

HIWU Q&A ON LAB ISSUES: WE ARE INVESTIGATING FOR 'NON-CONFORMITY ACROSS THE LABORATORIES'

by Dan Ross

Last week saw the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Unit (HIWU) and the University of Kentucky issue their reports into alleged misconduct and mismanagement at the university's Equine Analytical Chemistry Lab (EACL) under the leadership of former director, Scott Stanley.

The allegations levelled towards Stanley and the lab's operations include misrepresentation of its ability to test for specific substances such as erythropoietin (EPO), and the "intentional misrepresentations" of positive tests as negative.

Questions arising from operations at HIWU's fleet of contracted laboratories isn't confined just to the UK Lab, however.

At the start of September, the Racing Medication and Testing Consortium (RMTC) issued a 60-day accreditation suspension of the University of Illinois Chicago Analytical Forensic Toxicology Laboratory. At the time, the RMTC did not publicly disclose the reasons for the temporary accreditation suspension.

ADARE MANOR RETIRES, TO SELL AT FASIG-TIPTON'S NIGHT OF THE STARS by Sue Finley

Adare Manor (Uncle Mo--Brooklynsway, by Gian't Gizmo), a three-time Grade I-winning five-year-old mare who has won 10 of 18 starts over a 4-year campaign which included eight graded stakes wins, will skip a date with the GI Breeders' Cup Distaff and be retired and sold at the Fasig-Tipton November Sale on Nov. 4, according to her trainer, Bob Baffert. She will be offered by Hill 'n' Dale at Xalapa as agent.

"She is retiring healthy," said Baffert. "It's more a matter of timing than anything else."

Adare Manor won three of her four starts in 2024: the GI Apple Blossom Handicap, GI Santa Margarita Stakes, and GI Clement L. Hirsch Stakes last out at Del Mar on Aug. 3. She was in training for a start in the Distaff when Baffert made the decision to retire her. Cont. p8

Just prior to that, HIWU said that it had granted a temporary stay of enforcement to connections in six pending total carbon dioxide (TCO2) cases, all of which are out of Pennsylvania, in order to conduct a review of TCO2 analysis at the Pennsylvania Equine Toxicology and Research Laboratory (PETRL).

More broadly, the TDN has also reported on lab variability issues arising from different facilities using different testing equipment, different testing methodologies, and different sets of staff interpreting the results.

To discuss the fallout from the UK report, the issues at the Illinois and Pennsylvania laboratories, and the topic of lab variability more generally, the TDN spoke Monday with Mary Scollay, HIWU's chief of science, and Ben Mosier, HIWU's executive director. The following has been edited for clarity and brevity.

TDN: Now the dust has settled a little into what allegedly transpired at the UK lab under the direction of Dr. Stanley, what are your main takeaways from this whole affair?

Mary Scollay: I think there's added emphasis on the verify, for the trust and verify. Harmonization is so important, and consistent performance across the laboratories is so important.

Ben Mosier: I think my takeaway from this is that we now have a system in place where you know there's one organization with more oversight over the laboratories, with the upcoming accreditation model that requires oversight and more communication and more working together.

TDN: There were so many alleged failures at the UK lab covering so many aspects of the lab's operations under Dr. Stanley that appeared to have occurred over many months. Why did it take so long to identify a problem?

MS: I think the short answer for me is that negative results are not subject to the level of scrutiny as the positive tests. Positive tests, they're subject to scrutiny through the B sample analysis, attorneys will have their expert packets, and so, positives undergo tremendous scrutiny. Negative tests are pretty much accepted at face value. I think we have learned to be more rigorous with negative samples as well.

BM: Well ultimately, what triggered the investigation was just general unprofessional behavior with the lab and then some general reporting issues. They weren't requesting extensions for reporting. It was really performance based why we made the decision to move samples away from the lab.

And it was after that, that we uncovered that the suspect EPO sample hadn't been analyzed. Obviously, the program had been up and running for roughly eight months before we even came to that point.

Now, the investigation itself entailed an extensive amount of data and information that had to be compiled. Ultimately, we had to go through every bit of that data to ensure that we were doing the most detailed comprehensive investigation that we possibly could have.

The sheer volume of the samples we had to go back and sort through as part of this investigation, I mean, we're talking about nearly ten-thousand samples.

TDN: Just to note, my question wasn't on why the investigation took so long. It was more about why it took so long to identify the failures in the first place. But I appreciate your answers here. Let's move onto Illinois. What specific issues led the RMTC to suspend its accreditation of the Illinois Chicago Analytical Forensic Toxicology Laboratory?

BM: We were informed of the suspension just like all the other clients of that laboratory on the same day. What they referenced to us was multiple violations of their code of standards.

We were made aware afterwards that there were several external quality assurance samples that were failed. We don't know if it was more than that—if there were other issues. Ultimately, it was left pretty vague in the reasoning.

We're working with Illinois to gather information and understand more of what we ultimately need to review and look into.

TDN: Those multiple quality assurance samples that the lab failed, by that, you mean single and double-blind proficiency tests, correct?

BM: That's correct.

TDN: How many is multiple?

MS: I don't think that was disclosed to us. It was mentioned elsewhere in the trades—I think three—but can't confirm that because that wasn't shared directly with us.

TDN: Do you know what the substances involved were?

MS: No. If we knew that, we'd know how many.

TDN: Okay, so what can you tell us about the sorts of substances employed in these quality assurance tests?

MS: They can be controlled medication and banned substances. There is a list of candidate analytics and that expanded tremendously this year as we prepare for HEAL accreditation.

TDN: What are you doing to ensure that the samples processed through the Illinois lab were handled correctly? Are you currently conducting an audit of the samples that have been processed by the Illinois lab, for example, like you did for the UK lab?

BM: The first step is to gather as much information as we can from the laboratory in terms of overall inventory of the samples that they have still retained, start potentially gathering instrument data, other types of information from the lab when they're assessing samples.

It's important to know, as Mary described earlier, that the adverse findings coming out of that laboratory have been under extreme scrutiny already, just because of normal process of adverse findings, right? There are legal teams, both the defense and on our side, that are looking at very detailed lab data packets both for A sample and B sample analysis.

It doesn't mean we might not go ahead and re-check some of those adverse findings, just out of fairness for the horsemen. If there are failed quality assurance samples, that's indicative of the need to look into failed negative samples conducted at that laboratory.

TDN: Are there similar personnel issues plaguing the Illinois lab? More pointedly, are you satisfied that lab director Brendan Heffron is capable and qualified to do the job?

BM: We have no indication of personnel issues. We've not had any personal challenges with behavior. Our working relationship with Brendan has been very professional.

TDN: The FTC recently overturned trainer Chris Hartman's case for an acepromazine positive after the labs the A and B samples were processed by both lost their RMTC accreditation (Hartman was originally suspended 15 days and fined $1,000). Do you expect, and are you prepared for, a number of other lawsuits challenging the findings of samples processed by either the UK lab of the Illinois lab, or both?

BM: I don't think we're expecting any new lawsuits--I mean, we've certainly been in communication with the cases coming out of those laboratories. I think all I can say to that is we're working closely with those cases and interested parties in those cases.

TDN: This is a question for Mary Scollay. When the RMTC's Horserace Testing Laboratory Committee (HTLC) voted whether or not to approve suspending the lab's accreditation, you abstained? Why?

MS: Because we are a client and I felt that a vote I cast in either direction could be perceived as having some bias, rather than simply an assessment of the scientific information in front of the committee.

TDN: What's the status of the pause in enforcement of the TCO2 tests processed by the Pennsylvania Equine Toxicology and Research Laboratory?

MS: I understand the horsemen are involved with investigating matters on their end. Likewise, we are investigating and undertaking some experiments on our end across the laboratories to determine if there is non-conformity across the laboratories, what the significance of it is, and to the extent that it might exist, how to remedy it.

MS: They are currently using a radiometer. And they are in the process of validating a method on a gas chromatography-mass spectrometry (GC/MS) Headspace.

TDN: What will you do if you find that covered persons were suspended through a flawed TCO2 test processed by the HIWU lab?

BM: I think we would have to work with HISA on what could be rectified through the situation. There's no other way around it.

I think it's important to say here, we have already conducted a review and an investigation, if you will, on questioning the TCO2 testing at the Pennsylvania laboratory. And we're comfortable with what they have provided us in terms of their own lab.

The exercise we're conducting now, which we think is the right thing to do and fair for the program, is to ensure uniformity and that deep samples would result in the same level, or have the same result, at all of the other laboratories

We are very comfortable with what the laboratory has been able to do thus far--we're just taking it an extra step to ensure fairness.

MS: To be clear, the data packets from the laboratory has been reviewed with no evidence for error, aberration or inconsistent analytical approach.

TDN: Would the lab packets show if there was a problem with the instrument itself?

MS: A component of performing the analysis is using internal calibrators at known concentrations. And so, if the result of one of those internal calibrators doesn't meet criteria, then you know that you do have a problem with the Instrument.

TDN: Do you have any concerns with any other areas of the Pennsylvania lab's set-up? For example, you've both talked publicly about how different labs are equipped with different testing instruments, some older, some newer. Are the instruments the Pennsylvania lab uses to test either the blood or the urine as technically advanced as, say, the Maddy Lab at UC Davis?

MS: If you're asking if I've done a one-on-one comparison across the laboratories with respect to instrumentation, the answer is no I haven't. But the lab has a strong research division. They're on the cutting edge of a number of fields, and they have the instrumentation to support that. So, I have every confidence that their instrumentation meets the requirements of the industry.

TDN: Has the Pennsylvania lab ever failed single or double-blind proficiency tests since the advent of the ADMC program?

BM: Not we've been made aware.

MS: Off the top of my head, I don't recall. The lab is required to disclose to us [if they've failed such a proficiency test]. I don't have those results in front of me.

TDN: You've stated that HISA's new Equine Analytical Laboratory ("HEAL") accreditation begins early next year. How will that program differ from the RMTC's accreditation program?

I think what we've learned is to put more emphasis on negative samples. The passed sample exchange--and that has already been expanded per HIWU's request to the RMTC--but the passed sample or negative sample exchange occurs every month where the labs are assigned a certain number of samples to send to another laboratory. This lab screened a negative, and they're being sent to another laboratory to undergo screening.

This is one of the ways that we can double check on our negative samples. It allows us to see if we have inconsistent sensitivity at screening for certain analytes. That's being done on a monthly basis.

In the past, it was not a component of the RMTC accreditation program. Labs did it between themselves without disclosing results to their clients. And because we are directing it, we can instruct which laboratories are sharing which samples with each other. So, it can certainly be a round-robin way of checking all of the labs in a systematic manner.

TDN: Will the RMTC still have a role in the accreditation process?

MS: They'll administer the external quality insurance program under our direction. We will select the analytes and they will handle the mechanics of procuring external quality assurance samples, circulating them, and receiving the information from the laboratories when they report.

All of that information then will come to us, we will perform the assessment, and our lab expert group will establish the criteria for acceptable corrective action plans if there's a deficiency. This will also allow us to identify not just deficiencies but best practices, so, if we see someone who has more efficient approach to a specific analyte, we can require all the labs to adopt it.

TDN: If you could start the ADMC over from scratch, would you do anything differently when it comes to your selection of laboratories, and what you've required of them?

BM: If I think of individual laboratories, it's hard to speculate any different. We were certainly in a position where we were working closely with Dr. Scott Stanley. He was on the ADMC committee. As we worked towards May 22, 2023, we had every reason to believe that that lab was going to be a great laboratory under the program.

All of the other labs were very compliant that we ended up signing agreements with, have been able to handle the volumes we send them. Now, just more extensive quality assurance measures has uncovered some deficiencies it sounds like at the Illinois laboratory specifically. But the Kentucky lab situation was less about that and more about deceitful behavior.

So no, I'm not sure much could have been done differently. We approached it to the best of our ability, and put a very thoughtful strategy into how we selected the labs.

TDN: Final question, if cost was not an option, what would your ideal set-up be for American racing? One primarily focused on a single centralized laboratory?

MS: Last year, I was in Hong Kong for the international conference of racing analysts and veterinarians. One of the talks was on a laboratory in Australia and they discussed the design of a new building holding their thirty six—thirty six—liquid chromatography mass spectrometry (LC-MS) units.

I sat in the audience and I wondered how many of our labs do we have to put together to come up with thirty LC-MS or GC-MS units.

The international community has got so much more money to apply to research and innovative testing and exploring specific samples that show elevated concentrations of testosterone.

Money is no object? That's not achievable. The industry is going to need to recognize that to combat the doping which is I think the largest concern within the industry, a lot more resources are going to have to be directed to the laboratories.

The fact now that we have laboratories cooperating and collaborating means that we can establish centers of excellence so different labs are working on different areas of research interest, that we're not getting redundant efforts, and instead we can really dive into and solve some of those problems that we believe are out there—ones we have not yet had the resources or the opportunity to address.

Donato Lanni picked Adare Manor out of the 2021 OBS June Sale, going to $375,000 to acquire her for Baffert and owner Michael Lund Petersen. "I have had her around the barn for so long," said Baffert. "She's just the nicest, sweetest horse and I'm really going to miss having her when she goes."

BOOK'EM DANNO HEADED TO PERRYVILLE, WILL SKIP BREEDERS' CUP by Alan Carasso

Leading 3-year-old sprinter Book'em Danno (Bucchero), a latest third in a cracking renewal of the GI H. Allen Jerkens Stakes at Saratoga Aug. 24, is likely to make his next start in the seven-furlong GIII Perryville Stakes at Keeneland Oct. 19, according to Jay Briscione of the Atlantic Six Racing partnership. Briscione confirmed that the partners and trainer Derek Ryan have ruled out an appearance at the Breeders' Cup.

The New Jersey-bred has had a pair of works at Monmouth Park since the Jerkens, a best-of-108 half-mile in :46.60 on Sept. 15 followed by an easy five-eighths in 1:02 Sept. 22.

“He is doing very well,” Briscione said of the GI Woody Stephens Stakes hero. “That race was a tough race for him, giving weight to most of the competition. The day after he was tired, but bounced back quickly. Derek has him where he wants him.”

Book'em Danno was tasting defeat for the first time over the seven-furlong distance in the Jerkens, having won the Jan. 13 Pasco Stakes by over a dozen lengths in his other attempt prior to the Stephens. He is three-for-three at six furlongs and in two tries going a one-turn mile, he was second in last year's Nashua Stakes and was just touched off by future GI Kentucky Derby third Forever Young (Jpn) (Real Steel {Jpn}) in this year's G3 Saudi Derby.

The Perryville trip hits Book'em Danno right between the eyes, Briscione said.

Book'em Danno | Sarah Andrew

“We are of the mindset that if it's not broke, don't fix it,” he said. “At three-quarters and seven he's been very tough. His two route races, both one-turn miles, he just missed, so at least as a 3-year-old, we're inclined to stay within his wheelhouse.”

With a trip to Del Mar already ruled out, Briscione said the partners will let Book'em Danno dictate the rest of the season.

“The only two races we would consider after the Breeders' Cup--if we didn't give him time--are the [GII] Cigar Mile and the [GI] Malibu [Stakes].”

Briscione said that Book'em Danno could return to the Middle East this coming winter to contest some of the region's rich events, including the G3 Riyadh Dirt Sprint and G1 Dubai Golden Shaheen. But the partners are not completely ruling out a try at the world's richest horse race.

“Derek is pretty confident he could get him to run [the nine furlongs] in the Saudi Cup,” Briscione said. “He proved he could travel, doesn't need to take his racetrack with him and he didn't have any ill effects from the travel, so we'll see what happens.”

For the time being, Briscione and his partners are enjoying the ride with Book'em Danno, who is within $30,000 of breaching the seven-figure threshold in earnings.

“We're happy with the way he's progressing, but more importantly, we are taking it one race at a time,” he said. “He pretty much runs his race every time, but don't we don't want to go to the well too many times. But we're having the time of our lives, we'll never have another one like him.”

1/ST RACING'S PETER ROTONDO JOINS TDN WRITERS' ROOM PODCAST

Peter Rotondo | courtesy of Peter Rotondo

Peter Rotondo picked a good time to go to work for 1/ST Racing. The company's new Senior Vice President of Racing and Wagering joined a team who is ready to put on an extravaganza this weekend at Santa Anita.

It's called the California Crown and consists of three races, the GII $750,000 John Henry Turf Cup, the Grade II $750,000 Eddie D. Stakes and the $1 million GI California Crown Stakes. Meant to be Santa Anita's version of the Pegasus World Cup, the day will also include entertainment meant for the Gen Z set with several musicians set to take the stage.

To talk about the California Crown and a new betting menu at Santa Anita, Rotondo joined this week's TDN Writers' Room podcast presented by Keenenland. He was the Guest of the Week.

“This was always in the back of our minds,” Rotondo said. “California deserves a huge marquee event. There are some other big events. But not like this one. This year is the kickoff and we're coming in strong.”

When asked by Randy Moss if the day was about more than racing, Rotondo replied. Cont. p10

“It is and that’s the whole point,” he said. “That’s what the Pegasus is. I’ll talk about the Pegasus to some of the most cranky and hardened people I know and they tell me that the Pegasus is the most fun event. And now the racing has gotten up to a certain level. It’s got a spot on the calendar in late January, not only in racing, but in Miami lifestyle. This is basically a run at that. It’s about fusing both together, lifestyle, the entertainment and the races.”

Another new twist at Santa Anita at the fall meet is a new betting menu, highlighted by a return of the traditional $2 Pick Six. There will also be a $5 late double and a $3 late Pick Three.

“We have tweaked the autumn racing menu,” Rotondo said. “The Pick Six is now a $2 Pick Six. They started with the jackpot Pick Six, then went back to the traditional format, but it was a $1 wager. That will be for the whole meet. On California Crown day you have three great races in a row. There will be some special wagers on the day, including an all stakes Pick Five. These are player friendly bets with a 15 percent takeout. Look at what is happening with sports betting and their apps. There’s all types of wagers, including prop bets. We have to make our wagering menu a little bigger.”

In our breeding spotlight section, we examined WinStar stallion Constiution.

Elsewhere on the podcast, which is also sponsored by the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders’ Association, West Point Thoroughbreds, WinStar, XBTV.com and Hubbard Feeds, the team of Randy Moss, Zoe Cadman and Bill Finley, reviewed the major races from last week, zeroing in on the GI Cotillion Stakes and the GI Pennsylvania Derby, as well as the problems with the Parx turf course.

They also reviewed the latest victory by super marathoner Next \(Not This Time\) and debated whether or not he should go to the Breeders’ Cup. Moss and Cadman said no. Finley was a resounding yes.

The trio also handicapped the three California Crown races as well as the GII Woodward Stakes, a race that will have only four starters, and the GI Joe Hirsch Turf Classic. Moss was very confident that Silver Knott \(GB\) (Lope de Vega {Ire}) would win the race named for the former columnist of the Daily Racing Form.

KEENELAND’S CHAMPIONSHIP SALE OFFERS STALLION SHARE IN BREEDERS’ CUP HOPEFUL COGBURN

Cogburn | Sarah Andrew

A stallion share in North American record holder and GISW Cogburn \(Not This Time\) will be sold at the inaugural Keeneland Championship Sale, to be held the evening of Wednesday, Oct. 30 at Del Mar, site of the 2024 Breeders’ Cup World Championships on Nov. 1-2, according to a Wednesday release by Keeneland.

The 5-year-old, who has amassed nearly $2.4 million in earnings over 15 starts, has won all three of his 2024 races: the GI Jaipur Stakes at Saratoga in North American record time of :59.80 for 5 1/2 furlongs on turf; the GII Ainsworth Turf Sprint Stakes at Kentucky Downs; and the GII Twin Spires Turf Sprint Stakes at Churchill Downs.

Trained by Steve Asmussen, Cogburn is targeting the GI Prevagen Breeders’ Cup Turf Sprint Nov. 2 at Del Mar. Afterwards, he will be retired to WinStar Farm in Versailles, Kentucky for the 2025 breeding season.

Consigned by ELITE, the share being offered in the Championship Sale is an original one in the horse and does not need to clear the syndicate. The new shareholder will be entitled to 1/40th of all the stallion income and associated expenses starting with the 2025 breeding season.

“We are super excited to be standing the fastest horse in the world,” WinStar Farm President/CEO & Racing Manager Elliott Walden said. “We have had a lot of interest for shares, and not many will be available, so we thought it best to give everyone a shot at it through Keeneland’s unique sale at the Breeders’ Cup.”

STAKES-PLACED BELLAVININO TOPS INGLIS DIGITAL USA SEPTEMBER SALE

Bellavinino | Vidhorse

Bellavinino (Get Stormy), a latest second in the $1-million Kentucky Downs Juvenile Fillies Stakes, brought a final bid of $170,000 from prominent owner/breeder Bill Heiligbrodt to top the Inglis Digital USA September Sale.

Bred by Brian Burns's Mt Joy Stables Inc. the dark bay filly easily defeated $35,000 maiden claimers on Gulfstream Park debut July 28 ahead of a fourth in a $250,000 restricted allowance test at Kentucky Downs Aug. 29. Returned on 10 days' rest for the Juvenile Fillies, Bellavinino was always handy to the pace and overcame some traffic trouble to finish second.

Bellavinino was consigned by Taylor Made Sales Agency on behalf of her previous owner C2 Racing Stable. She was made available for inspection at the barn of trainer Saffie Joseph, Jr.

“This filly was a win-win for me,” Heiligbrodt said. “She’s a stakes-quality racehorse, so I can enjoy running her, but ultimately, she’ll be a great fit with my new stallion Cogburn (Not This Time). I have horses with Saffie, so I was aware she was in the sale through my connections in that barn. The digital sales create convenient opportunities to buy a horse like this.”

Cogburn is a leading candidate for this year's GI Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint and set a record of :59.80 in winning the 5 1/2-furlong GI Jaipur Stakes during the Belmont Racing Festival at Saratoga.

“We maintained strong numbers in line with our first sale, supported by an expanded catalog, and were excited with the sale of Bellavinino for $170,000,” said Liza Hendriks, CEO of Inglis Digital USA. “Our digital sales are continuing to grow each month, and we are already having entries come in for our October Sale.”

Entries for the Inglis Digital USA October Sale are now open through Monday, Oct. 21. The catalog will be released Friday, Oct. 25 and the horses will sell Oct. 29. To enter a horse in the October Sale or to register as a bidder, visit

VIOLENCE BREAKS OUT AT ARGENTINA'S LA PLATA RACECOURSE

Two people were shot and one person stabbed when violence broke out at La Plata Racecourse in Argentina Tuesday, Racing Post reported.

Approximately 30 people were involved in the incident at the coastal track, located around 30 miles from Buenos Aires, and two people were transported to the hospital with gunshot wounds. A third sustained a knife injury.

Footage of the incident posted on social media showed a gunman running toward the group and producing a gun before a shot rings out. Other video shows a male being treated for a knee injury.

The incident is said to have stemmed from a dispute between the racetrack and jockeys over the payment of prize money as well as working conditions. There was meant to be a meeting between racecourse officials and the jockeys' union, but some of its members had decided to strike, prompting the cancellation of the race meeting.

According to Racing Post, the gunman was apprehended and arrested. Race meetings at La Plata were canceled until further notice.

USHBA TESORO FALLS SHORT IN BC CLASSIC PREP, DERMA SOTOGAKE UNPLACED

by Alan Carasso

Favored at 2-5 in defense of his title in Wednesday's Listed Nippon TV Hai at Funabashi Race Track outside Tokyo, Ushba Tesoro (Jpn) (Orfevre {Jpn}) was produced wide into the stretch and kicked home smartly, but was forced to settle for second behind all-the-way winner William Barows (Jpn) (Mikki Isle {Jpn}), who scored the upset as the 7-1 third choice. Derma Sotogake (Jpn) (Mind Your Biscuits) chased the early pace, but weakened in the straight to finish fifth, beaten 8 1/2 lengths.

William Barows, a Group 2 winner on dirt earlier this year, was kicked straight into the lead from barrier two by Forever Young (Jpn)'s jockey Ryusei Sakai and he was pressed along by Derma Sotogake, last year's GI Breeders' Cup Classic runner-up who was having his first run since a distant sixth in the G1 Dubai World Cup Mar. 30. Ushba Tesoro, a well-beaten second behind Laurel River (Into Mischief) in the World Cup, was outrun and settled in an unhurried seventh and midfield down the back of the left-turning track, a good 10 lengths off the lead.

William Barows was still going well as they hit the stretch and while 5-2 second favorite Derma Sotogake had run his race by then, Ushba Tesoro was finding his best stride beneath Yuga Kawada.

Despite closing his final 600 meters in a race-best :37.3, Ushba Tesoro couldn't quite bridge the big deficit and settled for a strong second over a distance short of his best.

"The trainer and I talked about making the lead and it went just as imagined," the winning jockey said on the Funabashi Race Track X account. "He responded well when he turned into the straight and I thought he'd be able to hold on."

Derma Sotogake's rider Christophe Lemaire was seeing the glass as half-full following the performance.

"We were in the right spot, but when the pace picked up, I had to get busy," he told Netkeiba. "We tried to the end and I think he'll be better next time. I'm not worried about the dirt in the U.S. because he can run better."

Ushba Tesoro came with a late run, but had to settle for a minor award in Wednesday's Nippon TV Hai | Horsephotos/Tomoya Moriuchi

WEEKLY RULINGS

STEWARDS AND COMMISSIONS RULINGS, SEPT. 19-25

Turf racing | Sarah Andrew

Every week, the TDN posts a roundup of the relevant Horseracing Integrity and Safety Act (HISA) related rulings from around the country.

Following a full hearing in Cleveland between April 23 and April 25 before HISA's anti-doping and medication control program arbitration panel, Ohio veterinarian Scott Shell has been suspended for 21 months and fined $20,000 for possessing four banned substances on Sept. 28 last year at Thistledown Racetrack.

The four substances in question were two jars of Carolina Gold/GABA (an amino acid that can be used as a calming agent), one tub of Isoxsuprine powder, two boxes of Bisphosphonate ("Osphos"), and one bottle of Sarapin ("Pitcher Plant").

According to the final decision, Shell's defence essentially centered around his contention that the four substances were intended for use in his practice outside of HISA's remit, including in West Virginia, which currently conducts horse racing beyond oversight of the federal law.

Shell also contended that HIWU chief of science Dr. Mary Scollay had previously given him reason to believe possession of banned substances was permitted on HISA's covered grounds as long as the veterinarian had an outside practice, according to the final decision.

"Dr. Shell has compelling justification to possess the four charged Banned Substances because he proved that he used and intended to use these legal medications in a non-Covered horse practice, on a regular basis. Dr. Roberts testified the charged Banned Substance are something that you would want to have at your fingertips to prescribe on any given day, and that it is good veterinary practice to carry a few doses of these medications for use in rural areas," the final decision states.

Arbitrator Barbara Reeves ultimately disagreed with these contentions, essentially arguing that Shell hadn't adequately justified his possession of the banned substances.

Among her reasonings, Reeves stated that Shell's interpretation of Scollay's statements is "unreasonable and not supported," and that "taken as a whole, Dr. Scollay's statements explain that where there are veterinarians whose practice also includes Non-Covered horses, they are able to explain or justify the Possession based on the Non-Covered horse practice," according to the final decision.

"Dr. Shell is a Covered Person, and he was in Possession of Banned Substances in Ohio where he is clearly and unequivocally subject to the ADMC Program. Arguing that he is not subject to the Program when he is in West Virginia is entirely beside the point. He needs a compelling justification for possessing Banned Substances in Ohio," the final decision state.

"His explanation that he is flouting the ADMC Program by selling Banned Substances in West Virginia--where some of the same substances are also banned--does not justify his Possession in a Covered state," the final decision adds.

Shell's suspension, which began on Oct. 5, 2023, corresponds with his two-year period of suspension previously issued for administering Hemo 15, a banned Substance, 228 times to 37 Covered Horses between May 29, 2023 and October 19, 2023. That suspension period began on Jan. 8 this year.

PROUD TO REPRESENT TOP HORSEMEN

IN ORDER OF PURSE:

5th-Churchill Downs, $94,094, Msw, 9-25, 2yo, (R), 6f, 1:10.76, ft, nose.

COUNTTHEBRAVE (c, 2, Speightster--She's My First, by To Honor and Serve) was overlooked at 6-1 in this maiden special weight restricted to horses that sold or RNA'd for $50,000 or less at their most recent auction. He broke like a shot from his outside draw and forced the issue through an opening quarter in :21.56. He began to shake clear on the turn for home, was the one to catch as they straightened and just held on to graduate by a nose over the fast-finishing Moral (Catholic Boy). After producing a filly by Enticed this year, the winner's dam was bred back to Global Campaign. Sales history: $39,000 RNA Ylg '23 TTAYRL. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $52,320. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by FanDuel TV. O/B-Stephen L. Fidel (KY); T-Ignacio Correas, IV.

Countthebrave (inside) | Coady Media

3rd-Horseshoe Indianapolis, $32,000, Msw, 9-25, 2yo, 5f (off turf), :59.03, ft, 4 3/4 lengths.

MOON SNIPER (c, 2, Caravaggio--Ruby Notion {GSW, $500,413}, by Great Notion), a longshot third in his unveiling here Sept. 4, took care of business as the 2-5 favorite in this off the turfer. He forced the issue through an opening quarter in :22.72 and kicked clear in the stretch to graduate by 4 3/4 lengths. Corman (Frosted) was second. Ruby Notion had a colt by Kitten's Joy in 2023 and a colt by Oscar Performance this year. She was bred back to Omaha Beach. Lifetime Record: 2-1-0-1, $22,400. Click for the Equibase.com chart. O-Silverton Hill LLC; B-Silverton Hill Farm, LLC (KY); T-Darrin Miller.

6th-Louisiana Downs, $23,450, Msw, 9-24, 2yo, f, 6f, 1:13.14, ft, 9 1/2 lengths.

MISCHIEF PRINCESS (f, 2, Instagrاند--Gypsy Princess, by Unbridled's Song), second after enjoying a clear lead in the stretch in the mud going five furlongs on debut July 23, became the ninth winner for her freshman sire (by Into Mischief) with this runaway victory. The 7-2 chance pressed from an outside third, took over on the turn for home and ran up the score in the stretch to graduate by 9 1/2 lengths. The winner is a half-sister to Yin Yang (Point of Entry), SP, $171,860. Lifetime Record: 2-1-1-0, $19,200. Click for the Equibase.com chart. O/B-Coteau Grove Farms, LLC (LA); T-Steven M. RESPECTABLE TRADE AT TATTERSALLS IRELAND AS 180K MEHMAS LEADS THE WAY

A Mehmas filly led the way at the September Yearling Sale Tattersalls Ireland

By Brian Sheerin

Jaber Abdullah marked his trip to this year's September Yearling Sale at Tattersalls Ireland by spending €586,000 on 10 horses, including €180,000 and €120,000 on fillies by Mehmas (Ire) and Starman (GB) respectively.

The Rabbah Bloodstock investment played an important role in the sale achieving turnover of €12,433,500, which was down 1% on last year's trade despite the bigger offering of horses, while the clearance rate stood at 84%—also down 1% on last year. The average fell by 7% to €28,781 and the median by 14% to €24,000. Cont. p3

JACK BERRY AND GOLDIKOVA TO BE INDUCTED INTO THE HALL OF FAME

QIPCO British Champions Series has named two of Europe's racing stars, Yorkshire-born trainer Jack Berry and the outstanding 14-time Group 1 winner Goldikova (Ire) (Anabaa), to be inducted into the QIPCO British Champions Series Hall of Fame. Both inductees, together with the Hall of Fame's public vote winner Dubai Millennium (GB), will be recognised with a special presentation on QIPCO British Champions Day at Ascot on Saturday, October 19.

Jack Berry MBE is just the third person to be recognised within the Special Contributor category, following in the footsteps of Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Khalid Abdullah.

Berry has been a pioneer for the Injured Jockeys' Fund (IJF) since it was founded 60 years ago and it was his vision that led to Oaksey House, in Lambourn, Berkshire, and Jack Berry House, in Malton, Yorkshire, being established in 2009 and 2015, respectively. He remains the IJF's vice-president and has raised incalculable amounts of money with his initiatives. In 1996, he was awarded an MBE for charitable services and for services to horseracing.

Berry said, "To be inducted into the Hall of Fame is a huge honour. I always knew I wanted to be a jockey from when I was five years old and now, at almost 87, to be added to such a list of horses and humans who have had such an impact on the sport is truly humbling." Cont. p8

The Rabbah colours have already been carried by a talented filly by the Tally-Ho Stud-based stallion, the 97-rated Listed winner Star Of Mehmas (Ire), and connections were visibly delighted to have secured the most expensive yearling of the sale.

Offered by Castledillon Stud, the Mehmas filly [lot 321] hails from the Showcasing (GB) mare Show Me Off (GB), herself a proven producer with American Lady (Ire) (Starspangledbanner {Aus}) achieving black-type for trainer Fozzy Stack.

David Ryan, manager of Abdullah's Kilfrush Stud, commented, "Mr Abdullah has a lovely Mehmas filly called Star Of Mehmas, who broke the track record when winning the Harry Rosebery Stakes at Ayr. She is a super filly and we have great plans for her."

He added, "This is one of the nicest fillies in the sale and we have been lucky with Mehmas. Mr Abdullah has bought fillies and colts--we are not only looking for fillies. If a horse is nice and looks like a racing prospect, it does not matter as we want to have some fun on the racecourse."

David Ryan | Tattersalls Ireland

Meanwhile, lot 381, the Starman half-sister to Group 3-placed Perotto (GB) (New Bay {GB}), was sold by Baroda Stud. Mohamad Al Kaabi did the bidding on behalf of the Rabbah team.

He said, "We like the pedigree, she is a nice individual, vetted well and is by Starman, whose stock looks very promising. The mare's first foal Perotto is a six-time winner and is Listed-placed and her two-year-old by Australia (GB) is a winner."

Tattersalls Ireland boss Simon Kerins praised ITM's efforts in attracting the foreign buyers to the sale and stated that such a healthy level of trade had not been posted at any other yearling sale in Europe this year.

He said, "The trade at the September Yearling Sale over the last two days has been excellent, reflected in a strong clearance rate of 84% and an impressive turnover of €12,433,500--the third best in the sale's history. This sale has once again proven itself as a progressive and popular sale, with buyers at every level engaging in competition not witnessed anywhere else this year.

"The profile of the September Yearling Sale has grown significantly in recent years, with graduates making their mark on the track which has further strengthened buyer confidence. This year's key indicators remain strong, nine lots sold for six figures, and a record number of lots sold for over €60,000 highlights the remarkable strength of the middle market. Surpassing the strong 2023 figures is a real achievement for us."

He added, "We've welcomed clients from all over the world and to witness the footfall on site this week has been phenomenal to say the least. The level of competition from our UK, Irish and European buyers has been tremendous and there has been a real positive feel to this sale from the weekend through to the sale. Flat racing is a sport of international appeal, and seeing significant sums spent on yearlings destined for top European jurisdictions speaks volumes. Credit must go to the team at Tattersalls Ireland, our overseas agents and to Irish Thoroughbred Marketing, whose efforts have been essential to the success of this sale.

"I would like to extend my thanks to the vendors, and without their support it would not have been possible to compile a catalogue of such depth and quality. Their confidence has been key to the success of this sale."

Joey Logan | Tattersalls Ireland

Brother To Spirit d'Or Doesn't Disappoint

The Irish National Stud-drafted brother to the Tattersalls Ireland Super Auction Sales Stakes winner Spirit d'Or (Ire) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) was billed as one of the highlights this week and he didn't disappoint when knocked down to Joey Logan along with Alan and Roderick Harte for €100,000.

Spirit D'Or made light work of her rivals at the Curragh 10 days ago and looks capable of mixing it in black-type races. She was sourced by Colin and Ausra Bargary of Drummona House for €55,000 at this sale 12 months ago before turning a tidy profit when selling to her current connections for €145,000 at the breeze-ups.

What path her little brother goes down remains somewhat undecided, according to Logan, who has been busy at Tattersalls Ireland this week having added "seven or eight" horses to his haul.

Speaking about lot 417, Logan said, "He is by the right sire and his full-sister was very good at the Curragh. I thought she was very impressive. He is a beautiful, attractive colt, very well prepared by the Irish National Stud and with the big update. If he is as good as his sister we will be happy. It is a lovely family. No trainer is planned for him yet."

He added, "I have bought seven or eight so far. The stock is fantastic and it is very hard to buy the nice horse as there are so many people here from all around the world. In fairness to ITM and Tattersalls, they have done a great job getting people here. The stock is good but the people are here, too--the numbers following in a nice horse are unbelievable." King Con Too Hot To Handle

Few people are as infectiously positive as Con Marnane and, after enduring a frustrating time of it in filling the role as underbidder more times than he'd have liked to, the Bansha boss finally got one of his big picks over the line when going to €115,000 to secure a Too Darn Hot (GB) colt from Limekiln Stud.

"I'm a big fan of the sire but sure everybody else is as well," Marnane said shortly after the hammer dropped. "It's incredible what Too Darn Hot is doing. To me, this colt was the nicest horse in the sale and he looks as though he'll make up into a cracking two-year-old, which is exactly what I want. Every time I looked at him, he put his head down and walked and really wanted to please everyone."

Marnane added of lot 471, "He was getting expensive for me but luckily enough we won three or four of those IRE incentive bonuses this year and we can put that up against the price of him. We have to complement the Irish government in helping the Irish racing industry and that is a fantastic scheme that helps the smaller owner-breeders to go back to the sales.

"There has been an incredible turnout for this sale--a large turnout from English and foreign buyers. When you compare that to the yearling sales so far this year in Britain, where there were not as many buyers, you have to think that Brexit is really, really hurting the British racing industry. That's such a shame."

Con Marnane | Tattersalls Ireland

The Too Darn Hot colt was pinhooked by Gerry Ross of Limekiln Stud who snapped up the colt out of unraced New Approach (Ire) mare Biblic (Ire) from the family of Group 1 performer Dubawi Gold (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) for 40,000gns at the Tattersalls December Foal Sale.

Marnane continued, "I've been the underbidder on five or six horses this week and the ball didn't bounce my way. But I am delighted to get the Too Darn Hot. He'll go back to the Craven and will form part of a small and select team of breeze-up horses for next year. We have consistently produced high-quality breeze-up horses and, just last week, our homebred Powerful Glory (Ire) (Cotai Glory {GB}) won the Mill Reef Stakes and we're very proud of that. Producing good horses is all that we want to do."

Talking Points

- News filtered through to breeze-up vendors this week that the proposed Goresbridge Breeze-Up Sale will not be going ahead in 2025. This comes shortly after Goffs firmed up plans for a new sale at Naas next year. There have been many contrasting views about whether two new sales would have saturated an already finite breeze-up market but this week's announcement will have at least provided handlers with some clarity regardless of what side of the fence they sit.
- Sioux Nation was the sire of the sale. The Coolmore resident cleared €1 million on 27 yearlings who sold for an average of €41,222. Eight of those sold for €50,000 or more.
- Razza Latina has become synonymous with this sale and the Italian buyer featured prominently on the list of buyers' with at least 10 yearlings bought for €372,000.
- On a day when Gavin Cromwell's Flooring Porter gave a front-running masterclass to win the Kerry National at Listowel by a street, the multiple Cheltenham Festival and Royal Ascot-winning handler continued his recruitment drive on the Flat by adding a Mehmas colt (lot 442) for €60,000, a Space Blues (Ire) filly (lot 476) for €45,000 and a Coulsty (Ire) colt (lot 508) for €35,000 to his squad for next year through Kevin and Anna Ross.

Golden Touch

It takes some doing to double or treble your money as a pinhooker, especially in the current climate. But to get 10 times your outlet, now that beats all. Take a bow Kevin Quinn, who turned his €3,000 King Of Change (GB) foal into a €30,000 yearling [lot 375] with Ross Doyle holding off some notable opposition on the big-walking colt.

"I am absolutely over the moon," the master of Ladytown Stables said, "He was a big foal but he always had a lovely walk. For me, that pendulum movement is what I look for in a horse and he had that. He has impressed us all the time and you could do anything with him. He really has a lovely brain. Because he was a three grand foal, a lot of people thought he would be bought for 10 or 15 grand."

He added, "There was a good bit of interest but I thought he might even make more. We've sold good horses before and, when you're buying them to pinhook, you can buy what you like. When you breed them, it's just as John Magnier famously said, 'you're given what God gives you'. We've had some good results here and sold Beautiful Aisling (GB) (Havana Gold {Ire}) and Dandalla (Ire) (Dandy Man {Ire}) at Tattersalls Ireland. They turned out to be classy fillies on the track but we actually didn't get paid for them. We're thrilled with today."

Lot 375, a son of King Of Change | Tattersalls Ireland

Buy of the Day

The King Of Change was a belter and it would be a surprise if he didn't turn out to be value at €30,000 in the long-run. But for the sake of putting forward something at the opposite end of the spectrum, the Coulsty (Ire) colt [lot 530] that Barry Lynch stuck around for could well be a value buy at €36,000. While the King Of Change might only be making his debut this time next year, the Coulsty should be up to making his debut in the early parts of the new season. He is a lovely, precocious type with an exaggerated action. And who knows, if he were to win a maiden before Royal Ascot, the top hats could be needed. Cont. p7

Thought for the Day

It's hard to know what the barometer is when judging whether a sale is a success or not, especially in the current market where the lack of an underbelly has been there for all to see at the yearling sales in France and Britain already this year, but no vendor was heard complaining at Tattersalls Ireland. In fact, it was quite the opposite. Between buyers and vendors, Tattersalls Ireland and ITM were praised for their efforts in getting the international buyers on the sale ground. It was a well-attended sale and that told in what were respectable results in the current climate.

Pinhooking Fortunes On Wednesday

Of the 278 horses catalogued during Wednesday's session, 79 were pinhooks, and after five withdrawals, 74 horses visited the ring. A total of 25 did not meet their reserves and were buy-backs, leaving 49 yearlings marked as sold. Of the latter group, 14 made a profit, and 35 lots lost money.

We have multiplied the price of the foal by 1.1 and added a running cost of €12,000 for keep, feed, veterinary, shoeing, sales prep and sales entry fees. Depending on whether someone has their own farm, or where they choose to board a horse, will obviously mean that costs for each individual can vary significantly.

It is worth noting that sometimes a horse can appear to be bought and sold by different names but have actually not changed ownership at all.

EUROPEAN NEWS

He added, "I'm certainly in good company; to even be mentioned in the same breath as Prince Khalid Abdullah, Sir Henry Cecil, The Queen and my old pal Lester Piggott is some achievement and I couldn't be prouder. I am very much looking forward to being at Ascot for QIPCO British Champions Day next month."

Jack Berry | QIPCO British Champions Series Hall of Fame

Trained throughout her career by Freddy Head, Goldikova will always be remembered for winning three consecutive renewals of the GI Breeders' Cup Mile between 2008 and 2010, becoming the only horse in history to win the same race three times at America's biggest meeting.

In Europe, Goldikova won a further 11 Group 1 races, including four straight editions of the Prix Rothschild at Deauville. Her overall tally of 14 wins at the top level remains a European record and is testament to the tremendous constitution she demonstrated in a career spanning 17 wins from 27 starts. She finished out of the first three places just once.

Goldikova was owned and bred by the Wertheimer brothers, Alain and Gerard, who said, "We are very touched and honored by the upcoming induction of our champion Goldikova into the Hall of Fame and this mark of distinction reflects the value of her career.

"The winner of 17 races, including 14 Group 1s, she is the only one who has managed to win the Breeders' Cup three times in a row. She also won two main English races on the mile in the Queen Anne Stakes at Royal Ascot and the Falmouth Stakes at Newmarket and, of course, a legendary Jacques Le Marois at Deauville in the summer of 2009.

"Having her statue at our farm in France, a permanent photo at the main entrance of Deauville's racetrack, an induction to the American Hall of Fame a few years ago and now the valuable one at the English Hall of Fame represents a lot to us, our team and all of those involved in what she achieved."

Rod Street, CEO of British Champions Series, added, "Along with Aidan O'Brien, who was inducted into the Hall of Fame at the QIPCO Guineas Festival earlier this year, the three further inductees into the Hall of Fame this year represent some of the finest qualities to be found in horses and people.

"Dubai Millennium, winner of the public vote for the Turn of the Century horse, was superb on the track and, despite a stud career that was tragically short, has stamped his mark on the breed as sire of Dubawi.

"The brilliant mare Goldikova showed such durability in winning 14 Group 1s--among them three consecutive victories in the Breeders' Cup Mile, as well as her wins in the UK at Ascot and Newmarket.

"And Jack Berry's contribution to our sport, as a trainer but even more significantly as one of the instigators of the Injured Jockeys' Fund, for which his fundraising efforts have been nothing short of staggering, must be one of the greatest of the past century. I am very much looking forward to their inaugurations on QIPCO British Champions Day."

AUTUMN PLANS REVEALED FOR MICK APPLEBY STARS

Annaf | Shemala Hanley

The 5-year-old won that six-furlong race last October, before taking second in a Lingfield listed race in his 2024 debut. Successful in the G2 1351 Turf Sprint in February, the entire was unplaced in the G1 Sprint Cup Stakes at Haydock in September, but displayed a return to form when third in the G3 World Trophy Stakes on Sept. 21. He has also been penciled in to contest the G1 QIPCO British Champions Sprint Stakes at Ascot on Oct. 19, with another trip to Saudi Arabia to defend his 1351 Turf Sprint crown also in the cards.

“He ran very well, we were very pleased with him,” said Appleby. “He was probably drawn on the wrong side and the [heavy] ground was a bit against him, but he ran well. “He’s in the Bengough at Ascot again, so we’ll decide whether we are going to go there or not, then there’s Champions Day and we’ll probably go and have another tilt in Saudi with him, I would think.

“He got murdered at Haydock, so it was nice to see him run a good race on Saturday.”

Appleby also had a positive bulletin regarding his pair of Breeders’ Cup-bound RP Racing-owned horses--Grade I winner Big Evs (Ire) (Blue Point {Ire}) and G3 Molecomb Stakes hero Big Mojo (Ire) (Mohaather {GB}). The former landed the G1 Breeders’ Cup Juvenile Turf Sprint, and is now targeting the G1 Turf Sprint, while the latter will try to give Appleby consecutive wins in the Juvenile Turf Sprint at Del Mar in November.

“They’re both good and they’re both going straight there now,” Appleby added. “They’re both in good order.”

CRITERIUM DE MAISONS-LAFFITTE NEXT TARGET FOR ELECTROLYTE

Wathan Racing’s latest star turn, G3 Prix Eclipse hero Electrolyte (Ire) (Hello Youmzain {Fr}), is pointing toward the G2 Criterium de Maisons-Laffitte at Chantilly on Oct. 12, according to racing advisor Richard Brown.

One of two group winners for his first-year sire, the son of the winning Bibury (GB) (Royal Applause {GB}) graduated at Ayr in June, before running second, by only a nose, to Rashabar (Ire) (Holy Roman Emperor {Ire}) in the G2 Coventry Stakes at Royal Ascot for Archie Watson. Kept busy with a fifth-place appearance in the G2 July Stakes at Newmarket and a sixth in the G2 Vintage Stakes at Goodwood at the end of that month, he won the Eclipse off a 53-day break.

“We were absolutely delighted with his run, we’d given him a break after Goodwood and he went to Hillwood Stud and spent some time in the field,” said Brown.

“That freshened him up and it was a very pleasing performance. I thought Mickael Barzalona gave him a brilliant ride, he just let him settle in front.

“Six [furlongs] is definitely going to be his game, we tried seven and it didn’t work. We were very happy and it was a good performance.

“The most likely race for him is the Group 2 back at Chantilly, the Criterium de Maisons-Laffitte, that’s what we’re aiming for now.”

FOUR WILDCARDS ADDED TO THE ARQANA ARC SALE

Four wildcards have been added to the catalogue for the Arqana Arc Sale and will go under the hammer at Saint-Cloud Racecourse on Saturday, October 5.

They include the Hedi Ghabri-trained Al Jafara (GB) (lot 21), who shed her maiden tag at the second attempt at Chantilly earlier this month. The two-year-old daughter of Pinatubo (Ire) is out of a full-sister to the Oaks heroine Qualify (Ire) (Fastnet Rock {Aus}) and hails from the family of Group 1 winners such as Brian Boru (GB) and Workforce (GB).

Alessandro and Giuseppe Botti's Presage Nocturne (Ire) (Wootton Bassett {GB}) will be offered as lot 22 after his third-place finish in the G3 Prix Gladiateur at Longchamp, while fellow three-year-old Shootout (Ire) (Areion {Ger}), lot 35, produced a career best on his most recent outing when filling the runner-up spot in the G3 Kolner Sprint Trophy at Cologne.

Finally, Yann Barberot will offer Ci Mer (Fr) (Siyouni {Fr}) as lot 36. The three-year-old filly followed her first career victory at Saint-Cloud in June with a fourth-place finish in the G3 Prix Chloe at Chantilly.

SKY SPORTS RACING DUO SIGNED UP FOR RACING WELFARE JURASSIC COAST CHALLENGE

Many well-known figures from across the racing industry are making their final preparations for the Racing Welfare Jurassic Coast Challenge, which takes place on Sunday, September 29.

Sky Sports Racing presenters Josh Apiafi and Alex Hammond announced they were taking part in the challenge live on-air on Saturday.

"You and I and 50 others from around the racing world are walking the Jurassic Coastal Challenge next Sunday in aid of Racing Welfare--a fantastic cause," said Apiafi. "We both started off working in a yard so it's great to be giving something back."

Hammond added, "It's a wonderful charity that supports a broad church of people in the racing industry. That's why I'm doing it, that's why you're doing it. It will be a challenge by the way folks, because this is not a flat 22 miles."

Following a route along the South West Coast Path, the challenge will start at Durdle Door and finish in Swanage, covering a distance of 20 miles and 1,443 metres of ascent.

Training duo Oliver Greenall and Josh Guerriero are among the other members of the racing industry who will be taking part, along with former trainer Harry Dunlop and Brittany Rushworth, who is a barn leader at Newsells Park Stud.

Jo White, Racing Welfare corporate fundraising and events manager (south), said, "This is the first time we've run the Racing Welfare Jurassic Coast Challenge and we're really looking forward to it. We'd like to thank Josh and Alex and all of the participants who have signed-up to take part in what will be a tough but rewarding adventure.

"We rely on fundraising events like the Racing Welfare Jurassic Coast Challenge to ensure we can continue to support the workforce of British horseracing and are hopeful it will be a great success for the charity and for all the participants, too."

AUSTRALIAN OAKS WINNER AUTUMN ANGEL TO BE OFFERED BY INGLIS DIGITAL

Brilliant Group 1-winning filly Autumn Angel (Aus) is set to be offered for public auction in a boutique Inglis Digital Online Sale early next week. Bidding opens at 9am (AEDT) on Monday, September 30 and runs until 4pm (AEDT) on Tuesday, October 1.

Trained by Peter Moody and Katherine Coleman, Autumn Angel won four of her 11 starts and earned over A$1.1 million in prize-money during her illustrious career, with her biggest success coming in April this year when she defeated high-class performers such as Zardozi (Aus) (Kingman {GB}) and Orchestral (NZ) (Savabeel {Aus}) to win the G1 Australian Oaks at Randwick.

On Tuesday it was announced that she'd suffered a tendon injury, bringing her racing career to a premature end.

"I've had some good ones and, trust me, this girl was right up there in the top bracket," said Moody. "She was a special racehorse who had so much ahead of her on the track, but now it's time for her to become a mum. She'll be one heck of a broodmare."

Autumn Angel was purchased by Moody and managing owner Wylie Dalziel for A$230,000 at the 2022 Inglis Australian Easter Yearling Sale. She is one of four winners out of the Group 3 winner Angel Of Mercy (Aus) (Hussonet), who was also runner-up in the G1 Tattersalls Tiara. When Autumn Angel won the Australian Oaks she became the first top-level winner for her sire, The Autumn Sun (Aus).

Inglis Bloodstock CEO Sebastian Hutch said, "Autumn Angel has consistently impressed throughout her career. Her race record doesn't fully reflect her ability, but she possesses a pedigree that includes Redoute's Choice, Galileo and Hussonet, making her an appealing prospect for breeders."
