KENTUCKY VALUE SIRE FOR 2025, PART 2: STALLIONS UNDER $10K

Loggins | Coady Photography

by Chris McGrath

Having dealt with the rookies separately, we now start our quest for value among those stallions already at stud. We'll be going through the pyramid by price band, and today kick off at the level most accessible to breeders on a budget.

But do not be deceived that we must be scraping the barrel here. If anything, candidly, there are more horses standing at four figures that one could trust--above all, for a breed-to-race program--than among far more expensive newcomers featured in the first instalment.

Whether one could also recommend them to a struggling commercial breeder is another story. But let's not forget that Into Mischief himself once spent a couple of seasons marooned on $7,500.

Stallions in this category broadly fall into opposite ends of the age spectrum. On the one hand, there are those that remain unproven, but whose books and fees are porous as everyone moves on to the next bunch of rookies. On the other, we find a few ageing stallions that have contrived a modest niche in the Bluegrass by a quiet accomplishment that will prove far beyond most new sires.

415 U.S. GRADED STAKES SLATED FOR '25-- 14 FEWER GRADED, ONE NEW GRADE I

The American Graded Stakes Committee of the Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association presented its listing of U.S. Graded and Listed Stakes Races for calendar year 2025, the results of its annual grading session conducted Dec. 16 and 17.

The committee reviewed 957 U.S. stakes races with a purse of at least $75,000, and assigned graded status to 415 of them, 14 fewer than were graded in 2024, and listed status to 210 races. Four graded races were upgraded; one new Grade I and three new Grade II races were named; nine new Grade III races were identified. Twelve new Listed races and one new Listed-Restricted race were upgraded from non-Listed Black Type (NLBT) status. Thirty-three graded races were downgraded; one Grade I, 10 Grade II and 22 Grade III races were demoted. Twenty-one listed races were downgraded to NLBT status.

When you're operating tight margins, admittedly, these underrated types are seldom practical options. However low the fees, resources are required to see through a longer-term play against the nervous fads of the commercial market. But it is possible to turn these to your advantage.

Take highflying Oscar Performance as a template. He has been fully subscribed for the past two years. But those who stuck with him "on the bubble," when cut to $12,500 for his third year, have just been able to offer yearlings from a crop of just 45 live foals--and were rewarded with an average yield of $145,894, up from $57,474 the year these foals were conceived. In other words, the time to double down is precisely when everyone else is getting cold feet. This fall, the market gave a cold reception to the first weanlings of several sires that will now find it very hard to gather support in 2025. But the reality is that they remain 18 months away from any meaningful test.

'TDN Rising Star' MYSTIC GUIDE actually achieved an excellent average--touching $60,000, off a $15,000 conception fee--from 11 weanlings sold, and no fewer than 154 mares returned to him in the spring.

Yet his fee has been consecutively trimmed to $12,500 and now $7,500. Anyone know if he can sire runners yet?

How much tougher, than, for others whose tentative toe into the market made fewer ripples. Yet some of these retain every right to replicate their racetrack prowess--and a couple, in particular, offer a ton of pedigree and talent at an unchanged $7,500.

GREATEST HONOUR, a grandson of Better Than Honour, never quite lived up to his brilliant emergence but has the usual Spendthrift pipeline behind him with 312 mares across his first two books. And HIGHLY MOTIVATED, whose page has been illuminated by two Grade I-winning siblings since his retirement, has received over 200 visitors and actually landed a six-figure score with one weanling.

My faith in both these horses is undiminished, and now is the time for people who talk about catching an unproven sire while still affordable to show that they really mean it.

As for those sires that just made their debut at the yearling sales, we can't deny that KNOWN AGENDA found it tough going. A lot of breeders are in flight: his debut book of 166 mares slumped to 47 for his third year and his fee has duly followed to $5,000.

By the same token, however, nobody yet knows whether they can actually run and he will have a lot of juveniles trying to find out next year. He's still a GI Florida Derby winner out of a Grade I scorer, whose Curlin curve of improvement was arrested in its tracks.

BEAU LIAM made a much brighter start in the ring, processing 72 yearlings at $52,758 off a conception fee of just $6,000, including home runs of $270,000, $220,000 and $200,000. The 'TDN Rising Star' was a brilliantly fast horse, the quickest 6f maiden winner in Churchill's history on debut and author of 106 and 107 Beyers on his next two starts before derailing when second on his graded stakes bow. With numbers behind him, and a strong page to boot, he could easily get involved in the freshman title race next year. The kind of breeders who flock to a first-year speedball of this type have meanwhile largely moved on, and Beau Liam will have a couple of smaller books coming through. As we've said, however, that's exactly the kind of scenario where a bold and imaginative breeder will most want to get involved.

Another to have made a positive sales debut is INDEPENDENCE HALL, whose first yearlings averaged $64,185 (including a $350,000 colt) off a conception fee of $10,000--which has nonetheless now been clipped to $7,500.

He covered 347 mares in his first two seasons before suffering the usual witless dip to 76 this year. That represents a significant footprint for an unbeaten juvenile (101 Beyer in the GIII Nashua Stakes) who held his form to wire the GII Fayette field at four, backed up by a very solid pedigree.

And what about the preceding intake, whose first juveniles have actually reached the starting gate? Some of these have laid down perfectly respectable markers but find themselves with their backs to the wall.

TOM'S D'ETAT didn't even contest a graded stakes until he was six but ended up winning two Grade IIs and a Grade I. Was anyone expecting him to be champion freshman? As it is, 15 winners from 41 starters actually represents a superior strike rate to McKinzie!

Yet he will be trading at just $5,000 in 2025, down from an opening $17,500. And studmate GLOBAL CAMPAIGN, who garnered a 'TDN Rising Star' badge and matured at four to finish his career with a Grade I win and third in the GI Breeders' Cup Classic, is clipped to $7,500 from $12,500 despite producing a couple of precocious stakes winners already.

As noted above, conversely some proven stalwarts also become so neglected that they too drift down to this level.

'TDN Rising Star' THE FACTOR, JIMMY CREED and 'TDN Rising Star' FIRST SAMURAI are very accomplished stallions to be available at four-figure fees, and likewise the wonderful veteran SKY MESA.

He doesn't get too many girlfriends these days, but there can't be many more affordable ways of proving a mare than with a $7,500 sire of 79 stakes winners. Sky Mesa stands in the top 15 of active stallions by lifetime earnings, and his first three dams offer you Storm Cat, Affirmed and Round Table. As the advertisers used to say: "Hurry while stocks last!"

As ever, you know best what stamp and style will complement your own mare. Here, however, are three that look value to this subjective eye.

VALUE PODIUM

Bronze: DIVISIDERO

Kitten's Joy--Madame du Lac, by Lemon Drop Kid Airdrie Stud, $5,000

Divisidero | EquiSport Photos

This horse breaks my heart. His profile was so uncommercially "worthy"--a graded stakes winner five years running--that he has been confined to 25 starters from 38 named foals across two crops. But 11 are winners, two at stakes level, and his average earnings per named foal (four black-type performers include one at Grade II level) outrank every Kentucky sire in his intake, his closest pursuer being its top gun Omaha Beach.

It's not hard to explain why that should be. Divisidero is a dual Grade I winner (also beaten under a length in the Breeders' Cup Mile) whose family is just about the best in the book, featuring none other than Cosmah as fifth dam. He posted 13 triple-digit Beyers, including a track record at Belmont, and displayed all the teak and acceleration that you could seek for an expanding U.S. turf calendar. While Divisidero might appeal most obviously to a breed-to-race program, he has actually registered a series of six-figure sales. (By the standards of his sire, he was himself a knockout as a $250,000 yearling deep in the September Sale.) Everything is in place except the volume, but that gives far-sighted breeders a princely horse at a pauper's fee.

Silver: CROSS TRAFFIC
Unbridled's Song--Stop Traffic, by Cure the Blues
Spendthrift Farm, $7,500

We've charted the giddy ups and downs of this 'TDN Rising Star' for quite a while now and there's no reason to stop just because he's had so little ammunition over the past year or so.

As newly-crowned champion freshman, in 2019 Cross Traffic received 188 mares at $25,000, up from 60 at $7,500 the previous year. The resulting crop included Grade I winner Defining Purpose, a moral Grade I winner in the tragic Maple Leaf Mel, and lately Neece Marie.

Cross Traffic | Sarah Andrew

But the latter is Cross Traffic's only graded stakes winner of 2024. This dearth of action is explained by a 2020 book that shrank, preposterously given his trade the previous year, to 28 live foals. Some reinforcements are on the horizon, however: his last two books rallied into the 80s, and he can always hope for headliners among his maturing stock on the model of five-campaign millionaire Ny Traffic.

If his stud career is ever to stabilize, it is plainly not going to be in the elite tier, but Cross Traffic has delivered whenever he has been given the opportunity.

Gold: LOGGINS

Ghostzapper--Beyond Blame, by Blame

Hill 'n' Dale, $7,500

The 'TDN Rising Star' was my pick of the rookies last year and I see no reason to defect after he covered 137 mares in his first book. I had a similar feeling about Not This Time, when he started out, and they do have a striking amount in common.

Both ran the subsequent champion juvenile to a neck in what sadly proved to be their final start. Both also had the tougher trip in those races, Loggins having been exposed to a hot pace in the GI Breeders' Futurity before rallying bravely as Forte picked up the pieces (and jostled him in the process). That was a wild effort for a horse who can have learned little from his debut romp.

Loggins is out of a graded stakes winner whose own dam is a half-sister to two others; and the next dam was a multiple graded stakes-placed half-sister to Street Boss and the dam of Jack Christopher.

As our bronze pick demonstrates, ideally we'd prefer greater evidence of resilience. But you can't have everything at this fee, which is one-sixth of that commanded by his Futurity rival, and this horse evinced unmistakable Grade I caliber and has gone to a farm that excels with these brief meteors. In an era of such steep fees, Loggins is priced with remarkable generosity.

Value Sires--New Sires: The Breeders Speak

George Adams, Housatonic Bloodstock

To my mind, "value" with respect to stallions almost has to be about their ability to get you a runner. Worrying about commercial considerations should not be the focus, especially for a fee under $10,000.

With that in mind and given the predominantly commercial nature of the Kentucky stallion market, I was excited to be allowed to identify some regional stallions in this price bracket. There are some that really do offer exceptional value to breeders in those markets.

GOLD: Blofeld (Quality Road--Storm Minstrel, by Storm Cat), Murmur Farm, $5,000.

My gold medal choice would be Blofeld, who stands at Mrs. Murray's Murmur Farm in Maryland for an advertised fee of $5,000.

The sire of 94 foals of racing age (oldest runners now 5), 67 of those foals have run, and 56 of them are winners (84%). Eight of them are black-type winners (12%), and eight more are black-type placed (for 24% black-type horses to runners).

Although he doesn't yet have a graded winner, Blofeld does have a couple of graded-placed runners and four open company black-type winners.

Blofeld | Sarah Andrew

His average earnings per starter sits at $101,710, and his highest earner has just over $400,000 in the bank--meaning the average is not skewed by a single outlier, as further witnessed by his median earnings per runner of $76,535.

With at least 55 yearlings about to turn two for 2025, and given that he's been the most popular stallion in the region for three years running, Blofeld's future looks very bright.

SILVER: Honest Mischief (Into Mischief--Honest Lady, by Seattle Slew), Sequel New York, $7,500.

For the silver medal, I'd nominate Honest Mischief at Sequel New York. Although he has just one crop of racing age, and while folks might have expected him to have gotten a bit earlier start, Honest Mischief is now up to eleven first crop winners, none of those below the maiden special weight level.

He has a pair of black-type winners to his credit, with Stone Smuggler and Sacrosanct having achieved state-bred stakes doubles on two separate weekends so far--most recently on Dec. 14 at Aqueduct when each scored in a $500,000 division of the New York Stallion Series--Honest Mischief had three of the four fillies make up the superfecta in Stone Smuggler's race.

He also brings a touch of commerciality to the table, with 19 of his first-crop of 2-year-olds having averaged over $94,000, following on from a first-crop yearling average of over $40,000.

With this kind of start to his stallion career, Honest Mischief looks poised to battle Bucchero (by Kantharos)--whose stud fee just prices him out of this bracket, making my job here easier--at the top of the New York sire ranks for a long time.

BRONZE: Beren (Weigelia--Silmaril, by Diamond), WynOaks, $3,500.

Finally, one of the stalwarts of the Pennsylvania sire ranks who I'd have included here until pretty recently, as he's now a bit long in the tooth, is Weigelia. Very much his father's son, Beren retires to stud alongside Weigelia at WynOaks for the 2025 breeding season. He will get my bronze medal on the basis of his $3,500 stud fee, which includes special consideration to PA-foaling mares. Campaigned from two through six, Beren won 12 of 35 starts and earned just under a million dollars. Seven of his wins were in black-type events, from six to eight and a half furlongs. In this day and age when a racehorse's durability is constantly questioned, Beren had it in spades and came by it honestly. He has every right to pass it along at the same farm that's already done this before.

GOLD: Mo Town (Uncle Mo--Grazie Mille, by Bernardini), Coolmore Ashford Stud, $5,000.

Mo Town at $5,000 is hands down my gold medal value stallion in this bracket. I really think that he's way underrated for what he's got on the track. His percentage of stakes horses is impressive, and he has six black-type winners. I don't know why he's not getting more love.

SILVER: Echo Town (Speightstown--Letgomyecho, by Menifee), Coolmore Ashford Stud, $5,000.

Breed to race, you can't go wrong with Echo Town at $5,000. He has lots of winners already with his first-crop and stakes horses too, although nothing graded yet. I can only see them getting better at three.

Global Campaign has made a solid start with 15 winners. He's by Curlin so they are doing enough with more to come. They will mature and get better with age, and $7,500 looks like good value to me. Independence Hall (by Constitution) is my bubble horse. He's got a big shot to make, and I'm kinda all-in on that horse. At $7,500, for what we sold, how can you not make money at that fee. He's great value with his first 2-year-olds running next year.

BOOK'EM DANNO RESTING IN FLORIDA, RETURN TO MIDDLE EAST NOT A GIVEN

by Alan Carasso

Last seen finishing an even fifth behind 'TDN Rising Star'

Locked (Gun Runner) in the GII Cigar Mile Handicap at Aqueduct on Dec. 7, Atlantic Six Racing's Book'em Danno (Bucchero) has emerged from the effort none the worse for wear and has arrived at trainer Derek Ryan's winter base at Tampa Bay Downs, the partnership's Jay Briscione said Wednesday.

"He came out of it good," Briscione said. "I think we were planning on backing off a little bit. We gave him a complete exam and, knock on wood, he's good. It's just a question of how much time we give him and where we go next."

The Cigar Mile marked Book'em Danno's lone unplaced effort from seven starts in 2024, which included a half-length success in the GI Woody Stephens Stakes at Saratoga in June and victories in the Pasco Stakes and Jersey Shore Stakes, Even in the races he didn't win, Book'em Danno covered himself in glory when third in the GI H. Allen Jerkens Stakes and when narrowly runner-up to Forever Young (Jpn) (Real Steel {Jpn}) in the G3 Saudi Derby.

With a return to Riyadh for the $20-million G1 Saudi Cup in the back of their minds entering the Cigar Mile, the gelding's connections were left scratching their heads and now face a bit of a conundrum as they try to chart a course for 2025.

"On his best he's going to be right there, but Locked ran a giant number and we might not have beaten him anyways,"

Briscione said, referring to the Cigar Mile. "But I don't think he ran his best, whether that was a function of him being down inside or maybe a tough campaign beginning to take a toll a bit.

“He hasn't missed a dance. He shows up every race and he didn't get beat by all that much, but he just didn't show that same sort of run, just don't think he really got a chance to run. He hasn't had the best trips the last three races, but that's racing luck and that's something you have to deal with.”

The riches in the desert over the coming months are obviously motivation enough to consider a Saudi and/or Dubai program for Book'em Danno. But there is a longer-view and more conservative approach that must also be considered from the perspective of Briscione and his partners.

“From the standpoint of Saudi, it's going to depend on how much of a break he's going to need right now and then, thinking out loud, do we really want to run [in Saudi] and come back and give him three months, like we did after the Saudi Derby?” he said. “It's about risk versus reward. There's a lot of money out there, but everyone has their eyes open to those races now. So, based on the horses that look like they might be going, my thinking would be no [for the Saudi Cup].”

Were they to opt out of the world's richest race, there are contests over trips Book'em Danno has already proven himself--seven-figure events going six furlongs in Saudi [$2-million G2 Riyadh Dirt Sprint] and at Meydan [$2-million G1 Dubai Golden Shaheen]--or the $1-million G2 Godolphin Mile on the World Cup undercard.

“He's won at three-quarters and he's going to make a run from out of it, so I wouldn't rule [the Riyadh Dirt Sprint] out,” Briscione said. “If we were to go over, maybe we'd stay for the Dubai race [Golden Shaheen] or the Mile. The question becomes do you take the shot against tough competition and travel--and he's proved he can do it--but is it maybe better to start him off here in April sometime and run through the season? That's a decision we'll have to make. I think within a couple of weeks we'll have to decide. From a physical standpoint, I don't know that he's going to need a lot of time.”

Book'em Danno has taken the Atlantic Six partners and trainer Derek Ryan on the ride of a lifetime and no one would begrudge the team if a path of lesser resistance is ultimately selected.

“In the long run, he's a gelding, these Grade Is and Grade IIs don't mean a lot to him and there's a lot of other races throughout the year that would suit him fine,” Briscione said. “We'd like to keep him going, we've never been in this position and it's very exciting.”

TDN WRITERS' ROOM: A SPECIAL HOLIDAY EDITION

The TDN Writers' Room team was feeling festive as we closed out 2024 with a special year-end episode. Presented as always by Keeneland and hosted by Bill Finley, Zoe Cadman and Randy Moss, this week's show features a variety of write-in questions from viewers and some other questions for our hosts ranging from light-hearted topics that gave the trio the opportunity to reminisce on their many years in racing to a few more thought-provoking subjects regarding the current state of racing and what they are most looking forward to seeing on the racetrack in 2025.

We kicked off the episode by asking each host to look back and tell us about the moment that got them hooked on the sport.

Born and raised in Hot Springs, Arkansas, Moss had an easy answer.

"When you drove past Oaklawn Park back in the day, and we're talking late '60s, I was a little kid sitting in the backseat of my parents' car and it used to be a little like Saratoga in that there were stables on the opposite side of Central Avenue and so the crossing guards would stop the traffic as horses crossed the street," Moss recalled. "So I would sit there in the backseat and I would see these beautiful horses in front of me and the exercise riders on their backs. That's one of my earliest memories was watching that and it snowballed from there."

Cadman, who hails from Somerset, England, is a lifelong equestrian who happened upon the racing world almost by accident.

"During schooltime, we got the chance to do a work experience," she said on the show. "The closest racing yard to me was Philip Hobbs, so me and my friend Rosie both applied. I had a pony who was pretty quick so I thought, 'Oh, I'm going to go to a racing yard. This is going to be so cool.' I rode out for Philip Hobbs for a week and got run off with a couple of times.

His gallops go uphill and they stop at a road that went downhill. I went all the way down the road on one of these jumper horses. And I got hooked."

As for Finley, his was a story that many people in our industry share where family members introduced him to the sport.

"Both my father and my brother, who's 10 years older than me, were big racing fans," Finley recalled. "When I was six, my brother had his driver's license. There are stories of him babysitting me where he didn't tell our parents what we were going to do and, living in Cleveland, we went to Northfield Park. He would babysit me at the trotter track there."

Later in the show, write-in questions from viewers ranged from topics like why final scratches and changes are not posted to online resources until a few hours before the first post, what more should major industry organizations be doing to move the sport forward, and why it seems that workouts in the East are labeled "B" for breezing when workouts in the West are labeled "H" for handily.

The team wrapped up the episode by reflecting on 2024 and looking ahead to 2025. Which newly turned 3-year-olds are they most looking forward to watching develop next year? Answers ranged from Sovereignty (Into Mischief), who broke his maiden for Bill Mott in the GIII Street Sense Stakes on Oct. 27, and of course East Avenue (Medaglia d'Oro), the GI Claiborne Breeders' Futurity winner who stumbled at the break in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile but should have a promising future ahead.

The TDN Writers' Room is also presented by WinStar Farm, Pennsylvania Horse Breeders' Association, the Kentucky Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association, West Point Thoroughbreds, and XBTv.com. The Writers' Room team looks forward to returning in 2025.

THE MOST-READ TDN STORIES OF 2024

By Bill Finley

As the year winds down, now is a relatively quiet time for horse racing. But there was nothing quiet about 2024, another year when there was no shortage of bad news and plenty of controversy thanks to the nasty battle between pro and anti-HISA Forces. The TDN seeks to be fair in its news coverage and makes no attempt to accentuate the negative stories. The problem is that the numbers say the readers prefer to read the “bad stuff.”

What stories resonated most with TDN readers? Here are the top 10 most widely read stories of 2024 and the number of views they received:

1) SCOTUS Grants Stay of Fifth Circuit Unconstitutionality Mandate, by T.D. Thornton (110,804 views)

There were so many fights and so many lawsuits that it was easy to get lost when it came to trying to figure out what was happening with HISA. Would it survive or would the courts declare it to be unconstitutional? An important development covering that very issue occurred in late October. The Supreme Court granted a stay sought by HISA that prevented the U.S. District Court of Appeals for the Fifth circuit from issuing a mandate stemming from the Fifth Circuit opinion that HISA’s enforcement mechanism is unconstitutional. The key was that by granting the stay, the Supreme Court signaled that it did not want the lower courts ruling on HISA until the Supreme Court has either taken on the case or decided not to accept it.

2) Still Sidelined After Run-In with Gulfstream Geese, Sutherland Fears She'll Never Ride Again, by Bill Finley (71,587 views)

A freak accident that occurred on May 6, 2023 at Gulfstream left Chantal Sutherland with such serious injuries that she worried she would never ride again. After the race was over her mount was spooked by a flock of geese, and slingshotted her out of the saddle. The result was that she broke the humerus bone completely off from her shoulder. She has yet to return to riding but says she won’t be sidelined much longer.

3) The World's Oldest Thoroughbred? We Think We Have Found Him, by Bill Finley (53,403 views)

In March, Bill Finley covered the story of New Years Eve (Night Conqueror) who was still healthy and spry despite big 38 years old. Owner Julie Izzo did a lot of research and could not find an older living Thoroughbred. We concluded that it was New Years Eve.

4) Blue-Collar Hero Tyler's Tribe Dies Following Workout Wednesday at Oaklawn; Trainer Temporarily Banned, by Bill Finley (48,957 views)

It started out as a great story. Tyler's Tribe (Sharp Azteca) was an Iowa-bred 2-year-old who could fly. He won his first five starts by a combined 59 3/4 lengths and would go on to run in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf, where he bled and was eased. Nothing went right ever again and in May he died following a four-furlong workout at Oaklawn Park. Tyler's Tribe's trainer Tim Martin was temporarily banned by Oaklawn.

5) Farewell to a Stallion Thoroughly Deserving of Acclaim, by Emma Berry (48,795 views)

European editor Emma Berry tells the story of sire Acclamation (GB), who died late in the year at the age of 25. His death occurred just a few weeks after he had been officially retired.

6) Kentucky Trailer Accident Kills Three Thoroughbreds, by T.D. Thornton (42,450 views)

An overnight trailer crash on the Bluegrass Parkway in Nelson County, Kentucky hospitalized the driver and killed three horses from the barn of trainer Eddie Kenneally who were being transported from Oaklawn Park to Keeneland.

7) Just Steel Exits Preakness with Injury, To Head to Rood and Riddle, by Christina Bossinakis (42,367 Views)

Christina Bossinakis reported on the condition of GI Preakness S. starter Just Steel (Justify). He exited the race with a condylar fracture of the right front leg and had surgery performed by Dr. Larry Bramlage. Just Steel has since recovered and has rejoined the Wayne Lukas stable at Oaklawn Park.

8) White Abarrio Sent Back to Joseph, by Bill Finley (38,068 views)

After a disappointing showing in the GI Metropolitan H. at Saratoga, the owners of White Abarrio (Race Day) decided to send last year's GI Breeders' Cup Classic winner back to trainer Saffie Joseph, Jr. Joseph was his original trainer before the owners sent him to be trained by Rick Dutrow. Because Joseph had had two horse die (neither one from Musculoskeletal injuries) in the days leading up to the Derby it wasn't immediately clear whether or not Joseph would be allowed to run White Abarrio in the GI Metropolitan Handicap. So the owners gave the horse to Dutrow only go back to Joseph.

9) Owners of Horses Killed, Injured in Bluegrass Pkwy Accident Sue Van Company, Driver for $3 Million, by T.D. Thornton (36,019 views)

The owners of seven Thoroughbreds killed or injured in a Mar. 25, 2024, accident on the Bluegrass Parkway when a trailer driver allegedly fell asleep at the wheel and careened off the road while en route from Fair Grounds to Keeneland are suing the equine transport company and the driver in federal court, seeking "not less than" $3 million in compensatory damages and a separate amount in punitive damages that the plaintiffs want decided at a trial.

10) Jayarebe Dies Following Breeders' Cup Turf, by Bill Finley (34,796 views)

European shipper Jayarebe (Fr) (Zoffany {Ire}) died following the running of the GI Breeders' Cup Turf. The 3-year-old finished the race, but collapsed during the gallop out. According to a statement put out by the Breeders' Cup, Jayarebe suffered what appears to have been a cardiac event.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

LETTER TO THE EDITOR: A CHRISTMAS WISH FOR OUR INDUSTRY

Craig Bendoroff | Horsephotos

Dear Santa,

As the clock ticks down on another year we can hopefully all agree that we have much to be grateful for. Racing in many ways seems to have recovered its footing from our headline fatality troubles and we just learned the fatality rate at HISA tracks continues to decline. Who can argue that we are not making progress and moving in the right and needed direction in making racing safer?

I do have two requests for you, Santa. First, I would love to learn from the NHBPA an answer to this question: what is it you really want in your fight over HISA? I'd love to believe it's all about the constitutionality of it all. It sounds good (to them, I guess) but let's be serious. Few if any of us are Rhodes Scholars or constitutional experts. We just have a very hard time believing this is what it's all about for you. So please tell us what is it you want from the rest of us when it comes to HISA? Because most of us just don't know.

Second, dear Santa, is please put the powers to be in a room and let them try to hammer out their differences. Stop the insanity. Do we really want to put our fate in the hands of the Supreme Court? Do we really want to turn the clock backwards and threaten our right to exist? I'm exaggerating, you say? If I want to take my grandchildren to the circus I'll have to go to Europe!

Let's do it as a gift to the industry that they claim to so dearly love. If you can please deliver this gift under the horse racing industry tree, well then maybe there really is a Santa Claus! Merry Christmas,
A concerned elderly elf,
Craig Bendoroff

P.S. Okay, so while I'm at it here is one more. Let's let everyone realize the importance of supporting aftercare. Our opponents really do care what happens to our horses. Thanks, Santa. Now get back to work!

WEEKLY RULINGS

NATIONAL REGULATORY RULINGS, DEC. 12-18

Every week, the TDN posts a roundup of the relevant Horseracing Integrity and Safety Act (HISA) related rulings from around the country.

Among this week's rulings, following a Nov. 22 hearing an independent arbitrator issued trainer Mike Puype a three-month and 17-day suspension (time served) along with a $1,000 fine after two bottles of Isoxsuprine tablets and two containers of Levothyroxine (ThyroL) powder were found in his barn during a routine search on April 24.

The Isoxuprine tablets expired in 2012 and 2013, while the Levothyroxine powders expired in 2016 and 2021. The arbitrator determined that both substances were likely prescribed by veterinarian Jeff Blea-now the California Horse Racing Board (CHRB) equine medical director-back when the substances (now banned under HISA) were legal for use in the state.

The tablets were found in a former employee's cooler, and the levothyroxine powders were in a locked cabinet, the combination to which was known by Puype's assistant but not the trainer, according to the arbitrator's final decision. Puype insisted that he had not administered the expired medications, nor did the Horseracing Integrity and Welfare Unit's (HIWU) allege that he had.

Arbitrator Barbara Reeves critiqued Puype for not properly searching and removing from his barn these banned substances. But in a rare move, she took pointed aim at HIWU's punitive approach against Puype.

The agency had initially sought penalties against the trainer totalling a maximum four-year ban and $50,000 fine. Reeves described such penalties as "career ending," while at the same time calling the trainer's "fault" as at the lowest end of the "light" range.

"There was no indication of any intention or wrongdoing by Mr. Puype, other than an imperfect "search and purge," wrote Reeves.

"Further, it is not clear to the Arbitrator what HIWU was attempting to accomplish in the way it prosecuted this matter. Although the facts established nothing more than an imperfect search, HIWU filed its standard "Possession" charges and brief (labeled "HIWU's Pre- Hearing Brief (Possession)") and negligently failed to remove the name of the prior trainer against whom the brief had been filed ("Trainer Valery,") from the text. HIWU further sought the maximum punishment, two consecutive periods of ineligibility for seventeen to twenty-four (17-24) months each, a career ending sanction," Reeves wrote.

According to thoroughbredrulings.com, Puype has had two minor medication positives over the last 18 years.

The following rulings were reported on HISA's "rulings" portal and through the Horseracing Integrity and Welfare Unit's (HIWU) "pending" and "resolved" cases portals.

BIG-SPENDING AMERICAN OWNER LOOKS FORWARD TO FIRST RUNNER IN BRITAIN ON FRIDAY

Susan 'Pearly' Fallon | Tattersalls

By Brian Sheerin

American owner Susan 'Pearly' Fallon, who lit up the Tattersalls December Foal Sale with a 700,000gns purchase of a Frankel (GB) filly out of Archangel Gabriel (Arch), is looking forward to seeing her colours graced on a British racecourse for the first time at Wolverhampton on Friday.

Fallon, who is based in America and works in the private aviation business, will be represented by the Ed Bethell-trained A War Eagle (Ire) (Make Believe {GB}) in an extended mile maiden with Aidan Keeley set to ride.

Just like the 700,000gns Frankel filly, A War Eagle was purchased by bloodstock agent Amanda Skiffington. He was sourced at last year's Tattersalls Ireland September Yearling Sale for €75,000 from Aughamore Stud and he forms part of a growing squad of exclusively British- or Irish-based horses for the owner.

Fallon said, "I was a competitive equestrian growing up so I have been involved with horses all of my life. But I am relatively new to the racing world--a little over a year now. I've always loved racing."

LAURENS OWNER JOHN DANCE CHARGED WITH NINE CRIMINAL OFFENCES

Racehorse owner John Dance has been charged with nine criminal offences in "one of the most serious and largest frauds ever investigated" by the UK's financial regulator.

Dance is accused by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) of transferring more than £64 million from client accounts of a wealth management firm to fund his "lavish lifestyle" and business interests between 2014 and 2023.

The 50-year-old was principal partner at WealthTek LLP, formerly known as Vertem Asset Management LLP, a prominent sponsor within racing. He also owned the multiple Group 1 winner Laurens (Fr) and previously co-owned Bravemansgame (Fr), the runner-up in the 2023 Cheltenham Gold Cup.

Therese Chambers, joint executive director of enforcement and market oversight at the FCA, said, "This is one of the most serious and largest frauds we have ever investigated.

"We allege that over a period of many years Mr Dance diverted millions of client funds for his own benefit, telling lies and forging documents to cover his tracks." Cont. p5

The Frankel filly out of Archangel Gabriel | Tattersalls

"Every single one of our horses are based in Ireland and England," Fallon continued. "The reason for that is because I love the people over there and I love the style of racing in Europe as well. I also feel very strongly about the treatment of the horses and, as a whole, I really love the experiences I have had in Britain and Ireland."

She added, "We have A War Eagle making his debut on Friday with Ed Bethell and my Sioux Nation colt went to William Haggas on Tuesday. His name is King's English and I am absolutely in love with him. I have a Time Test (GB) filly that is also going to Ed, a Starman (GB), who we haven't decided where she will go, and an Australia (GB) colt who goes to Jessica Harrington. There is also a Zoustar (Aus) colt, whose name is Caviar Cowboy, and he will go to James Fanshawe. I have gotten to know all of my trainers personally and I cannot say enough nice things about them all. I feel very fortunate to be working with them all."

Fallon jokes that she's dealing with "jets in the air and jets on the racetrack." However, with three broodmares on the farm at Felley Priory Stud, it's safe to say Fallon is adopting a patient approach to her endeavours in the sport.

She explained, "I have been in private aviation for quite a while and I enjoy that very much. I have a very entrepreneurial spirit and had a dermatological skin care company for over 15 years. My father flew for fun and I started my pilot's licence years and years ago so aviation has been my career path more recently in life. We work with a lot of interesting people. I love people in general so it is a perfect fit for me. Racing has lots of colourful characters as well."

The first mares in foal to the European Champion and Classic winner have sold for up to 330,000gns.

Fallon continued, "I'm interested in all aspects of the sport. We have three mares and are expecting our first foals in the spring. One of the mares is in foal to Chaldean (GB), who we are very excited about. But from the smell of the tack room to the lights of the race track, I love every single aspect of the sport. The mares are based at Felley Priory Stud, which is where Amanda Skiffington, who is our bloodstock agent, is based."

On linking up with Skiffington, she added, "Nicholas Varney is a long-time friend. Amanda had purchased A Lilac Rolla (Ire) (Harry Angel {Ire}) for Nicholas, so he decided to put me in connection with Amanda. It's just been a match made in heaven. We've had a lot of fun together and she is so talented. She has a true gift and I have learned so much from her already. It's been a quick year of getting started and we have about 12 horses now."

A hugely successful businesswoman, Fallon has some lofty ambitions for her growing string and has surrounded herself with the best in the business in order to inch herself ever closer to her dream of one day winning the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe.

She said, "We're being strategic. I have very big goals and I want to make sure we are doing things the right way. Malcolm Bastard does all of our pre-training and, as I said, we have some brilliant trainers working with us. Personally, I love a trip horse and we are very patient. I know that a lot of people love to see action at two but we are happy to wait. A lot of the horses we bought are mile-plus horses and we're prepared to wait for them."

Fallon added, "I'm going to be honest, I don't have any specific goals for the horses that we have at the moment. With A War Eagle, who is just about to make his first start, we will just see and let him tell us where he fits in. But I do have a big goal. And a lot of people laugh when I tell them this, but it is my dream to win the Arc. I get it, I would laugh, too, if somebody said it. However, if it can be done by somebody like me, I will do it. And if I don't, I will die trying."

Chambers continued, "We know this has been a worrying time for people who had their investments caught up in WealthTek and we have tried to keep everyone updated as best we can, given the criminal nature of the offences under investigation.

"We're pleased that clients are now seeing their assets returned."

Approximately 84% of affected clients are expected to be fully compensated, according to the FCA, while Dance has been released on bail to appear at North Tyneside Magistrates' Court on Friday, January 3.

He faces three counts of fraud by abuse of position, three counts of fraud by false representation and three counts of converting or transferring criminal property.

UNCLE PHIL HEADLINES THE THOROUGHBID CHRISTMAS SALE AT £38,000

Uncle Phil | ThoroughBid

Uncle Phil (Ire) (Walk In The Park {Ire}), the winner of the G3 Dan & Joan Moore Memorial Handicap Chase at Fairyhouse in January, topped Wednesday's ThoroughBid Christmas Sale when fetching £38,000 from Gordon Miller.

“First impressions... when I saw him move, I thought for sure this would have been a $2m yearling! A great mover. He has real quality, a lovely colour, well balanced and a very good hind leg. He seems to have a lovely mind, and he looked fantastic. He is by Dubawi a great sire but you still feel quite a bit of Galileo about him too. I really, really like him.”

Consigned by trainer Willie Mullins, Uncle Phil won five of his 18 starts in his time at Closutton when in the ownership of Joe and Marie Donnelly. The seven-year-old is out of the Saint des Saints (Fr) mare Synthe Davis (Fr), making him a full-brother to this year's Novices' Championship Final Handicap Hurdle winner Helnwein (Ire).

Of the 45 lots offered, 29 sold for an aggregate of £177,800 and at an average of £6,131. The four-year-old Five Bar Gate (Ire), who was added to the sale as a wildcard after his victory in a point-to-point bumper at Larkhill on Sunday, was the pick of the other lots as he sold to trainer Neil Mulholland for £28,000.

AEGEAN PRINCE (GB) (c, 2, Dubawi {Ire}--Musis Amica {Ire} {GSW & MG1SP-Fr, $506,731}, by Dawn Approach {Ire}), third on debut over 10 furlongs at Chelmsford in November, tracked the leader in second throughout the early stages. Grafting his way into the lead approaching the furlong pole, the 8-15 favourite battled gamely to prevail by a neck from Renato (GB) (Sea The Stars {Ire}). The winner is the first foal out of the talented dam, who was successful in the G3 Prix de la Grotte and runner-up in the G1 Prix de Diane and G1 Prix Vermeille and who is kin to the G2 Prix Eugene Adam winner Harland (GB) (Halling) and to the dam of the G3 Give Thanks Stakes scorer Rumbles Of Thunder (Ire) (Night Of Thunder {Ire}). GLITTERING SURF (GB) (f, 2, Oasis Dream {GB}--Sparkling Surf {GB}, by Frankel {GB}), sent off the well-supported 11-8 favourite, soon enjoyed a narrow lead. Sent clear from the top of the straight, the newcomer flashed impressive acceleration and had inflicted the damage long before being eased to record a bloodless 3 1/4-length verdict over Pearl Of Hope (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}). "She was a bit green going down but very professional in the race," trainer Owen Burrows said. "She's a big filly and just under 500 kilos, interestingly [jockey] Richard [Kingscote] said that a mile will be perfect. Me and Peter [Winkworth] go back a long way--I used to ride for him and this is the first he's had with me. I told him we might be struggling to get a run into her, as she was quite weak in the summer and I was waiting for her to tell me to stop but she never did. That will do her and she'll have a break now--a big galloping track will suit her." The winner is the third foal out of the dam, whose second is the stakes-placed 3-year-old filly Ocean Mermaid (GB) (Kingman {GB}). A daughter of the G3 Pinnacle Stakes winner Shimmering Surf (Ire) (Danehill Dancer {Ire}) who was in turn responsible for the G1 Prix Vermeille heroine Kitesurf (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) and the G2 Dante Stakes-placed Surfman (GB) (Kingman {GB}), her yearling colt is by Palace Pier (GB) while she also has a colt foal by Baaeed (GB). CASA DE SALINAS (IRE) (f, 2, Sea The Stars {Ire}--WaitingfortheDay {Ire} {GSW-Ire, $156,797}, by Elzaam {Aus}), sent off the 7-4 second favourite, tracked the leading pair throughout the early stages. Seizing the advantage approaching the furlong pole, the newcomer looked to be idling en route to a 3/4-of-a-length verdict over Unex Texas (GB) (Le Havre {Ire}). "I like the way she went through her gears and she was very straightforward," jockey Danny Muscutt said. "She's neat and close-coupled for a Sea The Stars, but she stretched on alright." The winner is the second foal out of the G3 Fairy Bridge Stakes-winning dam, a half to the dual group 3 scorer Waleria (Ger) (Artan {Ire}). Her yearling filly is by El Kabeir, while she also has a 2024 filly again by Sea The Stars. Sales history: 80,000gns Ylg '23 TATOCT. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $4,668. Building a head of steam from the top of the straight, the newcomer stayed on to score by half a length from Bishopton (Ire) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}). "He's a lovely big horse, he did it well," jockey Declan McDonogh said. "I had always plenty of horse. He gave me a lovely feel the last furlong and, when I gave him a crack, he got the message quickly and put the race to bed. He has the size and he has the mind for it too. He has been away a couple of times and it doesn't faze him, he's got a bit of bottle. I would say a mile to 10 next year would be perfect for him."
