SATURDAY SIRE: MEDAGLIA D'ORO

Medaglia d'Oro | Sarah Andrew

by Jill Williams

It's been 17 years now that we've been treated to 2-year-olds by Medaglia d'Oro. From his first Gil Golden Rod Stakes winner in his first crop--Rachel Alexandra, a filly who went on to beat the boys more than once and was eventually named Horse of the Year--to his latest this past weekend in perfect four-for-four Good Cheer, the Darley mainstay and ageless wonder continues to amaze and delight.

"It's so gratifying for him in the autumn of his career to be hitting these heights," said Darley's Darren Fox. "He's been good to a lot of people, not just us [at Darley]."

"He is that perfect bull's-eye of a horse in that he delivers on the racetrack, but he also produces stunning individuals, and a stallion with that profile has a very high ceiling. If you can run and look good while doing so," said Fox with a laugh, "well, he just brings all the money."

Adding to Medaglia d'Oro's 2-year-old haul in 2024 are uber-impressive GI Claiborne Breeders' Futurity winner and 'TDN Rising Star' East Avenue, as well as MGISP Nitrogen, whose placings included the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf. There's also SW & GSP Shifty and plenty of others with promise, such as French 'Rising Star' Jovialite and last week's Fair Grounds debut maiden winner Hot Property.

If a freshman sire had this sort of juvenile crop, his future at the top level would be very much assured.

CDI AND NYRA TAG-TEAM IN FEDERAL LAWSUIT, ALLEGING HISA'S PURSE-BASED ASSESSMENTS ARE 'ILLEGAL'

by T.D. Thornton

On the eve that Churchill Downs, Inc. (CDI) and the New York Racing Association, Inc. (NYRA) were scheduled to appear at separate enforcement hearings in front of the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Authority board to address disputes over their non-payment of assessment fees that are based partially on purses, those two prominent Thoroughbred track operators teamed up to sue the Authority and the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) in federal court, alleging that both the fee impositions and the attempted enforcement actions for non-payment are "illegal."

Medaglia d'Oro will be 26 next month.

"It really is an incredible purple patch that he is experiencing at the moment," said Fox, "and it looks like we've got plenty of exciting days to come heading into next year."

Just as Good Cheer wasn't his only graded winner last week, it's not solely with 2-year-olds that Medaglia d'Oro excels. Loved, a 5-year-old, won the GIII Falls City Stakes at Churchill Downs on Thanksgiving for her first graded score. That's part of Medaglia d'Oro's prowess--he gets top runners at all ages and levels. In fact, Medaglia d'Oro's overall career statistics are an embarrassment of riches. Highlights include 27 Grade I/Group 1 winners, 94 graded winners, 182 black-type winners, and more than 300 stakes performers. In addition to Rachel Alexandra, his multiple champions include Songbird and Hong Kong superstar Golden Sixty (Aus). He has four Breeders' Cup winners, two GI Kentucky Oaks winners, a GI Preakness winner, a G1 Golden Slipper winner, a Queen's Plate winner, and that doesn't even touch on some of his exceptional MGISWs like Elate, Marketing Mix, Cambier Parc, or Bolt d'Oro. He's also had 35 'TDN Rising Stars'.

Among career results of all living active sires in North America, Medaglia d'Oro ranks third behind only Tapit and Into Mischief. That's heady company. He and Tapit both entered stud in 2005.

"Medaglia d'Oro is the sire of my number one horse of all time in Rachel Alexandra," said Fox. "From that day I've just been, like everyone, a super fan of the stallion and just been so impressed with what he's done and what he continues to do.

"He's gold in name and gold in nature. They are stunning individuals--consistently so--and they sell accordingly. He gets beautiful horses that are extremely talented and effective on both surfaces which certainly broadens his appeal.." Cont

Four-from-four Good Cheer wins the G2 Golden Rod to become Medaglia d'Oro's fourth Graded Stakes juvenile of the year – only Into Mischief and Not This Time have more. Also sire of Maxfield's five-year-old half-sister Loved, winner of the G3 Falls City last week.

“He’s certainly had some good success in the Southern Hemisphere, has some in Europe, does well in the States on dirt and turf, and has established a sire line and is a really effective broodmare sire, so there’s nothing he hasn’t done or no domain he hasn’t conquered.”

Fox continued: “He’s a rare one. You have to go through a lot of stallions to find a Medaglia d'Oro and we’re certainly very lucky that he has spent the time with us that he has.”

Among Medaglia d'Oro's sire sons are Hill 'n' Dale's Violence and Spendthrift's Bolt d'Oro. While the Darley sire didn't have a Breeders' Cup winner this year, two of his sons did: the late Fast Anna scored with Thorpedo Anna in the Distaff and Oklahoma's Atreides had Soul of an Angel in the Filly & Mare Sprint. Fox said it is hoped East Avenue will eventually join Medaglia d'Oro in the Darley stallion barn.

“For us with a colt like East Avenue, who has serious stallion potential, to carry the line forward is extra, extra gratifying. His performance in the Breeders' Futurity was an exceptional performance. He was a little unlucky in the Breeders' Cup, but he is still a highly talented, highly rated colt that we're very excited about moving forward.”

Medaglia d'Oro's daughters are also making their mark. With a co-leading 29 black-type winners in 2024 out of his daughters, Medaglia d'Oro is third on the North American broodmare sire list by earnings this year. Among his 121 stakes winners as a damsire are new Spendthrift stallion National Treasure (Quality Road) and young Gainesway stallion Olympiad (Speightstown).

By any measure, Medaglia d'Oro has always been and continues to be a star. He had a $1.35-million yearling at Keeneland September, bringing his tally of million-dollar sales horses to 56. Cont.

“His performance in the sales ring has always been one of his strengths,” mused Fox. “They averaged around $290,000 this year. I don't know what more you could ask for of any stallion, never mind a stallion of his vintage.”

Fox said the only true concession to Medaglia d'Oro's age is a bit of a smaller book than in past years. He bred 88 mares in 2024 and is slated to stand for $75,000 in 2025.

“We've cut his book back a little bit throughout the years, stair stepped down with his increasing age. We're cognizant of that, but I will say he looks in incredible physical shape. Our stallion manager, Graham Lovatt, says he's still the strongest horse in the breeding shed. He doesn't look anywhere near his age, he's just in incredible physical condition. He's a horse who definitely belies his age in every aspect.

“He's in rude health and when he walks, he walks with purpose. He's still just a phenom. You don't run a 120 Beyer in your career by being a slouch! He certainly is carrying that physical performance into his later career in his movement and overall health. He's just doing phenomenally well right now.”

Speaking of that 120 Beyer Speed Figure, Medaglia d'Oro had an interesting race career. It may seem ridiculous to say a three-time Grade I winner and $5.7-million earner had a bit of an unlucky time on the track, but the son of the Sadler's Wells sire El Prado (Ire) had some very notable near misses. The seven-time graded winner was second in the GI Breeders' Cup Classic--twice--as well as in the GI Belmont Stakes, G1 Dubai World Cup, GI Pacific Classic, and GI Wood Memorial.

Bred by Albert and Joyce Bell and initially trained by David Vance, he was privately purchased by Edmund Gann and turned over to trainer Bobby Frankel early in his 3-year-old campaign.

Medaglia d'Oro would win the GI Travers Stakes at three for Gann, as well as the GI Whitney Handicap at four and the GI Donn Handicap at five.

"I think his speed figures tell the true story of just what a consistent and unbelievably talented racehorse he was," said Fox. "In essence, that's what he was, that's what he possessed, and that's what he's passing on. His raw talent. He was first or second in 15 of 17 lifetime starts. My favorite stat on this horse is that in those 17 starts, he ran 14 triple-digit Beyers. He had a 120, a 119, a 118, two 117s, etc. Just a sheer level of brilliance."

Richard and Audrey Haisfield purchased Medaglia d'Oro after his racing career and stood the then-6-year-old in 2005 at Hill 'n' Dale for $35,000 for his first season. In 2006, his second year at stud, Medaglia d'Oro was moved to the Haisfields' freshly built Stonewall Stallions near Midway. As his first runners began making noise on the racetrack, he attracted plenty of attention. First, Richard Santulli and Barry Weisbord purchased 20% of him in 2008, then WinStar began buying lifetime breeding rights in early 2009. Finally, in June of 2009, Sheikh Mohammed's Darley purchased a majority interest in the horse and moved him to Jonabell Farm near Lexington before that year's breeding season was even fully wrapped up.. While his fee has varied, he has stood for as much as $250,000 and also spent several years shuttling to Australia, where he found more success.

"He reached peak value later in life than most stallions," said Fox. "In 2017 he had seven individual Grade I winners including two Breeders' Cup winners, which prompted his fee to go to $250,000 for the 2018 season. At that point he was a 19-year-old stallion. For a horse that is 19 to reach his peak value of a quarter of a million, the result is he has so much good stuff playing out in the last few years."

What could Medaglia d'Oro possibly still accomplish? Well, the return of East Avenue, who ranks as one of the early favorites for the 2025 GI Kentucky Derby, will be highly anticipated. On the filly side, Good Cheer is one of the early favorites for the Oaks. "Good Cheer is just incredible--she's done nothing wrong and has done everything with such ease, it's kind of scary," added Fox.

There's that $1.35-million yearling colt, a full-brother to Rachel Alexandra, as well as a $975,000 Fasig-Tipton Saratoga yearling filly out of a daughter of champion Folklore (Tiznow). For a soon-to-be 26-year-old stallion to have such prospects is remarkable.

"There's a lot of great stuff in the pipeline as evidenced by his recent performance on the track," said Fox. "Medaglia d'Oro is definitely still living large at his current age."

Long may he continue.

According to the civil complaint filed Dec. 4 in United States District Court (Western Division of Kentucky, Louisville Division), CDI and NYRA are alleging that the Authority, the FTC, and individuals who run those agencies are violating both the private non-delegation doctrine and Article III of the U.S. Constitution, the due process clause of the Fifth Amendment, and four counts of the Administrative Procedure Act.

The lawsuit also stated that the Authority and the FTC should be subject to "equitable estoppel," which is a doctrine a court may invoke to "avoid injustice in particular cases."

The complaint, first reported Thursday by Horse Racing Nation, asked the court to "declare the Authority's enforcement actions in this case to be unlawful and enjoin Defendants from taking any further action to enforce the Authority's unlawful fee assessments against CDI and NYRA."

Churchill Downs | Horsephotos

The Authority, the complaint alleged, "is threatening to prohibit CDI and NYRA from conducting any horse races until they pay the Authority millions of dollars in illegally imposed fees."

In response, the Authority issued a press release Dec. 5 that stated the agency "will aggressively defend itself" against the "meritless lawsuit."

The Authority's press release stated that CDI and NYRA were attempting to "avoid paying their fair share" of fees calculated under a structure designed to "equitably allocate the costs" of operations under the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Act (HISA).

"CDI and NYRA are the only two racing organizations subject to this rule that have refused to remit their share of fees," the Authority's release stated.

"CDI and NYRA have both benefited greatly from HISA's uniform safety rules, expertise and oversight, particularly over the past two years. That uniformity must extend to cost assessments as well. To do otherwise would be unfair to other tracks and industry participants who are paying their fair share. [The Authority] will continue to uphold the standards of the sport with integrity and fairness for all racing participants. Our mission is clear, and we will not allow any parties to pick and choose which rules they follow. Every racetrack, including CDI and NYRA, must operate under the same paradigm. No one is exempt."

CDI owns six Thoroughbred tracks (Churchill Downs, Turfway Park, Ellis Park, Fair Grounds, Colonial Downs, and Presque Isle Downs). NYRA controls racing at Aqueduct Racetrack, Belmont Park and Saratoga Race Course.

The Authority has been named as a defendant in a number of constitutionality lawsuits since HISA's passage into law in 2020. Such litigation challenging the Act and the Authority had been expected, with predictions from the law's outset that it might take years and intervention from the U.S. Supreme Court to decide whether HISA would remain the law of the land in American racing. Currently, there are three separate requests pending before the Supreme Court to take up three different cases arising from the federal appeals court system.

CDI and NYRA outlined their chief beefs in the joint complaint:

"The Act requires the Authority to determine each State's proportionate share of the annual fees necessary to fund its operations based on (1) the Authority's budget for the following year; and (2) the projected amount of covered racing starts for the year in each State.

"Yet the Authority unlawfully adopted--and the FTC unlawfully approved--an assessment methodology that imposes fees based largely on the size of a racetrack's purses [rather than] a State's share of racing starts.

"The only federal court to have considered the question held that the Authority's purse-based assessment methodology violates the Act," the complaint stated.

"CDI and NYRA declined to fund the Authority according to its unlawful purse-based assessment methodology and instead agreed to remit fees to the Authority pursuant to racing-start-based methodologies outlined in the Act.

"The Authority endorsed this arrangement for nearly two years, until its ever-increasing budget and fiscal mismanagement prompted it to change course and demand that CDI and NYRA immediately remit all fees due under the illegal purse-based methodology.

"When CDI and NYRA refused to accede to the Authority's unlawful demands, the Authority commenced enforcement actions against CDI and NYRA, threatening to prohibit them from conducting any horse races until the fees due under the Authority's illegal assessment methodology are paid in full," the complaint stated.

"Worse, the Authority is illegally conducting its enforcement action through an internal disciplinary process before its Board of Directors." Cont.

“ The Act does not empower the private Authority to adjudicate fee-collection disputes in-house but rather envisions that the Authority would exercise its statutory power to bring a civil action in federal court to compel payment of any legitimate fee assessments.

"Interpreting the Act to permit the Authority to determine for itself whether CDI and NYRA owe it millions of dollars and impose sanctions based on its own findings would violate the Act and Article III of the Constitution, which require that such disputes between private entities be adjudicated in federal courts--not within administrative agencies and certainly not within private, unaccountable corporations. And it would also violate the fundamental due-process principle that no person may serve as a judge in his own case," the complaint stated.

The late-Wednesday filing of the lawsuit did not affect the Thursday morning and afternoon scheduling of the Authority's separate hearings involving CDI and NYRA.

"A three-person board panel conducted hearings [Dec. 5] on the enforcement actions pending against CDI and NYRA," an Authority spokesperson confirmed to TDN. "All parties were provided an opportunity to present arguments and evidence relevant to the alleged violations."

Patrick McKenna, NYRA's vice president of communications, issued a statement Thursday that said NYRA is aligned with the concept and benefits of HISA, but felt compelled to take legal action to challenge the funding aspect.

"NYRA is strongly supportive of the [Authority's] regulatory mission. Since its launch, HISA has formulated and applied rules and safety standards that have successfully improved equine safety. And NYRA will continue to advocate for the importance of national policies designed to protect athletes in competition and protect the integrity of the sport," McKenna said.

"This lawsuit narrowly targets the unlawful, excessive, and disproportionate financial assessments that HISA's Authority is attempting to impose on NYRA. Since 2022, NYRA has disputed HISA's methodology for calculating fees, which is based on a blended rate of starts and purses, as opposed to methodology required by statute based purely on starts. NYRA joined in this action as a last resort only when threatened with illegal HISA enforcement actions," McKenna said.

LOPEZ ACCEPTS RESPONSIBILITY FOR STRIKING HORSE IN FACE WITH WHIP; WILL BEGIN INDEFINITE SUSPENSION

by Bill Finley

Speaking publicly for the first time since he was caught on video striking the horse National Law (Constitution) in the face with his whip after the field crossed the wire in Tuesday's fifth race at Parx, jockey Paco Lopez posted a tweet Thursday in which he admitted he was at fault.

"I take full responsibility for my actions," Lopez wrote. "I am aware that our sport is under a lot of scrutiny and I fully apologize to everyone involved in our sport--fans, horsemen, management, racing commissions, HISA and of course, National Law. My actions were reactionary, in the heat of the moment, and I am truly sorry."

Lopez was provisionally suspended by the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Authority (HISA) shortly after the incident. After talking to Lopez and his representatives, a deal was reached in which Lopez agreed to undergo counseling. Once HISA is convinced that Lopez has made progress dealing with the mental issues that seem to have contributed to Tuesday's incident, he will be considered for reinstatement. Cont.

"Once HISA is satisfied Lopez has dealt with his issues and is ready to commit himself to prioritizing horse welfare and the safety of his fellow jockeys, we will discuss his eventual return to Thoroughbred racing," read a statement issued by HISA CEO Lisa Lazarus. "Until such time, the parties have agreed that Lopez will be suspended indefinitely."

Lopez will also be required to make "meaningful" donations to the Permanently Disabled Jockey Fund and the Thoroughbred aftercare organization Second Call.

Lopez had his hands full during the race as the colt, after taking the lead on the far turn, bore out severely and was only a few feet from the outer rail when crossing the finish line. The horse was seven lengths in front at the eighth pole, but won by just 1 1/2 lengths. Clearly frustrated, Lopez struck National Law with his whip, even though he had been pulled up and was no longer causing any problems.

Lopez came to the conclusion that a break from racing would be in his best interest.

"I have seen the many social media postings, which have led me to reflect on the situation," he wrote. "I have decided to take time away from racing and, in the path of several of my fellow riders, seek appropriate counseling and work on myself. It cannot be overstated how much I love horses and this industry. Horse racing has been my whole life and I look forward to a return in the near future. Thank you for taking the time to read this."

Lopez's attorney Drew Mollica said he hoped some good could come from the incident.

"We've been in constant contact with HISA regarding this matter," Mollica said. "Paco is indeed remorseful. He looks forward to using his time away from riding to reflect and better himself and looks forward to returning to racing when the time is right, and only when the time is right. He is grateful for the opportunity to return to the sport he loves not only a better rider but a better person. The scrutiny and some of the commentary hurt him to the core of his soul. But he intends to make amends. Jockey mental health has become a real issue and I think in some ways this may be a useful tool for people to understand how difficult, stressful and dangerous this job is."

An apology on X was also posted by National Law's trainer Jorge Duarte, Jr. On Tuesday he issued a tweet that defended Lopez.

"In light of the events that took place (Tuesday) at Parx, when Paco Lopez rode National Law, a 2-year-old colt under my care for Colts Neck Stable, I'd like to sincerely apologize for publicly defending the actions of Paco Lopez," Duarte wrote.

Colts Neck Stable is owned by Richard Santulli.

"He'll run next year. I'm going to try to figure out what it's going to look like," Russell said. "It's probably a little early to be like, 'We're going back to the Breeders' Cup,' but looking at the year I'll probably pause on him somehow at the beginning of the year, back off of him a little bit and then we'll gear him up for the second part of the year."

The 1 1/8-mile Pegasus for 4-year-olds and up headlines a World Cup Day program of eight stakes, seven graded, and two overnight handicaps worth $5.55 million in purses.

"It's on our radar. We'll see how he runs this weekend. If he runs really big, I wouldn't want to stop on him just yet," Russell said. "We're definitely going to entertain the idea. I just want to get through this weekend. It would make sense if we do the Pegasus in January, then we'd have February and March [for a break]. I think Saturday will tell us what we need to know."

Post Time has never been worse than third in 14 career starts with nine wins and $1,167,910 in purse earnings. Winner of Aqueduct's GII Carter and Laurel Park's GIII General George Stakes over the winter, he has placed in three Grade I stakes, including a second in the Metropolitan Handicap June 8 and a third in the 1 1/8-mile Whitney--his two-turn debut--Aug. 3, both at Saratoga.

IOWA-BRED LOOKING FOR 'GLORY' IN LONGINES HONG KONG MILE by Alan Carasso

It takes a pretty serious animal to earn $2 million in any racing jurisdiction, let alone accomplishing that feat in a place like Hong Kong. The urban environment is not for every horse--to that end, the Hong Kong Jockey Club operates their state-of-the-art satellite facility in Conghua [shung-pha] on the Chinese mainland--and it takes a special horse to thrive there.

Chancheng Glory (Mor Spirit) has done just that over the course of the last 18 months or so. Bred in Iowa by Allen Poindexter, the 4-year-old gelding has won seven times from 20 starts, and while he has yet to nick a stakes victory, he has placed no fewer than four times at the Group 2 and Group 3 level and went within a zop of winning the Hong Kong Classic Cup, the second leg of the 4-year-old Triple Crown, this past February. His earnings to date total better than $1.9 million.

Bred on a $5,000 stud fee to the GI Met Mile-winning son of Eskendereya--now based in Indiana--Chancheng Glory was offered three times at public auction before being acquired privately by the Chancheng Racing Syndicate after falling just shy of his reserve at OBS March in 2022.

Those that had a hand in his upbringing speak of him in glowing terms, and each is looking forward to watching him take on horses from England, France, Japan and Australia in Sunday's G1 Longines Hong Kong Mile at Sha Tin Racecourse.

"We took him to the sale as a baby and he was just a freaking angel," said Tim Hamlin, who consigned Chancheng Glory with his wife Nancy to the 2020 Keeneland November Sale under their Wynnstay banner. "He never give us one ounce of grief ever.

"And he was beautiful," Tim Hamlin continued. "Correct, he just was an ideal foal, you know? He never had leg problems, feet problems. He was never sick. He never was treated for anything. He just was straight-forward. And those are the best ones. And her mother [second dam Scammer] was the first mare that Nancy and I bought, when we moved to Lexington, she was our first thoroughbred mare purchase. And then Allen, he loved [Chancheng Glory's dam Solid Scam] as a yearling."

Chancheng Glory was sold to an entity called High Spirit for $50,000 at the November Sale, a price deemed more than satisfactory by the Hamlins.

"Oh, he was perfect at the sale," Tim Hamlin said. "He just never turned a hair, the whole time we had him. We were very happy at the time for the $50,000." Cont.

“That colt was just, when you looked at him, he just always looked smart, always looked athletic. He always had good hair and he was always healthy-looking. So I think it doesn't surprise me that he's a useful horse. And the people that bought him at the yearling sales, they're very good horsemen. Very good horsemen. And we were tickled that he got a good home because one of the bad things about selling babies is you don't always get to control where they go for the next year. Or the yearlings for that matter. But babies, they've got to go through two sets of hands.”

Chancheng Glory was part of the Hunter Valley Farm draft at Keeneland September in 2021, and the outfit's Adrian Regan said he just continued to improve with time.

“He was a bay horse with markings and everything, good physical,” said Regan. “He was always one of our favorites in prep that year. But in his prep, he was always a lovely individual, great to deal with. He's the kind of horse that you can never really forget about. That's how good he was as a physical.”

Regan added, “He was a really, really good horse at the end of the shank. He was tall. He had good action. He was just a very nice horse, great temperament.”

Chancheng Glory more than doubled his purchase price when hammering to Covington Farm for $110,000 at KEESEP.

“We were very happy because, listen, I'm not being greedy about it because I know he didn't pass all the vets he had out here,” Regan said. “He's a horse that's gone on to race, he's barely had any time away from training and it takes a really good horse to do that.”

The colt was subsequently turned over to 2-year-old consignor Al Pike, who began preparing him for the under-tack sales in early 2022. He and owner Don Maddax chose the OBS March Sale, and they could not have been more pleased with the way their youngster had progressed into the auction.

“I was in Louisiana at the time, and we loved him,” Pike said. “He's a great big two-turn looking sort of horse, he had a lot of size, a lot of scope. But he's beautiful and very athletic, very smart. Never gave us any trouble.

“When we did start knocking down on him, he showed a lot of talent,” Pike said. “So we went down there with a lot of anticipation that he'd do well, and he lived up to our expectations. He worked in :10 flat, galloped out like he'd run two turns.”

Somewhat surprisingly, bidding stalled out at $220,000 when he went under the hammer on day one of the two-day sale.

“We were shocked we didn't even get him done.” Pike said, “but I encouraged Mr. Maddox, 'You don't have to give this horse away. I think he's a good one.' And actually, he sent him to Albert Davis out there to keep him going and get him ready for the races. And somebody came along and bought him.

“But like I said, we loved the horse. He didn't disappoint us. He did his job every day we had him. He was a really nice horse.”

It comes as no shock to Pike that Chancheng Glory has shown off his talent at the races.

“We thought he was an athlete,” he said. “Didn't know what surface he'd end up on. He was good on the dirt when I had him. He performed well on the [synthetic] there at OBS. He's just showing who he is.”

Like his fellow consignors, Pike will certainly be watching with interest this weekend.

“It's just, you get a little bit of pride of ownership,” he said. “And I didn't own a hair on him, but just had him and loved him every day we had him.” Cont.

SUPREME COURT WILL NOW CONSIDER WHETHER TO HEAR THREE PENDING HISA-RELATED CASES AT SAME CONFERENCE ON JAN. 10 by T.D. Thornton

The United States Supreme Court is now unlikely to decide before the end of 2024 which, if any, of the three separate cases involving the constitutionality of the Horseracing and Safety Integrity Act (HISA) the nation's highest court might consider hearing.

According to schedule changes posted online Dec. 4 on the Supreme Court dockets for cases originating out of the Fifth, Sixth and Eighth Circuits of the U.S. Court of Appeals, all three of those HISA-related "writ of certiorari" requests are now going to be considered by the justices on the same conference date, Jan. 10, 2025.

A writ of certiorari is the legal petition by which an entity asks the Supreme Court to intervene in a case after all other forms of appeal within the federal court system have been exhausted.

The writ out of the Fifth Circuit (initiated by the defendant, the HISA Authority, involving a lawsuit spearheaded by the National Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association) had not been previously assigned a spot on the Supreme Court's case distribution schedule.

The writs originating out of the Sixth Circuit (stemming from a lawsuit led by the states of Oklahoma, West Virginia and Louisiana) and Eighth Circuit (led by executives out of the Arkansas and Iowa HBPA affiliates) were both supposed to be considered by the justices at a Dec. 6 conference.

However, both the Sixth and Eighth Circuit writs came off the case distribution schedule last week, when the docket switched them to "rescheduled" without (at that time) specifying the new date.

According to the Supreme Court's website, the case distribution schedule "identifies the dates on which petitions for writs of certiorari, along with corresponding briefs in opposition and reply briefs, will be distributed to the Justices. It also identifies the dates on which those petitions are scheduled to be considered by the Justices at conference, although this schedule is subject to change."

Following Dec. 6, the only other available case distribution conference date for 2024 is Dec. 13. After that, the Jan. 10, 2025, conference is the next one the justices are scheduled to hold.

Exactly how the Supreme Court will handle the multiple writs filed by different petitioners is unknown at this point. But the fact that they have now been grouped together for consideration on the same conference date raises the possibility that they could, in some way, be combined.

The Supreme Court could choose to individually hear (or deny hearing) any of the HISA constitutionality cases. Or, if it deems the questions of law are similar, the Supreme Court could decide to consolidate them into one larger case for the purpose of coming up with one common judgment that addresses all of the legal issues that have been raised.

The Fifth, Sixth and Eighth Circuit appeals courts have all agreed that HISA's rulemaking structure is constitutional. Only the Fifth Circuit has disagreed, in part, by opining that HISA's enforcement provisions are unconstitutional.

HOW I GOT HOOKED ON RACING:MICHAEL DUBB

How did we get hooked on this sport? We all have stories about how our love affair developed and blossomed. The TDN reached out to numerous notable people in the industry to get their stories to find out how they got hooked and stayed hooked on the sport.

Michael Dubb, owner

My introduction to racing really occurred as an accident as horses were not on my radar when I was a 16-year-old kid mowing lawns after school and on weekends. At one particular house where I cut the grass I went around to the kitchen door in the backyard to get paid my six dollars for mowing that lawn.

The year was 1973, I walked into the kitchen, and there was a man sitting at the table on the telephone telling people what horse to bet in different races at Belmont. These particular people had a son who was a few years older than me and when I saw him a few days later I asked him what was going on. He said his father worked with his uncle on handicapping horse racing.

Michael Dubb | Sarah Andrew

I asked what that was about, and he explained to me that his uncle had worked for Grumman on the moon rover landing in 1969 as a statistics and probability expert, and that somebody had challenged him and said, "If you can talk with dead certainty about where the moon rover would land then you should be able to pick the winner of a horse race."

Unbeknownst to me, they had invented a handicapping device called the Kelco Calculator. They had determined that the best way to identify potential winners was through trying to identify which horse in the race had the most class. They had a formula that involved putting information into a slide rule to determine the class of the race.

The following summer (1974) their oldest son asked me if I would like to follow him in his Volkswagen van while I drove mine that I used for landscaping to Saratoga. I was 17 years old, and we parked and slept in a campsite and went to the track during the day.

I was completely mesmerized by the beauty of Saratoga and the mystique of the horses. I was hooked as a fan and found going to Belmont Park and Saratoga great mental therapy for clearing my mind of whatever stress I had. Cont.

Some 25 years later, I met Jerry Bailey through my wife and his wife who had been playing tennis together. We became social friends, and through that friendship, I learned of the situation regarding the lack of childcare on the backstretch.

Michael Dubb at 18 | courtesy of Michael Dubb

At this point, my landscaping business had transitioned into a successful home-building business, and I mentioned to Jerry that I would be interested in helping create a daycare center on the backstretch for these children as a charitable endeavor.

I was introduced to NYTHA and together we worked with NYRA to create the Belmont childcare center. It wasn't until the daycare center was complete, and I started meeting trainers that I thought it would be fun to own a few racehorses and that is how I got started owning horses.

My overall comment about being a fan followed by being an owner is, if I never 'met' racing, I would have more money. But I would never have had the experiences, the friendship and the camaraderie. I wouldn't trade the money for that experience that racing has brought to my life.

RAJIV MARAGH WINS FIRST RACE SINCE 2021

Rajiv Maragh gets first win in nearly three years Thursday
Ryan Thompson

A nearly three-year hiatus from the winner's circle ended Thursday when rider Rajiv Maragh won the third race at Gulfstream Park aboard Dundie (Speightstown). Owned by Ian Parsard and trained by Collin Maragh, Dundie was in for a $12,500 tag and won for the third time in his career.

Maragh's last win was with Raise the Rent (Malibu Moon) Dec. 23, 2021, also at Gulfstream. Prior to beginning his comeback in late October, his last ride was in January of 2022. Dundie was his eighth mount since his return.

"It's pretty surreal when you think about it, the journey here," said Maragh. "Three years ago, I stopped riding and tried to step away for a while and get some other things going. I never thought I'd be back riding. Everything just fell into line, and I'm really excited to be back and have an opportunity to ride. These wins are what make all the hard work feel like it's worth it."

'COLLECTIVE ACHIEVEMENT OF A FANTASTIC INDUSTRY': MAHONY LAUDS RECORD DECEMBER SALE

Michael Swinburn bought Thursday's top lot | Tattersalls

By Emma Berry

NEWMARKET, UK -- Records, records, records. It didn't feel particularly blockbusting on the final half-session of mares at Tattersalls, but that is the nature of any sale. Big days, quieter days.

The days they all come for--Monday and Tuesday--certainly didn't fail to deliver some showstopping moments. It could have been predicted that Kia Joorabchian, after his spectacular spending spree at Book 1, and with plenty of stallions now at stud, would play a similarly prominent role during the December Sale, and his Amo Racing was again top of the buyers' list, with 8,375,000gns spent on ten fillies and mares, equating to roughly 10% of the whole sale's turnover.

More of a surprise was the participation of John Stewart's Resolute Bloodstock--a big spender in the US who was a first-time buyer at this sale, snapping up five fillies in training for 6,265,000gns. Just over half of that was spent on the G1 Prix Marcel Boussac winner Vertical Blue (Ire) (Mehmas {Ire}), who became the highest-priced two-year-old ever sold at auction in Europe, and will remain in training in France with Francis-Henri Graffard. HARAS DE BEAUMONT LAUNCHES FIRST CONSIGNMENT AT ARQANA By Katie Petrunyak

Two years ago as breeders and buyers descended upon Deauville for the Arqana December Sale, many made the short drive out to the Chehboub family's newly launched Haras de Beaumont, which sits on a portion of the former Haras du Quesnay estate, to inspect dual Group 1 winner Sealiway (Fr) (Galiway {GB}). Last year was more of the same as visitors dropped in to take in champion three-year-old and Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe winner Ace Impact (Ire) (Cracksman {GB}) and this year, they'll be back to visit yet another new arrival in G1 Prix Jean Prat winner Puchkine (Fr) (Starspangledbanner {Aus}).

At this year's December Sale, the operation is set to open up another new chapter as they debut the Haras de Beaumont consignment, with six mares and fillies in training catalogued for the upcoming sale. Cont. p8

Around 15 million gns of the sale's record aggregate of 83,817,900gns came from those two owner-breeders alone, and they were backed up by major buyers from Ireland, America, Australia, China, and Japan towards the top of the table, while significant investment from a large cohort of Indian breeders was also notable among the many nationalities present in Newmarket.

It is a shame the hugely sought-after Juddmonte draft no longer provides the feature of Wednesday's session. The Juddmonte fillies and mares are always heavily perused and had been the traditional Wednesday highlight for many years. With so much focus on the Sceptre Sessions, it is almost impossible to do the Juddmonte draft justice in the time and space allowed. One thing is for sure, though, and that is that future stars will emanate from those drafts. One only needs to peruse the list of buyers this year--including Sumbe, Haruya Yoshida, Laundry Cottage Stud, Haras de Cadran, Haras d'Etream, Heider Family Stables and the Irish National Stud--to know that they are passing from one set of good hands to others from around the world.

Here's to the Stayers

The hardy few remained at Park Paddocks on Thursday. One unsuccessful vendor lamented, "I knew we'd be taking her home. There are more people leading up horses than buying them." And, yes, he had a point, but there are still always bargains to be found for those that stick it out and do their homework.

Michael Swinburn and Ed Harper fought it out over the day's top lot (2168), the winning Showcasing (GB) filly Crown's Lady (GB), who was sold from Consign Ltd for 34,000gns. Swinburn, whose Genesis Green Stud was the second-top vendor at last week's foal sale, signed for the three-year-old filly in the name of Annie O'Rourke, who had assisted in the purchase.

Metin and Isik Kader Kalkavan from Turkey picked up seven mares over the last few days, including Never Miss (GB), Stetchworth Park Stud's daughter of Shamardal and Group 3 winner Pictavia (Ire) (Sinndar {Ire}), for 26,000gns. The 12-year-old mare is in foal to Mohaather (GB) and will join the rest of their purchases at the family's MK Stud.

Edmond Mahony | Tattersalls

"Dad has always been interested in racing, but it was in Covid we bought the farm," said the couple's daughter Irem. "This is our first visit to Tattersalls, we have been very well looked after."

By the time lot 2195 departed the ring on Thursday lunchtime, another 325,200gns had been added to the overall turnover from the sale of 59 final-day lots. Yes, this is a meagre return when set against the bigger days, but Thursday's figures, from a smaller session of only 85 offered, were up when it came to clearance rate (69%) and median 3,500gns (+17%). It is easy to imagine that in years to come mares of a similar ilk may well end up being offered in one of the increasingly prevalent online sales instead.

The clearance rate of any sale is of course the greatest indicator of demand, and in this sector, the 2024 December Mares Sale fared particularly well: at 86% this was significantly up on last year's 76%. That led to a 22% increase in aggregate, while the average, at 124,539gns, was up by 16%. The median rose by 27% to 38,000gns.

'Sustained International Demand'

Looking back on tremendous trade at Tattersalls this autumn and winter, chairman Edmond Mahony said, "Exactly eight weeks ago we reflected on a Tattersalls yearling sale of breathtaking proportions. Book 1 of the 2024 Tattersalls October Yearling Sale broke every conceivable record and the momentum from those extraordinary three days has shaped the entire Tattersalls sales season ever since."

"Record after record has been broken in the past two months, culminating in a Tattersalls December Mares Sale which has produced sustained international demand from start to finish and again reached unprecedented heights," Mahony continued. "It has been a fitting way to end an extraordinary year which at times has left even the most seasoned commentators a little stunned."

Such buoyancy in the market may be hard to square with events elsewhere--particularly on a day when the front page of the Racing Post referred to a '€3bn black hole' for racing caused by the Gambling Commission's affordability checks on punters. That is essentially a problem for British racing, though it is one which could eventually have repercussions for Ireland, its nearest neighbour. Book 1 of the October Yearling Sale and the December Mares Sale are largely international affairs which bear almost no reflection on what happens in Britain, aside from the encouraging fact that there are still a number of high-end investors out there intent on establishing stud farms in the country.

Mahony continued, "The Tattersalls December Mares Sale is an annual barometer for the international thoroughbred breeding industry and the records for turnover, average and median suggest that the appetite for the best European bloodstock is as strong as ever. There are few stages in the world that compare with the unique atmosphere of a packed Tattersalls Sale ring and yet again the elite Sceptre Sessions provided some compelling theatre and memorable highlights. The sale topping 4,800,000gns Classic winner You Got To Me is the highest-priced filly or mare in the world this year, the outstanding French Group 1 winner Vertical Blue became the highest-priced two-year-old ever sold at public auction in Europe when selling for 3,200,000gns and it is the first December Sale to have three fillies in training selling for 3 million gns or more with the Group 2-winning sprinter Believing completing the trio." Tattersalls report cont.

"In addition to the individual highlights the statistics paint an impressive picture," Mahony added. "December Mares turnover rose more than 20% year on year to a new record high well over 80 million gns, average and median both posted wide-margin record highs and the combined December Yearlings, Foal and Mares turnover increased by more than 30%. Gains of this magnitude have all contributed to a record Tattersalls annual turnover up more than 20% from last year's total, but more importantly they have given a massive boost to the British and Irish breeding industries. While we cannot and should not pretend that all in the garden of British racing is rosy, we should nevertheless be proud that our sport and the wider British and Irish breeding industries continue to be held in the very highest esteem internationally and never has this been more apparent than during the 2024 Tattersalls sale season and throughout this December Sale.

"The overseas contribution has been immense. The best of British, Irish and European bloodstock has yet again enticed international visitors to the December Mares Sale in huge numbers with buyers prioritising the sale above all others. Not for the first time at Tattersalls this year the American participation has been particularly notable.

"There is a real appetite amongst leading American owners for high-class European turf performers and that has played a significant part in the success of this week's sale alongside demand from Australian, Chinese and Japanese buyers at the top of the market. Buyers from more than 30 countries and every continent have played an equally important role in creating a truly vibrant market, but above all it should be recognised that the British and Irish breeders, buoyed no doubt by the catalyst of the October Yearling Sale, have been the backbone of this extraordinary market.

"We are enormously grateful to each and every person who has contributed not only to the success of the 2024 Tattersalls December Sale, but also to a Tattersalls sales season like no other. A year like this is the collective achievement of a fantastic industry and the unwavering support of vendors and purchasers alike from throughout Britain, Ireland and further afield defines Tattersalls and ensures that we continue to explore every possible avenue to preserve the proud status of Tattersalls as Europe's leading bloodstock auctioneers." Tattersalls report cont.

The Tattersalls December Sale featured one significant beginning and one ending. During the foal sale, Shirley Anderson-Jolag became the first female auctioneer to take to the rostrum at Tattersalls, and we hope to be hearing plenty more from her in the years to come. On Thursday, Jimmy George presided over his final sale day as marketing director of Tattersalls, having first started with the company in 1986. We wish him well in his new role at the International Racing Bureau.

They include three mares in foal to Beaumont-based stallions, plus the Group 3-winning, Group 1-placed Daylight (Fr) (Earthlight {Ire}) and G2 victress Classic Flower (GB) (Calyx).

Pauline Chehboub was on site at Arqana on Thursday morning, overseeing as the first few buyers began making their rounds of inspections.

“Finally we are not a buyer,” she said with a smile. “We are a vendor, so that changes a lot. This is exciting for us to promote our stallions Sealiway and Ace Impact. When you are lucky to have Daylight and Classic Flower as horses in training, we want to associate Haras de Beaumont with superstars like them so it's very exciting. I love meeting people and horses here from all around the world.” Cont. p9

Daylight, selling as lot 178, headlines Beaumont's line-up. The two-year-old daughter of Earthlight is out of the listed winner Latita (Fr) (Silver Frost {Ire}) and was a winner on debut in May for Gousserie Racing and Sandrine Gavrois. She later became her freshman sire's first stakes winner when she scored in this year's G3 Prix de Cabourg. Also this year, the filly placed in a trio of group outings including a runner-up performance in the G1 Cheveley Park Stakes.

Beaumont will be represented by another filly with plenty of racing left ahead of her in Classic Flower. Also campaigned by Gousserie Racing in partnership with Jean-Etienne Dubois, the daughter of Calyx was a winner on debut last April and closed out her juvenile season with a score in the G2 Criterium de Maisons-Laffitte. This year at three, she was runner-up in a pair of Group 3 starts. Classic Flower, who is from the same family as Group 2 victress Beshayyir (GB) (Iffraaj {GB}), will sell as lot 191.

"We've got two proper top-class racing fillies in Daylight, who is one of the best two-year-olds in Europe this year--and I'm sure there will be plenty more to come next year as a three-year-old--and Classic Flower, who was a top-class two-year-old and raced on at three," said farm manager Mathieu Alex. "We were asked to sell horses and we are very happy that it's a high-level consignment. I think for a farm like us, it's important to be here at the sales and be present. The great thing about sales and when you're selling horses is that you're meeting a lot of people."

Alex pointed out a few other stars of the consignment that will sell during the opening session on Saturday including Tigris (Fr) (Outstrip {GB}), who sells as lot 156, Rosir (Fr) (Style Vendome {Fr}), selling as lot 222, and Near Amore (Ger) (Amaron {GB}), selling as lot 107.

"Tigris is a very, very good-looking mare," said Alex. "She's a young mare, only covered for the first time this year [but not in foal at the time of sale], and she's a Group 3 winner at two, which is exciting. We've also got a mare called Rosir who is a half-sister to Rougir (Territories{Ire}), a Group 1 winner that (Sumbe) raced and sold here a few years ago. Near Amore is a stakes-placed mare in foal to Ace Impact, so that's also exciting."

Alex said that based on the results of the breeding stock sales in England and Ireland, he has high hopes for more of the same lucrative market for sellers in France.

"Obviously Tattersalls and Goffs has been very, very strong the whole year with foals, yearlings and now mares so we are hoping that Deauville will also be very strong," he explained. "I feel that on the first day there's a very, very strong catalogue, so why not?"

Alex added that a yearling consignment may be on the agenda for Beaumont someday in the future.

"It's difficult to know exactly when, but we'll try to be here again with high-class horses," he said.

Looking ahead to 2025, Chehboub and the rest of the Beaumont team will be busy with their largest roster yet of five stallions, including newcomer Puchkine who will stand for €8,500.

"In our business, we have to have a new one each year, so in three seasons we've done a lot and we want to continue to support our stallions," said Chehboub. "We have loyal clients and a good team and we hope it will be a good season."

EXPERTS DISCOVER PROBABLE CAUSE OF EQUINE GRASS SICKNESS

Equine grass sickness may be caused by a neurotoxic enzyme with similarities to toxins in snake venoms, according to research involving the Royal (Dick) School of Veterinary Studies' Equine Hospital.

The finding offers promise of new treatments for the deadly disease in grazing horses, which causes intestinal paralysis, colic, inability to swallow and muscle tremors. It currently has no cure and leads to death in 1 per cent of horses grazing in high-risk premises.

Professor Bruce McGorum from the Royal (Dick) School of Veterinary Studies' Equine Hospital said, "Identifying a probable cause of equine grass sickness represents a significant breakthrough. We hope that this discovery will lead to novel treatments and improved diagnostics for this devastating condition."

"We are very grateful for the generous support we have received from horse owners, veterinary surgeons, scientists, charities and funding bodies. Further work is under way to determine the source of this neurotoxin; it is likely to be produced by a microbe such as a bacterium or fungus which grows on grass during the cold and dry weather which typically occurs before cases of the disease are identified."

The research has been published in a special editorial in the January 2025 issue of the Equine Veterinary Journal (EVJ). It is free to read here for 12 weeks.

CHARLOTTE DUJARDIN SUSPENDED FOR ONE YEAR FOLLOWING FEI INVESTIGATION

Charlotte Dujardin has said that she "fully respects" the decision to suspend her for one year after a video showed the double individual Olympic dressage champion repeatedly hitting a student's horse with a whip.

Dujardin was provisionally suspended by the International Federation for Equestrian Sports (FEI) on July 23--the week that the Paris Olympics started--as it launched an investigation into a video from four years ago showing her making what she described as "an error of judgement" during a coaching session.

The FEI announced on Thursday that Dujardin had admitted three charges and that it had issued a one-year suspension--backdated to July 23--and a 10,000 Swiss franc fine (around €10,738).

Dujardin said, "I fully respect the verdict issued by the FEI, released today. As the federation has recognised, my actions in the video do not reflect who I am and I can only apologise again."

Charlotte Dujardin | PA Media

I understand the responsibility that comes with my position in the sport and I will forever aim to do better.

"This has undoubtedly been one of the darkest and most difficult periods of my life and I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has supported me during this time. Every kind word truly has made a difference, more than you'll ever know."
