fun afternoon of light-hearted competition and awareness-raising for two terrific organizations. Both the THS and PDJF focus their efforts on the health and well-being of people and they each understand the powerful role horses as healers.”

Tickets start at $25 and are available online or at the door.

GULFSTREAM TO HOST 10TH ANNUAL JOCKEYS AND JEANS PDJF FUNDRAISER

Gulfstream Park will host the 10th annual Jockeys and Jeans event, a fundraiser for the PDJF, Saturday, Jan. 11, 2025 per a release.

“Gulfstream Park and 1/ST are pleased to host Jockeys and Jeans during our Championship Meet, and we’re proud to partner as we work together to advance and promote the welfare and security of jockeys and riders during and after their careers,” said President of Racing and Business Development for 1/ST Racing Stephen Screnci.

Jockeys and Jeans, which to date has raised over $3.4m and brought in $425,000 last year alone, will include an autograph signing session for the local jockey colony during Gulfstream's Championship meet.

“The event date is prime time for the track’s Winter Championship Season that features Pegasus World Cup Day and the Florida Derby,” said Dr. Eddie Donnally, Jockeys and Jeans Interim President. “The track is the winter home of several Hall of Fame Jockeys and arguably the most talented riding colony in the nation. We expect to attract at least 15 retired Hall of Fame and legendary jockeys there to honor several of their fallen brother and sister jockeys. The committee and I are confident it will be a well-attended and successful fundraiser.”

Early Bird Tickets are $100 with each attendee receiving a buffet luncheon, a poster signed by the Hall of Fame and other legendary jockeys attending and the opportunity to mix and mingle with famous jockeys. Tickets are available here.

GUN RUNNER JUVENILE FILLY SENZA PAROLE ROMPS TO 'RISING STARDOM' AT THE SPA by Steve Sherack

Senza Parole | Sarah Andrew

Don Alberto homebred Senza Parole (f, 2, Gun Runner--Senza Te, by Street Cry {Ire}) became the 14th 'TDN Rising Star' for her superstar young sire with a tour-de-force victory in the Saratoga opener Friday.

The 7-2 chance flashed good early speed between horses right out of the gate from her inside draw, but was content to slot back into third beneath Irad Ortiz, Jr. through an opening quarter in :22.52. She began to make a flashy move rounding the far turn and took over while in hand approaching the quarter pole. The two-time RNA ($120,000 KEESEP and $240,000 OBSAPR) came into the stretch in about the five path, but was well clear. It was only a question of how much she'd win by from there while stopping the timer for six furlongs in a very sharp 1:09.84. It was 7 3/4 lengths back to the Brad Cox-trained firster and 4-5 favorite Stunner (Girvin) in second.

Winning trainer Chad Brown also conditions Gun Runner's fellow 'TDN Rising Star' Sierra Leone, one of the main contenders in Saturday's GI Travers Stakes.

Senza Parole's 9-year-old dam Senza Te--a half-sister to SW & GISP 'TDN Rising Star' Flor de La Mar (Tiznow) and SW & GSP Catiche (Arrogate)--won one of four starts carrying the Don Alberto orange, green and white silks. She is also responsible for a Good Magic filly of 2023. She was bred to Tacitus for 2025. Senza Parole is her first starter.

Don Alberto acquired Senza Parole's second dam GSW Sacristy (Pulpit) in foal to Medaglia d'Oro for $700,000 at the 2013 KEENOV sale. Sacristy's half-sister Mozu Superflare (Speightstown) was a seven-time winner in Japan, including a turf victory-via DQ-in the 1200-meter G1 Takamtsunomiya Kinen.

MAIDEN WINNER SENZA PAROLE'S PERFORMANCE SPEAKS VOLUMES AT SPA

by Mike Kane

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y.--Appropriately enough, Senza Parole's (Gun Runner) name translates to "at a loss for words," which could describe the reaction to her jaw-dropping victory Friday in the first race at Saratoga Race Course.

Not only did she finish 7 3/4 lengths ahead of 4-5 favorite Stunner (Girvin), Senza Parole completed the six furlongs in the $100,000 maiden special weight race for 2-year-old fillies in a sharp 1:09.84. She paid $9.40 as the 7-2 second choice in the field of seven. With Saratoga's leading rider, Irad Ortiz, Jr., pretty much along as a passenger, Senza Parole earned 'TDN Rising Star' status (see article above), the 14th for her oh-so-successful sire. She was trainer Chad Brown's seventh 2-year-old open maiden special weight winner of the meet. Cont.

Senza Parole cools off after a hot start | Sarah Andrew

"She had been training super. I've never seen this filly work bad," Brown said. "I was very excited to get her started and just appreciate Don Alberto, the team there. They're really outstanding breeders. I'm very impressed with their horses, both buying them in the marketplace and the ones they sent me to train. They have a great program over there, a great farm with good land. You know when you get a homebred off the van from Don Alberto, it could be anything."

Back at the mother ship in Lexington, the crew at Don Alberto thoroughly enjoyed watching how she so thoroughly handled the competition.

"Everyone at the farm was going nuts," said COO Reed Ringler.

Ringler noted that Don Alberto had high expectations for the filly out of the Street Cry (Ire) mare Senza Te, but figured she might be better in longer races around two turns.

Without question Senza Parole was mighty tough in the one-turn, three-quarters of a mile test. After she was bumped a bit at the start, Ortiz had her sitting third, two lengths behind pacesetter Hay Evabody (Mitole), through a quarter mile in :22.52. When she reached the half-mile in :45.80, Senza Parole was a head in front and rolling. She had a four-length lead at the top of the stretch and kept extending her advantage as Ortiz shook the reins.

"I expected her to run real well," Brown said, "but even a debut like that would exceed any expectations for a first-time starter, especially at Saratoga when the races are so tough. There were trainers in here that liked their horses, so it's not like she drowned a mediocre group. There were good trainers in this race, and it sounded like they had good opinions about these horses. So, we'll see where it takes us."

Senza Parole drifted out a bit coming off the turn as Stunner was making a run. Brown said that Ortiz told him it was by design.

"He said, 'I just came off there to make sure that if he was going to have to come, he was going to have to come far around me,'" Brown said. "And he said, 'In the end, it didn't matter, because when I asked her again, she just re-broke.'"

As dominant as she was, Brown said it was too early to think about the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies on Nov. 1 at Del Mar.

"She's got a long way to go," he said. "She only broke her maiden, but we'll look for a prep race for her and I'll talk to the team at Don Alberto again. So appreciative that they chose this horse to send to me. We just love her. She's been such a nice horse to be around. You really appreciate these young horses that do everything you ask them to do every time, and the first time you ask them. She's very smart. She's very talented. I've been so proud of her as she went through all of her lessons with us, and got to her debut. She's become a barn favorite, even before she ran."

IN HER SECOND TRY RARE ART SNAGGED A VICTORY

by Mike Kane

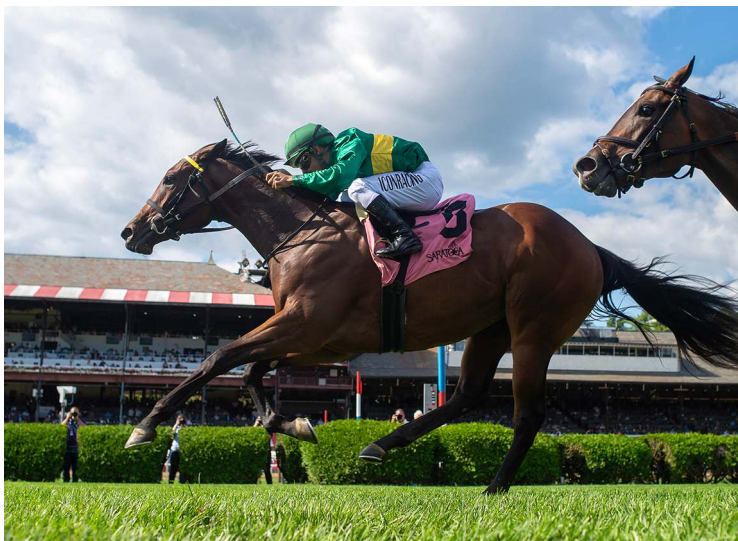

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. - A little bit of seasoning came in handy for Rare Art (Munnings) in her maiden special weight victory Friday at Saratoga Race Course.

A one-length losing third in her debut on July 21, Rare Art prevailed by three-quarters of a length over Good Conduct (Without Parole) at the conclusion of their spirited duel through the stretch in the seventh race. Rare Art and Luis Saez reached the wire in the 1 1/16th miles $100,000 turf event for 2-year-old fillies in 1:46.36 and paid $6.60 as the 2-1 favorite.

Trainer Tony Dutrow said that Rare Art benefitted from her first race, was able to recover from a slow start and handle the stiff challenge presented by Good Conduct.

"The one experience they get, if they're a nicer kind, they really come alive the next time," Dutrow said. "I think that's all that was with her today. She had that one out. We gave her 35 days back to the next race. We were really confident that all the pieces were in place for today, or we'd have waited longer. When they're a nice kind of horse, and they have that one experience, they're a good filly the next time, or a good colt."

Dutrow purchased Rare Art for the partnership of Woodford Racing and Team D for $170,000 at the 2023 Keeneland September Yearling Sale.

Winning connections: Bill Farish, Wayne Cutler, Brenden Cutler, Tony Dutrow and Kim Dutrow | Sarah Andrew

"We liked her a lot as a yearling," said Bill Farish of Woodford Racing, who noted that Dutrow had some serious competition from David Ingordo in the bidding when she was in the auction ring.

"Tony and David both loved her," Farish said. "Tony got to draw the long straw on her and get her and he's loved her since the beginning. We're really happy. Her first start was really good here in Saratoga. She ran a great race, and we were very encouraged by that. Then to have her come back and really didn't have all the best of it today. She broke terrible and then she had to circle the field and go wide. We're just absolutely delighted. Winning a race like that up here with that list of well-bred horses in the race, it's exciting."

Dutrow said he spotted the daughter of the Giant's Causeway mare Adjudication but figured she might be outside his price range.

"I saw her back at the barn and didn't think we could buy her," he said. "She was $170,000 and I didn't think it was possible to get her for $170,000 but, nonetheless, I was extremely excited about her when I saw her the previous days back at the barn."

Wild and Free (Into Mischief) with Good Conduct a length behind provided the pace early on through fractions of :24.66, :50.55 and 1:15.93 while Saez was moving Rare Art from near the rear of the field of 10. They were three lengths back after six furlongs and on even terms with the leaders at the head of the stretch. Good Conduct, trained by Cherie DeVaux, forced Rare Art to work hard to get her victory.

"Cherie's filly was awesome today," Dutrow said. "She was game to the wire. Our filly, she went wide around the turn and passed horses and was able to keep it going through the stretch. Very impressive."

Rare Art was just a bit better and earned her first opportunity to pose for pictures with her happy connections.

"Getting to win at Saratoga, to win for these connections with Team D and the supporters and Bill Farish and Woodford Stable, it's so special," Dutrow said. "This is a really special filly. I looked at each and every one of the fillies in this race and they were some beautiful fillies. The day is going to come when we'll look back on this race and see how many nice fillies come out of this race today."

RARE ART (f, 2, Munnings--Adjudication, by Giant's Causeway), who made an encouraging debut when a late-rallying third over track and trip July 21, made a five-wide stretch bid under Luis Saez to secure victory. Saez, who had dropped his crop in the stretch of her debut, made no errors today as he settled the 2-1 favorite near the back of the 10-horse field before rousing her on the far turn. She swept past four of her rivals in the stretch and finished 3/4 lengths ahead of the forwardly placed Good Conduct (Without Parole {GB}) at the finish. The betting public pounded D J Stable's previously undefeated Bullet (War Front) into 3-5 favoritism for Friday's Catch a Glimpse Stakes at Woodbine, but it was the same outfit's uncoupled Shifty who spoiled the party at odds of 11-1.

Given her chance in stakes company off a slow-starting fifth in a six-furlong maiden July 4, the $350,000 Fasig-Tipton October yearling emerged from a line of about five or six horses to take up the running down the backstretch and led them along at a solid gallop around the turn. Narrowly in front as Bullet loomed three deep at the top of the long Woodbine straight, Shifty continued to find and proved not for catching as Bullet faded to about sixth.

"She's a beautiful filly," said Mark Casse, trainer. "She's absolutely gorgeous. And we kind of felt like she was as good as anybody. And we wanted to try to get some black type on her, and we got it."

Shifty is the 148th Northern Hemisphere stakes winner for her sire and his 180th worldwide stakes winner.

Cairo Caper debuted third over the all-weather in Toronto at the end of May, then won on the grass course to graduate at Woodbine July 4. Backed as a 5-1 shot for his first black-type try here, the gelding was hard held towards the rear of the field up the backstretch. Let loose to the outside around the far turn, the 2-year-old took aim at Dream On, and in the final jumps it was mission accomplished.

"I thought we had a good chance going in," said winning trainer Nathan Squires. "His maiden race was good, he trained well, he looks stronger. Going into this race, I was a bit confident."

Future Is Now, whose younger half-sister Call Another Play (Audible) won this year's Weber City Miss Stakes at Laurel Park Apr. 20, seized another prize on the turf course here for both filly's owner-breeder R. Larry Johnson. Victorious in the GII Intercontinental Stakes over track and trip June 7, she resumed winning ways after being run down by Dontlookbackatall (Peace and Justice) when third in the July 25 GIII Caress Stakes here. Under her regular rider Paco Lopez, she tracked the pace set by Lady Milagro (First Dude) in :21.62 and :45.30. She gained the lead at the quarter pole but, soon after, bumped Star Guest (GB) and forced her five-wide. Responding to Lopez's drive, the 2-1 third choice managed to keep that foe at bay in the final furlong to record a half-length win. The 4-5 favorite Roses for Debra was outrun early and stayed on to finish third. There was a steward's inquiry into the contact between the top pair at the top of the stretch and no changes were made to the order of finish.

Past as Prelude has an unraced 2-year-old McKinzie colt called Places in My Past who shows a pair of recent three-furlong workouts at Fair Hill. She produced a full-sister to the SW Call An Audible ($279,625) this year and was bred to Charlatan for this term.

With a clear path outside all the way to the wire, the 2-year-old turned up the heat and found his best stride which resulted in a two-length score over favorite Cajun Gold (Cajun Breeze). The winner's unraced dam is responsible for a yearling filly by Beau Liam and she foaled a colt by that same sire Apr. 20. Love Affair was bred to Cairo Prince for next season. This was the 14th winner for first-crop sire Complexity (by Maclean's Music). Sales History: $82,000 Ylg '23 KEESEP; $150,000 2yo '24 OBSAPR. RUNNER EYES (c, 2, Gun Runner--Occasionally, by Tiznow), who was slated as the 5-2 second choice for his debut here, broke awkwardly, but he was able to settle around the first turn. Cranked up and chewing up ground heading into the far turn, the colt fanned out towards the center of the course and began to duel with Arctic Outbreak (Union Rags). Past the sixteenth marker, Runner Eyes was bumped by his adversary and finished second. After a steward's inquiry, the 2-year-old was placed first and Arctic Outbreak was made the runner-up. The winner is a half-brother to Oviatt Class (Bernardini), GISP, $234,080. A full-sister to GSW Tizahit, who foaled GI Ketel One Ballerina Stakes heroine Come Dancing (Malibu Moon), Occasionally produced a filly by Maxfield Feb. 9. She was sent to Tapit for 2025. STRONG LIKE SARA (f, 2, Frosted--Santa Teresa, by Awesome Again) ran third on debut at Parx July 22 before being sent on her way as a 6-1 shot here. The juvenile flashed her speed from the break and controlled the fractions up the backstretch, but she was joined before the far turn by Bee Bluff (Daredevil).

Cont.

Her pursuer looked in control through the top of the lane, but the pair began to go to war. The battle lasted until the sixteenth pole when Strong Like Sara strode home by 1 1/4 lengths. The winner is a half-sister to Castleknock (Bernardini), GSP, $138,484. A half-sister to MGISP Holy Boss (Street Boss) and Canadian champion 3-year-old filly Holy Helena (Ghostzapper), the unraced Santa Teresa produced Humorous Saint (Cutting Humor) who is now a gelding, and the following term she foaled a colt by Cyberknife Apr. 22. Sadly, she has since passed away. Sales History: $85,000 Ylg '23 KEESEP. Lifetime Record: 2-1-0-1, $36,120. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by FanDuel TV.

CHANTICO (f, 2, Munnings--Firefoot, by Tapizar) was well-beaten in her first and only start over the Saratoga turf Aug. 4. Making the surface switch and supported as a top choice here, the filly raced three across the track up the backstretch. Allowing a pair of leaders to gain the advantage, Chantico suddenly burst ahead at the quarter pole and she rolled home under a hand ride to win by 4 1/4 lengths over Princess of Omaha (Omaha Beach). The winner is a half-sister to Freeburn (Mitole), SP, $175,500. Herself a half-sister to GSW Bandbox (Tapit), Firefoot produced a filly by Jack Christopher Apr. 24 and she was bred to Star Guitar for 2025. STORMY MITOLE (f, 3, Mitole--Storm Swept, by Stormy Atlantic), racing with Lasix and off as a 7-2 shot here, debuted with gusto at the break. Continuing to set the pace into the far turn, the filly was chased by 7-5 favorite Here's the Kicker (Liam's Map). The 3-year-old entered the lane, attempted to spurt away, but the chalk made it interesting as Stormy Mitole won by a neck. Dam Storm Swept is responsible for 2-year-old colt Percy (Spun to Run) and she foaled a colt by Idol Feb. 23. She was entered in Zandon's book for 2025. Sales History:

PHANTOM SPEED (c, 3, Arrogate--Ghostslayer, by Ghostzapper) hit the board in a pair of starts at the Fair Grounds as a 2-year-old but had been on the sidelines since a third going 1 1/16 miles Dec. 23. Heavily favored at 1-5, the $700,000 KEESEP grad was content to let a pair of rivals tire themselves out on the front end while rating towards the back. Off the rail into the far turn, he tipped down to the inside past the furlong marker and just got up to deny pacesetter Head of the Class (Awesome Slew) by a half-length. A half to Biddy Duke (Bayern), GSW, $323,696, Phantom Speed has a yearling half-brother by Quality Road and a weanling half-sister by Flightline. Ghostslayer was bred back to Forte for 2025. TERESA'S NIGHTMARE (f, 3, Constitution--Spring Lily {SW & MGSP, $147,075}, by Union Rags) debuted with Lasix and as a 7-1 shot here. The filly trailed from the bell and was out of it up the backstretch. Once she got in gear though around the far turn, the 3-year-old began to roll down the center of the course, and with good energy she donned cap and gown by 2 1/4 lengths over Letta's Legacy. Her dam's first registered foal, the winner has a 2-year-old half-sister named Spring Board (Daredevil), who was sent to Malaysia this year.
