'A KIND OF FLAWED GENIUS' - OISIN MURPHY AT THE SUMMIT AGAIN

Champion jockey Oisín Murphy receives his trophy from Sheikh Fahad Al Thani at Ascot on Saturday | Racingphotos.com

By Paul Hayward

On a bright autumn afternoon at Ascot, Oisín Murphy raised and then kissed a silver trophy that symbolised the arc of his redemption.

Banned for 14 months for twice failing breath tests and misleading the British Horseracing Authority over a trip to Mykonos during Covid, Murphy stood on Champions Day as the embodiment of a fall-and-rise narrative. There are lots of those in sport, and they sure as hell beat the opposite, which is fall-and-stay-fallen.

The 2024 Champion Jockey was given a guard of honour by his fellow jockeys and crammed onto the podium with 20 family members, among them, his uncle Jim Culloty, who later called him, in a complimentary way, "a kind of flawed genius". The gifted star with demons elicits a special fascination. We watch them up there on their tightrope, struggling in public with 'issues' that most folk face in private.

Salvation, recovery, are seldom linear. Murphy had counselling on the morning he looked ahead, in a media conference, to winning a fourth jockeys' championship.

"GOOD SELECTION OF HORSES HERE" - BUYERS TARGET ARQANA OCTOBER YEARLING SALE By Brian Sheerin

Opportunities to source next year's two-year-old talent are running thin on the ground and leading buyers like syndicate manager Nick Bradley, bloodstock agent Federico Barberini and breeze-up handler Johnny Collins revealed that they are hoping to stock up at the October Yearling Sale at Arqana this week.

This year's French 2,000 Guineas winner Metropolitan (Fr) (Zarak {Fr}) was sourced at this sale in 2022 and, after a number of buyers reported that they found the competition tough at Tattersalls over the past two weeks, a strong cohort of British and Irish-based buyers have made the trip to Arqana for one of the last yearling sales of the season.

Barberini was one of the busiest agents at Tattersalls and spent over 4.7 million gns on 25 yearlings during Books 1, 2 and 3 of the October Yearling Sale. However, the Italian native still has orders to fill at Arqana this week. Cont. p4

On Champions Day itself Murphy went on Radio 4's flagship Today programme and talked with superb fluency and insight about the meeting, racing's whip rules and his fondness for the poetry of Sylvia Plath (he speaks Irish, English, French and German and displays the measured eloquence of a bookish man.)

"I had a love for Sylvia Plath [in his schooldays]," Murphy told Today. "It's a little bit deep, and some would say dark, and it's certainly that, but it offers a fresh perspective, particularly when you've been hurtling around on the back of a horse. It can resonate with the majority of people."

In elite sport, a line of Plath's jumps out: "I desire the things which will destroy me in the end." Talent is compulsion, success an addiction, and the pressure unrelenting. In return--yes, the money is good.

Murphy spoke candidly in interviews about his old life of being out of control on vodka and champagne. He knows there is no switch you can flick to turn chaos into order but has ridden his guts out this year to win the jockeys' championship easily, and to prove a point--mostly to himself.

He has been in counselling since October 2021 and become something of a beacon to people struggling with alcoholism. No other jockey can make that claim. The trials of Walter Swinburn and Pat Eddery for example were hidden from public view. Frankie Dettori had a lapse with cocaine in 2012 but presented it more as an aberration than a warning to others. Fair enough, not everyone wants to be a cautionary tale. Murphy on the other hand has chosen the route of openness in the hope that it might add to our understanding of addiction.

"Daily I receive messages from people wanting me to do well," he said in the winners' enclosure at Ascot. In The Mirror a few days previously he admitted, "I drank more in eight years than a normal man drinks in a lifetime. But it's been phenomenal the amount of messages I've had off normal people on Instagram and Twitter. They tell me how much they can relate to my story. They tell me that they've been sober for six months or whatever. And they thank me for sharing."

There are piercing recollections in that interview of him being collected by a driver after the last race and drinking all the way home. "Regularly I'd never remember going to bed," he said. "So that is a blackout. That was regular."

This was in the "Belvedere Vodka and champagne" years from 2019-2021. Anyone reading those lines would have been struck by how content, how focused, he looked on the Ascot podium after winning the title by more than 50. "There are some incredible riders in Britain: William Buick, Tom Marquand, Rossa Ryan, Hollie Doyle," he said on Today. "I've had a good few more rides than the rest of them, but I have a healthy strike rate so I'm glad the hard work's paid off."

His hard work is undeniable. When Murphy was back in the weighing room to prepare for his ride on Tamfana in the Queen Elizabeth II Stakes, I asked Culloty, who rode Best Mate and won the Cheltenham Gold Cup as a trainer too, how Murphy had turned it round.

"Like anybody who has had issues, they help themselves. You can get all the advice and this and that, it's down to yourself," Culloty said. "Oisin is ambitious and hungry. The time off he had has done him the power of good because since he left school he never had the chance to stand back and take stock of his life, what he actually wants, his true values."

"You have to educate yourself and write down, 'Where do you want to be in 20 years? What do you want from life?'. He did that. And he's standing by it."

"The strength of the market took us by surprise at Tattersalls," said Barberini. "I wasn't surprised by the trade at the top, but the strength of the market at every level was very good. I always come back to Deauville, so I was planning on coming to this sale anyway, but obviously a lot of people were not able to fill orders in Newmarket and they have come here as well in search of a bit of value."

Barberini added, "It can be frustrating. Unavoidably, you have to stretch sometimes but mostly you just put a value on a horse and stop when it hits that value. On one hand, it is very frustrating but, on the other, the market is healthy. Long may that continue because we need the market to be strong for the overall health of the industry."

The Arqana October Yearling Sale has been a happy hunting ground for Barberini. It was at this sale that the agent sourced dual Group 2 winner Jadoomi (Fr) (Holy Roman Emperor {Ire}) on behalf of Sheikh Ahmed Al Maktoum for just €75,000 while Group 2-winning filly Wed (Fr) (Profitable {Ire}) was also picked up cheaply here at just €32,000.

"The stock is good here--as expected," Barberini continued. "As usual, there is a good selection of horses here and there is no doubt that more good horses will come out of this sale again."

Bradley has had similar luck shopping in France. He revealed that unlike Collins who is in search of a colt to complete his shopping for next year's breeze-ups, the syndicate manager is solely making the trip to Deauville to find a filly to sport the white and black silks next term.

Interestingly, while a number of British-based trainers have bemoaned the lack of orders for yearlings in the current climate, Bradley reported that he is in front with regards selling shares in Nick Bradley Racing Syndicate horses compared to this time last year.

He said, "I try to buy the best-looking horses that I can from unfashionable pedigrees. That's my business model and it's what I seem to do best at. I never get orders for horses. I bought 35 yearlings last year and I am on 29 for this yearling sale season. I would like to buy three more fillies and, with regards to sales of shares with Nick Bradley Racing, we are actually in front compared to this time last year. That comes down to the fact we've had another pretty good year and are nearly at 50 winners and a million quid in prize-money. I haven't seen a drop-off. I'd imagine plenty of trainers have, but I haven't."

Reflecting on trade at Newmarket, he continued, "I looked at 70 fillies on day one at Book 1 and had 20 fillies to follow in. I thought it was ridiculous what they were making. I waved the white flag for the rest of Book 1 after that. But I worked Book 2 hard and saw every filly. I was able to buy five and, whilst it was strong and there definitely was a certain carry over from Book 1, there were still gaps in places. I bought some good pedigrees and some good models--I can't really afford both. So I thought Book 2 was achievable. We also bought some horses in Book 3. There were some very nice-looking horses in Book 3."

Bradley added, “I thought trade at Doncaster and the Somerville was weak. At that point, I thought people would be giving horses away at Book 3 but it didn’t turn out that way. When I went over to the Goffs Orby Sale, I was quite bullish about buying something, but Orby Book 1 was very strong. From that sale onwards, things have become very competitive.”

Collins is one of the few breeze-up handlers who is not down on numbers compared to 12 months ago. Many leading operators opened up last week about how a decision to keep their powder dry for the Orby and Book 1 and 2 backfired but Collins says just one more colt would complete his shopping for the season.

He said, “It has been very tough to buy this year. I’m probably short a colt but a lot of other breeze-up handlers are down on numbers. I had dinner with a very big handler the other night and he said that he is nowhere near last year’s numbers. I think there are a lot of fellas in the same boat and they will be trying to top up this week in France.”

Collins added, “The problem was, things were very weak to start with and then, suddenly things got very strong. I don’t think anyone could have predicted that. Newmarket was exceptional. That was as difficult as I can ever remember it.”

Those needing any extra confidence to go and fill orders in France this week should look no further than the fact Group 1 winners Paddington (GB), Iresine (Fr) (Manduro {Ger}), Audarya (Fr) (Wootton Bassett {GB}), Wooded (Ire) (Wootton Bassett {GB}), Lord Glitters (Fr) (Whipper) and more were sourced at this sale in recent years. The action kicks off at 11am local time on Tuesday.

ALMANZOR’S GEZORA PASSES RESERVOIRS TEST AT DEAUVILLE by Sean Cronin

Haras d’Etreham’s homebred Gezora (Fr) (Almanzor {Fr}--Germance, by Silver Hawk), who bagged one of two midsummer outings at Dieppe, fell a neck shy of victory in last month’s G3 Prix de Conde and remained upwardly mobile with a dominant performance in Monday’s G3 Darley Prix des Reservoirs at Deauville.

The 53-10 chance broke swiftly to race third through the initial stages and improved one spot before reaching halfway in this one-mile distaffers’ heat. Inching ahead in early straight, she scooted clear under urging approaching the furlong pole and was ridden out in the closing stages to easily withstand the threat of TDN Rising Star’ Sandtrap (Ire) (Lope De Vega {Ire}) by 1 3/4 lengths for a career high.

Gezora | Scoop Dyga

“Her last race was extremely good and the question mark, like for many others I imagine, was the [heavy] ground,” commented winning trainer Nicolas Le Roch. “She won with class and we now know that she can handle any ground, like good horses do. Her year is finished and she will now head to the paddocks for a good rest. I am already impatient for next year and I’m really looking forward to it. She should develop into a top filly and a Classic prospect.”

Pedigree Notes

Gezora, the latest of 11 foals, is one of seven scorers produced by G1 Prix Saint-Alary victrix and G1 Prix de Diane runner-up Germance (Silver Hawk), herself kin to Listed Derby du Midi and Listed Prix Michel Houyvet victor Gaily Game (GB) (Montjeu {Ire}) and to the dam of the multiple stakes-placed Out Of Town (Fr) (Kentucky Dynamite). The February-foaled homebred bay is a half-sister to three-time stakes placegetter Garance (Fr) (Teofilo {Ire}). Her third dam is G1 Prix de la Salamandre runner-up and Listed Tyros Stakes-winning matriarch Majestic Role (Fr) (Theatrical {Ire}).

TRIPLE GROUP 1 WINNER NASHWA LIKELY TO BE RETIRED

Nashwa: the triple Group 1 winner was ridden by Hollie Doyle throughout her career | Scoop Dyga

Nashwa (GB) (Frankel {GB}), a three-time Group 1 winner for John and Thady Gosden and owner Imad Al Sagar, has likely danced her last dance on a racetrack.

A winner of over £1.6m in prize-money, Nashwa has been partnered in all 18 of her career starts by Hollie Doyle, with the pair storming to Prix de Diane glory at Chantilly in 2022.

However, the sporting decision to keep Nashwa in training as a five-year-old has not paid off and, after trailing home last of the 11 finishers in the G1 QIPCO Champion Stakes at Ascot on Saturday, connections admitted that the brilliant racemare has likely run her final race.

The news was delivered on Monday by Al Sagar's racing manager, Teddy Grimthorpe, who said, "I think she's going to come back now. Really, it was very sporting of Imad to keep her in training this year, but it was just unfortunate the way things went in Dubai."

He added, "After that we were always on the back foot with her this year and it just didn't work out, unfortunately. There are not many triple Group 1-winning Frankel fillies around. She's been a superstar for the stud--really important." Cont. p7

EUROPEAN NEWS

EFTBA ANNOUNCE ARVAC VACCINE BREAKTHROUGH IN FIGHT AGAINST EVA DISEASE

Ireland's Department of Agriculture, Food and the Marine (DAFM) has obtained permission to import the Arvac vaccine ahead of the 2025 breeding season, the European Federation of Thoroughbred Breeders' Associations (EFTBA) announced on Monday.

The manufacturing failure of the Artervac vaccine in 2023 had left Europe's elite stallions vulnerable to an outbreak of EVA, a notifiable disease which can cause infertility, as well as pregnancy loss in mares.

The EFTBA and its members, including Ireland, France and Germany, had lobbied the EU for permission to import the alternative vaccine, Arvac, from the USA, throughout 2023.

Nashwa Sibling Supplemented for the Futurity Trophy

Grimthorpe also explained the reasoning behind the decision to supplement Nashwa's half-brother, Nebras (GB), for Saturday's G1 William Hill Futurity Trophy Stakes at a cost of £17,500. The son of Dubawi (Ire) ran out a decisive winner when making his debut at Newmarket earlier this month.

"We were all impressed at Newmarket and in John [Gosden]'s mind he always wanted to run him twice, if he could, this year," said Grimthorpe.

"At the time we were pleased that he won so well, so then it was just a question of how he came out of the race and how he was up until this morning when the decision was made. He ticked all those boxes but it is going to be a big ask, no question, especially having had just the one race.

"But the key thing is he comes into it in really good form. We think he'll handle the soft going, which we'd expect it to be, and we thought it worthwhile having a try at it."

Following Monday's confirmation stage, Nebras features among 19 contenders for the final Group 1 of the British Flat season at Doncaster, with the others including the Group 2 winners Wimbledon Hawkeye (GB) (Kameko) and Hotazhell (GB) (Too Darn Hot {GB}), plus the G3 Autumn Stakes scorer Delacroix (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}), one of six possible runners for Aidan O'Brien.

ANMAAT FINISHED FOR THE SEASON AS SHADWELL TARGET MORE RICHES IN 2025

Anmaat (Ire) (Awtaad {Ire}) is said to be finished for the season following his victory in Saturday's G1 QIPCO Champion Stakes at Ascot, with Shadwell's racing manager Angus Gold hoping the six-year-old can continue to be a flagbearer for the operation in 2025.

The Owen Burrows trainee was among the outsiders for Saturday's £1.3 million feature contest at odds of 40-1, having managed only fifth when sent off the 6-5 favourite for the G2 Prix Dollar at Longchamp two weeks earlier.

In the event, however, Anmaat proved better than ever at Ascot as he overcame a troubled passage to gain the second top-level win of his career, running on strongly in the final furlong to beat Calandagan (Ire) (Gleneagles {Ire}) by half a length.

"Until his last run he'd never been out of the first three in five years of racing," said Gold. "Had he not run in Paris and gone straight to Ascot from Haydock, then he probably would have been a 12-1 chance and not 40-1.

Anmaat | Megan Coggin

"He fluffed his lines in France, but at the same time he did run the fastest furlong of any of them between the two and the one. It was just unlike him not to finish off his race as he's such a tough horse.

"I don't think people realised what such a serious issue this horse had," Gold added of the injury which sidelined Anmaat after his first Group 1 success in the Prix d'Isphahan at Longchamp in May last year. "He was in his box at Shadwell with his foot injury for months--he had almost a year out of training--so just to get him back at all was an achievement.

"To get him back to win was fantastic, but to win at the highest level is huge credit to an awful lot of people at Shadwell and Owen's yard--and massive credit to the horse himself. An awful lot wouldn't have come back from that."

Anmaat was having only his third start of the campaign at Ascot on Saturday and Burrows did not rule out another run overseas in the immediate aftermath of that success, but Gold has now all but ruled out that possibility as the team look ahead to next year.

He continued, "To me, the position we are now in with the majority of our older horses likely to be retired, he could be our only flagbearer. Now he's proved he's a Group 1 horse here, he's a very important horse for us next year if Sheikha Hissa wants to keep him in training.

"I haven't had that conversation yet, but I can't see any reason why not as he's a gelding. I know he's about to turn seven, but he hasn't got a lot of mileage. She may want him to go to Dubai or Saudi, who knows, but from my point of view we want to be trying to win some big races in Europe and he's our number one.

"It's not like we've five or six three-year-olds next year to take over the mantle, he's the number one now and we've got to treat him accordingly."

FIRST EPISODE IN 'BE A PART OF IT: BREEDING IN BRITAIN' VIDEO SERIES NOW LIVE

Kirsten Rausing's Lanwades Stud features in the first episode of the 'Be A Part Of It: Breeding In Britain' series | Emma Berry

Great British Racing International (GBRI) and the Thoroughbred Breeders' Association (TBA) have today launched the first episode in a new six-part video series entitled 'Be A Part Of It: Breeding In Britain'.

Kirsten Rausing's Lanwades Stud is the focus of the first episode in a series designed to showcase Britain's world-leading thoroughbred breeding operations and highlight why many of the world's most prolific owner-breeders have chosen Britain as the headquarters for their bloodstock interests. Tweenhills, Watership Down Stud, Shadwell Stud, the National Stud and Hazelwood Bloodstock also feature in the series.

One episode will be released each Monday via the GBRI and TBA social media channels and can also be found here on GBRI's website. The final episode will launch on Monday, November 25 ahead of the Tattersalls December Breeding Stock Sales.

The series this year follows on from a similar campaign in 2023 that featured Juddmonte's Banstead Manor Stud, Blue Diamond Stud, Darley's Dalham Hall Stud, Newsells Park Stud and Whitsbury Manor Stud.

Camilla Perrett, head of client relations and marketing at GBRI, said, "Britain is home to world-leading breeding operations and this series portrays six of those studs with the aim of encouraging future international investment into British breeding.

"Breeders from all around the world have set up studs or broodmare bands in Britain, recognising the outstanding boarding facilities, welfare standards and the expertise of the breeding industry here."

Philip Newton, chairman of the TBA, added, "With British-bred and raised horses winning all around the world, it is only natural that foreign-based breeders would want their stock to be born and brought up in Britain. This coupled with having quality turf stallions, including two all-time greats of the bloodstock world, Frankel and Dubawi, Britain is an attractive destination.

"We are delighted to showcase a selection of studs through the series who encourage and welcome foreign investment."

EXPERT PANEL ASSEMBLED FOR 'STARTING YOUNG' FORUM ON BREEDERS' DAY AT WARWICK

The Thoroughbred Breeders' Association (TBA) has announced its expert panel for the National Hunt Breeders' Forum, which takes place as part of the inaugural Breeders' Day at Warwick Racecourse on Thursday, November 21.

The forum titled 'Starting Young' will be hosted by Racing TV's Jess Stafford, who will be joined by TBA National Hunt Committee chair and small breeder Simon Cox, pinhooker and point-to-point handler Charlie Poste, Alne Park Stud's director Grace Skelton, veterinarian John Spencer and Jess Westwood, consignor and owner of Molland Ridge Stud.

The panel will discuss some of the challenges currently facing National Hunt breeders, with doors opening at 9am before the forum gets underway in Warwick's Paddock Pavilion at 10am.

PAINTINGS BELONGING TO VINCENT O'BRIEN TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION

Paintings by Jack Butler Yeats, from the collection of Vincent and Jacqueline O'Brien, are to be sold at auction at Adam's in Dublin, Ireland on Wednesday, December 4. Among the highlights from the collection is The Horsemen, which was painted in 1947 and has an estimated worth of €500,000--€800,000.

Stuart Cole, managing director of Adam's, said, "This auction joins together two legendary Irish figures of the 20th century--Ireland's greatest painter, painting his favorite subject, horses, and one of the all-time greatest Irish horse trainers and breeders, together in a once-in-a-generation combination."

Special previews of the O'Brien paintings, as well as a selection of other paintings included in the December auction, will take place in Belfast (November 14-15), London (November 18-20) and Dublin (November 20-December 4).

GISELLE HEADS STAFFORDSTOWN CAST

1.30 Curragh, group 3, €55,000, 2yo, f, 8ft
GISELLE (IRE) (Frankel {GB}) returns to the scene of her maiden win earlier in the month, having finished second to stablemate Bedtime Story (Ire) (Frankel {GB}) at Leopardstown in June, and takes centre stage in this G3 Staffordstown Stud Stakes for Peter Brant, Coolmore and Westerberg. The first foal out of the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf heroine Newspaperofrecord (Ire) (Lope De Vega {Ire}), she is joined by fellow Ballydoyle representative Island Hopping (Ire) (Wootton Bassett {GB}), last month's Gowran Park maiden winner whose dam is a full-sister to Magical (Ire) and Rhododendron (Ire).

HOW THEY FARED

14.30 Gowran, Mdn, €18,000, 2yo, 8f 75yT
Aidan O'Brien nominee Light As Air (Ire) (Wootton Bassett {GB}), a half-brother to last term's G1 St Leger hero Continuous (Jpn) (Heart's Cry {Jpn}), backed up a debut third at Navan earlier this month with another third-place finish in this return.

16.53 Deauville, Group 3 (Darley Prix des Reservoirs), €80,000, 2yo, f, 8ft
Valmont and Ballylinch Stud's Sandtrap (Ire) (Lope De Vega {Ire}), a full-sister to Carl Spackler (Ire) who attained 'TDN Rising Star' status with an impressive debut win for the Ralph Beckett yard at Salisbury last month, was unable to match the winner's kick in the straight and finished second in this black-type bow.

6.15 Southwell, Novice, £6,300, 2yo, 7f 14y (AWT)
Kaizen (GB) (Kingman {GB}), the half-brother to last year's G1 Fillies' Mile heroine Ylang Ylang (GB) (Frankel {GB}), was the 11-8 favourite but ran below expectations to be sixth.

Also Ran: Love Talk (Ire), Castle Stuart (Ire).

Off the mark at Thirsk in August, Tuscan Hills travelled with menace tracking the early pace before being committed turning for home. Soon clear, the half-brother to the Italian listed winner Torpedo Blu (Ire) (Tamayuz {GB}) stayed on strongly in the testing ground to open his black-type account. "He's very much one to look forward to and if he can take as much of a leap from his second to his third start as he did from his first to his second, he'll be an exciting horse next year for sure." Cont. p11

The dam is a daughter of the Oaks heroine Eswarah and granddaughter of another who captured the Epsom Classic in Midway Lady, doubling up having won the 1986 G1 1,000 Guineas. The family also features Raabihah by Taqleed's sire Sea The Stars who took the G2 Prix de Pomone and was runner-up in the G1 Prix Vermeille.

'A VERY SATISFACTORY DAY': $350,000 COLTS SHARE TOP BILLING AT FASIG-TIPTON OCT. OPENER

by Jessica Martini

LEXINGTON, KY - The Fasig-Tipton October Yearlings Sale opened Monday with a session which tracked right on par with the auction's 2023 renewal and with a pair of colts sharing top billing when selling for matching $350,000 bids.

A total of 265 yearlings sold Monday for a gross of $13,198,000. The average was $49,804 and the median was $20,000. The buy-back rate was 24.5%.

During last year's opening session, 264 yearlings grossed $11,339,800 for an average of $42,954 and a median of $20,000. At the conclusion of the 2023 auction, the cumulative average was $48,045 and the median was $24,000.

"The results basically tracked very similar to last year on an overall basis," said Fasig-Tipton President Boyd Browning, Jr. "The buyers said it was very difficult to buy the horses they wanted to buy and I think the consignors were generally satisfied. I don't think there was any euphoria. I don't think anyone is jumping up and down and saying it was insane. I think when we are dealing with a wide variety of horses in a wide variety of price ranges, it was a very satisfactory day."

MYSTIK DAN CONNECTIONS CELEBRATE THE JOURNEY WITH STAR BROODMARE MA'AM

by Katie Petrunyak

When it came time for Ma'am (Colonel John) to retire from the racetrack back in 2018, one of her owners, Lance Gasaway, began plotting how his star racehorse would live out her days at his home in Arkansas.

Then the mare's trainer Kenny McPeek stepped in. Prior to Ma'am, Gasaway had only owned a handful of Arkansas-breds and he knew next to nothing about the breeding business. McPeek explained that with her pedigree, soundness and easygoing nature, Ma'am had all the credentials to become a good broodmare.

Six years later, with her first foal to hit the racetrack, Ma'am provided Gasaway, his family and his partners with an adventure they never could have dreamed up. Cont. p8

11 | VINNIE VIOLA'S UNLIKELY DERBY CONTENDER

In 'The Week in Review,' Bill Finley examines the unlikely horse who currently ranks as Vinnie Viola's best 2-year-old, Rated by Merit (Battalion Runner). Viola spends big bucks every year in search of a star, but this one is by a stallion who stands for $2,500 and out a mare who was 1-for-11 in her career.

Fort Erie is one of the few tracks that keeps alive the offbeat tradition of an ultra-long-distance race scheduled on the closing day of a season. Tuesday's "getaway day" ninth race on the final 10-race program of the meet will go at 2 miles 70 yards.

Trainer Mac Robertson, bidding on behalf of Novogratz Racing Stables, purchased a colt by Quality Road from the Brookdale consignment for $350,000 early in Monday's session and that bid was matched late in the day when BSW/Crow purchased an Into Mischief colt from Blake-Albina Thoroughbred Services.

Five horses sold for $300,000 or more--compared to two at the 2023 opener--and 12 sold for $200,000 or over, up from 10 a year ago.

"It met what our expectations were," Browning said of the session. "Anybody who has been following the market this year thought we had a pretty similar marketplace throughout the yearling season in 2024 compared to 2023. Those were the trends that we saw today."

The Fasig-Tipton October sale continues through Thursday with sessions beginning each day at 10 a.m.

Into Mischief Colt to BSW/Crow

The second time through the ring was the charm for a son of Into Mischief (hip 241), who sold for $350,000 Monday at the October sale. Jake Memolo, sitting with Sarah and Paul Sharp, signed the ticket on the yearling in the name of BSW/Crow, agent. The bay colt, bred by Newtownanner Stud Farm and consigned by Blake-Albina Thoroughbred Services, RNA'd for $325,000 at the Fasig-Tipton Saratoga sale in August.

"He just grew up a little bit more," consignor Ron Blake explained. "He was a pretty horse then, but he was a little immature. The mare's foals tend to look a little more athletic as they get older."

Jake Memolo | Fasig-Tipton

“She is a huge mare,” Blake said. “United was a huge horse, this is a big horse. It just takes time for those big horses to look athletic for a sale.”

Hip 241 | Fasig-Tipton

Hip 241 was the third sent through the ring by Blake-Albina Monday and was the third to sell, although hip 25, a son of Tapit, was originally led out of the ring unsold before selling for $285,000 to Taproot Bloodstock.

“He was early in the sale and I think that hurt him a little,” Blake said.

Also part of the active post-sale trade Monday was the very first hip through the ring. Originally led out unsold, hip 1 eventually was listed as a sale at $250,000 and purchased by her breeder Thirty Year Farm in partnership with Team Penney.

Quality Road Colt to Novogratz

Trainer Mac Robertson matched the session-topping $350,000 price when bidding on behalf of Joe Novogratz's Novogratz Racing Stables to acquire a colt by Quality Road (hip 39) early in Monday's first session of the October sale. Consigned by Brookdale, the yearling is out of Evocative (Pioneerof the Nile). The mare is a half-sister to Justwhistledixie (Dixie Union), who is the dam of graded winners New Year's Day (Street Cry {Ire}), Mohaymen (Tapit), Enforceable (Tapit), and Kingly (Tapit).

“I thought he was a quality Quality Road,” Robertson said. “He's a Quality Road who looks fast and the second dam is as good as it gets. So it was hard not to try to get him.”

Of the colt's price tag, Robertson admitted, “I was running out of money, so I was glad it stopped at $350,000. [Novogratz] told me I could buy three or four for $150,000 or $200,000. Or buy one or two and run out of money. Maybe I will get to buy another one. We will see.” Cont.

The yearling was bred by Lynch Bages and Camas Park Stud, which purchased Evocative with the colt in utero, for $550,000 at the 2023 Keeneland January sale. Joseph DiRico signed for the colt for $385,000 at this year's Keeneland January sale and he RNA'd for $435,000 at the Fasig-Tipton Saratoga sale in August.

Robertson acknowledged the yearling market has been competitive all season.

Mac Robertson | Fasig-Tipton

“It was really, really competitive through three books at Keeneland,” he said. “It just seemed like we vetted a lot of horses and we had maybe $250,000 or $300,000 for them and we just couldn't get them. They were $500,000 or $600,000 or $700,000. It seemed like there were a lot of new buyers and people I didn't know at Keeneland. And it seems like I see a lot of people that I know at Fasig-Tipton.”

Trainer Chris Hartman acquired this colt for a partnership under the name ABC Racing for $67,000 at the Fasig-Tipton July sale. A day after that auction, the colt's 2-year-old half-brother Black Forza (Complexity) broke his maiden at Fairyhouse. In August, the juvenile added a win in the G2 Richmond Stakes at Goodwood.

Black Forza himself sold at the Fasig July sale. He brought $65,000 at that auction in 2023 before reselling for £220,000 at this year's Goffs April sale.

"The plan was always to come back here and send him through at the October sale," Hartman, who purchased the colt on behalf of JD Thoroughbreds, Larry Romero, and Joey Keith Davis, said. "We knew Black Forza was there and they had paid $270,000 for him, but we didn't know who he was. And just days later he won and that was a great update for us and of course, he added the Group 2 on there, which was just icing on the cake."

Of expectations for the colt Monday, Hartman said, "He was here to sell. He scoped good and X-Rayed good. I thought the ceiling might be a little higher than that, but we are very happy with the result."

Of the quick flip, Hartman added, "We've done it a couple times and we've had success with it. It's not easy, but we have done it a couple of times and had successes. This one had the great update."

$500,000. And $525,000. And two for $575,000. $600,000. $800,000. And two – two! – at $1m (more than Justify had in his first crop).

Why? Because of the quality, athleticism and all-round desirability he has and he imparts. Maxfield: his fame is just beginning.

Fasig-Tipton Presents The November Mares

Owned in partnership with Four G Racing, Daniel Hamby and Valley View Farm, Mystik Dan is the first horse that Gasaway ever bred and the colt's Derby win--which came a year after Gasaway's father Clint passed away--marked a day that Gasaway would never forget.

"Derby Day was so wild," Gasaway reflected. "So many people are there and everything is such a rush. After you sit back and reflect on it, you kind of really realize what we accomplished. I'm blessed to have a horse of this caliber.

"With people like Kenny and his whole crew, they deserve all the credit. They're the ones who did all the work. For us as owners, it's just a reflection of how good a job they do."

McPeek's team has had a hand in every aspect of Mystik Dan's success, from foaling him and raising him at Magdalena Farm, breaking him in Florida and then developing him into a Derby winner. And it was McPeek himself who found Mystik Dan's dam back in 2015.

Gasaway and his family had owned a few horses with McPeek over the years, but then Gasaway told McPeek that he was looking to improve the quality of his racing stable and asked him to find a horse that would fit the bill. Shortly after, McPeek stopped by the Thoroughbred Training Center a few miles down the road from Magdalena to look at a few horses owned by Ted Bassett.

"He sent me a video of I think three horses," Gasaway recalled. "He said, 'Hey, y'all pick which one you want.' And we chose Ma'am out of the bunch. Just a stab in the dark."

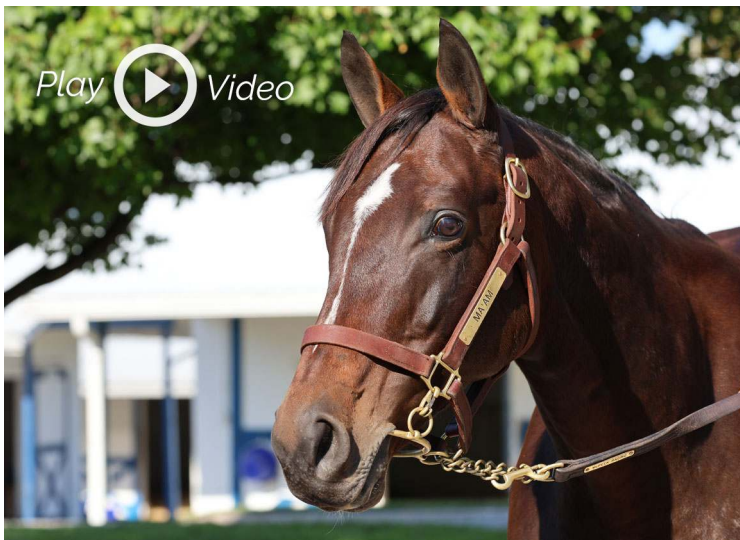

It didn't take long for the Gasaways to develop a soft spot for the daughter of Colonel John. She went unplaced in her first two career starts, but was set to make her third start at Oaklawn Park on Gasaway's birthday.

"We go to the barn every weekend to feed the horses peppermints and we never could get Ma'am to eat them," Gasaway explained.

"That morning we finally got her to start eating peppermints and then we could hardly stop her. She ended up winning that day."

Ma'am raced for three seasons, accruing four wins and eight additional placings from 23 starts and earning over $167,000.

"She was a filly that went out there and tried hard every day," said McPeek. "She was easy to train and I always felt like if she was just about five or eight lengths better, she was going to be a stakes horse."

MICHAEL BIRNS

After Ma'am retired at age five, her first foal died before making it to the racetrack. Then McPeek recommended the mating to Goldcents that produced Mystik Dan.

For McPeek, the most satisfying part about earning his first Kentucky Derby win was the journey that led to the victory, from purchasing Ma'am as a 2-year-old on through watching her foal grow up at Magdalena Farm and then make the starting gate on the first Saturday in May.

"How many people get an opportunity to handle a horse from conception through the birth, training and racing? It has just been an amazing journey and it's something that I personally have dreamed of doing all my life," said McPeek. "Everything Mystik Dan has done has been because he's an extremely intelligent horse. I think that really matters and Ma'am was the same way. She was very easy to handle, a very smart filly, and she was kind from the very beginning."

As special as that Derby victory was for everyone involved, it led Gasaway to making the difficult decision of presenting Ma'am at the upcoming Fasig-Tipton November Sale.

"One thing I've learned in this business is if you're going to stay in the horse racing business, number one you have to take money off the table when opportunities are there," said Gasaway. "With 'Mystik' winning the Derby and all, we feel like this is the time to put her out there and let's see what happens."

Consigned by McPeek's Magdalena Farm as Hip 285, Ma'am will be a unique commodity as the dam of a Classic winner at just 11 years old.

"It's very rare that you have the opportunity to sell the dam of the current Kentucky Derby winner," said Fasig-Tipton's Boyd Browning. "She's in foal to Into Mischief, which produces an offspring very closely related to Mystic Dan. It also produces an offspring by one of the best stallions in the world. Into Mischief gives you both a sales horse and a racehorse and the opportunities are there for whoever buys Ma'am, whether you're buying her to breed to race or to breed to sell commercially."

"Ma'am has a very interesting pedigree as well," he continued. "She's the immediate family of Grade I winner Siphonic (Siphon {Brz}), Grade I winner Laragh (Tapit), and a successful stallion in Summer Front. She really has all the credentials to continue to be a great broodmare."

The Gasaways will have plenty left in the Ma'am pipeline even after parting with their star broodmare. Mystik Dan, whose resume also includes a win in the GIII Southwest Stakes and placings in the GI Arkansas Derby and GI Preakness Stakes, is back in training and preparing to return for his 4-year-old season. They also have the mare's 2-year-old filly named Yes Ma'am (Unified), a yearling Knicks Go filly called Ford's Ma'am, and a weanling colt by the Gasaway's Grade II-winning sire Wells Bayou named Mystik Bayou.

Despite all those young progeny in the pipeline, Gasaway said that saying goodbye to Ma'am will be no easy task. Stopping in to visit Ma'am at Magdalena Farm has become a regular tradition during his visits to Lexington. The Gasaways even made the trip the morning of the Kentucky Derby to give the mare peppermints before her son's big day. Cont.

"You do get attached to them and she was a kind of special deal," he admitted. "She was always so personable to you. It's going to be hard. I don't know if we'll make the sale or not. We might watch on TV."

Katie Petrunyak

Gasaway said he believes that whoever becomes Ma'am's new owner will be acquiring a mare with a great deal of potential.

"With her personality, she transfers that on in the genes because Mystik Dan is identical," he explained. "He is not like any colt I've ever been around. He'll put his head on your shoulder and love on you just like she does. And even before Mystik Dan ran, Kenny said that this mare was throwing some of the prettiest babies. He said that every baby she throws is the prettiest baby on the farm."

McPeck, who is better known for being a buyer rather than a seller at Fasig-Tipton, said that he typically outsources when offering a horse at auction but opted to consign Ma'am himself because he believes the mare will speak for herself.

"I don't think you can go wrong because she's still young and she obviously produces talent," he said. "It's going to be pretty easy to bring her over there and let her show herself off."

VINNIE VIOLA'S UNLIKELY DERBYCONTENDER The Week in Review, by Bill Finley

There's virtually no chance that Vinnie Viola would have bought a horse like Rated by Merit (Battalion Runner) at the sales. That's where he goes every year to spend big bucks in search of a star. At this year's Keeneland September sale alone, Viola bought 18 horses for $9.1 million.

Rated by Merit is undefeated at 3-for-3 after winning

Saturday's Affirmed Stakes, the second leg in Gulfstream's series for 2-year-olds by Florida-based sires. An overachiever, he is by a stallion who stands for $2,500 and out a mare who was 1-for-11 in her career. He wouldn't have checked any of Viola's boxes.

All of which is why it is so ironic that Rated by Merit, a homebred by Battalion Runner (Unbridled's Song), has been Viola's best 2-year-old this year and is a horse who will likely be pointed to next year's GI Kentucky Derby.

"This goes to show you that good horse can come from anywhere," said Monique Delk, who is the director of racehorse development for the Viola stable.

Delk and Vinnie and Teresa Viola had plenty to celebrate last Saturday as they were on hand at Gulfstream Park to watch Rated by Merit win the Affirmed Stakes. Though he has yet to face open company, he has been ultra impressive in his three career starts and the Beyer numbers suggest he can compete at any level. He was given a 99 in the Affirmed, the fastest number given to any 2-year-old this year.

"The story has everything to do with the fact that Mr. Viola loves this sire, Battalion Runner," Delk said. "He owns him outright and purchased him with Jimmy Crupi. Battalion Runner was a really, really good horse and Vinnie just grew very fond of him."

Delk will tell you that Battalion Runner never lived up to his potential on the racetrack. After he broke his maiden in his lone start as a 2-year-old, he won an allowance race and then finished second in the Gil Wood Memorial. He ran just twice more, finishing third in the GIII Dwyer Stakes and fifth in the Smarty Jones Stakes.

"This was the same year that we had Always Dreaming," Delk said. "They were always kind of neck-to-neck together and then Battalion Runner kind of stubbed his toe along the way and wasn't able to proceed. In all of our minds, Battalion Runner was every bit as good but just had some bad luck." Cont.

Rated by Merit | Ryan Thompson

Viola, who owns the Stanley Cup champs, the Florida Panthers, is a shrewd and successful businessman. But, apparently, he is not immune from putting his passions ahead of the bottom line.

“A lot of this is about how this horse tugged at Vinnie’s heartstrings,” Delk said. “He owns Battalion Runner outright and stands him privately at Ocala Stud. It is a little bit of a passion project. We purchased 12 or 13 mares to breed to him. So far, he has had very small crops. To have a horse this good by this stallion is a dream come through for all of us.”

Battalion Runner has had 30 foals of racing age and just 17 starters. Rated by Merit is by far the best horse he has produced.

The dam, Banner Waving (Speightstown), is another who didn’t figure to be a success as a broodmare. She was purchased by Viola for $19,000 at the 2020 Keeneland November sale.

Delk appreciates the irony, that Viola’s best horse in training is the homebred without the fancy pedigree or price tag.

“We go to the sales and we buy a lot of horses but we’re as excited about this horse as much as we have been with any horse,” Delk said. “We are very humbled and grateful that we have him.”

In someone else’s hands Rated by Merit might have wound up in the GI Breeders’ Cup Juvenile. Instead, Viola, Delk and trainer Michael Yates have decided to stay in Florida and point for the next leg in the series, the Nov. 30 In Reality Stakes. Delk said they will try Rated by Merit against open company as a 3-year-old with their sights set on races like the GI Florida Derby.

“There is no pressure here, so we were able to do the right thing by the horse and let him develop in his own time,” Delk said. “We landed on Michael Yates, who is a seasoned horseman and a humble, honest guy who does a great job. We placed the horse with him and in Florida and we figured we would just see what happens and let him develop in his own time.”

The Breeders’ Cup Juvenile has come up.

“There was some talk after his first race that he should be in the Breeders’ Cup,” Delk said. “The horse had run one time and to fly him to New York, California or Kentucky for one of these preps, would that have been in the horse’s best interests? I don’t know. I do know that I love the path Mr. and Mrs. Viola have chosen for him. It’s allowed him to develop at his own pace. With expensive horses you buy at the sales you sometimes can’t do that.”

The In Reality is a $300,000 race. With a win, Rated by Merit’s career earnings increase to $400,000.

Machado’s Gaffe

For misjudging the finish of a race last week, Luan Machado was suspended for three days and fined $2,500 by the stewards. Considering that he simply made an honest mistake, the punishment seems fair.

As much fuss that his ride has caused, it will never overshadow what Bill Shoemaker did in the 1957 Derby. Aboard Gallant Man, he misjudged the finish, likely costing his horse a Derby victory.

“If I could change anything, it would be missing that finish line on Gallant Man,” he told the New York Times decades later. “If you’re going to make a mistake, they say, make a big one.”

Shoemaker’s penalty was far worse than what was handed down to Machado. He was suspended for 15 days. Gallant Man’s trainer, John Nerud, told the New York Times that the suspension was as lengthy as it was because Shoemaker wasn’t honest with the stewards. Nerud told the Times that Shoemaker originally contended that the horse took a bad step, but he relented after being confronted by the stewards.

CATHOLIC BOY RELOCATES TO HARRIS FARMS FOR 2025 SEASON

Grade I winner Catholic Boy (More Than Ready) has been relocated to California and joined the roster at Harris Farms for the 2025 breeding season, a release announced Monday afternoon.

A winner at the highest level on turf and dirt, and only the third American 3-year-old in history to accomplish the feat of winning the GI Travers and GI Belmont Derby Invitational Stakes, he has two crops of racing age with 65% starters, 26% winners, and one stakes winner, El Catolico in Puerto Rico as of Oct. 21.

He also has seven stakes-placed runners with Faith Understood a recent flagbearer in his adopted home state with a third-place effort in the GIII Honeymoon Stakes at Santa Anita in June.

Catholic Boy will stand for $6,000 live foal.

"I feel Catholic Boy has unlimited potential, and will be a major player. He is one of the best stallions Harris Farms has had, and we have had several," said John Harris, president and chairman of the board of Harris Farms.

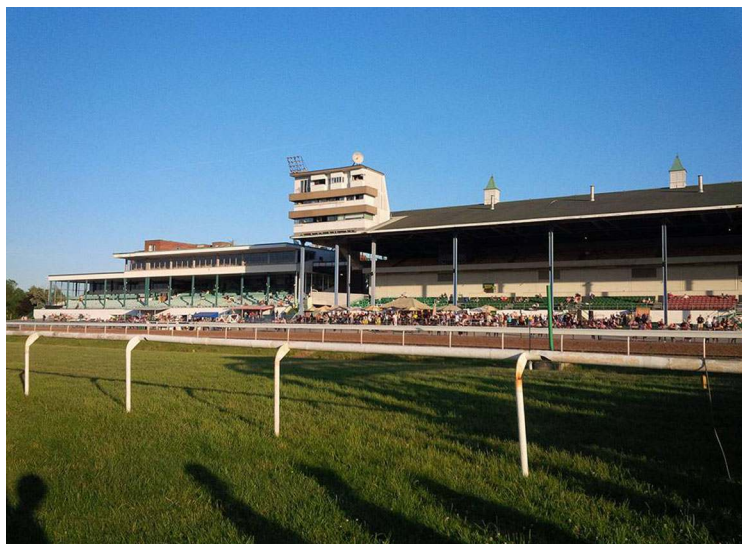

Jonny Hilvers, the general manager, added, "Catholic Boy had speed that could carry, winning Grade I [races] on both dirt and turf at a mile and one-quarter. We are very excited for the opportunity to stand him in California."

'TOUR DE FORT' WILL BE TUESDAY'S MOST ENTERTAINING 3 1/2 MINUTES IN THE SPORT by T.D. Thornton

An ultra-long-distance race scheduled on the closing day of a season used to be a staple of North American racing, but these days only a handful of tracks still card (or attempt to fill) them.

Fort Erie is one of the few tracks that keeps this offbeat tradition alive, and the Ontario oval doesn't skimp on its version of a marathon: Tuesday's "getaway day" ninth race on the final 10-race program of the meet will go at 2 miles 70 yards.

Fort Erie will host the 'Tour de Fort' Tuesday for the marathon horses who want to take a crack at the 2m70yd journey | Fort Erie

Known locally as the "Tour de Fort," what the starter allowance/optional claimer might lack in prestige and star power is more than made up for in terms of fun and novelty.

Last year's edition featured a wire-to-wire winner who amazingly stayed on by half a length despite opening up a visually arresting sixteenth of a mile lead on the field for the first of two passes under the Fort Erie finish wire. Two mares competing against a field of males accounted for the exacta.

The year before, the 2022 Tour de Fort was won by a gelding who rallied from way off the tailgate despite being charted 23 lengths last during the first of two laps.

It's unlikely that you'll witness the second coming of long-distance stakes specialist Next (Not This Time) in the Oct. 22 feature at the Fort. But a field of eight will test their staying power, and in a wide-open marathon that lacks a betting standout, Nonno's Little Boy (Giant Gizmo) has been tabbed as the tepid 3-1 morning-line favorite.

The 2 miles 70 yards track record at Fort Erie belongs to Parabola, who was clocked in 3:30.87 when demolishing the Tour de Fort field by 18 3/4 lengths over "good" going in 2010.

Recent runnings of the Tour de Fort have been timed in the 3:35 to 3:42 range, so there's a bit of wiggle room built into the "most entertaining 3 1/2 minutes" billing of this article's headline.

Bold Fortune, who freaked in a 10 1/2-length romp facing state-bred maidens at the Belmont The Big A meet Sept. 22, took the day's feature event in the New York Breeders' Futurity at Finger Lakes Monday. Debuted at Saratoga behind a next-out stakes winner in Sacrosanct (Honest Mischief), Bold Fortune kept at the six furlongs and took his maiden field gate to wire, earning an 84 Beyer Speed Figure for his efforts last month. Now in his third straight try at the distance, the 7-5 second choice ceded favoritism to Under Who's Radar who was fourth last out in the Gill Futurity on turf at Aqueduct Oct. 4. Sharp from the gate Monday, Bold Fortune handled the tempo up front and was allowed a clear advantage past the half in :44.99. Too far ahead to be reeled in, he came home the class of the field as Share the Ludt closed from mid pack to be best of the rest in second. The 16th stakes winner for New York stallion Central Banker, Bold Fortune is the second stakes performer for his dam, joining his full-sister Walk With Me. Might Be's yearling Uncle Lino colt brought $32,000 from Adelphi Racing Club at the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic Fall Yearlings Sale yearling this morning and she reported a filly by Nashville this year. Click for the Equibase.com chart.

One day after the death of one of her breeders, Sweet Brown Sugar continued to add to the Broman's illustrious New York-bred legacy in taking the Jack Betta Be Rite Stakes at Finger Lakes. Cont.

Already a black-type winner this year in the East View Stakes at Aqueduct, the 1-5 favorite spent most of her 3-year-old season in stakes company, only dropping down most recently to win an optional claimer on the major cutback to 5 1/2 furlongs Oct. 9. Outrun for the early lead in this spot, Sweet Brown Sugar chased from third while holding a wide spot up the backstretch behind longshot pacesetter Saloon Girl (Alpha). Nudged along around the far turn, the favorite responded in kind, taking command a quarter-mile from home and drawing off in a decisive effort. Sweet Brown Sugar is her dam's only reported foal after Rachel's Blue Moon, who sold for $11,000 at the Fasig-Tipton Fall Mixed Sale in 2022, lost her Honest Mischieff foal this year.
