

PRIVATE MISSION AND EDA: A PAIR OF STARS BOUND FOR FASIG-TIPTON

Click here for our visit with Private Mission and her stablemate Eda, both set to sell at the Fasig-Tipton November Sale | Sara Gordon

by Katie Petrunyak

Four years ago, Baoma Corp's Susan and Charles Chu sent their three-time Grade I-winning star filly Bast (Uncle Mo) through the ring at the Fasig-Tipton 'Night of the Stars' Sale. Carrying her first foal by Justify, she brought down the house when she sold to Spendthrift Farm for $4.2 million.

This year, the Chus will send two more mares from their distinguished program to Fasig-Tipton's November Sale. Private Mission (Into Mischief) and Eda (Munnings) were both selected by agent Donato Lanni for Baoma Corp's racing stable and they developed into multiple graded stakes winners under the tutelage of Bob Baffert. Private Mission, a three-time graded stakes winner, will be offered at Fasig-Tipton in foal to Curlin while GI Starlet Stakes heroine Eda is carrying her first foal by Justify. Cont. YAUPON COLT LEADS DAY 1 OF OBS OCTOBER YEARLING SALE

Yaupon continued a strong run for his first crop of yearlings in the sales ring Monday when hip 78 topped the schedule-adjusted Day 1 of the Ocala Breeders' Sale October Yearling Sale. Consigned by Colin Brennan Bloodstock, Agent IX and purchased for $75,000 by Pick View LLC, the Florida-bred colt is a half to a two-time winner in Candy Caramel (Candy Ride {Arg}) and out of a half-sister to MGSW Conveyance (Indian Charlie). Dam Bride Street is also a half to Cashing Tickets (Indian Charlie) who produced GSW Leggs Galore (Bayern) and SP $800,000 yearling Victorious (Into Mischief).

The top-priced filly came late in the session when hip 180, a filly by Vekoma consigned by Abbie Road Farm (Lisa McGreevy), Agent XXVI, sold for $72,000 to Tom McCrocklin, agent. From her sire's second crop, the filly is out of a half to MGSW No Dozing (Union Rags).

Ocala Stud's Win Win Win, already the sire of 'TDN Rising Star' and $1.8m OBS March topper Nooni, had two progeny sell in the top five prices: a filly (hip 85) for $70,000 and a colt named Keep Praying (hip 11) for $50,000.

96 yearlings sold for $1,658,700 Monday with an average of $17,278 and a median price of $10,000. The session's top consigner was Kaizen Sales (Richard Kent) with 14 sold for $274,200 while the top buyer was K.O.I.D. Co., Ltd. who purchased 6 yearlings for a total of $124,000. 64 yearlings went unsold.

The second and final session of the October Yearling Sale will begin at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Fasig-Tipton Presents The November Mares

Both mares will be consigned by Hill 'n' Dale at Xalapa on Nov. 4.

“We're delighted to have the opportunity this year to offer two mares that were raced by the Chu family,” said Fasig-Tipton's Boyd Browning. “Both of them are just fantastic opportunities--young mares in foal to the right stallions. When you have the opportunity to buy a horse that the Chus raced, you know it was hand-picked. The physicals are going to be just absolutely outstanding when the combination of Donato Lanni and Bob Baffert were involved in the selection process.”

“Private Mission was a beautiful filly and Eda was such a good racehorse,” recalled Bob Baffert. “When people are looking to get into the business and want to start out with some top-line mares, with Eda and Private Mission, you're not going to get any better quality than that.”

Natives of Taiwan with a company that manufactures GPS navigational systems, the Chus got their start in the racing business just over a decade ago. Susan was the first to get interested in the sport and Charles followed soon after. One of the first horses that Baffert recalls training for Susan was 2013 GIII Southwest Stakes winner Super Ninety Nine (Pulpit). Charles joined his wife in campaigning 2016 Breeders' Cup Sprint winner and Eclipse champion Drefong (Gio Ponti). Bast came along a few years later and their success has continued to grow from there. Cont.

“They've had so much luck, but they also have so much passion for the sport,” said Baffert. “They love their horses. Any time they sell a horse they're always asking, 'Where is he going? Is he going to a good home?' It's very important to them. I love that aspect of it that the horse comes first for them.”

Not only have the Chus made aftercare a priority for their program, but they also focus on competing at the top level of the sport. With Baffert and Lanni overseeing the selection of their stock, the Chus are a consistent presence at the high end of the buying market every year as they key in on top physicals and quality pedigrees.

Eda and Private Mission are no exception to that rule. Six-figure purchases with powerful pedigrees, both mares have enhanced their resumes on the racetrack and will offer buyers plenty of opportunity come the Night of the Stars.

Out of a stakes-winning daughter of Unbridled, Private Mission was a $750,000 yearling at the Fasig-Tipton Saratoga Sale in 2019.

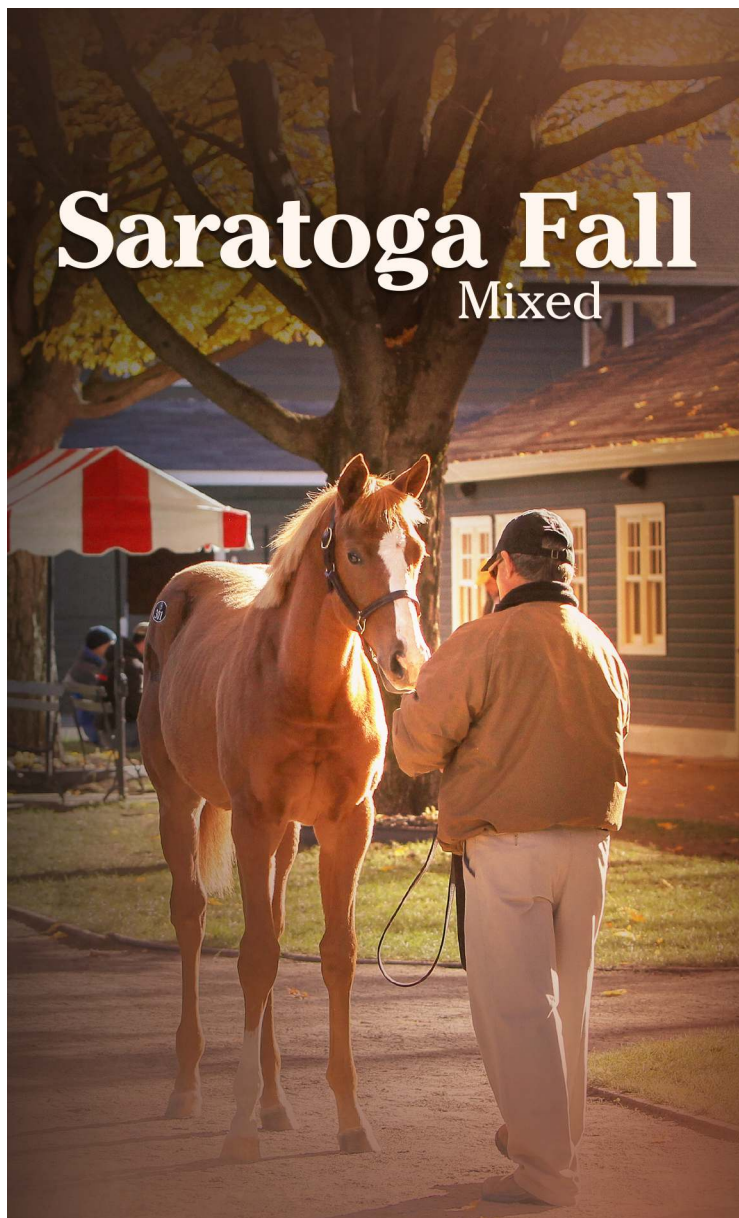

“I can still remember the first time I saw her on the sales ground,” recalled Browning. “She was one of the stars of our Saratoga sale that year. Just a breathtaking physical. Absolutely gorgeous, fantastic balance. She also has a fantastic female family. It's the family of Grade I winner Dunbar Road (Quality Road) and great broodmare influences in Unbridled and Alydar. It's a collector's family. Even if she wasn't a great racehorse herself and a great physical individual, she'd be a highly desirable broodmare offering because of her pedigree. The fillies and mares out of that family continue to produce outstanding runners.”

A winning juvenile on debut, Private Mission claimed back-to-back scores at three in the GIII Torrey Pines Stakes and GII Zenyatta Stakes, where she defeated future Grade I winner As Time Goes By (American Pharoah). The daughter of Into Mischief added to her accomplishments at four in the GII Santa Maria Stakes.

“She won half of her starts,” noted her consignor John Sikura of Hill 'n' Dale. “She was a very successful racemare, but as good of a racemare as she was, I think her future is that to be a foundation broodmare for somebody. Those kind of mares replete with important blacktype, by leading sires, with great physical presence and ample ability, those are the criterion of cornerstone mares. She has every making of a mare that could be a really important producer for somebody over the next decade.”

After retiring from racing, Private Mission was bred to Gun Runner. That colt arrived this year before the mare was bred back to leading sire Curlin.

Another standout in the sales ring, Eda was a $550,000 2-year-old at the 2021 OBS March Sale. The daughter of Munnings flew to the center stage of her division in California as a juvenile, winning on debut and later getting her first stakes win in the Anoakia Stakes. That two-length score was the first in a seven-race win streak over the next two years that included victories both sprinting and routing in the GI Starlet Stakes, GIII Santa Ysabel Stakes, GII Great Lady M Stakes and GIII Rancho Bernardo Handicap.

Eda is the only Grade I-winning juvenile filly by Munnings
Sara Gordon

“Her win streak is almost unprecedented in the world we live in for a filly to be that consistent, that durable and to perform at that level,” noted Browning. “She was a graded stakes winner at two, three and four and she was a joy to watch.”

In her victory in the Starlet over fillies like Grade I victress Grace Adler (Curlin) and multiple graded stakes winner Cairo Memories (Cairo Prince), Eda became Munnings's only Grade I-winning filly at two.

After retiring at the end of her 4-year-old season, Eda was bred to Justify, who has exploded onto the list of leading sires since last year's Breeders' Cup where he was represented by champions Just FYI and Hard to Justify. This year the Triple Crown winner's top international runners include Breeders' Cup Classic hopeful City of Troy, two-time Group 1 victress Opera Singer and the talented Australian horse Storm Boy (Aus).

“What he's doing out there is just amazing,” said Baffert, Justify's former trainer. “Not only was he a magnificent racehorse, but what a sire he has turned out to be. Now he's getting all these great mares, so it's going to be tougher and tougher to find these Justifys.”

Browning added, “The success that Justify is having around the world is really unprecedented so this is a unique opportunity to buy a Grade I-winning 2-year-old filly in foal to a stallion of the level of Justify with the physical attributes that Eda has. She'll be one of the stars of the show.” Cont.

Both Eda and Private Mission have spent their days since retiring from the racetrack at Hill 'n' Dale. For Sikura and his team, parting with these two mares will be bittersweet, but Sikura said that it will also be an honor to represent a program like the one Baoma Corp has built when Hill 'n' Dale offers this pair of stars at Fasig-Tipton.

"We've cared for the mares, got them in foal and the guys on the farm are very proud," he said. "The Chus have bought so many wonderful mares at auction. Their focus is mainly racing and that's the enjoyment for them, so I think the whole world is now getting an opportunity to buy two really spectacular offerings from a highly tuned-in program that annually succeeds and wins Grade I races. We are proud of the offerings and I think they'll really stand out at Fasig Tipton this November."

LAZARUS WARNS HBPA'S ANTI-HISA LEGAL STRATEGY WOULD 'UNLEASH TOTAL DISORDER'

by T.D. Thornton

Horseracing and Safety Integrity Authority chief executive Lisa Lazarus on Monday sent a letter to Alan Foreman, the chairman of the Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association (THA), warning THA members of "potentially significant disruptions" to the industry based on the HISA Authority's interpretation of legal strategies being pursued by the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association (HBPA).

With an application by the Authority pending in the United States Supreme Court that would stay a Horseracing and Safety Integrity Act unconstitutionality mandate that has yet to be released by the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals, Lazarus led her Oct. 7 letter by acknowledging the THA's efforts to work with the Authority to improve HISA, "instead of draining industry resources and dollars that would have gone directly in horsemen's pockets to fight it."

Lazarus wrote that the Authority "has been defending itself against claims of unconstitutionality in multiple courts, as the HBPA and others have filed suit after suit in an effort to find a court sympathetic to their arguments. That litigation has forced [the Authority] to spend millions of industry dollars to defend the programs Congress mandated.

"Every court has uniformly upheld the constitutionality of HISA's Federal Trade Commission (FTC)-approved rules, but the HBPA's strategy has led to a split among Circuit courts across the country on the enforcement of those rules," Lazarus continued. "The Sixth and Eighth Circuit courts have ruled in HISA's favor while the Fifth Circuit (covering only the racing states of Texas and Louisiana) has ruled in favor of the HBPA."

A possible decision by the Supreme Court has long been speculated as the final destiny for the 3 1/2-year legal odyssey in which the national office of the HBPA and 12 of its affiliates are trying to nullify HISA as an allegedly unconstitutional law.

But before the case gets on the Supreme Court docket, Lazarus wrote that, based on her interpretation of a recent brief filed by the HBPA with the Supreme Court, the HBPA "is planning to ask the federal district court in the Fifth Circuit to unleash total disorder by releasing every individual HBPA member nationwide—not just in Louisiana and Texas—from HISA's enforcement authority."

Lazarus's letter referenced Eric Hamelback, the chief executive officer of the national HBPA, no fewer than seven times while articulating what Lazarus believed to be the HBPA's legal strategy.

TDN attempted to reach Hamelback to get his side of the story and to clarify whether or not Lazarus was accurate in her opinions about the HBPA's legal strategy, but those efforts did not yield an on-the-record response prior to deadline for this story.

Lazarus explained her opinion this way: "To put it simply, Mr. Hamelback wants to create a system in which his members (HBPA only) can do whatever they want while THA members and all other horsemen not party to his lawsuit will continue to operate under HISA's safety and ADMC rules. That means [THA-member] horses will continue to be tested for prohibited substances while other horses competing against them will have no enforceable restrictions on performance-enhancing drugs and/or medications."

After reviewing Lazarus's letter, TDN spoke to John Roach, the Authority's legal counsel, to ask why the Authority chose now to emphasize the points that it did, and to ask why Hamelback, an individual, was more the focus of the letter than his organization.

"Someone's accountable for this legal strategy," Roach said in a phone interview.

"And it seems to me that the letter makes clear that the HBPA and its leadership [are] accountable for the choices that they've made and what they say that they're going to do. I mean, this is what they've said [in legal filings] they're going to do at the Supreme Court."

In her letter, Lazarus wrote only in general terms about how the Authority would respond in court against the HBPA's perceived legal strategy, noting that "HISA will vigorously defend the industry" while remaining "unwavering in our commitment to protect horses, riders, and the future of racing."

TDN asked Roach if he could provide specifics on how the Authority would approach the potential showdown in the Supreme Court.

"Obviously we have the stay motion pending at the Supreme Court," Roach said. "So if that stay motion is granted, that will protect the status quo until the Supreme Court decides [if it will take the overall case]. So that's the first step.

"And then the second step, if we [don't] get the stay at the Supreme Court, presumably, [the HBPA] will go and execute on their plan that they [outlined] in their Supreme Court briefing, and go to the federal district court in [Texas, where the lawsuit originated]. At that point, we'll obviously have something to say about the relief that they're seeking," Roach said.

"It's kind of hard to imagine that they believe that their members should not follow HISA in the very states that the Sixth Circuit and the Eighth Circuit ruled that HISA was completely constitutional." Roach said. "But they say in their brief that that's what they're going to do,"

Roach told TDN he wanted to make it clear that the Authority took steps to work with the HBPA on streamlining the path to the Supreme Court, but that the HBPA allegedly did not want to work collectively on that concept.

"It's really important for everyone to know that we went to the HBPA and said, 'Look, it's in everyone's interest to get this case to the Supreme Court as fast as possible; everybody believes that the Supreme Court is going to take the case. Let's not get into all this procedural jousting [over the Fifth Circuit stay]. Let's just get the case to the Supreme Court [and] get a decision as soon as possible so that the industry has certainty,'" Roach said.

"They rejected us," Roach said.

"Then we said, 'Hey, how about we just let the Fifth Circuit decision apply to the Fifth Circuit, which means Louisiana would [operate under a HISA rules stay from a separate court case] the way it's doing now until the Supreme Court rules, and Texas could start exporting their [simulcast] signal. Everything else would remain the status quo; we'll let the Supreme Court decide.'" Roach said.

"That was rejected as well," Roach added.

"And so, the legitimate question is, 'What is the end game here?'" Roach said.

"We're set to have total chaos and a three-ring circus. As the letter points out, how are we, as an industry, going to run horse races when some horses are subject to one set of rules and some horses are not subject to any rules in the same race?" Roach said.

(Note: After the initial version of this story was first published, an HBPA spokesperson emailed the following statement attributed to national HBPA board member Bill Walmsley.)

"The letter from Lisa Lazarus is unprofessional, unnecessary, and repeatedly libels Eric Hamelback. The National HBPA's board of directors—not Eric Hamelback—has determined our legal course. There was no need to personalize a long-standing and good-faith disagreement about what's best for the industry. Lisa chose to go to the gutter with cheap shots more appropriate to a campaign season attack ad than someone who wants to lead the horseracing industry.

"HBPA won't take a back seat to anyone in our defense of horsemen, and we won't back down in the vigorous defense of our members, our industry, and our rights. A nastygram from Lisa is not going to move us one inch off our target: a Supreme Court ruling that strikes down HISA. We're lucky to have Eric leading our association, and anyone who also wants to be a leader in horse racing should stop tearing people down and start building our industry up. Ms. Lazarus's comments should be condemned by every horseman or woman."

8th-Parx Racing, $50,400, Msw, 10-7, 2yo, f, 6f, 1:14.67, ft, 8 1/2 lengths.

TIP LINE (f, 2, Nyquist--Tap to My Lu, by Tapit), given a 7-2 chance in this unveiling, was unhurried at the back through a :23.06 opening quarter. Moving into contention along the inside following a :48.34 half, she took over at the head of the lane and ran clear to win by an impressive 8 1/2-length margin over Alyvia Mavis (Game Winner). Tap to My Lu, a $500,000 Fasig-Tipton Saratoga yearling purchase in 2017, brought $285,000 at the Fasig-Tipton Kentucky Fall Mixed Sale in 2019. With only two foals on record, including unraced Sky Boy (More Than Ready), Tap to My Lu is a daughter of Grade I winner Sweet Lulu (Mr. Greeley). HIDDEN QUARRY (f, 2, Preservationist--Proud Pearl {GSP}, by Proud Citizen) was a touch sluggish off the blocks and settled in fifth as Mrs. Manicotti (King for a Day) carved out :22.61 and :46.43 opening splits. Cruising up the inside heading into the stretch, she was drawn out a couple of paths to collar the pacesetter in deep stretch and was 3/4-length clear of that rival at the wire. Out of a full-sister to champion 3-year-old filly Proud Spell, Grade III placed Proud Pearl produced a filly by Win Win Win this season and was bred back to Highly Motivated. LARGE COHORT OF AMERICANS DESCEND ON PARK PADDOCKS

Kirsten Rausing and the sister to Alpinista | Laura Green

By Emma Berry

NEWMARKET, UK -- A sister to Alpinista (GB)? How about one to St Mark's Basilica (Fr) or Charyn (Ire), or a brother to Hurricane Lane (Ire)? Then there are the first foals, by Dubawi (Ire) no less, of Lady Bowthorpe (GB) and Glass Slippers (GB), or the first foal from Wonderful Tonight (Fr), by Frankel (GB), with those two top stallions accounting for 10 per cent of Book 1 entries between them.

Camelot (GB) leapfrogged Dubawi on Sunday to be head of the sires' table for Europe when his daughter Bluestocking (GB) landed her third Group 1 victory of the season in the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe, and Camelot's yearlings on offer this week include Camas Park Stud's full-brother to the Australian Group 1 winner and stallion Russian Camelot (Ire).

We know that not all of the best-bred yearlings in Europe will ever leave their breeders but from those who have decided to sell, a glittering array of young potential has been assembled for the next three days. Sire power coupled with enticing bottom lines is on offer at Tattersalls and those names on the catalogue pages have now been made flesh. All those standing their ground for the next three days of sales action--410 at the last count--are now present and correct at Park Paddocks.

TAMFANA TEAM'S LEAP TO THE TOP

By Paul Hayward

With €20,000, you could buy a full ISA top-up, a good second-hand car or a fancy kitchen. Or you might spend it on a filly capable of beating the illustrious Inspiral in a Group 1 race at Newmarket.

If only it were so simple. On any Arc weekend, the focus is on the mighty breeding operations, the big spenders, the most famous silks. And while Bluestocking's win at Longchamp restated Juddmonte's eternal excellence at the elite end of the bloodstock game, the victory of another filly 24 hours earlier in the Sun Chariot Stakes lit a beacon for dreamers.

A €20,000 price tag, syndicate owners and a self-titled underdog trainer who started 10 years ago with one raceable horse: Tamfana had it all, as the David Menuisier stable struck an autumn high for the second consecutive season. 'David v Goliath' is the theme of Menuisier's career--and he likes it like that, as he told TDN in a pre-season interview. Cont. p5

In their wake of course come the potential buyers. Kentucky and other racing enclaves must currently be fairly depleted of horsemen and women as the biggest cohort of Americans ever to descend on Tattersalls is in town. Mike Ryan and Chad Brown, regulars at this event and borne back by success, along with Peter Brant, Elliott Walden, Andrew Rosen, David Ingordo and Cherie de Vaux were just some of those spotted on Monday's inspection rounds from a travelling party of around 50.

As Ingordo had explained on Sunday, this sale is a must, especially for those American-based owners keen to exploit an expanding turf programme across the States.

"Our racing purse money is at a record high and we have a lot of people who want horses and there is a lot of really good grass racing with good prize-money," he said. "While we have those pedigrees at home, every box here has a lovely pedigree and a horse coming out that can run on the grass.

"We have clients that just like to race on the turf. So, while we have our dirt-based clients, if you are looking for these top pedigrees, especially fillies who could turn into broodmares in the future, there's no place else to go other than Tattersalls."

Adam Houghton pointed out in TDN last week that the race to be champion sire of Britain and Ireland is currently too close to call, with Dubawi, Dark Angel (Ire), Frankel \(GB\) and Kingman \(GB\) all in the vanguard, and Sea The Stars \(Ire\), Justify, Lope De Vega \(Ire\) and Camelot not far behind this leading pack.

The offspring of Ballylinch's Lope De Vega are a must-see for American buyers, with his successful runners stateside including Newspaperofrecord (Ire), Aunt Pearl (Ire), Program Trading (GB) and, most recently, Carl Spackler (Ire). All four of those Grade 1 winners were offered during Book 1 in recent years. Lope De Vega is not the only son of Shamardal on the list of noteworthy stallions for Ingordo, however.

"I'm interested in Blue Point and Pinatubo," he added. "Mehmas has done really well over there, and Wootton Bassett and Too Darn Hot also translate very well for America."

That is not the only potential international destination for yearlings from this sale, of course. Many of the major buying teams have been inspecting yearlings since Saturday, even with some seriously good racing taking place over the Channel at Longchamp. Plenty more arrived fresh from Paris on Monday morning.

"Footfall has been as good as I've ever known it for this sale, even yesterday, and we've already had a number of French visitors around this morning," said Manister House Stud's Luke Barry.

Joe Hartigan, manager of Croom House Stud, which sold last week's €2m Goffs Orby topper, agreed. Cont. p4

The Darley dynasties

Success is succession. And these are Dubawi and Shamardal's truest successors...*

Night Of Thunder

Better first-crop percentages than even Dubawi. Economics leads his breed-back crop and 2024 has also brought his first €1m yearling.

Blue Point

Faster to 50 winners than any stallion ever. His first crop includes the season's best three-year-old miler and two best three-year-old sprinters.

Too Darn Hot

No stallion has ever had more Group wins from his first two crops of juveniles. Best so far: Classic heroine Fallen Angel and superstar Australian colt Broadsiding.

"We've been very busy," he said. "Footfall is very good and we were very busy yesterday. There are a number of new people I've not seen before."

The stud's draft of four for Book 1 includes a pinhooked Pinatubo (Ire) colt, and homebred colts by Too Darn Hot (GB) and Lope De Vega, as well as a Siyouni (Fr) filly. The Too Darn Hot colt emanates from a family which has already put Croom House's name in lights as his winning dam Knocknagree (Ire) is a Galileo (Ire) half-sister to Zoffany (Ire), himself a Book 1 graduate of 2009 who went on to become a Group 1 winner and popular sire.

Down in a lovely quiet spot at the back of the Highflyer paddocks, Guy O'Callaghan exuded an air of calm as he watched the aforementioned sister of Charyn stroll back and forth outside the boxes of his Grangemore Stud draft. But then the filly is pretty calm herself and appears to have not just the fact that she is a full-sibling to a dual Group 1 winner to recommend her.

"It was a privilege to breed a horse as good as Charyn," said O'Callaghan of the son of his family's star stallion, Dark Angel. "And it is rare to be able to offer a filly as special as this."

A fellow stalwart of the Tattersalls consignors' list is Richard Kent's Mickley Stud. Indeed, Mickley sold the homebred Havana Grey (GB) here as a foal back in 2015. But it has been a while since the stud has brought a draft to Book 1 and the pair on offer this week includes a daughter of Frankel and the G2 Temple Stakes winner Liberty Beach (GB) (Cable Bay {Ire}), with both mother and daughter having been bred in Mickley's Shropshire paddocks. Kent's son Finn has his first Book 1 pinhook in the draft, too. The gleaming chestnut son of El Kabeir is a full-brother to the Listed winner Masekela (Ire), who was also fourth in the Derby two years ago for Andrew Balding.

"He's taken a lot of scoops of feed," said Kent Jr of his pride and joy. "When we bought him as a foal he was a big horse but he was going through a growing phase at the foal sales and it was probably a bit too much for him at the time. But he's done nothing but thrive since he's been at Mickley and he has always had a kind of presence about him."

A glorious final day of inspections blessed by sun throughout has helped these youngsters shine. Not all will hit their mark and, as we have seen throughout this season, there will be probably be tears of both joy and frustration as the fortnight-long sale progresses into next week. But we can expect a strong start. After all, it's not every day you get to sell a sister to an Arc winner.

For Tattersalls, Tuesday is that day, and the appearance of lot 72 in the ring is likely to be one of a decent number of highlights in this elite arena over the next few days.

"I'm not fashionable--and you have to realise I'll never be," Menuisier said back in February. His calling cards are patience and intuition. He is loyal to his horses and paternal in his pride when they win big. But we all know a trainer is only as good as the bloodstock that is driven through the gates. And in racing, €20,000 is unlikely to buy you a Group 1 winner, no matter how clever the agent (in this case Jeremy Brummitt) or innovative the owners (Quantum Leap Racing).

Successful business folk often think they can crack the code in sport. Every now and then somebody actually does. Tamfana's Sun Chariot win is the validation Quantum Leap had been seeking.

"We buy around five yearlings each year and, since we started the syndicate in 2017, have produced at least one horse rated 90-105 each year," their blurb says. "How are we able to do this?"

"Simply, where the market creates a bubble amongst progeny from in-vogue stallions, opportunities for those who are prepared to do the work and follow their own convictions can be found elsewhere."

They're a lively bunch who believe "group-think and a herd mentality" govern the bloodstock trade. More obviously true is that money, power, experience, knowledge and the best bloodlines tend to determine outcomes.

Tamfana's career doesn't prove that the big players have it all wrong. But it does serve as a reminder that success at the highest level is not always for those with the deepest pockets.

How Brummitt, Quantum Leap and Menuisier came to acquire her is a pleasing tale. Brummitt is a Baden-Baden sales specialist and liked what he saw when this daughter of Soldier Hollow and Tres Magnifique (Zoffany) came up for auction. Tamfana was bred by Gestut Etzean and Hans Helmut Rodenburg. The late Soldier Hollow was a three-time champion sire in Germany. Her pedigree suggested to Brummitt hidden depths of potential.

From a debut at Ffos Las in September 2023, Tamfana progressed to become a Group 3 winner (Quantum Leap's first) at Chantilly last autumn. This season she has been a fast-finishing fourth in the 1,000 Guineas, third in the Prix Diane and fourth in the Grand Prix de Paris. Her springboard to the Sun Chariot was a win in Sandown's Group 3 Atalanta Stakes.

But everywhere they looked at Newmarket on Saturday, they saw big names, glamorous pedigrees, Group 1 form. "It's great for racing that a small syndicate like Quantum Leap Racing can win against the big operations with a filly that cost little money," said Menuisier, who may now train her for the Queen Elizabeth II Stakes. "She's gone and beat horses by the biggest owners in the world and it is just magic."

Also in the winner's enclosure, Quantum Leap's founder Eamonn O'Connor explained the policy of buying five yearlings a year and turning stock over, with sales to France, Hong Kong and Australia. Like Menuisier, Brummitt works outside the establishment, but had already displayed his judgment when scouting the St Leger winner Masked Marvel and Group 1-winning stallion Russian Camelot.

Five months to the day since her frustrating defeat to Elmalka in the Guineas, Tamfana conquered rivals sired by Frankel (two), Too Darn Hot, Kingman and Sea The Stars.

As she crossed the line under Colin Keane, something Menuisier said to TDN floated back: "Why should I envy anybody—including those big yards? I can't, because I'm living my best life. I know where I come from, I know how I started, I know I don't owe anything to anybody apart from the people who helped us—and that's that. My aim is to be happy in life. That's all."

In Juddmonte's record-equalling seventh Arc win, and Tamfana's first Group 1 victory, all parts of the sport were reconnected. All the dreamers and schemers, big and small, were as one, for a weekend, anyway.

SISTER TO CHALDEAN TO BE OFFERED AT TATTERSALLS DECEMBER FOAL SALE

Whitsbury Manor Stud will offer a Frankel sister to 2,000 Guineas winner and joint Champion Two-Year-Old Chaldean at the Tattersalls December Foal Sale.

Chaldean himself was purchased for 550,000gns at the Tattersalls December Foal Sale by Juddmonte Farms, where he now stands following a glittering career on the racetrack.

Whitsbury Manor Stud's Ed Harper commented, "The Frankel filly out of Suelita is very similar to her brother Chaldean in both shape and quality. She's slightly more forward than he was at the same time as she was born a month earlier. It's very exciting as she is probably the nicest foal we've ever bred."

Suelita is every inch a blue hen. Already the dam of five black-type performers including two sons at stud, with Group 2 Mill Reef Stakes winner Alkumait preceding his Classic winning younger brother to stud. She is also the dam of Listed winner and Group 1 runner-up Get Ahead, who sold for 2,500,000 guineas at last year's Tattersalls December Mares Sale to First Bloodstock. Cont. p7

Tattersalls chairman Edmond Mahony commented, "The Tattersalls December Foal Sale is the perfect stage for such an outstanding filly foal. It is rare that fillies of this calibre come on the market and as an own-sister to a Classic winner and Champion Two-Year-Old by the peerless Frankel, she is a collector's item. It's an honour to be offering her on behalf of Whitsbury Manor Stud and she will certainly be among the highlights of Europe's premier foal sale."

SUPPLEMENTED SHADOW OF LIGHT FEATURES AMONG EIGHT DEWHURST ENTRIES

Shadow Of Light | Getty Images

Middle Park winner Shadow Of Light (GB) (Lope De Vega {Ire}) is set to step up to seven furlongs for Saturday's G1 Darley Dewhurst Stakes at Newmarket, having been supplemented by owners Godolphin at a cost of £35,000.

Beaten just once in four career starts, Shadow Of Light is one of eight horses in contention for the premier two-year-old contest in Britain, with the others including stable-mate Ancient Truth (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) as Charlie Appleby seeks a third win in the Dewhurst after those of Pinatubo (Ire) in 2019 and Native Trail (GB) in 2021.

Appleby said of Shadow Of Light on X, "The current plan is for him to join Ancient Truth and run on Saturday. We are very pleased with what we have seen so far from him and feel that he has the potential to stretch out to seven furlongs."

Aidan O'Brien is responsible for five of the six remaining entries, headed by the unbeaten The Lion In Winter (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}), who already heads the ante-post betting for next year's 2,000 Guineas and Derby. He was last seen winning the G3 Acomb Stakes at York, beating the subsequent Royal Lodge scorer Wimbledon Hawkeye (GB) (Kameko) by a length and three-quarters.

Camille Pissarro (Ire) (Wootton Bassett {GB}) has the option of a quick reappearance following his victory in Sunday's G1 Prix Jean-Luc Lagardere at Longchamp, while Aftermath (Ire) (Justify) could step back up in grade, having followed his third-place finish in the G2 Champagne Stakes at Doncaster with an impressive maiden success at the Curragh.

Expanded (Ire) and Rock Of Cashel (Ire), both by Wootton Bassett (GB), complete the possible challenge from Ballydoyle, leaving Hugo Palmer's Seagulls Eleven (Ire) (Galileo Gold {GB}) as the only one of the eight entries not trained by O'Brien or Appleby. Runner-up to Ancient Truth in the G2 Superlative Stakes at the July Course, Seagulls Eleven was last seen finishing third behind Scorthy Champ (Ire) (Mehmas {Ire}) in the G1 National Stakes at the Curragh.

Improving Desert Flower Ready for Fillies' Mile Test

Appleby also issued a positive bulletin on Desert Flower (Ire) as she prepares to put her unbeaten record on the line in Friday's bet365 Fillies' Mile at Newmarket.

The daughter of Night Of Thunder (Ire) made it three from three when winning last month's G2 May Hill Stakes at Doncaster and her trainer is expecting more improvement from his filly when she steps up to the top level in a race which could also feature the G2 Rockfel Stakes heroine Bubbling (Ire) (No Nay Never) and the unbeaten Group 3 winner Dreamy (Ire) (American Pharoah), both trained by O'Brien. "I'm pleased with her and she's a filly who is three from three," said Appleby. "Listening to people on the day, I think people thought there was going to be this big 'wow' factor at Doncaster. But she's a filly who is still learning and you saw her pricking her ears there when she got to the front. She's a filly who is going to get better with the more experience she gets and experience is going to become more valuable as she keeps climbing the ladder."

He continued, "She hasn't been beaten, but she had to race a bit more at Doncaster and the odd time they do get beaten they learn plenty from it. When you are heading into Group 1s or Classics, I don't think there is any harm in it. Hopefully on Friday she will put herself bang there as being one of the leading Guineas contenders for next year."

Desert Flower's potential rivals in the Fillies' Mile also include Cheveley Park Stud's homebred Anna Swan (GB) (Almanzor {Fr}), who followed up her debut win at Yarmouth in similarly dominant fashion at Newbury last time.

Anna Swan holds an alternative engagement in Friday's G3 Godolphin Lifetime Care Oh So Sharp Stakes at Newmarket and Chris Richardson, Cheveley Park's managing director, is hopeful that this filly could be the one to send trainer Sir Michael Stoute into retirement with yet another big-race success.

"It's very exciting and she's in both the Fillies' Mile and Oh So Sharp," explained Richardson. "We'll be discussing the options with Mrs Thompson [Cheveley Park owner] and Sir Michael in due course and it would be great if she could fly the flag for him in either of those two races. She's in great form and the intention is to run in one of those, all being well."

FOUR-YEAR-OLD RETURN PLANNED FOR SOSIE AFTER CREDITABLE ARC RUN

Trainer Andre Fabre has confirmed that Sosie (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) is set to continue his racing career in 2025 following his fourth-place finish in the G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe at Longchamp, with the G1 King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Stakes at Ascot being identified as a likely destination next summer.

The three-year-old Sosie was beaten around four lengths behind Bluestocking (GB) (Camelot {GB}) on Sunday as he attempted to complete a big-race hat-trick following victories in the G1 Grand Prix de Paris and G2 Prix Niel over the same course and distance.

The Wertheimer homebred would have benefited from a sounder surface according to Fabre, who also saddled Sevenna's Knight (Ire) (Camelot {GB}) and Mqse De Sevigne (Ire) (Siyouni {Fr}) to finish fifth and fourteenth, respectively.

Sosie | Scoop Dyga

"All three are fine after the race," the trainer summed up. "It was probably the ground which stopped Sosie. He lost his action at the end but he ran okay. We knew he might not like the ground. He will stay in training as a four-year-old and we'll concentrate on the big summer races such as the Grand Prix de Saint-Cloud and the King George.

"Sevenna's Knight ran a good race, but I wasn't surprised because he likes soft ground. He was out the back but ran really well to get where he did. It was what I was expecting--he's a good horse. He is in the Prix Royal-Oak and if he's okay he will run. He'll be happier over that trip--we know he stays it well."

He added, "Mqse De Sevigne's race was over at the start. She was drawn widest of all and lost too much ground. The race was over even before she was hampered. Both her and Continuous were at the back and as the pace was slow they had no chance."

Far East beckons for Fantastic Moon

Last year's Deutsches Derby hero Fantastic Moon (Ger) (Sea The Moon {Ger}) was also confined to a minor role at Longchamp, with further rain on the morning of the race going against him.

Connections had been keen to withdraw their charge due to the testing conditions, but the decision to go ahead and run was made when they were informed that it would cost €55,000 to take him out of the race.

"We discussed for a long time if it was right to run him with the rain and we decided after a half an hour that we would not run," said Lars-Wilhelm Baumgarten, the co-founder of the colt's ownership syndicate, Liberty Racing. "I told the press and Sarah went to the stewards, but we didn't have in mind that it cost €55,000 to come out of the race.

He continued, "It was a 50-50 decision and when Sarah came back from the stewards, we were a little confused, but then Rene [Piechulek, jockey] said 'no, we will run'. It wasn't because of the money, it was a sign for us to say 'okay, we will run'. We decided not to sell him for three million, so it was not about money. Sometimes in life you need a small sign. It was my mistake to confuse the world--forgive me for that!"

Fantastic Moon went on to finish ninth behind Bluestocking and options in Japan and Hong Kong will now be considered for the four-year-old who had previously doubled his top-level tally with victory in September's Grosser Preis von Baden.

"He's come out of the race very well," Baumgarten added. "It was not the best ground for him and that was not his A-game, but we had in our minds that perhaps there would be a miracle--that didn't happen. The important thing is he is fit and well and he will run in six weeks in Japan or Hong Kong, perhaps both, but we will not go to the Breeders' Cup."

IFHA ANNOUNCES KEY RACING INTEGRITY DEVELOPMENTS

IFHA Chair Winfried Engelbrecht-Bresges | Scoop Dyga

Over 150 delegates from 40 different countries heard from key integrity leaders in racing and other major sports at the 58th International Conference of Horseracing Authorities (IFHA).

Held in France at Saint-Cloud Racecourse, the 2024 conference was focused on upholding racing integrity, a key strategic point of the IFHA, and the overall programme examined items of key integrity threats and lessons from previous cases to determine how racing can utilise the most current approaches and techniques to protect the sport.

Among keynote speakers was Justice Frank Clarke, the director of the Irish Horseracing Regulatory Board (IHRB) and former Chief Justice of Ireland, who spoke on the need for robust systems that protect against legal challenges. He also highlighted the vital importance of his "three pillars" of racing integrity--up-to-date rules, sound processes, and independent decision-makers.

Other noteworthy developments announced during the conference included the transition of the ARF Council to the IFHA as well as the official release of the IFHA Racing Integrity Handbook. Brian Kavanagh, the IFHA's Vice-Chair, was also honoured upon the announcement of his retirement from the organisation.

A replay of the live stream and presentations will be available in the coming days.

"Integrity is the foundation on which our sport is built and therefore protecting integrity is essential for the credibility and popularity of our sport," said IFHA Chair Winfried Engelbrecht-Bresges, who delivered the Conference's opening and closing remarks.

"We have to provide a level-playing field so that our participants feel comfortable to compete. Without the highest standards of integrity, our sport loses the trust and confidence of our customers and other key stakeholders, which then places the existence of our industry at stake. With recent events showing how pervasive integrity threats are nowadays, racing must continue to lead the way in protecting sports integrity."

"[Trainer] Johnny [Murtagh] felt he was coming here in good nick and thought he'd handle the [heavy] ground. He wanted to keep it straightforward and we did that, so thankfully it worked. The ground is fresh and loose, so it's not bad, and it's nice to get a bracket beside his name."
